DEMOCRATIC COUNTY MEETING.

The Democratic and Conservative voters of Talbot county are requested to meet in Easton on Tuesday, 25th inst., in Odeon Opera House, to select three delegates to the State Convention to be held in Baltimore city, 27th inst., to nominate a candidate for Comptroller.

(Signed) EDWARD LLOYD,
EDWARD N. HARDCASTLE,
JOHN HARRINGTON,
State Central Committee.

The undersigned, members of the Democratic Executive Committee for Talbot county, hereby request the friends of Democracy in the several election districts of the county to meet, and select two delegates to a County Convention to meet in Easton, on Saturday, 29th inst., for the purpose of nominating candidates, as follows, viz:

Senator and Two Members of the House of Delegates, three County Commissioners, Sheriff and County Surveyor.

That said convention will also appoint a County Executive Committee, consisting of five persons from each election district.

EDWARD LLOYD,
JOHN HARRINGTON,
E. N. HARDCASTLE,
State Central Committe for Talbot county.

DEMOCRATIC MEETINGS.

A Democratic county meeting has been called for next Tuesday, the 25th inst, to meet in Easton, to appoint delegates to the State convention, to nominate a candidate for Comptroller. It is important that there should be a good attendance.

The State Executive Committee for this county have also called District primary meetings, to take place Saturday, the 29th inst, to elect delegates to the county convention, called to meet in Easton on Tuesday, the 2nd of October, to nominate a county ticket, and also a County Democratic Central Committee.

The appointment of a county central committee is something the STAR has advocated a long time. It is indispensable that there should be some official body in each district to look after the registration and other matters looking to a complete organization of the party. It is immaterial who constitute the committee so that they take an interest in the business and will attend to it.

CANDIDATES IN THE FIELD.

As the time approaches for the Democratic and Republican parties to make nominations, candidates are being put in the field by their friends, and by the day the conventions meet, there is a prospect that good tickets may be made out of the abundance of material at hand. It is very important that good men should be selected by both sides, so that, whichever wins, the public interests may not suffer.

For the State Senate, on the Democratic side, the names of the following gentlemen have been mentioned in connection with the nomination: Col. Edward Lloyd, the present Senator, Hon. Osmand Hammond, of St. Michaels, Hon. C. M. Jump, of Chapel, William Goldsborough, Esq., of Easton, Major John W. Martin, of Trappe, and Col. William Hayward, of Easton, all good men.

On the Republican side, for the Senate, the following names have been associated with the nomination: Charles R. Shanahan, H. C. Mullikin, H. C. Dodson, N. C. Fitzjarrell, Jas. Cowgill, D. C. Avery, and C. H. Mansfield Esquires.

For the House of Delegates on the Democratic side, the following have been named: William Goldsborough Jr., O. Tilghman, J. Marion Wooters, Thomas H. Matthews, Samuel B. Merrick, John C. Harper, Alexander H. Bartlett, Wm. J. Wrightson, C. M. Jump, John W. Knotts, Jas. R. McDaniel, Wm. S. Merrick, William Willis, James H. Willis, Joseph B. Lowe, Frank G. Whightson, D. C. Trappla and John W. Catrup, Esquires.

Some person's are favorable to nominating Gov. Thomas and Col. Hampleton for the House. There is a movement on foot on the Western Shore, to take the United States Senator from the Eastern Shore, and the best talent on this shore ought to be sent to the legislature to resist it.

On the Republican side the same gentlemen are spoken of for the House as are talked about for the Senate.

Several persons are spoken of for Sheriff on the Democratic side, and it is conceded that the sheriff comes from Trappe district; the following are said to have no objections to taking the nomination: Jonathan H. Leonard, Matthias Merrick, Caleb Griffin, Silas A. Simpson, R. R. Butler, William Coffins, Sr., Samuel B. Merrick, John Leonard and James H. Willis, Esquires.

On the Republican side, it is pretty generally conceded that the slate is made up in favor of Mr. Thomas S. Sewell, of Chapel district; but there is said to be many a slip between the cup and the lip, and some one else may yet trip Mr. Sewell in the nomination.

The Republicans are said to be devided on the question of nominating the present board of county commissioners for re-election, but it is more than probable that they will do it, as they can present no better ticket.

We have heard only a few names mentioned on the Democratic side for county commissioners: James Benson Esq., of St. Michaels, William L. Wrightson Esq., of Bay Hundred, William S. Denny, of St. Michaels; Hon. C. M. Jump, of Chapel, in the event of his declining a legislative nomination; John W. Knott Esq., of Chapel, and Alexander Bowdle Esq., of Trappe.

There is a good deal of good material among those mentioned on both sides, and we are pleased to know that unless the conventions stultify themselves, good tickets will be nominated. The county is very equally divided politically, and the party that nominates the best ticket, in the best organized, and works the hardest, will no doubt elect its ticket. The democrats should nominate a number one ticket, organize at once, and take the Republican citadel by storm. If they act on the defensive, and wait for the Republican assault, they may be Waterloo'd on the 6th of November.

EDITORS AS LEGISLATORS. The democrats of Dorchester county have nominated two Cambridge editors for the Maryland Legislature—Col. Clement Sullivane for the Senate, and Jos. H. Johnson for the House of Delegates. Both these gentlemen have given decided evidence of ability as editors, and it is not surprising they will be found wanting if elected to the lower positions to which their friends propose to relegate them.—Baltimore Sun.

(Especially reported for the EASTON STAR.)

To get married and live in a large city seems to be the one great object of every young man and woman. Little do they change the comforts of a good home, with the beneficial influences of parents, relatives and friends for the inconvenience of hotels and boarding houses, where surrounded by very few persons in kind with you in any attribute. You can only admire the city's exhibits and beauties of city life as you would an expensive painting under glass with the request of "hands off," or whether it is a desire to risk the bird in the hand for the two in the bush, those who have suffered by sad experience are best able to answer. Do not misconstrue these words into a threat of future misery for newly married couples, or an apostrophe warning to those who wish to sacrifice the freedom of single blessedness by venturing a chance in the matrimonial lottery, for neither is my object; but I wish to refute the fallacious idea that so much happiness in life depends on the social requisites of being married and living in a large city. True, there are pleasures, and very many of them to be found in New York city, but here, one is soon lost in the great sea of humanity, while the waves of financial success or ruin, domestic happiness or infidelity sweep across, and seldom bring their victims on the surface to be admired, envied and respected, or to be scorned, hated or pilled in times of need and distress by those who once gratulated your gold and now regard you as the old empty box which formerly contained your attractive qualities. Yet unfortunately the important factor in city life is money, not matri-mony or har-mony, but plain dollars and cents. Our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honors are often pledged, bought and sold; "every gate is barred with gold and opens but to golden keys." When Tennyson wrote this truism he either lived in a large city or else he had a friend who told him all about it. Put money in thy purse, honestly if thou canst, otherwise if necessary; this seems to be the creed of many metropolitans, and I would sincerely advise all modern Diogenes to compress their search for honest men in the country or at least, come with more than one light—in fact I met a young New Hampshire man who had only been here three days and verdant-like had been "roped in." He timidly ventured the opinion that the Angel Gabriel would never throw his horn in New York, and when I asked him why, he simply answered "because somebody will steal it as soon as he gets in the city." I can scarcely endorse such sentiments, because I hope before that time true reform will have eradicated or corrected many evils, but it is safest here to reverse the usual generous belief that every man is innocent until proved guilty, by assuming every one to be a rogue until he proves himself honest. It does not seem credible that thousands of such people can spend seven days and nights in the largest city of the New World without furnishing some items of general interest, but such is the fact. Of course local news is plentiful—murders, robberies, assaults, defalcations, divorces followed by arrest and convictions, are daily occurrences and therefore too common place. However we have this consolation, that whenever there is a dearth for sensations Dame Rumor reigns supreme. At present she is very busy, and so that we may not be misled I will correct such as I know from sources of authority, to be false. Firstly, the base assertion that Henry Ward Beecher had been elected successor of Brigham Young as Prophet, and enjoined to learn its "true inwardness" and to have and to hold the same with all the lands, tenements, hereditaments and widows thereunto belonging or in anywise appertaining. This is false because the reverend divine does not preach polygamy, and, besides, the "Twelve Apostles" have had a revelation that they were to act as Head of the Church. Would it not be funny if one of the aforesaid apostles should have a private revelation all to himself, and declare that he had been ordered to assume all future responsibilities? Should that happen I fear that revelations would be quoted at a discount in the market. Secondly the rumor that Chief Joseph, who refuses a personal introduction to General Howard is our long lost Oakey Hall, in disguise; this is also false because our dearly beloved Mayor wors eye-glasses while the said chief does not wear anything. And lastly comes the unkindest cut of all—that Osman Pasha, the great Unknown in the Turkish army, is no less a personage than the talented but never-to-be-forgotten Smiler Ostheer! oh Calaway! how can you disgrace the name of that truly good man whom Providence may spare to organize another Credit Mobilier (if necessary) and at the same time not interfere with his reconnoitering for office, by lowering him to the degradation of a general in the army of barbarians. He, who has outgeneraled everybody, and still smiles while he emerges from the painful seclusion which a grateful people have granted him, to place his tiny, little ear on the political track to hear if any one is calling him, and then calmly walk off on the aforesaid sealine appendage, satisfied that whatever happens, Smiler Colfax must receive his receive his reward elsewhere, the rumor is false, because he would only serve in the army of the Lord and I don't believe he is doing that either, as he is too far away from barracks.

Besides these special rumors there are many of a general nature which do not need contradiction as their falsity is self evident, such as, that Hayes is travelling to quiet the remorse of his guilty conscience; that the Republican party is not dead but sleeping (so was Rip Van Winkle); that Civil Service reform is not a sham; that Joe Bradley is an honorable man (so are they all, all honorable men); and that Grant has not once been drunk during his European tour—these I say need no contradiction because we know all about it.

The loss of life at our recent fire was greatly exaggerated, but as if to balance it comes the sad news of ninety-six lives lost by a collision in the English Channel, as to the property I understand it to be fully insured. Speaking of insurance reminds me of the agent who asked Mr. Moody if he wanted his life insured. "no!" said the great revivalist, "not my life but if you can insure my soul I will pay you well." "I am sorry Mr. Moody but that would be impossible as our Company does not take risks against fire!"—ain't this a devilish good joke

Tweed's new edition of "what I know about the Ring" is not yet finished nor far enough advanced to allow criticism or review.

Next week I hope to replace fiction by facts. Interim;

Nominations In Cecil.

The Democrats of Cecil county have nominated the following strong ticket, which will no doubt carry the county like a whirlwind:

Senator—Hon. John M. Miller.
House—Hon. Wm. M. Knight, Dr. Jas. Turner and James M. Touchstone.
Sheriff—William T. Bouldin.
Commissioners—H. M. Crawford, D. F. Cameron and R. H. Crothiers.
Surveyor—Jas. F. McCauley.

Mr. Touchstone lives at Port Deposit, and is well known here as a highly talented and cultivated young gentleman, and will doubtless make a useful member of the House. We are glad to see him on the ticket. The Senator, and the other two delegates are old members of the legislature, and not unknown to fame.

Interesting Rifle Match.

In the rifle match at Greedmoor last week between the American and British teams, the Americans were victorious. 6,000 people witnessed the shooting. Each team had eight marksmen. The best score was made by Mr. Weber of the American team, who carried 74 out of a possible 75. Sir Henry Halford was the best of the British team. The following is the aggregate score of the two days shooting:

Americans.	British.
1849	1842

The Americans winning by 22 points.

Both teams were heartily cheered after the match was concluded.

Worth of Boots and Shoes thrown on the Easton Market.

The daily increasing demand for a certain quality and style of Boot and Shoe, is an evidence of the popular favor in which our stock is held by the community generally. We keep none but the best make, and sell at the very lowest prices, and we venture to assert that have not their equal in the market. We have just received the largest invoice that we have ever before ordered of those celebrated boots and shoes, being almost an impossibility to keep the demand supplied and we are offering them still, at the same low price. Persons in want of a good Boot or Shoe, should examine our stock, and they will be sure to purchase, as they commend themselves to purchasers at sight, to say nothing of the wide reputation by the hundreds who have purchased the same make before. In addition to this class, we have the most complete stock of

The "Mongomery Boots" and "Plow Shoes"

Ladies and Misses, Boys and Youths Boots and Shoes, of every quality, style and price, and we defy competition. Call early and see for yourselves, as our stock is just opened. Our stock of

Fall & Winter Dry Goods

is very large and complete, and goods are marked down! down!! down!!! so that all can buy without embarrassment. Our stock of was never larger and more complete than at present, and we are selling them very close, indeed. An examination will be all sufficient to prove what we here assert. We respectfully invite our many friends and customers to call and see us at our old stand on Market Space.
