Real bargain days for the man who builds

Rents are high as ever, yet lumber and building materials have come down with a crash.

In many cases our prices are 40 per cent lower than those of a year ago.

For the man who plans to build, repair, or remodel, this is certainly a favorable time.

The country as a whole is four years behind in its building program. Our own city needs 50 homes to bring conditions back to normal.

People must build, soon, and increased building is sure to bring higher prices. The present situation is the result of forced selling by manufacturers who are over-stocked.

These manufacturers were caught by the lull in buying and they must convert their stocks into ready money. In many cases they are selling at cost. When building begins again they will be quick to ask their legitimate profits once more.

We have a big stock of building materials, including all kinds of lumber, which we secured at favorable prices and which we will sell at a bargain.

Our prices are in line. Take advantage of the opportunity. Come in and see us today.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Not merely does the Lord temper the wind to the shorn lamb, but he has sent an extra supply of rain since prohibition went into effect.

On account of the lack of $250,000 there are 700 prohibition agents out of work until July, but the increase in production of home brew will probably offset the loss in wages.

SCHOOL SAVERS ARE DOING SPLENDID WORK IN THRIFT CAMPAIGN

MANY SOCIETIES FORMED AND MEMBERS ARE NOW BUSILY WATCHING THEIR MONEY GROW

Teachers and children are enthusiastic over the new thrift spirit in the school room, which has already resulted not only in giving a novel and practical interest to time honored subjects, but in the organization of approximately 11,000 school saving clubs in the schools of this district. Last year the gross sales of Thrift and War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates in the fifth district amounted to more than $2,315,000 during the school session, and it is hoped that when the figures are compiled for the 1920-1921 session, an even better record will be shown.

Thousands of penny and nickel savings books, text leaflets in thrift and wall charts for showing the records of savings clubs have been mailed out to schools asking for them. Boys and girls are learning to put their money into government savings securities instead of wasting it, and in order that they may not look upon savings as an end in itself, and gain a false conception of thrift as a form of stinginess they are encouraged to save for some definite, worth-while object such, for instance, as a college education or business capital.

Saving is only a third of the game however, for the youngsters earn much of the money they save and invest in Thrift and Savings Stamps. Weeding tobacco, running errands, clerking in stores, washing dishes, raising vegetables and live stock are some of the callings in which school savings club members engage during summer vacations and after school hours, and keen is the rivalry among them.

Even the smallest tots are taking an active part in the "Earn and Save" movement, and patriotic teachers who understand the value of thrift as an element of good citizenship are devoting their time and thought to making it part of their educational work, and are also encouraging the organization of savings clubs by the children themselves. They realize that they are rendering a real service to the country by teaching sound economic thought, practical patriotism and prosperity.

GIVING SPLENDID AID

Postmasters are giving splendid co-operation in the effort to create new capital by increasing the number of investors in government savings securities. Approximately 300,000 letters have been distributed by them since the middle of February to patrons of their offices, through post office boxes or by means of the regular carriers, calling attention to the fact that the man who saves even a dollar out of his income has to that extent become a capitalist, and to the absolute safety of government securities as investments for such savings. The postmasters are to be congratulated not only for helping to finance the government but for making their influence felt in behalf of the welfare of their own communities. Distribution of these letters means that the benefits of saving and sound investment have been brought directly to the attention of thousands of persons in Maryland, the District of Columbia, West Virginia, Virginia and the two Carolinas.

SMALL CAPITALISTS RAPIDLY INCREASING

GROWING NUMBER OF MODEST INVESTORS CONSIDERED SIGN OF NATIONAL PROSPERITY

One of the most hopeful signs for the future of this nation is the ever-increasing list of small investors. This movement, which gained such great stimulus through the issue of Liberty Bonds, is now continuing with added momentum. Having once tested the joys of coupon clipping, having learned the rewards of economy and thrift, the man of small means has become an inveterate investor.

Never before has the absolute safety of investment in government securities been so coupled with opportunity for sure profit as at the present time. Liberty Bonds, Treasury Savings Certificates and Savings Stamps offer the chance for every man, woman and child to join the ranks of the capitalists and to do so without inconvenience or danger of loss.

Equally important is the effect on the habits of the people. The movement strikes directly at the national vice of extravagance. Already it has done much to change the United States from a nation of spenders to a nation of savers and the end is not yet.

Practice thrift and saving for thirty days and you will never abandon the habit. In that time you will have learned what it means to you.

Thrift Stamps pave the road to prosperity.

Anyone can be a failure! It take intelligence, thrift and hard work to be a success.

UNION MILLS

The teachers of our public school, Mr. Wellington M. Penn and Mrs. Esther Brown, invited the patrons, friends and the present and past pupils of the school to the school building on the evening of the 26th ult., to enjoy a social hour. After the rendition of a brief and pleasing programme, consisting of music and drills, by the children, the occasion assumed somewhat the nature of a farewell reception for old Carroll Academy, as, at the end of the present school term the building, as a house of education, will have its doors finally closed, it being succeeded by the new, Myers district school building, which will be ready for occupancy in the fall. After young ladies served the entire audience with light refreshments, the remainder of the evening was spent in social intercourse and in talking over the good old times. All those who had ever attended school there were requested to hold up their hands, and the big majority was equal to that given to Harding last fall. Carroll Academy was erected in the year 1838, eighty-three years ago. Its walls are yet in excellent shape and an expenditure of a few hundred dollars would make it good for another eighty-three years.

The Knights of the Mystic Chain, Silver Run, held their annual banquet on the evening of the 28th ult., which was enjoyed by the members, their families and a few invited guests. George W. Yeiser was master of ceremonies. Addresses were made by Revs. John S. Adam and A. G. Wolf, of Silver Run; William Long, of Hanover, Pa., and several others.

Under the auspices of county school superintendent Unger, a Parent Teacher Association was organized at the new, Myers district school building, last Saturday afternoon, of which the officers elected were: President, Mrs. Esther Brown; Vice-President, Dr. G. L. Wetzel; Secretary, Wellington M. Penn; Treasurer, Edgar C. Yingling and Chairman of membership Committee, Miss Miraud Nusbaum. Great interest in the association was manifested by all those present and over fifty members were enrolled at this first meeting.

The remains of Mrs. Wisner, widow of the late Andrew Wisner, of Silver Run, who died at the home of Rev. Mr. Jenkins, Newville, Pa., were interested in the cemetery at Silver Run, on Tuesday of this week.

Favorable reports are heard from Mrs. Charles Croft and Ira G. Lawyer, both of whom are surgical patients in the Maryland University hospital, Baltimore.

ARE THE JAPANESE REALLY EFFICIENT?

Not If You Judge Them By Their Telephones, Says Julian Street

Although the Western World has begun to take for granted that the Japanese have reached an enviable position in the world because of an alleged efficiency in all matters, a close inspection of actual facts shows up the Jap as almost childish. Writing for McClure's Magazine in an article entitled, "Are the Japanese Efficient?" Julian Street, noted traveler and writer, gives many instances of stupid Japanese inefficiency, particularly as to telegraphs, telephones and transportation.

"Tokyo, with a transportation problem which ought easily to be solved, has utterly inadequate street car service," says Mr. Street. "The rush hour there is only saved from being as terrible as the rush hour in New York by the lack of subterranean features.

"But it is in all matters having to do with communications that Japanese inefficiency is most strikingly brought to the notice of strangers. The postal service is poor, the cable service is expensive and absurdly slow (when I was in Japan it took about ten days to cable to America and get an answer back), and the telephone service is unbelievably awful. All these, like the railroads, are owned and operated by the Government

"It is like opera bouffe. Though the demand for new telephones far exceeds the supply, the government makes no appreciable effort to remedy the situation. Every year an absurdly small number of lines is added to the existing system. These are assigned by lot among those who have applied for them. Thus, if a man be lucky in the draw, he may get a telephone within two or three years. But I know one gentleman in Tokyo who was not lucky in the draw. At the ripe age of sixty-seven he applied to the government for an addition office telephone. The instrument was installed shortly after he had celebrated his eightieth birthday. Long may he live to use it!

"If one be in a hurry to have a telephone put in, one does not apply to the authorities, but attacks the problem in a manner more direct—either through a telephone broker or through advertising. Thus one can get in contact with a person wishing to sell an installation and a number. The number must, however, be in the exchange serving the district in which the telephone is to be placed.

"Though this is a very expensive method, it is the one usually employed in Tokyo and other large cities. A telephone for the business district of the capital may cost as much as twelve hundred dollars, but in a residence district it will be considerably cheaper—five hundred dollars or less.

"A curious detail of this business is that low numbers bring the highest price in the open market. This, I was informed, is because green operators, in process of being broken in, sit at that end of the central switchboard at which the high numbers invariably occur, thus guaranteeing the owners of high numbers a grade of service calculated to drive them to the madhouse."
