Trappe, Talbot Co., Aug. 8, 1877.

In presenting to the Farmers the Patapsco Guano and Patapsco Guano Mixture, I have the advantage of practical personal experience, and the testimony of all my friends who have used them; and I recommend them without hesitation, having used nearly all the high grade and high priced manures, and find those mentioned above, have paid me best, and they are much lower in price, lower than any similar grades, and of uniform quality and fine drilling condition.

The records made by these Guanos will speak for themselves, and I urge my friends to give my timely notice of their merits. The certificates appended will show the opinion of Patapsco and Orange Mixture in this locality, and knowing the Company as well as I do, I can guarantee that the same standard will be maintained.

JOHN K. CAULK.

The Proof!

Trappe, July, 1877.

John K. Caulk:—I used Patapsco Orange Mixture and Guano side by side, they yield to the best for years, and although the Peruvian cost so much more, the Orange Mixture did me quite as much good. The yield was 25 bushels per acre. R. H. HAVEN.

Trappe, July, 1877.

John K. Caulk:—I used Turner's Excelsior Guano and Patapsco Orange Mixture side by side, and could not detect any difference in their effects. Both seemed to be equally good, I could not detect it, one doing quite as well as the other. Both used in equal quantities.

BUD. A. LEONARD.

Trappe, July, 1877.

John K. Caulk:—The Orange Mixture purchased of you paid me handsomely. It is a first-class manure. W. H. PARROTT.

Trappe, July, 1877.

John K. Caulk:—I used Patapsco Orange Mixture broadcast, and my yield was 18 bushels for one seeded JAS. R. LEONARD.

Trappe, July, 1877.

John K. Caulk:—Patapsco Orange Mixture is decidedly the best manure I have ever used. With an application of 200 pounds per acre, I have made the best crop of wheat ever made on the land, and the grass is magnificent.

E. W. NORRIS.

Trappe, July, 1877.

John K. Caulk:—I used Patapsco Orange Mixture, and am satisfied that it is as good, to say the least, as any I have ever used, upon thin orchard land I obtained 15 bushels for one seeded. My grass, where I used Orange Mixture, looked ahead of any I have seen, and by the yield showed the largest grass character of land. SOLOMON MULLIKIN.

Trappe, July, 1877.

John K. Caulk:—I used Patapsco Orange Mixture upon corn land, and have never made so much wheat upon the same land. It threshed out about 20 bushels to the acre.

R. S. REES.

McDaniel'stown, July, 1877.

Dear Sir:—I used the Patapsco Orange Mixture on my crop of wheat last fall. My crop was about 23 bushels per acre, on corn land, the land being thin having just raised from it a very large crop of corn. I attribute my success partly to the use of the Keller drill, though in seeding my fertilizer, at the rate of 200 pounds per acre, I think I paid fifteen dollars per acre more than should have paid in it.

WM. E. LOWE.

Wittman's, July, 1877.

I used Patapsco Guano, 200 lbs per acre, and my yield is 550 bushels, from 13 seeded. I do not hesitate to say that this is the best fertilizer I have ever used, as the largest yield obtained from the same land for many years was 425 bushels. JAS. T. WRIGHTSON.

Wittman's, July, 1877.

Dear Sir:—I used both Patapsco Guano and Patapsco Orange Mixture, I could see no difference whatever between them. My crop was a little over 20 bushels per acre.

HUGH DAWSON

I put my wheat in with the drill about the middle of October, ground very wet, so much so, it was impossible to properly prepare it; I used both Patapsco and Patapsco Orange Mixture, and am not prepared to say which did the most good, both doing so well; from 34 acres of fallow, (using 160 lbs Patapsco per acre,) I got 900 bushels of wheat, and think the army worm cut it short about 100 bushels. From 34 acres of corn land, using Patapsco and Orange Mixture side by side, I obtained 800 bushels, or about 23½ bushels per acre from fallow, and 22½ bushels from corn land, the best yield I have had on this land, and I do not hesitate to repeat my former endorsement of these manures, as they are first class in every particular. WM. L. WRIGHTSON.

July, 1877.

Dear Sir:—I used last fall upon my wheat, Patapsco and Patapsco Orange Mixture, I think the Patapsco the best I ever used, and believe the Orange equally as good in proportion to price. I have used Moro, Phillips, Rhodes, Turner's Excelsior, and many others.

JAMES SEVIL M D.

St. Michaels, July, 1877.

Dear Sir:—I used Patapsco and Patapsco Orange Mixture, applying 175 lbs on my best land, and 200 on thin land, per acre, in the drill. My yield was 25 bushels per acre, of excellent quality. J. E. McDANIEL.

Bay Hundred, July, 1877.

Dear Sir:—I used Patapsco Guano on my wheat last fall, and am satisfied the fertilizer paid me handsomely. I have threshed, and the fertilized wheat yielded 50 per cent. more than where none was used. Actual measurement. JAMES E. DUNCAN.
