CLEOPATRA'S NEEDLE.

New York has now decidedly a bigger thing on hand than the Philadelphia Centennial; something that will attract millions of people to the commercial Metropolis, for many, many years to come. Some time ago, the Khedive of Egypt presented Great Britain with one of the two ancient Obelisks at Alexandria, known as Cleopatra's Needle, and signified to a correspondent of the New York World his desire to present the other to the City of New York, if that city would incur the expense of transporting it across the ocean. The Obelisk for England has been encased in an iron vessel, and is now on its way to London, if it has not already arrived there, one Mr. Dixon, not our Republican candidate for county commissioner, but an English engineer, having taken the contract to transport it from Egypt to England, and put it up for $200,000; and having his apparatus all complete, and useful for nothing else, and his hands in the business, Mr. Dixon kindly offered the World to bring the other to New York, and place it in Central Park, for the small sum of $100,000. The World has lately literally overflowed with Cleopatra's Needles, giving a full account of the Needle, its great antiquity, immense size, 69 feet high, and 15 feet in diameter, the process of transporting one of the Obelisks to England, extolling the liberality of the Kedive, and proving the advantages to New York of having this wonder of the World in Central Park, and appealing to the city, or some one of her many rich citizens, to advance the money without delay and secure the prize. And last Sunday's World, with a grand flourish of trumpets, announced the important fact, that a wealthy citizen of New York, whose name has been withheld for the present, but who is probably William H. Vanderbilt, has assumed the whole expense, and placed the necessary $100,000 at the disposal of the World, and already a contract has been entered into with Mr. Dixon to bring the Obelisk to New York and place it in Central Park. There is no doubt now that this wonder of the world is coming to the New World through the efforts and enterprise of the World, which is truly another wonder of the world. If Mr. Vanderbilt is the gentleman who is to meet the expense, he has certainly placed his money where it will be likely to do the New York Central Railroad the most good, for it will attract millions of passengers from the West to New York over the Central, to see the wonderful and world famed curiosity. It will be a great achievment if the World works this thing out to completion; a bigger thing than the Herald's sending Stanley into the wilds of Africa, to search out and relieve the explorer Livingstone. The World has but one other thing to do in connection with this matter, to render its fame immortal in three hemispheres; it must bring the Khedive to New York in a National ship, to witness the unveiling of the Obelisk, after it shall be placed in Central Park. The whole nation would gladly join the World in inviting him to come, and we have no doubt that he would delight in visiting New York under such circumstances. As we are to have the Obelisk and no mistake, unless it should be unfortunately swamped in crossing the ocean, by all means let us have his Majesty, the Khedive also, to be the first to lift the veil and show it to the thousands who will there assemble, to witness the ceremonies and gaze for the first time on a monument that more than forty centuries has been the admiration of the world. Now while writing about wonders and the World, we should not omit to say, that the New York World, which has just accomplished so much in this matter in a very brief space of time, for it has only had it in hand a few weeks, is now without doubt at the head of New York journalism, and is truly a wonder of enterprise and ability. It is in all respects a model paper, just such a metropolitan organ as the National Democracy have these many years longed for. We can most cordially recommend it to any of our readers who may desire to subscribe to the best newspaper in the country.

President Hayes has nominated General Harlan, of Kentucky, for Justice of the Supreme Court, to fill the vacancy caused by the election of Justice David Davis to the U. S. Senate. It is said Gen. Harlan is a good stump speaker, but not much of a lawyer. There will be opposition to his confirmation.

Slanders Nailed to the Counter.

We understand that some of the crooked-talking (?) Republicans have commenced to circulate false reports, with a view to injure Mr. Charles M. Jump's chances of election. A report is in circulation in Trappe District, to the effect that, as soon as the Democratic ticket was nominated, Mr. Jump went to Captain Tharp and pledged him forty Democratic votes in Chapel, should he be nominated for the Senate. This is an infamous falsehood. Mr. Jump never talked with Capt. Tharp on the subject, and had no idea that Capt. Tharp was a candidate for the Senatorial nomination. Another report circulating in this district is, that as soon as Mr. Jump was nominated, he went to Mr. E. Y. Davis, and that they agreed, between themselves to make a combination, and that Mr. Jump was to cast all the Democratic influence he could control for Mr. Davis in consideration of Mr. Davis exerting his influence to control his Republican friends to vote for Mr. Jump. This is also an infamous falsehood. Mr. Jump had not seen Mr. Davis for three weeks until he came to town on Saturday to correct this malicious report. We make these denials on the authority of Mr. Jump. Mr. Jump positively refused to make any combination to secure a nomination and it is not likely that he would now make combinations with Republicans to secure his election, after having been nominated and accepted a position on the Democratic ticket, with a pledge to do all he could to secure the election of all the candidates.

The French Elections.

The French elections took place on Sunday week. The result is a very decided victory for the Republicans notwithstanding that McMahon and his ministers exerted all the powers of the administration to secure a Government victory. 314 Republicans, and 201 Monarchists have been elected, and there will have to be new elections in 19 districts, the candidates not having received a majority. The election has turned out a great disappointment to Marshal McMahon, who has been lead on almost to destruction by the wiley Duc de Broglie, Fourtou and their set. The Government minority in the chamber will consist of 90 Bonapartists, 45 McMahonites, 44 Legitimists, and 14 Orleanists. The total Republican vote is 360,000 in excess of the Republican vote of 1876, which shows that France is becoming more and more Republican. After such a crushing defeat, it would be supposed that the De Broglie ministry would promptly resign; but the French tyrants have no such intention, on the contrary, they have commenced an intrigue for the purpose of manipulating the Senate in their interests, so as to secure another dissolution of the chamber; it is said the Senate will abandon its passive role, and promptly tell the ministers what it considers to be their duty, since the nation has pronounced against them so emphatically.

The President's Message.

President Hayes sent his message into Congress last Tuesday. He informs congress that the army appropriation bill failed to pass at the last regular session, and that is why he has convened both Houses in extra session. He recommends that the army be paid, and that all questions respecting the increase or reduction of the army, be postponed to the regular session. He also recommends that a Naval deficiency bill be passed, as the Naval officers are in arrears for their pay. He recommends that congress pass a law authorizing the appointment of Commissioners to the French International Exposition. He also recommends that provision be made to insure representation by the United States government at the International Prison congress to be held at Stockholm next year. That's all there is of it. A half column of the Baltimore Sun.

A Russian Victory.

The war news is a little more important this week. The Russians have gained a great victory in Asia over Mukhtar Pasha, capturing many cannon and rifles, taking several thousand prisoners, and a quantity of provisions. By making a flank movement on the Turks, the Russians appear to have attacked them in front, flank and rear. The Turks were vigorously pursued towards Kars after they retreated. Such is the substance of the dispatches.

The Ticket Completed.

The Democratic convention met on Tuesday and filled the vacancy on the commissioners' ticket, caused by the declension of James M. Wooters, Esq., by unanimously nominating Hon. Charles M. Jump. Mr. Jump possesses all the necessary qualifications to make a first rate county commissioner, and his nomination will doubtless add strength to the ticket. There is nothing left now to be done but for the Democrats go to work and elect it.

The Tammany Hall Platform.

The following three resolutions constitute the Tammany Hall platform, adopted last Thursday night. They are sound and terse. There is no uncertain sound about them:

Resolved, That Rutherford B. Hayes holds the office of President of the United States only by force of fraudulent returns of votes and the decision of an unconstitutional Electoral Commission; and that since fraud vitiates everything, fraud vitiates Mr. Hayes's title to the office of President.

Resolved, That no administration of the office by Mr. Hayes can condone his fraudulent accession to and his unlawful retention of the same.

Resolved, That Mr. Hayes's order to officeholders prohibiting the fullest exercise by them of certain rights of citizenship is unconstitutional and oppressive, and if adhered to and enforced should lead to his impeachment and removal from office.

The Obelisk Lost and Found.

The obelisk lately shipped from Egypt for England, was lost and abandoned in a storm by one vessel, and rescued by another after the storm abated. It was encased in an air-tight iron cylinder, that could not sink. It will defy the storms, make the trip, and be landed safely.

How is it that Rev. Charles R. Mullikin is a candidate for the House of Delegates? Under our constitution religious ministers are ineligible to seats in the legislature. Rev. Mr. Mullikin must step down and out.

A GOOD JOKE.—Hayes is talking of reorganizing the Republican party of the South on an "honest basis." This is the best joke of the season.

MARYLAND UNITED STATES SENATOR.—Mr. James Alfred Pearce, of Kent county, who has been mentioned as a proper candidate for United States Senator for Maryland, has written a letter to the Chestertown Transcript declining to be a candidate for that position, saying that in his judgment the public welfare required that our representative in the Senate chamber should be from the abler and most experienced men in the State, and as he does not pretend to be numbered among these he hopes the high station will be filled by some one capable of rendering better service to the State than he could hope to give. All which is a very remarkable act of modesty in these degenerate times.—Balto. Sun.

THE SHOOTING OF WM. STEWART.

[illegible] Meeting of Oyster[illegible] Boatmen Last Night.

A largely attended meeting of oysters[illegible] boat owners was held last night at Rainbow Hall. The meeting was called to order by Colonel Prince, upon whose motion, W. H. Thompson was appointed permanent chairman. John I. Bennett was elected permanent secretary. Messrs. M. Garrett, Robert J. McAllister, Wm. Henry, John Flaherty, Patrick Corbett and Charles Wacker were elected vice-presidents; and William D. Kelly, treasurer.

Mr. Thompson thanked the meeting for the honor conferred upon him, and said that the object for which the meeting was called, was to make suitable arrangements for the protection of the hard working dredgers. It was high time, he said, for something to be done for the protection of their labor and their lives, through an organization of the oystermen.

Upon motion, Mr. James A. L. McClure, who is counsel for the oysterman of Baltimore, was called upon to make some remarks.

MR. M'CLURE'S REMARKS.

Mr. McClure said that he had been waited upon by a committee with a request that he would give his views at last night's meeting in regard to the shooting of William Stewart—"Brocky Bill"—the oyster schooner "Two Brothers," Capt. Kelly, by Capt. Mitchell, of the State fishery sloop "Nannie Merryman."

Mr. McClure said: On the evening of the 8th instant Captain Kelly, of the schooner "Two Brothers," while proceeding down the Chester river, was approached by the State fishery sloop "Nannie Merryman, Capt Mitchell. A shot was fired across the bow of the "Two Brothers," whose captain changed her course. Several volleys were then fired from the "Nannie Merryman," one of the shots mortally wounding poor Stewart. When the shot was fired which wounded him the State fishery sloop was only sixty yards from the schooner "Two Brothers." The speaker said that he was going to show that Captain Mitchell had committed wilful murder and not manslaughter. All of you, he said, who know Captain Mitchell, know him to be a coarse, illiterate, vindictive, malicious and untruthful man. His purpose is that no one shall dredge in the waters of Anne Arundel county, and he looks forward at some day to be in command of the entire fishery force.

Mr. McClure then read from the fishery laws of Maryland to show why Captain Mitchell had committed wilful murder. The fisheries of the Chesapeake bay, he said, are divided into six districts, as follows: First district Somerset county; second district, Wicomico and Dorchester counties; third district, Talbot county; fourth district, Kent and Queen Anne's counties; fifth district, Anne Arundel county; sixth district, Calvert, St. Mary's and Charles counties. Two sloops of the oyster navy are assigned for duty in the second and sixth districts, and one in each of the other four districts. Mitchell's district was in the waters of Anne Arundel county. He had a right if called upon to arrest dredgers in the adjacent waters to Anne Arundel county, but had no right to shoot a man in Chester river, Kent county.

Suppose he had a right to do so, argued Mr. McClure: if Captain Kelly (of the schooner upon which Stewart was mortally wounded) was dredging without a license it would be, in the eyes of the law, only a misdemeanor, and make him liable to a fine of $200. Mr. McClure again reiterated that the shooting of Stewart by Mitchell when outside of his own waters was murder in the district. He had, he said, been to Chestertown, and saw the State's Attorney of the Circuit Court for Kent county. Mitchell was out upon bail on his own recognizance. The members of the grand jury were all farmers and good men. He, the speaker, however, was of the opinion that on account of the 'muddy' character of some of the evidence given by the witnesses that the grand jury would not indict Mitchell. The State's Attorney is anxious to have him indicted, and Mitchell himself wishes to be indicted, so that he can have his powers and rights clearly defined.

He, the speaker, had seen some of the witnesses, and he said if the witnesses had told the grand jury what they told him they ought to indict Mitchell for murder.

Mr. McClure advised the meeting that Captain Kelly, and Mr. McLean, of the schooner "Two Brothers," and others should go to Chestertown and testify before the grand jury. If Mitchell was not indicted by the grand jury of Kent county, the oystermen should prefer charges before the Commissioners of the State Fishery, consisting of Gov. Carroll, State Comptroller Levin Woolford, State Treasurer Barnes Compton, and the Commissioner of the Land Office. Mr. McClure then closed his remarks, which, upon motion, were then adopted.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

A finance committee, representing the four districts of Baltimore, was appointed as follows:

First district—Federal Hill.—P. Corbett, Edward Carr and John Richter.

Second district—Head of the Basin.—M. Garrett, Robert J. McAllister, Alex. Bond, J. F. Abbott and Keagle Brothers.

Third district—City Block.—Frederick Buckheimer, P. Pendergast, Wm. Henry, J. Rooney, S. J. H. Adams and N. Wagner.

Fourth district—Canton.—Thomas Moore, Wm. Parker, John Flaherty, H. P. Barnes, Charles Walker, James Mister, James Thornton and Frederick Hines.

Mr. William Henry was appointed chairman of the committee.

After some discussion as to whether or not Captain Mitchell could be indicted in the United States District Court, to which Mr. McClure gave his opinion in the negative, as the shooting did not occur upon the high seas, but in Maryland waters, the meeting adjourned.

A New Political Factor.

The organization in this county known as the workingmen's party, claims to have the balance of power between the democratic and republican parties, and to be able to control the election and procure the defeat of candidates of both parties. They put their strength at about 200 votes—to state with precision, 178, of whom 160, they say, are democrats and 18 republicans. These, they claim, are committed to vote the ticket agreed upon by the managers of the organization. 178 voters are but an insignificant part of the 4500 voters in the county, but the two parties here being so equally divided it is possible that these 178 can control the election.

The object of the nominations or endorsements made this week, must be to exercise this balance of power. It looks as if the names of the candidates of both parties had been shuffled and the requisite number of names drawn. Why Mr. Dodson is a better representative of this county than Mr. Mullikin; or Gen. Hardcastle than Gov. Thomas, or Col. Doyd, or Mr. Tharp; or Mr. Jump than Mr. Fountain or Mr. Willis is hard to find out. Gen. Hardcastle is one of the largest capitalists in the county; Mr. Dodson is a very hard worker,—with his brains and his capital; Mr. Fountain, whom the workingmen have rejected, is a mechanic that works in his shop daily; Mr. Jump, whom they accept, is one of the leading politicians of the county; Mr. Shaw and Mr. Griffin, both rejected, work with their hands for their daily bread. In short, the workingmen seem to have taken capitalists from both tickets, and put on theirs.

The party does not seem to have put forth a platform at the meeting held to make the ticket. When it was formarly organized last summer, a declaration of principles was issued, which contained some excellent things, but it also proposed some things which their present candidates would hardly wish to be committed to. There was a strong green-back favor about the platform then enunciated, and a decided stand in opposition to contraction of the currency and in favor of the repeal of the resumption act.

This movement brings a new and a disturbing force into Talbot county politics. The gentlemen from both tickets selected by the workingmen as their nominees, are thus made to occupy the curious position of being themselves the candidates of a party that is trying to defeat their colleagues.—St. Michael's Comet.

The Comet, whose head is level on most subjects, takes the correct view of this matter. The last sentence is especially to the point. If these "18 Republicans," who are engineering the movement succeed in getting "160 Democrats" to cut the regular democratic ticket, for that is what it amounts to, they will be voted decidedly smart politicians. But can they do it? Will Democrats be caught in such a snare? 18 to 160 beats 8 to 1 all hollow. If this thing is worked out, Mr. Hayes ought to give Mr. Larrimore a first rate position.

The Great Russian Victory in Asia.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—According to Russian official bulletins not only was Mukhtar Pasha decisively defeated on Monday, but the Turkish army was entirely destroyed as a fighting [illegible]. All news from these dispatches the following [illegible] the position of the forces and [illegible] of the action: The Russian [illegible] position as described in a dispatch of the 15th instant, of the Yagni hills, Sarbatan and Kizil-Tepe, except that the Turks retained Little Yagni, which is southeast of Great Yagni. On the 14th instant, therefore, the Turkish left rested on Little Yagni, the centre on Kizil-Tepe and Olya Tepe, and the right on Aladja Dagh, where three divisions were strongly fortified. Olya Tepe is a spur or hill midway between Yagni and Aladja, about fifteen miles east by south from Kars. Besides these positions the Turks occupied several strong places such as Orlok and Yezinkoi in the rear of their line for the protection of their army and Kars from a flank attack.

On Sunday the Russian left having been extended [illegible] of the Arpachai between [illegible] Lazareff [illegible] drove the [illegible] Orlok and [illegible] completely [illegible] the morning [illegible] heavy cannonading [illegible] Olya Tepe, which was the key to the Turkish positions. In the afternoon Gen. Heymann, with about [illegible] infantry, carried Olya Tepe by assault, cutting the Turkish army in two. [illegible] left wing under Mukhtar [illegible] upon Kars, pursued by Gen. Heymann, and harassed in the flank by Gen. Gurko, who succeeded in gaining the rear of the fortifications of Kars, after a fearful sort, during which he lost a great number in killed and wounded, several thousand prisoners and four guns. The three divisions constituting the Turkish right had meanwhile been surrounded and attacked and driven from their positions, carrying with great loss. Finally night fell, and on Monday night the main body of the remnant of Mukhtar's army surrendered with its guns and a great quantity of material. Among the persons captured are seven pashas. Mukhtar Pasha is stated to be relatively slight.

MUKHTAR PASHA'S STORY.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—An official dispatch from Mukhtar Pasha, dated Kars, Oct. 15, says: "Our centre, after being exposed for four hours to an overwhelming cannonade and incessant assaults, was compelled to retreat, leaving Awlias Hill in the hands of the enemy.

The Russians then occupied all the strategical points in the direction of Kars, to which place we withdraw with one division to prepare our revenge. Another division, including the corps commanded by Raschid, Omar, Kiazim, Moussa and Cherket Pashas, continues to hold positions on Kara-Dagh.

[Note.—This is doubtless the portion of Mukhtar Pasha's force which, according to a late Russian telegram, was compelled to surrender.]

RESULTS OF THE RUSSIAN VICTORY IN ASIATIC TURKEY.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—A special dispatch from Vienna to the Times says: Mukhtar Pasha's defeat leaves the Russians free to act on the wings. Further operations by Ismail Pasha against Igdyr are out of the question, and if he does not retreat promptly he may share the fate of Mukhtar Pasha's Aladja division. The Russian force at Ardahan, which has been kept in check by Mukhtar's position rather than by any immediate opposing force, will not remain idle longer. Thus with one blow all she advantages gained by the Turks during the summer have disappeared, and unless the weather and the extreme difficulty of supplying the Russian army interfere, a march on Erzeroum may be tried again this year.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—A special dispatch to the Standard from Tiflis says it is estimated that the Russians captured in the battle of Monday last 32 battalions of Turks, four brigades of artillery, 100 officers and 2,000 horses. Among the killed are a son of the Circassian chief Chain Schamyl and the Turkish general of cavalry, Moussa Pasha. The Russians estimate the total Turkish loss at about 16,000 men, together with great stores of munitions and provisions.

Stanley Matthews voted to send the credentials of the Democratic Senator elect from Louisiana to an unfriendly committee, known by him to be such at the time he gave his vote. What does this mean? Has Hayes weakened in his high and holy mission, or has the ligature that erst united the Siamese twins of Ohio been snapped by disaster?—N. Y. Sun.

The Cost of the Cuban War.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The Standard's Madrid special says the Cuban loan, which is guaranteed by the colonial customs, will be increased by $5,000,000 before the Cortes can meet this year, and by $20,000,000 next year to defray the war expenditure.
