LOCAL RECORD.

Baltimore Markets.

Gold is quoted at $1.02¾. Prime Red and Amber Wheat $1.17@$1.20. Choice would bring more cents; Oats, 34@36 cents; Rye, 61 cents.

—Unequalled in effectiveness, unapproached in cheapness, and unrivalled in popularity is Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. 25 cents per bottle; large size 50 cents.

—In the Southern and Southwestern portions of our country, and in the valleys of our great rivers, as well as in districts nearer home, Fever and Ague, Dumb Ague, Fevers and severe bilious attacks hold high carnival. All visiting such localities either for pleasure or profit, should take with them Keller's Vegetable Life Drops—a sure preventive and cure for all Bilious disorders, especially Fever and Ague, Dumb Ague, etc.

—Keating's majority in Kent county is 240.

—Keating's majority in Queen Anne's county is 83.

—Judge Thomas A. Spence died in Washington on Saturday.

—The Governor has named Thursday, the 29th of November as Thanksgiving day.

—The Circuit Court for Talbot county commences next Monday.

—The Democratic majority on the State ticket in this county is 142.

—Keating's majority in the State over Porter, is 9,639.

—Covington & Bateman have been to the city and purchased another supply of goods. In the lot is a beautiful assortment of ladies' cloaks.

—Prof. Minnick has just received a large and handsome stock of paper and envelopes put up in styles entirely new, which he is selling at prices wonderfully low.

—James T. Robinson has just received a new and full assortment of boots and shoes, groceries, dry goods, and notions. He wants the public to call and examine prices, which he thinks can take down the town.

—The St. Michaels Comet says there was a big porpoise hunt in Spencer's Creek, near that town on Saturday week. The hunters bagged two porpoises, each about eight feet long. There was a big fiasical hunt all over the county on Tuesday, and the Democrats bagged seven, but neither measured eight feet. One of them looked pretty tall on Tuesday, but when he doffed his new "stovepipe" on Wednesday, he didn't look so tall by about two feet.

—In the (jaw) triumph in Caroline over Fields, the American Union, Republican, says, "this is no party victory. It is no Republican or Democratic triumph." It appears to have been but the expression of a Democratic revolt against Mr. Fields, who was nominated against the will of the party. The Caroline Democrats had better have taken our advice, and nominated a gentleman upon whom the party could have united. They would not now be lamenting a party disaster.

Religious.

The Young Men's Christian Association are holding a prayer meeting at the Methodist Protestant Church every day at noon. It commenced yesterday. There is also a protracted meeting going on at the same church, with preaching every evening at 7 o'clock. Rev. R. Smithson arrived here on Sunday morning, went over to Caroline, dedicated a new Southern Methodist Church at Hog Creek, and raised money enough to pay for it.

The Sample Business Extending.

The dry goods houses of Easton have succeeded so well in selling goods through the country by sample, that M. M. Higgins, dealer in boots and shoes, hats, &c., has engaged Mr. Charles E. Nicols to travel for his house, in connection with his engagement with Thompson & Kersey. Yesterday morning Mr. Nicols sent to the neighborhood of Royal Oak and St. Michaels a rousing big wagon load of goods, bundles of boots and shoes and dry goods, to fill orders he had taken last week. This branch of trade is rapidly extended, and Mr. Nicols will doubtless make an efficient traveling salesman.

The Dorcas Society.

The Annual Report of the President and Managers of the Union Dorcas Society of Easton will be found in the STAR this morning. We have so often presented the claims of this society to the people of Easton, it is only necessary now to call their attention to the subject, to assure a generous response. The poor must be looked up, and their wants relieved. The ladies of the Dorcas Society do this cheerfully, and it only remains for the citizens generally to provide the means; and it is a christian duty to do this liberally, so that none may suffer for food, raiment, or fuel during the coming winter.

Ballot-Box Smashers in Caroline.

On the night after the election, at Harmony, in Caroline county, just as the judges of election were through counting the straight tickets, and were about to commence to count the scratched tickets, some roughs, who were either mad or drunk entered the room, smashed the lamps, destroyed the ballots that had been counted, and kicked up a bobbery generally. The judges and clerks fortunately secured the tally lists and the tickets that had not been counted, which enabled them to complete the count. The affair is disgraceful, and the rioters ought to be punished. The Denton Journal says legal proceedings have been commenced against the offenders, but does not say who they are.

Rhind's Patent Safety Lamp.

This is a very ingeniously constructed lamp. By a little contrivance which acts with a spring, in the event of the lamp being upset, the light is instantly extinguished before the lamp can possibly touch the table or floor, thus absolutely preventing an explosion. Explosions are often caused by carelessly blowing out a lamp without first turning it down. Some few years ago, Mr. Frank Smith, of Delaware, was nearly burnt to death in his bedroom, by the explosion of a lamp in this way. There is no necessity for blowing out the Rhind Patent Safety Lamp to extinguish the flame. Raise it without taking hold of the handle, and the lamp goes out instantly. The lamp may be seen at R. J. Trippe's drug store, where it is for sale. It is a valuable little lamp.

Jail Broke.

Henry E. Chase, confidence man, confined in Easton jail for swindling Mr. John H. K. Shannahan out of $30, and George Cook, a cripple, confined with him, charged with stealing a watch, cut through the thick brick walls of the jail during the storm on Thursday night, let themselves down from the porch roof with a rope made of their blankets, and made tracks for parts unknown. The sheriff visited Chase's room and put leg irons on him at 11 o'clock on Thursday night, as has been his custom every night since his last attempt to break jail. Chase is a slippery fellow, and kept concealed about him an invisible saw, with which he could cut off the hasp of a padlock, or the head of an iron bolt in little less than no time. They probably struck Edwards Wilmington via the railroad.

The Forty-Third Annual Report of the Union Dorcas Society of Easton.

The lapse of another year has brought us to the Forty-Third Anniversary of the Union Dorcas Society. Hallowed and consecrated by long years of experience, we appeal with unabated faith, to our fellow citizens, for aid to continue this good work. Whilst all things have changed around us, this society remains the same in its constitution and laws, as handed down to us by the noble women who founded it, and whose names are yet fragrant with the memory of their good works. Humble as this society is, it has comforted the aged, smoothed the dying beds of many, and will secure to its benefactors, who give in the name of our Lord and Saviour the blessing, "Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of the least of these, ye did unto me."

Owing to the low state of our treasury, there were no distributions made during the summer months, save in cases of sickness. During the year we have relieved forty-nine persons. The treasurer's report is as follows:—

Incidents of Election Day.

We have not heard that a single disturbance of any kind took place in this county on election day. We never had a more peaceable and quiet election.

Many colored men voted the Democratic ticket in Talbot county on Tuesday. Some openly electioneered for it, and did good service all day for the Democratic cause.

Some amusing things are reported to have taken place. In Trappe precinct of Trappe district, the Republicans obtained about 100 majority. The result greatly elated the politicians of that persuasion. Mr. Mullikin is reported as saying, "as goes Trappe so goes the county." So satisfied were they that they had carried the county, that they did not consider it necessary to bring the news of the result of the election in Trappe to Easton, or to come here to hear further returns, but turned to and extemporized a Republican hurrah and jollification, with a supper, drinks, speeches, &c., &c. So intoxicated were they with party joy, that they kept the banquet up through the small hours of the night. The Democrats were wiser; they brought the returns to the STAR office, and sought here the comfort not to be found at Trappe amid the Republican uproar and confusion. Here they learned that Trappe precinct is by no means all of Talbot county; that the Republicans had been beaten at Easton and Oxford; that they had been swept into the Eastern Bay in Bay Hundred; that they had been badly crippled in St. Michaels; that they had been overwhelmed in Chapel; and that the whole Democratic ticket had been elected in the county by an average majority of more than 100. Armed with printed slips from the STAR office containing the full returns, about 3 o'clock on Wednesday morning the Trappe Democrats left here for home, and arrived there a little before daybreak. The Republican fandango was still in full blast. Sheriff Griffin and his posse made for the Republican headquarters and handed the returns to the chief cook and bottle washer. They read the heading: "1,000 Guns for Old Talbot! The Democratic Victory Complete! The County Redeemed!!" It was enough. The lights were immediately extinguished, and the party scattered in all directions through the dark streets of Trappe. Those from the country made tracks on foot for home, forgetting to harness up their horses. In a few minutes all was still and dismal where only a moment before all was noise and hilarity. Griffin was amazed, and then soliloquized thusly:—

"I am monarch of all I survey,
My right there are none to dispute."
"O, Shaw, Shaw, Shaw, Shaw, SHAW, SHAW!"

The crowd continued about the STAR office on election night until about 2 o'clock. B. H. Harrington, William Goldsborough, Jr., and Frank G. Wrightson, Esqs., were called for and made congratulatory speeches. The enthusiasm over the result was tremendous. Easton, Trappe, Chapel, St. Michaels, and Bay Hundred districts were all represented. Between 2 and 3 o'clock a party of Democrats put up a neat little job on a well-known Democrat in town, who had voted the Republican commissioners' ticket, and is noted for his fine liquors. They went to his house and rapped. The hospitable gentleman waked, got out of his warm bed, threw up his window, and demanded, "who's that?" They told him they had called to tell him the result of the election. He enquired "what is it?" "Well," they said, "the Democrats have elected the whole ticket except the commissioners, and the old board are in just by the skin of their teeth." "That suits me, and we must have drinkson it, for I know you must be dry after being up so late." They said they were "as dry as a powder-horn." Telling them to wait until he could let them in, he descended to the first floor, barefooted, with his pantaloons in his hand, opened the door, lit a lamp, pulled out a bottle of his finest old whiskey, and invited all to drink success to the ticket elected; and drink they all did, until their thirst was slaked, and the bottle was as dry as they were before they opened it. When all had gotten into a good humor one of the party said, "Boys it's no use keeping this farce up any longer. Lex, the old board is nowhere. The whole Democratic ticket is elected by over 100 majority." "The devil you say," said Lex; "give me back my whiskey." A few jokes were passed, Lex expressed himself satisfied, and the party went home sober.

Important to All.

The most general complaint that seems to spare neither class nor condition of person, is seated in the liver. Many, with woe begone countenances, despondent spirits and depressed feelings, exaggerate every event until even suicide has been known to result from this morbid condition of body and mind, yet Simmons' Liver Regulator is known to be a specific for affections of the Liver, Spleen and Kidneys. Unlike most preparations, it fully meets the wants of the patient whose liver or stomach is disorganized and soon restores the emaciated and spiritless dyspeptic sufferer, to a more hopeful condition of life than he could otherwise hope to attain. Purchasers should be careful to see that they get the genuine, manufactured only by J. H. Zeilin & Co., Philadelphia.
