Death of Dr. S. Pinkney, U. S. N.

It is our painful duty this morning to announce the death of our distinguished townsman, Dr. William Pinkney, Medical Director of the United States Navy, which took place at his residence about 3 o'clock last Saturday afternoon. The event has cast a deep gloom over our town, as the Doctor was most highly esteemed by our citizens, and his death is universally lamented. He took a bad cold about a week ago, while superintending the killing of his stock, which brought on inflamation of his bowels and stomach and terminated his valuable and useful life. He died in the 67th year of his age, and had been retired from service in the Navy nearly three years. He was born at Annapolis, January 7th, 1811, and spent about forty years of his life in active service, visiting all parts of the world. He was the Chief Surgeon of Admiral Porter's fleet, during the late War, and was distinguished for his genial disposition, splendid talents, high culture, and eminence as a practical surgeon. He was among the first in the Federal service to assert the rights of the people of the South after the War had ended and the Union was restored. He was attended in his late illness by Drs. Earle and Chamberlaine. His brother, Bishop Pinkney, came over from Baltimore Thursday night, and was with him when he died. He leaves a widow and daughter to mourn their irreparable loss. Dr. Pinkney will be greatly missed by our citizens, as his talents and acquirements were ever at their service, on all occasions calling for a public impromptu address. He was a fluent and entertaining off hand speaker, and his prepared addresses showed deep thought, and vast stores of valuable information. He was a terse and vigorous writer, and took a deep interest in all the live issues of his times, always asserting his opinions with the independence of a freeman. He was kind to the poor, and liberal to a fault, and his splendid hospitality was the praise of all who knew him. The loss of such a citizen cannot be over estimated. His funeral took place yesterday at Christ Church; the Right Rev. H. McLey, Bishop of Easton, officiating, assisted by Rev. Dr. Wilson, Rev. Mr. Stryker, and Rev. Mr. Beaven, and his remains were buried in Spring Hill Cemetery. The most of our people showed their respect for the deceased by attending the funeral.

Senator Conkling won a great victory over the administration in the Senate on Wednesday, by securing the rejection of Mr. Hayes's New York appointments. Merritt, for Surveyor of the port, a friend of Conkling's, was confirmed without opposition, but Roosevelt, for Collector, and Prince, for Surveyor, were rejected by vote of 31 to 22. Conkling is now running the New York Custom House under General Arthur in his own interest. He thought by making a change, Secretary Evarts desired to run it in his interest. Conkling's opposition to the appointments is understood as predicated upon his hostility to Evarts. Six Republicans and twenty Democrats voted to confirm the Collector and Surveyor, and three Democrats and twenty-eight Republicans voted against them. Three Democratic Senators were present and did not vote, and these with the three that voted against, gave Mr. Conkling the victory and a quietus to reform in the New York Custom House. What any Democratic Senator wanted to back up Conkling for, in such a contest, we cannot imagine. Looking at the matter in a party sense, it appears to us that their action is the extreme of folly. In a business sense, they are certainly wrong, or there is no truth in the testimony taken by the Jay commission. If the New York Custom house does not need reforming, then there is no necessity of reform anywhere in any branch of the national administration. Roscoe Conkling is the bitter foe of the Democratic party; his oath of office nor anything else, does not restrain him from taking all advantages to secure party ends, whether it be the seating a fraudulent President or a bogus Senator. We regard him as a supremely selfish and corrupt man, one not to be trusted an inch; and in his contest with the administration, the Democrats should have paid him for his past treachery to right. By their votes they have made him more powerful than ever. They ought to know that Conkling is working for the Republican succession, and by strengthening him against the administration, the only influence that can break him down, they are but increasing his chances of election in 1880. With a beautiful opportunity since Congress met, to split the Republican party, the Democratic Senators not only have let it pass by unimproved, but have really done much to cement the Republican party under Conkling's leadership. This is bad generalship. The Democratic party in Congress is sadly in need of a head. If those who pretend to lead cannot do better than to strengthen Republican machine politics, they had better abdicate, and give place to somebody capable of guiding the party with more wisdom.

The remarks of the Easton STAR on the subject of fisheries published in the Journal last week, seems to have set some of our friends to thinking. We publish in another column a call, signed by "Many Fishermen," for a meeting of those interested to be held in this town on the 22nd inst. to consider the most proper course to be taken looking to the preparation of a bill for the protection of the fish interests of the Choptank river to be presented to the next Legislature. The notice contemplates that committee of five shall be appointed by the fishermen of each of the counties of Caroline, Talbot and Dorchester, to meet at some central point, thoroughly discuss the subject and agree upon a bill that will be acceptable to all.—Denton Journal.

We are glad to notice that the fishermen along the Choptank are waking up to their interests. A meeting has been called for Caroline, to take place on the 22nd inst., to appoint delegates to meet in convention at a place not named, early in January. We suggest Easton as the place of meeting of the convention, and Tuesday, the 8th of January, 1878, as the day; and we suggest that those interested in the Choptank fisheries in Talbot, meet at Easton, on Saturday the 29th inst. to appoint delegates to the said convention. At the convention, the fishermen of Caroline, Dorchester, and Talbot can exchange views, and adopt measures for the preparation of a suitable bill to be presented to the Legislature for the protection of the Choptank fisheries.

Senators Dennis and Whyte, of Maryland, are reported as among those Senators who refused effective support to Mr. Hayes in his effort to reform the New York Custom house, by aiding Mr. Conkling to defeat the confirmation of Roosevelt and Prince. What our Senators expect to gain for the Democratic party by helping Conkling to overthrow Evarts and thus to consolidate and solidify the Republican party, we cannot divine.

Senators Gordon and Conkling had a personal difficulty in the Senate last Thursday evening, which grew out of Conkling's attempt to play the bulldozer but he waked up the wrong passenger when he got hold of General Gordon. Conkling said we will settle this matter "here," but Gordon said "not here." Conkling will disclaim intention to give offense or apologies, and there the matter will end. His small triumph the other day has made him out of the New York mayor. He has to wait for him to play the bully in the Senate.

Promises keep inspire confidence, and Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup never promised relief in the diseases of childhood without at once affecting it. Hence the popular reliance upon it. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Water.

Water in substance or in the form of steam is the world's great motor, and the valuable assistant in man's various enterprises, but in the form of steam it becomes an exceedingly dangerous as well as useful agent, and requires care and skill in its management, as scalds are often not only painful in the extreme but very serious, and if not attended properly, fatal in their results. Keller's Roman Liniment has proven itself the best means known to immediately alleviate the intense suffering from scalds, and cure without leaving a scar.

Deaths.

HOPKINS.—Departed this life at Easton Point, on the 3d instant, George Clement Hopkins, aged 18 years, 8 months and 23 days, son of the late George C. and the late Sarah A. Hopkins of Talbot county.

DUNCAN.—At the residence of her mother, in Easton, Md., 12th month, 14th, 1877, Mary Jane Duncan, in her 28th year.

BROWE.—Departed this life December 7th, 1877, at the residence of Mr. Charles F. Parker, of Talbot county, Mr. John Browe, a native of England, but from his youth, a resident of this country, in the 60th year of his age.

PINKNEY.—We are pained to announce the death, after a brief illness, of Ninian Pinkney, M. D., LL. D., Medical Director U. S. N. Dr. Pinkney was a native of Maryland, born June 9th, 1811, and died at his residence, "Londonderry," near Easton, Dec. 15th, 1877.

His genial and generous nature, his professional ability and long-continued service in the navy, had won for him many friends. Consciousness and fortitude remained until the last, and he was able to receive the Holy Sacrament to his comfort.

THE WORLD FOR 1878.

Since the change in its proprietorship (which took place May 1, 1876) "THE WORLD has become the brightest, sprightliest, most scholarly and popular journal in the metropolis." "It is entertaining, interesting, bright, decent, fair and truthful." It does wrong wittingly to no man, no creed, no interest, and no party. It treats all subjects of importance earnestly and with respect. It seeks to make itself an agreeable companion, as well as a faithful guide and teacher. THE WORLD regards the recent victories of the party with which it by preference acts not as mere partisan triumphs gained by partisan contrivances, but as the unmistakable expression of a deep and genuine popular demand for new methods in government, for a thorough purification of the public service and for a rectification of the aims of our party organizations. Wherever and whenever the Democratic party proves itself loyal to this popular demand THE WORLD will resolutely uphold it; wherever and whenever it fails short of or attempts to counteract this popular demand THE WORLD will as resolutely oppose and denounce it. In a word, THE WORLD believes the Democratic party to exist for the good of the public service. It does not believe the public service to exist for the good of the Democratic party.
