EASTON, MD.

TUESDAY, FEB. 12, 1878.

T. K. ROBSON, Editor

The N. Y. Sun pronounces the attempt made in Congress to revive the income tax, a movement to encourage perjury.

J. Madison Wells, the indicted head-centre of the Louisiana Returning Board rascals, has surrendered himself to the Sheriff of New Orleans, and will be tried for his crimes.

Russia has accepted Austria's proposition to hold a European conference of the great powers to settle the Eastern question, but objects to holding the conference in Vienna or any of the other great European capitals.

Henry W. Genet, one of the Tweed ring, who escaped from Sheriff Brennan after his conviction, some years ago, has returned to New York and surrendered himself to the court. He is now out on bail.

Augustus M. Turner, the paying teller of the Bank of North America, New York, is a defaulter to the amount of $200,000, which will prove a clean loss to the bank of $[illegible]. Turner is a monometallist, and run with the gold ring.

England considers that the Russian terms of peace involve the virtual destruction of the Turkish empire. This does not suit England at all, and she is making big fuss about it. It threatens injury to a very large English trade, and that is what she cares most for. [illegible]

Anderson, the Securities Board Conspirator, tried in New Orleans last week for issuing fraudulent election returns last November, has been convicted. Now, let J. Madison Wells have the same stretch of justice, and then it will be the turn of the two negroes, Casselluve and Kenner.

Senator Allen G. Thurman made an able speech in the U. S. Senate on Wednesday, in favor of the Silver bill. The intellect and moral force of the country are rapidly crystallizing against the shammers who repudiated the original contract under which our great public debt was created. Justice will yet be done the people who have been robbed by sharp legislation.

Hillard Confirmed.

Hilliard, the Democrat from Georgia, nominated for the Brazilian mission by President Hayes, has been confirmed by the Senate, seeing that they were clearly beaten in the Hilliard case, all the Radical Senators except four, left the Senate before the vote was taken. The Democrats and Hayes are jubilant over the result.

Death of Col. Bryson.

Col. Nathan G. Bryson, a native of this county, but for many years a resident of Vicksburg, Mississippi, died at his residence in that city last week. He married a daughter of the late James Parrott, Esq., of this county. Col. Bryson was a most estimable gentleman, beloved by all who knew him for his many noble qualities.

A writer in the St. Michaels Comet names Hon. Richard D. Hollyday, Secretary of State, for Governor, to succeed Gov. Carroll, and says he will be pressed by his friends, who are legion throughout the State, for the Democratic nomination. No man in Maryland is more familiar with the duties of the gubernatorial office, or would fill the position with more honor to the State, than Col. Hollyday. Talbot would give him a hearty support.

Montgomery Blair's Resolutions Shelved.

The Committee on Federal Relations in the Maryland House of Delegates has reported unfavorably on Mr. Blair's memorial, praying Congress to reopen the Presidential election count, to ascertain who was really elected, Tilden or Hayes. The committee wisely conclude that the country will not be the gainer by any further agitation of the question. Everybody knows well enough now that Mr. Tilden was, and Mr. Hayes was not, elected.

Blaine on the Silver Question.

James G. Blaine made a speech in the Senate last Thursday on the Silver bill, attempting to ride two horses going in different directions at the same time. Of course he tumbled down between them, and nobody was hurt, except Mr. Blaine's reputation as a statesman. The speech was printed and circulated with a great flourish of trumpets over the country before it was delivered. This shows that Jeemes is as vain as he is shallow.

A Move in the Right Direction.

The Baltimore Sun says Mr. Rayner has introduced into the House of Delegates, a bill to exempt from taxation property to the amount of $15,000, belonging to charitable and educational institutions. It says "it is intended by the bill to relieve struggling charities, and to return to the practice which has been the continuous policy of the State up to 1876, and not to put a tax upon charity and benevolence, which takes care of the sick and the afflicted as well as the orphans and the destitute." If Mr. Rayner shall succeed in securing the passage of his most equitable bill, he will receive the hearty thanks of all in the State who are engaged in charitable work, as well as all those who are recipients of the charity dispensed by our charitable institutions. How the legislature ever come to pass the inhuman law of 1876, is something that has always passed our comprehension.

Death of the Pope

Pope Pius IX died at Rome about three minutes before 5 o'clock P. M. last Thursday. He was so much better the day before that he walked some, and it is said his exertion in walking brought on the attack from which he died. Pius IX was a great and good Pope. He was elected to the Pontifical throne June 16th 1846. He was born May 13th 1792, and was nearly 86 years old. His family name was Giovanni-Maria Mastai-Ferretti. He was born at Sinigaglia, in Italy. His father, Count Girolamo Mastai-Ferretti, was Chief magistrate of his native city. His mother was a woman of great intelligence, and superintended the early education of her son. He was intended for the army, but his health would not permit him following the profession of arms, and he turned his attention to religion, and took orders in the church of Rome. He was admitted to the priesthood while very young, and his zeal lead him to go as a missionary to South America. He left Rome in 1823 and spent two years in Chili. In 1828 he was made Archbishop of Spoleto. In 1832 he was transferred to the see of Imola. In 1840 he was made a Cardinal. His conspicuous good sense and great popularity caused his friends to hope that he would succeed Gregory XVI as Pope, which he did. He reigned in stirring times, and although the Roman church has been despoiled of its temporal power, he leaves the church stronger spiritually than it was when he was exalted to the throne of St. Peter. The religious ceremonies usual on the death of a Pope will last ten days, after which he will be buried; then the conclave of Cardinals will elect his successor. We have not space to-day to say more respecting this great event. His last words to his friends were, "Guard the Church I loved so well and so sacredly."

We are sorry for Thomas F. Bayard.—He has a fine mind and had he but "got off the track," a glorious future was before him, but his association of those who have prostituted our legislation in changing the public debt contract for their individual profit, at the expense of the masses, has set him back a long time, if he ever regains what he has lost. Mr. Bayard has made the mistake of taking his inspiration from the gold ring of New York instead of from the law as it originally stood creating the public debt.—While the country is striking heavy blows for relief from infamous legislation, he strikes back at the country. He will be run over by the silver train if he don't get off that fatal track.

The European Situation.

England is growing decidedly war-like towards Russia. The House of Commons has yielded to the popular clamor, and voted Lord Beaconsfield $20,000,000 for the protection of British interest in the East. In the mean time the English Mediterranean fleet has been ordered to Constantinople, to look after the Arch Duke Nicholas, and ascertain his mission in that latitude. There is imminent danger of an immediate general war in Europe. England will not be apt to strike a blow unless Austria joins her, and the action of Austria will depend on the course Germany may take; and as Germany does not know what course France may take, Bismark has not yet announced his policy; and as France is ignorant of the alliances Italy has made, she's not disposed to commit herself prematurely. In the mean time the great European armies are held ready for action, and may be mobilized at any time. The proposed Congress of the great powers may, and it may not avert war. Under all the circumstances, it is best for us to pass the silver bill, and provide the people with a coin currency, that shall be as good as gold, war or no war.

Does The Armistice Mean Peace or War?

The news from the East is, that Russia is in possession of Constantinople, with the consent of Turkey; that these two powers are about to form an alliance against England; and that Great Britain is on the verge of declaring war against Russia, if she has not already commenced hostilities. The situation is extremely critical, notwithstanding the great powers have consented to a European conference to settle the Eastern question. With Russia in possession of Constantinople and the Dardanelles, and the communications open by the way of Sebastopol and the Black Sea, it would seem that Russia is in a position to defy both England and Austria. Russia is reported as massing another powerful army in Roumania, to repel the threatened attack of Austria. Should a general European war ensue from the present complications, no human foresight can tell when and where it will end. England appears to be more excited over what is called Russian perfidy than she has been at any time since the return of Napoleon Bonaparte from the island of Elba, and evidently means to fight if Russia does not back down from Constantinople.

The State and the Baltimore & Ohio R. R.

Hon. Robert M. McLane has obtained leave in the Maryland Senate, to introduce a bill to settle amicably and equitably the long pending controversy between the State and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company, respecting the revenue now due and the taxes hereafter to be paid the State by that company. It is right, and we trust the measure will succeed. While the honor and dignity of the State require that she shall assert her authority and enforce the laws against that and all other corporations in the State, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is so important to the prosperity or Baltimore and the State, that it should be dealt with not only fairly, but liberally, especially since the State has chartered competing roads, to the material injury of the business of the Baltimore and Ohio road. The business of settlement is fortunately in able and discreet hands, we refer to the chairman of the committee of Ways and Means of the House, and the chairman of the Finance committee of the Senate, and there need be no fears but that the welfare of the State and Railroad Company will be both scrupulously cared for in any arrangement that shall be concluded.

Although Germany has a law demonetizing silver, and none is now coined, there is nevertheless over $200,000 of silver yet circulating among the people of the Empire, and they show great unwillingness to give it up. Although we have placed Germany as an exclusively gold country she is not so in fact, and not likely to be soon.

The above figures show that there are more than twice the populations of the earth that use silver exclusively as currency as there are that use gold, or silver and gold, and more than four times as many that use silver exclusively than there are that use exclusively gold. These facts show how preposterous is the argument, that a silver and gold currency must necessarily injure our trade.

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

Proceedings in Brief.

Friday, Feb. 1st.

SENATE.

Both houses of the General Assembly of Maryland adjourned until Tuesday. In the Senate favorable report was made on a bill to impose a tax upon all ardent spirits sold in this State. An unfavorable report of the House bill in reference to attachments was reconsidered, and the bill recommitted. Several bills of a local nature were passed.

HOUSE.

In the House a joint committee was ordered to investigate expenditures by the late comptroller, in accordance with his request.

Tuesday, Feb. 5th.

In the Maryland Senate, a bill to pay Dr. O. W. Chancellor's salary as secretary of the State board of health was considered. A motion to strike out the enacting clause of the bill was warmly debated, but rejected by a vote of yeas 4, nays 18.

HOUSE.

In the House, Messrs. Morris and Hunnichen, recently elected members to fill vacancies in the Baltimore city delegation, were sworn in. Leave was granted to introduce a bill to annex the "belt" to Baltimore city, and the bill was referred to a select committee of three from the city, three from Baltimore coudty, and one from the State at large. Resolutions were reported by a select committee in favor of reduction of the federal tax on manufactured tobacco from 24 cents per pound, with proper rebate for stock on hand.—Bills were passed to amend the charter of the the Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Worcester and Somerset counties, and to amend the law regulating the working and ventilation of coal mines in Garrett and Allegany counties.

SENATE.

Wednesday, Feb. 6th.

In the Maryland Senate the directors of the Chesapeake and Ohio canal were requested to furnish the Senate with a detailed statement of gross receipts and expenditures since 1872. Unfavorable report was made by the committee on judicial proceedings on a bill amending the attachment law. The bill to amend the Baltimore Safe Deposit Company's charter so as to require the directors to make returns of its condition to the Supreme Bench of Baltimore city, and to extend the company's powers, and in reference to investment of its funds and capital, was ordered to be engrossed, by 13 yeas to 11 nays. The bill proposing to further prevent cruelty to animals was defeated by striking out the enacting clause, by a vote of 13 yeas to 11 nays. Bills were passed to pay the salary of Dr. Chancellor as secretary of the State board of health; to prevent cattle and geese from running at large in Towsontown. Also several local bills.

HOUSE.

In the House, a committee was ordered to investigate the accounts and condition of the State Normal School. Unfavorable report was made upon a petition of Maryland Academy of Science for an appropriation of $10,000; also on a bill to amend the charter of Baltimore city as to contracts for work and labor. A committee was appointed to examine the practice and proceedings in the Orphan's Court of Baltimore city. Joint resolutions in reference to reduction of the federal tax on tobacco were passed by yeas, 48, nays 18. Bills were passed to punish officers of corporations for making fraudulent reports; to extend the charter of the Merchants' Shot Tower Company of Baltimore; to extend the jurisdiction of magistrate to cases of petty larceny.

SENATE.

Thursday, Feb. 7th.

In the Maryland Senate, yesterday, the vote against striking out the enacting clause of the bill to prevent cruelty to animals was reconsidered, and the bill was referred to the Baltimore city delegation. The school appropriation bill by the late comptroller was considered and laid over. On leave obtained, Mr. McLane introduced a bill to settle the long-pending controversy between the State and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company up to Jan. 15, 1878, the substance of which is that the company shall pay a certain sum to the State in lieu of all claims against that company by the State, and that hereafter there shall be a payment by said company to the State of one-half of one her cent. on the gross receipts of the railroad within the State, including that of its Washington Branch road line. In other words, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company is to accept the principle of the gross receipts tax law now on the statute books as applicable to all of its lines within the State of Maryland. On the hypothesis that the sum to be paid to the State in settlement of past claims be reasonable, such mode of settlement will be deemed equitable and properly adjustive of all difficulties between the State and the railroad company, and preventive of any future complications. The gross receipts tax of 1874 is applicable to all railroads operated by steam within the State. A number of local bills were passed in the House.

[COMMUNICATED.]

MR. ROBSON:—Will you allow it to be said through the columns of the STAR, that since reading the letter published last week signed E. L. Hardcastle, in which the Democrats who were hard-hearted enough to refuse to vote for him are so emphatically labeled, that they are deeply mortified under the implied rebuke, and also on account of their alteration from the path of party usage. A few of them plead in justification, perhaps mitigation would be a better word, the action and example of the gentleman himself, who they allege has been guilty of the same offence against party discipline, and that they did but press to his lips, the same draught which he has not hesitated to administer to others, whenever occasion served, or inclination prompted. Be this as it may, their reasoning and the action resulting therefrom, is essentially wrong, is founded on a mistaken view of party obligation, is subversive of democratic principles and policy, and what is of more serious import, is a revelation of the Gospel of Hate—"an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth"—a revelation of which the actors allude to and the notice of it, are both offshoots and illustrations, somewhat modified.

In another point of view, however, there may be some show of justification, in ignoring them from the benefit of an "explanation;" for clear and lucid as may be the style of the letter, their obtuseness is so impenetrable and decided, that after a laborious trial of several days, they are unable to solve the problem therein presented, and are anxiously inquiring, at what time that probability could possibly present itself, in view of the attitude assumed and persistently maintained by the writer, throughout the entire contest. The only solution or illustration we have heard presented, is suggested by the Fable of the man who remained by the river side all day long, pondering the probabilities of the stream running dry, so that at the proper time he might walk over without wetting his feet.

A DEMOCRAT.

Married and yet unhappy. How many a home has been robbed of sunshine and happiness and rendered sad and desolate by the loss of some dear and petted child. This is a dangerous season for children, and parents should keep Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup handy.

Baltimore Customs.

Major A. C. Rhodes, of the Baltimore Custom House, gives the following to the public: "While suffering with a severe attack of Rheumatism, which wholly prevented the use of my right arm and hand, I tried Keller's Roman Liniment, and can only say that its effect was as surprisingly quick as it was beneficial. A few applications reduced all the swelling, removing the pain, and enabling me to use my hand and arm with ease. The Roman Liniment can always be confidently recommended.

By Universal Accord,

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS are the best of all purgatives for family use. They are the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, and their extensive use, by Physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, proves them the best and most effectual purgative Pill that medical science can devise. Being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use. In intrinsic value and curative powers no other Pills can be compared with them, and every person, knowing their virtues, will employ them, when needed. They keep the system in perfect order, and maintain in healthy action the whole machinery of life. Mild, searching and effectual, they are specially adapted to the needs of the digestive apparatus, derangements of which they prevent and cure, if timely taken. They are the best and safest physic to employ for children and weakened constitutions, where a mild, but effectual, cathartic is required.

Hon. R. C. Hollyday for Governor.

A Correspondent presents the name of the Secretary of State as Gov. Carroll's successor.

To the Editor of the Comet:

The reference to the gubernatorial canvass, made in the Comet of Saturday last, and the intimation to the Centreville Observer that Talbot county will expect the support of her neighbors, is timely.—For Mr. Richard C. Hollyday's friends throughout the State should as well know now as at a later day, that our people intend to present his name to the convention to nominate a candidate for Governor in 1879.

Too little attention is generally paid to the qualifications the chief executive of this State ought to possess. Independent of other considerations he should well understand the laws which it is a part of his duty to see enforced; he should be familiar with the ordinary and general business of the office and have an extensive acquaintance with the citizens of the State. No one can answer these requirements in a more satisfactory manner than Mr. Holly'ay. He is a lawyer well read in his profession and of considerable experience. His service as Secretary of State for the past ten years has made him thoroughly conversant with the duties of the Executive. And this service added to the fact that he has resided in different parts of the State, and has represented his county in the Legislature and Constitutional Convention, has given him rare opportunities to meet people from all parts of the State. Of these opportunities he has taken advantage. With these attainments Mr. Hollyday would carry into the office dignity, strength of character, sound judgment and pleasant and affable manners.

He would make an admirable Governor, would reflect honor upon his county and do good service to the State. Z.

Easton, Feb. 6th, 1878.

(From the Easton Ledger.)

Col. Lloyd on the Ledger "Calumny."

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 3d, 1878, 1878.

J. A. Johnson, Esq., Editor Easton Ledger: Dear Sir:—In the Ledger of January 31st, I find the following:

"That friends of Gov. Thomas, and that gentleman himself, we are informed approached Col. Lloyd long before the election to induce him to commit himself for Gov. Thomas."

If I allowed the above to remain before the public without contradiction, I would be doing great injustice to Gov. Thomas, and myself. Your informant, (unknown to me,) is in error, and I take pleasure in saying that Gov. Thomas never before the election, nor at any time since, ever solicited directly, nor am I aware indirectly through his friends my support as a candidate for U. S. Senator.

By publishing in the next Ledger the above card, you will not only oblige me, but at the same time remove a gross calumny against Gov. Thomas.

Yours respectfully,
EDWARD LLOYD.

THE CONSTITUTION.

When in the course of human events the constitution commences to break down, and the system becomes debilitated, is it not wise to know what to do, and in whom to trust? Many, through prejudice, refuse to hear or read any thing concerning physicians or medicines, but when in need blindly and contentedly acquiesce in the choice of friends. Suppose an investment becomes jeopardized, involving a few hundred dollars, would you entrust its management to others, with as little concern and thought as you would trust a physician with your life? The Family Medicines of Dr. Pierce of the Grand Invalids' Hotel, of Buffalo, have held the field for many years against all those of competing and rival manufacturers, and are to-day the standard medicines of America. His Golden Medical Discovery has no equal in purifying and enriching the blood, strengthening the stomach, and aiding digestion, and assimilation. His Pleasant Purgative Pellets act mildly, yet positively upon the liver, overcoming "torpidity" and perfectly and permanently curing constipation, while his Favorite Prescription is sold under a positive guarantee to cure the many ills and weaknesses peculiar to females. The Common Sense Medical Adviser is an illustrated work on Domestic Medicine, of nearly one thousand pages, replete with practical suggestions to old and young. Over one hundred thousand copies already sold. Price $1.50. Address the author, R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

The following named parties testify to the efficacy of Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines:

The distinguished Meteorologist and Weather Prophet, Professor Tice, of St. Louis, has issued his Annual National Weather Almanac for 1878, in which he foretells the weather for every day in the year, explains the theory clearly on which his predictions are based, gives directions by which the unscientific can foretell the weather, and other valuable matter. The whole constitutes a work of great practical value to everyone, and is almost indispensible to farmers. For sample copy and terms of sale to the trade and to agents send 20 cents to
