—Queen Anne's county secures three clerkships in the comptroller's office at Annapolis. Charles E. Cockey and George S. Palmer in the comptroller's office proper, and Willard M. Neal in the insurance division of the office.

—"Your Simmons' Liver Regulator has been in use in my family for some time, and I am persuaded it is a valuable addition to the medical science. Gov. Jas. Gill Shorter, of Alabama." "It has proved a good and efficacious medicine. C. A. Nutting."

—Our reporter of the M. E. Sunday School Anniversary last week, in naming the young ladies engaged in the dialogue, inadvertently omitted the name of Miss Laura V. Gatten, daughter of Mr. Charles E. Gatten, which we very much regret, as we understand she was not excelled by any in performing her part.

—We would call the attention of those of our readers who desire to sell their property, to the advertisement of Mr. F. L. Morling, in another column. Mr. Morling is an old resident of Talbot county, and is thoroughly acquainted with the attractions of our section. Those wishing to sell would do well to communicate with him.

—A. Chaplain, Esq., our school examiner, visited and inspected schools in St. Michaels and Bay Hundred districts last week. He speaks very highly of the condition of the schools he visited, and was especially pleased with the Tilghman's Island school, Mr. Gibson teacher, and the Wittman school, Miss Boushelle teacher.

—Mr. William Conlyn informs us that he saw peach trees in full bloom in Mr. Robert H. Jump's orchard, on Sunday week, the 3rd of March. Every bud is good, which indicates a very large crop of peaches this season, if a freeze does not come after a wet spell. The peach trees generally will all be in full bloom in the course of a few days. The late varieties always blossom first.

—A new Protestant Episcopal Church at St. Michaels is to be built this spring. The Rev. Mr. Dashiel, the rector of the church, has been indefatigable for several years past in raising the necessary funds. Plans and specifications have been made for him by the architect, and proposals for building have been advertised. The church is to be of stone, and intended to seat between three hundred and four hundred people. The old church at St. Michaels was built in 1810.

—For some time past Mr. Superintendent Caldwell has been engaged in altering and repairing the bridges on the railroad, between Easton and Oxford. The work is now about completed. In several places embankments have been substituted for piles, making the bridges much more durable and secure. They will soon be in a condition for use, and will be perfectly secure with rapid transit. The old pile and tressel-work bridges had settled in some places so as to entirely unfit them for use. The cars will run to Oxford as soon as the new embankments settle sufficiently to be used.

Farm Sold.

Mr. Noah J. Foxwell has sold his farm on the Trappe and Easton road, in Trappe district, 125 acres, to John R. Robinson, Esq., of New York, for $6,000. This is the third fine farm Mr. Robinson has bought in this county.

Scribner's Monthly and St. Nicholas for March.

We should have noticed last week the receipt of these two excellent monthlies. The contents are unusually interesting. Indeed both show great enterprise, and get better as they grow older. Published by Scribner & Co., New York; Scribner at $4, and St. Nicholas at $3 per annum.

A Fine Pair of Beeves.

Mr. Thomas R. Smith, one of our butchers, one day last week, bought a fine pair of beeves—oxen—of Jacob Smith, of Caroline. One weighed on the hoof 1800 pounds; the other weighed 1790 They cost him $150. They were western cattle fatted by Mr. Smith. Some of the beef will be in market this morning.

Rowell's Newspaper Directory.

We acknowledge the receipt of a copy of Geo. P. Rowell & Co's., American Newspaper Directory, just from the press, containing accurate lists of all the newspapers and periodicals published in the United States, Territories, the Dominion of Canada and Newfoundland, together with a description of the towns and cities in which they are published.

Death of a Preacher.

Rev. W. C. Ames, pastor of Caroline circuit, Meth. Prot. Church, died suddenly at Burrsville on Sunday afternoon. He had been ill for some days, but had so far recovered as to ride out on Saturday, when he suffered a severe relapse which resulted in death in a few hours. Mr. Ames was a man of very fine physical appearance—usually the picture of health. He was possessed of good abilities and was much beloved by his charge.

Oxford as Indian Graveyard.

While digging a postholo in Oxford Monday week, Capt. James H. Benson struck a grave and dug out five human skulls, and numerous other bones. The jaw-bones were well preserved, and the teeth were perfectly sound. From their appearance, they were evidently Indian bones, and may have been buried hundreds of years. One of the jaw-bones was large and heavy, and may have belonged to a famous warrior, whose exploits are not recorded in the annals of our modern city of Oxford.

Hambleton Park.

The Talbot County Agricultural Society has, through L. Beuhard, Esq., secured the services of a competent trainer from New York named Merryfield, and he is now in charge of the track at Hambleton Park fair grounds, and will train horses at reasonable rates. He comes well recommended as a first rate trainer, with twenty years experience, in New York. The track is being put in good order, and Mr. Merryfield will doubtless give satisfaction to all who may send him their colts.

Sale of Town Property.

On Tuesday, Wm. K. Rathell, auctioneer, sold for O. Tilghman, Esq., trustee, the town lots belonging to the estate of Mrs. Henrietta Colescott, situate at the corner of Hanson street and Railroad avenue. The corner house and lot was bought by Mr. William W. Gealon, tobacconist, for $705. The lot on Railroad avenue, west of the above, was bought by Mr. Walter H. Thompson for $352. The lot on Hanson street, south of the corner lot, was also bought by Mr. Thompson, for $130. It is reported that these lots were secured by Mr. Thompson for a new parsonage for the M. E. Church.

County School Board.

The county school board met again last Tuesday; present Messrs. Hollyday, Hopkins, and McDaniel, school commissioners, and A. Chaplain, Esq., examiner and treasurer. The usual routine business was transacted, consisting of receiving and examining reports, paying bills, &c. The time for examining teachers was fixed for Tuesday in Easter week. The treasurer was ordered to pay for the Royal Oak school house, as soon as a good title was secured. About ten years ago, R. H. Adams, for the sake of getting a school at Royal Oak, allowed the trustees to occupy his school house rent free. Nine years ago the property was sold at trustee's sale by Powell & Leonard, trustees, and bid in for the county by Mr. James Cox, a trustee of the school, at $92. The sale was not ratified until the last February term of our circuit court. The principal and interest now amounts to about $[illegible]

The board adjourned to meet again on the 26th of March.

Suicide.

Isaac Bowers, belonging to the Society of Friends, and keeping store at Skipton Landing, in the upper part of Talbot county, committed suicide Friday morning soon after he ate his breakfast, by blowing his brains out with a pistol. The ball entered his right temple and came out the left temple. He died instantly. The act was committed by the shore, a short distance from his store. He was not in debt, and at breakfast Friday morning, appeared in his usual health, and no one can account for his committing the insane act. Justice Slaughter held an inquest over the body, and the jury rendered a verdict of suicide.

Conference Items.

The Maryland Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, commences to-morrow morning, at the M. P. Church, in Easton.

Bring in the market truck, farmers; you will find sale this week for all the butter, eggs, vegetables, and poultry you may have for sale. Conference going people are heavy on marketing, and Easton will want this week all you can spare.

Don't ship your fish this week to the city, fishermen of the Choptank, but send them to Easton; they will all be wanted to feed the conference.

Worcester's Pocket Dictionary.

We have just received from the publishers, J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia, a copy of this really valuable little volume. Worcester's Quarto Dictionary is the standard authority of the majority of the scholars of America and England, and from it the abridgement now before us has been most carefully compiled. It is a complete vade mecum for the general reader and correspondent, containing, besides a profusely illustrated vocabulary of over eighteen thousand words, lists of foreign words and phrases, abbreviations, rules for spelling, numerical tables, etc. The publishers will mail this work to any address on receipt of the price, $[illegible]

Vick's Illustrated Monthly.

The March number of this charming little floral magazine, contains a beautiful colored plate of gladiolus, representing them in all their variety of brilliant color. The address list of various subjects interesting to the florist and gardener, and all subjects are treated in such a manner that the inexperienced cultivator can understand them equally with experienced florists. Where illustrations can be used to amplify the subject and impress the understanding, they are so used. It is in all respects an elegant magazine. The cost is $1.25 a year, and it is worth ten times its cost to any one who may desire to beautifulize or her home with flowers, shrubbery, trees, &c. Address Jas. Vick, Rochester, New York.

Collision Between the Ruggles and the Virginia.

Friday night week the Steamer Ruggles, from the Choptank, Capt. Gosley, and the sail-boat, Virginia, Capt. Turlington, from Onancock, Eastern Shore Virginia, collided in the Chesapeake bay near the mouth of the Patapsco river. The Captain of the Virginia was knocked over-board and drowned. The schooner sunk in about 15 minutes after the collision with 2,000 bushels of corn on board. The Virginia was going up the bay with a fair wind, at about 10 miles an hour. The Steamer was coming down at about 8 miles an hour. The men on each boat saw the lights on the other, and actually collided in trying to avoid each other, the schooner having a green hand at the helm, and the Captain in the cabin. It is supposed that the Captain reached the deck just as the vessels struck, and was knocked over by the jar. The sailors on the Virginia were rescued by the Ruggles and taken back to Baltimore, after which the Ruggles made her trip down to the Choptank. The accident occurred about 11 o'clock at night.

Personal.

Mr. Benjamin Outram, an Englisman, who has been residing in this county for several years, a brother of John Outram, Esq., sailed from New York for England last week.

It is reported that Rev. Wm. H. D. Harper, of the Southern Methodist Episcopal Church, has been invited to become the pastor of Calvary Church, Baltimore, to succeed Rev. Alpheus Wilson, who has been appointed a Presiding Elder, to supply the vacancy caused by the death of Rev. Dr. Ball.

Mr. Douncell, of the Easton Gazette, will issue a daily paper during conference, called The Daily Professional, which will contain a full report of the proceedings. Those wanting to read the proceedings should subscribe. Only 25 cents for the session.

Mr. Jesse Hughes has bought out his son, Mr. A. A. Hughes, and is back again into his old business selling boots and shoes.

Mr. B. F. Parlett, Jr., and his bride, formerly Miss Mattie Grace, were here on a visit last week

The Leader of a Band of Robbers Caught.

A negro named George Garrow, alias George Goodfellow, was arrested at St. Michaels, Thursday afternoon by Lieut. Wm. R. Johnson and Detective Fred. Shaeffer, of the Baltimore police, and committed by Justice Sparks, subject to the orders of Lieut. Johnson, on the charge of being implicated in the robbery of Capt. N. P. Dutton's house, 17 N. Broadway, Baltimore, on Sunday night week. Garrow had on his person a gold watch chain and an opera glass, which were stolen when the house was robbed, and which he admitted belonged to Capt. Dutton. Garrow had plenty of money, and had been cutting a big swell about St. Michaels. He is said to be from New York, and the leader of a band of robbers. He was caught by one of his pals, George Cornish, attempting a robbery on his own hook, after Garrow left the city. Cornish was caught, and becoming scared, told all about the Dutton robbery, and Garrow's connection with it. Lieut. Johnson took the scamp to Baltimore by the Miles River boat on Friday. He is a candidate for the penitentiary with a good prospect of election.

That 2:29 Race.

Some time ago we published the particulars of a race purporting to have been made by Whalebone, Jr., Mr. Powers' horse, and a horse named Lightning, on the 16th of last November, in Tioga county, in the State of New York, wherein it was claimed that Whalebone, a four-year-old, trotted a mile in 2:29. Mr. Powers furnished us the facts, and Turf, Field and Farm was credited with reporting the race. Some of our friends doubted the statement, and reported to us that they had written to New York to ascertain if it was true. They say they could not obtain any information confirmatory to the statement, not even any that such a race took place. We have since written to Tioga county respecting the matter, but have received no answer. Mr. Powers claims that he drove the horse, but did not keep the time himself He says the judges reported the time, but he cannot give the name of the judges. Under these circumstances it is proper for us to say, the question in dispute must remain so until Mr. Powers furnishes the proof to substantiate his report of the race. He says he did not make the race himself; he will please give the name of the gentleman that made it, the name of the owner of the track, and the judges that reported the time. If the horse trotted in 2:29 he ought to have the credit of it; if there was no such trot, it is not right to impose on the public. All the proofs ought easily to be forthcoming if the facts are as stated by the owner of the horse.

Temperance.

The great Miltonic Tableaux of Paradise Lost or the great Revolution in Heaven, will be exhibited in the town hall, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, March 12th and 13th, for the benefit of the M. E. S. School. No doubt many of our citizens will remember the remarkable success which attended the exhibition some eight years ago in our town. The tableaux are based upon the great poem of the immortal John Milton—one of the greatest if not the greatest of English poets, and is gotten up on a scale of magnificence and splendor. The most wonderful, gorgeous and dazzling exhibition in the world. Marvelous in its conceptions, moral in its teachings—every one should visit this grand entertainment and no one should fail to see what they may perhaps never have another opportunity to witness.

—Don't forget the good sugars at G. Lacy Eaton's.

—Look at Jarrell, Nichols & Cox's black silks and cashmeres before purchasing elsewhere.

—Messrs. John W. Cheesum & Co., have new spring goods, and are selling them "as cheap as dirt." They are always up with the times.

—Don't forget that G. Lacy Eaton's, on Market Space, is the place to buy glass and queensware.

—Will it pay? It will pay to examine G. Lacy Eaton's stock of groceries before buying elsewhere. He means business.

—Read Jarrell, Nichols & Cox's new advertisement in another column. They advertise a large line of black silks and cashmeres at less than city prices.

—G. Lacy Eaton, on Market Space, is constantly receiving fresh lots of chip-beef, broiling beef, and hams, which will be sliced and sold in any quantity. This is a great convenience to families and should be encouraged.

The Colliding at Trappe. No Colliding—Only an Upset.

[COMMUNICATED.]

MR. EDITOR:—I would have taken no notice of the reported colliding of Trappe, but as gentlemen who are supposed to be masters of horses, decidedly better than letters, a strong construction might be placed upon your article. I will now assure you there was no colliding at Trappe, for there were other horses and carriages in the carriage. The horse was hitched to a post in front of the drug store of Mr. R. H. Kemp, with ample room for two carriages to drive almost between the carriage and the corner of the store, when a carriage containing two ladies ran into it, to which the attached a young horse. Both carriages and the horse were damaged, the ladies and carriage injured, while the aforesaid young men were in a house conversing, and thinking of a pleasant ride home. These facts are known to all except your informant. P.

Shad vs. Money.

MR. EDITOR:—I have noticed for years, that when the shad appear in the Spring, money disappears from circulation. Now, can you tell what the shad have to do with our circulating medium? And then, a most singular thing about the matter is, the fewer the shad the scarcer the money. People generally have money to loan money all winter, but in shad season, it all at once disappears, as suddenly as water-bail at the first frost in autumn. I cannot account for it. Try to collect money in shad season, and people tell you it is "gone where the woodbine twineth." Buying is done almost exclusively on credit. Some people say the hens are disappointed by the shad, and cease to lay when they appear. Cows stop giving milk, and butter grows scarce. These fish are a great luxury, but do not the combined evils attend their coming more than overbalance the benefits of our shad fisheries. A friend whom I consulted on the subject, suggested that it might be the herring that cause the trouble, and not the shad; but I am told that in Caroline, where herring is the principal crop taken from the fisheries, the same effects do not follow; hence I conclude that inasmuch as the evils consequent upon the advent of the shad are much more prevalent in Talbot, where shad are mostly taken, it is the shad, and not the herrings, that cause the drying up of the cows, the strike among the hens, and the scarcity of money. Water Works and Town Drainage.

[COMMUNICATED.]

MR. EDITOR:—I understand the town authorities have in contemplation the flagging of all the street crossings by large granite blocks, with a view of inducing the general paving of the sidewalks by property holders. While this is a much needed improvement, yet I think if there is money in the town treasury, it could be better spent at this time in providing for the health of the town, by a more thorough system of draining and a better supply of water in case of fire. I, at. As to drainage, it would ought to be an underdrain the entire length of Harrison street, with outlets at each end of the street, and one from Dover street out to the cemetery. These two drains would serve to carry off the water that now stagnates in the depression between Academy and Dover streets, and Harrison street. The third drain should be made from the end of South street to connect with the one at Kibler's shop, so as to carry off the water which now stands all summer endangering the health of the entire neighborhood.

As to water, the town at present has no water, and cannot afford it for all many years. It would be done at a comparatively small cost by building a dam across the branch crossing through Dr. Dodson's and the James Lt. Martin farm, just above the water mill, and with a water race, a reservoir built on the top of the State armory capable of holding a sufficient quantity, from the pipes could be taken to any street crossing to hydrants for fire and street cleansing. At the armory the water could be used for the safety of the court house and jail; in fact, it could be, with great propriety, introduced into the jail for the health of the prisoners. I have no doubt the county commissioners would aid in the enterprise of furnishing a liberal supply of water for the safety of county property.

I submit, through your valuable paper, these suggestions to our city fathers. ENGINEER.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING BUREAU

From N. Y. Times Building to No 10 Spruce St., Opposite the Tribune Building, NEW YORK.

PROOF THAT ADVERTISING PAYS.

The American public is familiar with the Advertising Agency of Geo P. Rowell & Co. Hardly first-class business on the continent can afford to "move on" with a splendid reputation through three hard times, this would seem to be the one. It is advertised by an appreciative newspaper fraternity very largely without charge; yet, in view of all these facts, the list sent us for one cent month, for which they pay a fair price, in money, by the inch, is devoted largely to their own business. The order takes us somewhat by surprise, and it would reassure us if we were disposed to doubt the wisdom of publishing business through the hardest times. We add for the benefit of the Tennessee who may need that Messrs Geo P. Rowell & Co. order course knowing all about the advertising business than any other firm, having handled millions and millions of dollars thus appropriated. Another feature worth noting is their liberality with "Uncle Sam." They have double-bagged more money for postage during the last quarter of a century than any other firm in the United States.—Chattanooga Times.
