LOCAL RECORD.

Baltimore Markets.

Gold is down to $1.00¾. Trade this spring thus far has been dull. The stock of grain in elevators is, 322,000 bushels of wheat, and 3,317,000 bushels of corn. Choice Maryland amber wheat is quoted at $1.38, red, $1.36. Southern corn, 51 cents; oats, 35 cents; rye, 67 cents.

—All that have once used it pronounced Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup the best medicine known for the complaints of early childhood. 25 cents per bottle.

—Pimples on the face, and those ugly blotches on ladies' faces are readily removed by taking Kellers' Vegetable Life Drops, the great blood purifying remedy. Price 50 cents. For sale by all druggists.

—Shad are scarce.

—Wheat continues to look well.

—Gardening is all the rage in town.

—Salisbury is to have a new court house.

—It is said Rev. Mr. Stryker has the largest peas in Easton.

—Norris expects to open his new hotel at Oxford early in June.

—The weather during the past week has been too cool for vegetation to grow.

—Caroline county can no longer rejoice at their empty jail. It is filling up.

—The steamer Georgeanna has resumed her trips on the Choptank.

—Spring chickens are selling at Salisbury at 12½ cents per pound.

—The name of the town of Newtown is to be changed to Pocomoke City.

—Ocean city is preparing for a large increase of visitors the next watering season.

—Caroline Circuit Court, which commenced yesterday week, is still in session.

—Our town election takes place on the 6th of May. One commissioner is to be elected.

—The U. S. Internal Revenue collector is advertised to be in Easton on the 7th of May.

—The frame of Walker's new steam mill is up, and the carpenters are now putting on the roof.

—Bishop Lay confirmed a class at Wye Mills church Sunday week. Judge Carmichael was one of the class.

—Mr. O. S. Porter, Tallahassee, Florida, and late of this county, will please accept our thanks for late southern papers.

—John H. K. Shannahan has just received about 400,000 pounds of northern ice, which he has stored in his big ice house.

—The Cambridge News announces that Henry Ward Beecher is to lecture in Cambridge shortly. He will doubtless draw a big house.

—Jesse Hughes, our old and popular shoe dealer, has just returned from the city with a large stock of new and cheap boots and shoes.

—The hardware stores in town are busy supplying the farmers with seed and agricultural implements, and our builders with hardware.

—Merchants, traders, and others requiring a license, prepare to renew your licenses. The sheriff gives notice that they must be renewed by the first of May.

—George Garrow, arrested some time ago at St. Michaels for robbing Captain Dutton's house in Baltimore, has been tried and acquitted, and returned to St. Michaels.

—The peach crop was not as badly injured by the late cold snap as was at first supposed. Some think that the crop was damaged only about one-half, on an average of the orchard.

—The American Farmer for April, published by S. Sands & Son, Baltimore, has been received. It opens with an interesting paper on the maintenance and restoration of fertility in lands. It is an excellent number.

—Vick's Illustrated Monthly for April, just received, contains a beautiful colored plate of Perennial Phlox. It also contains many articles especially interesting at this season of the year to those who cultivate flowers.

—The election for town commissioners at St Michaels took place Monday week. H. C. Dodson, B. H. Blades, John W. Baker, W. J. Fairbank and Joseph Hergelsheimer were elected commissioners, and John Waldron bailiff.

—The old school house in Island Creek Neck, sold at auction last Tuesday by Sheriff Griffin, was bought by John K. Caulk, Esq., for 25 cents. There is some talk of Mr. Caulk's making a college of it, for the education of fast horses.

—The Cambridge News says the outlook for Cambridge, from a business point of view, is not as flattering as it was a year ago. The oyster trade has not been remunerative, and the prospects for a good fish trade are unfavorable.

—The trustees of Spring Hill Cemetery have had quite a number of trees planted in the cemetery grounds this spring; but why did they plant such small ones? Trees as large again would have cost very little more than the small ones planted.

—Mr. Tench T. Bartlett, at Poplar Hill, informs us that a stray white setter dog came to his place last Tuesday. He would like the owner to call and get him, if he has any; if he has no master, he would like to keep him, as he seems to be a very fine dog.

—Our Easton merchants are selling lots of goods. They find that low prices insure large sales, and their fine stocks and low prices draw lots of trade from Queen Anne's, Caroline and Dorchester counties. Here is the place for people to buy every thing they want at bottom prices.

—Before life is imperilled, deal judiciously with the symptoms. Remember that the slight disorder of to-day may become an obstinate, incurable disease to-morrow. As a preventive medicine take Simmons' Liver Regulator, which by its mild and beneficial action on the liver, stomach and spleen, is eminently calculated to assist nature in her efforts to re-establish a healthy condition. It will also remove the cause of disease without any of that prostration which follows the use of drastic purgatives, of any of the injurious effects of mineral poisons.

—Oxford is growing so fast, its ship yard and marine railway are so prosperous, its commerce is so rapidly extending, and its two hotels are attracting so many visitors from abroad, we think it about time for the Government to re-establish the custom house there, which ought never to have been transferred to Crisfield, a one-horse town built on a shell bank away down the bay, some where about the end of civilization. Some of our Easton dealers now import their goods, and it is important that this town should have a port of entry without going to the lower regions for one—away down the bay to Crisfield. Will Congress please restore the custom house at Oxford, and make a place for some deserving Hayes man.

—Great sensation in Easton over the New York prices adopted by Thompson & Kersey. Unheard of bargains are now being offered the people. They are selling silks at 50 cents a yard, and Brussels carpets at 80 cents. A lady in search of boys' clothing on Tuesday pronounced in favor of their goods. They did the right thing this spring in offering the latest styles of ready-made clothing from the manufacturers in New York. They sell all wool suits at $8.00. No need to visit Baltimore for small boys' suits, as their stock is complete. They control several specialties in the Easton market, and one of no little interest to the ladies is the Victoria cloak—light, durable and waterproof. Call for circular. The display of novelties, together with staple dry goods, at Thompson & Kersey's emporium, is immense. Purchasers should see the new prices on spring goods before buying.

Trustees of the Almshouse.

Messrs. John W. Cheesum, James Cox, Solomon S. Hopkins, Charles H. Rigby and John W. Kemp, have been appointed trustees of the Talbot county Almshouse.

An Editor in Luck.

The county commissioners have appointed George E. Haddaway, Esq., editor of the Comet, Principal of the St. Michaels High School, and Secretary of the St. Michaels Building Association, collector of State and county taxes for 1878. We congratulate Mr. Haddaway on his appointment.

Death of Caleb Shepherd.

Mr. Caleb Shepherd, a well-known business man of Dorchester county, died at Cambridge last Friday. He had amassed a large fortune, and was highly respected by all who knew him. He was a life-long Democrat, and died at the age of 67 years. He died suddenly. Five minutes before his death he was well, and in his garden superintending the planting of vegetables.

Committed for Rape.

Joseph Cooper, colored, aged about 20 years, was committed to jail in this place on Tuesday last charged with attempting to commit a rape on a white girl named Sarah Sedwell, aged about fifteen years, on Sunday morning last. The parties reside in the first election district and the young girl maintains an excellent character.—Denton Union.

Worcester's Pocket Dictionary.

J. B. Lippincott & Co., of Philadelphia, have just published a Pocket edition of Worcester's dictionary, a very convenient little work for everybody to have. Worcester's dictionary is preferred to Webster's, by most scholars and literary men of this country. The Pocket edition published by Lippincott & Co. contains all words in ordinary use, and is therefore valuable. Price of the flexible muslin bound edition 35 cents. They also publish Worcester's Unabridged Dictionary, containing over 100,000 words.

A Safe Illuminating Oil.

We advise all who desire a clean, brilliant, cheap, beautiful and safe light for family use, to try the "Domestic Compound," advertised for sale by Mr. J. F. Kelley in to-day's STAR. It gives a light equal to gas, is unexplosive, and as cheap as coal oil. The safety of the "compound" should commend it to all. Mr. Kelley will manufacture it in Easton, and after it is established here, will introduce it in the other towns of this county, and in Caroline and Dorchester counties.

County Commissioners.

The board met on Tuesday, April 2nd, present Messrs. William Willis, Charles M. Jump and Joseph Horney. W. H. D. Harper, clerk.

The board continued hearing appeals. A number of supervisors' bonds were approved. The following pensioners were paid: Owen Roberts, $30; Margaret Turner, $20; James F. Sewers, $30.

George E. Haddaway was appointed collector of State and county taxes for Talbot county for 1878.

The following gentlemen were appointed trustees of the Almshouse: John W. Cheesum for Easton, James Cox for St. Michaels, Solomon S. Hopkins for Trappe, Charles H. Rigby for Chapel, John W. Kemp for Bay Hundred.

The STAR report of the meeting of March 30th omitted to State that Charles H. Gibson, Esq., State's attorney, paid the board $5,000, money collected for the county out of the estate of Joseph V. B. Wright, late collector.

Orphans' Court.

FEBRUARY TERM.

EASTON, April 2nd, 1878.

The court met, present Judges Clark, Bartlett and Stewart. C. R. Mullikin, Register of Wills.

Lena S. Caulk, guardian of her children, presented her 1st, 2nd and 3rd accounts with each, which were examined, and will be passed when proved.

Dr. J. E. M. Chamberlaine, executor of Samuel T. Hopkins, presented and had passed an additional list of debts sperate, and second account of administration.

James M. and Jonathan H. Leonard, executors of their father, Thomas H. Leonard, presented and had passed an additional list of debts sperate, and second and final account of distribution.

Wm. N. Powell, executor of Samuel Bartlett, presented a distribution of the balance due the estate on his first and final account of administration.

Wm. S. Grace, executor of Sarah L. Riley, filed his bond, which was approved.

Wm. T. Elliott, trustee for the sale of the real estate of Kate S. Gilpatrick, filed his report of the sale. Order Nisi passed.

Trappe Items.

Both the "new preachers" have passed their "exhibition Sunday" and preached their introductory sermons. We are glad to say that from what the people have seen they are not only satisfied, but that they are pleased.

The stores here are "full up" with Spring goods. There is great complaint of dull trade in most of the cities, but in ours, no complaint of the kind is heard.

The average small boy grows tired of boots and shoes and in order to hasten their destruction, slips gally along the pavements, stumbles, accidentally of course, against curbs and lamp-posts, and wears out about 25 cents worth of shoe leather every day.

These dark nights beaux have lots of fun picking up their sweethearts after collisions with open gates. Of course they must appear grieved at the time, but secretly they pray long life and plenty of work for the gate-hangers.

Generally, wheat in this district is doing well.

The excursion to Washington and Mount Vernon which was talked of last fall, but put off for want of a suitable boat, is again projected. If Madam Rumor has it right, it is to be a grand affair.

Coal Oil Explosion.

Last Saturday night week Mrs. John O. Phillips took her young child up stairs and put it to bed, and as was her usual habit, left a coal oil lamp burning in the room, she returning down stairs to the sitting room. In a few minutes she heard a tingling noise up stairs and went to ascertain the cause. When she opened the stair door she saw a light of unusual brilliancy, and ascending to the room where her child was sleeping she was horrified to find that the lamp had exploded and the burning oil had spread over the floor and caught to the carpet. She became alarmed, (Mr. Phillips being at the time from home) and she started down stairs after water, but tripping at the top fell to the floor below, down eleven steps. Stunned by the fall she paused for a moment and then returned to the burning oil which she finally smothered by the application of coats, carpets, etc. It was found that a large piece of carpet had been burned and a place about two feet long was burned in the floor. Altogether it was a narrow escape for the child and the house. Had Mrs. Phillips been materially injured by the fall the building must have been consumed and the child burned to death, and perhaps the mother also.—Centreville Observer.

THIS is to certify that on this 30th day of March, 1878, appeared before me, the subscriber, a Justice of the Peace of the State of Maryland for Talbot county, Josiah H. Kinnamon, living on 'Dog Walk' near Long Woods post office, and represented that on Wednesday, the 27th of March, inst., there came on his premises as estrays two 2-year old heifers; one pale red, the other dark red, with white hind feet; both without ear marks; and that said heifers are still trespassing on his farm as estrays. It is ordered that he give notice in the Easton Star to the owner or owners of said estrays to come forward, prove property, pay damages, and take them away. N. E. NICOLS, J. P.

Notice.—The owner of the above mentioned estrays will please come forward and recover their property upon the terms prescribed in the foregoing order.
