HAMPSTEAD CIRCUIT MISSIONARY RALLY A GREAT SUCCESS

The missionary rally which has just come to a close, held in the Methodist Churches of Hampstead Circuit was a splendid success. The visiting ministers who preached, brought stirring messages of the world's condition and need of the religion of Jesus Christ. The work in which the Methodist Church is engaged was also presented and her opportunity for world service revealed. A large congregation heard each message. Christian people in these days are interested in missionary work. They realize that a part of Christianity is found in a hearty response to the missionary appeal; in world service because we are world citizens rather than citizens of a community. Contributing to the interest and the success of the services were the choir of the Hampstead M. E. Church, the male quartette of the Grace M. E. Church, and the community male chorus. The thirty-five young people who took part in the pageant presented Monday night drew and held the interest of a crowd that filled to its capacity the Hampstead Church. The people caught the missionary spirit. Christ and Peace will reign together in the world where the Gospel of Christ and the spirit of Brotherhood is forwarded to the ends of the earth, to all nations and to all the people.

L. C. WROTH TO LEAVE ENOCH PRATT LIBRARY

Johns Hopkins Graduate Will Become Librarian At Brown University, At Providence.

Lawrence C. Wroth, well known in this city, assistant librarian of the Enoch Pratt Free Library, Baltimore, has resigned his present position to accept the post of librarian of the John Carter Brown Library at Brown University, Providence, R. I.

President W. H. P. Faunce of Brown announced Mr. Wroth's appointment Monday.

A graduate of Johns Hopkins University in the class of 1905, Mr. Wroth has held his present position since 1913. Previous to his appointment on the Enoch Pratt staff he was librarian of the Maryland Diocesan Library, which position he assumed shortly after graduating from Hopkins. He is a son of the Rev. Peregrine Wroth, rector of Messiah Church, and a nephew of the Misses Wroth, of this city. The years 1917 to 1919 Mr. Wroth spent in the army.

Mr. Wroth is the author of "A History of Printing in Colonial Maryland 1686-1776," said to be one of the most careful studies of this phase of the State's history ever made. He also wrote a "Life of Parson Weem." From 1913 to 1917 Mr. Wroth was editor of the Johns Hopkins Alumni Magazine.

FALL FROM TRUCK INJURES STUDENTS

Two High School Boys Taken To Baltimore Hospital For Treatment

Harry Gaffney and Veryl Cramer, students of the Hampstead High School, received very painful injuries last Monday, when the end gate of a truck on which they were riding broke throwing the boys to the ground.

The truck carrying many students of the high school to Mt. Airy, where a game of ball was being played between the local team and the team of that place, was going at a moderate rate of speed, when without warning the chain holding the end gate, broke. The accident happened on the road between Manchester and Westminster.

Young Gaffney and Cramer were riding on the rear gate and in the fall their clothes were badly torn. Gaffney was rendered unconscious by the fall and was taken immediately to a Baltimore Hospital, where it is thought he might have a slight fracture of the skull.

Cramer was able to go to his home following the accident, but upon the advice of the family physician, he was taken to a hospital Wednesday night, for an examination.

Both of these boys are residents of Lineboro, and have been attending the Hampstead High School, making the trip daily from home to school in automobiles.

CHICKEN AND WAFFLE SUPPER

The Senior Class of the Westminster High School will hold a chicken and waffle supper in the high school building Thursday evening next, 5 to 9 o'clock.

Ice cream, cake and candies will also be sold.

Saturday night last Edgar T. Mercer, bailiff of Mt. Airy, this county, was knocked down and injured seriously by a group of drunken negroes who were disorderly on the street.

BOY SCOUTS

(Conducted by National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.)

SCOUTS' WINTER CAMPING

Winter camping is a glorious thing: Boy scouts, always on congenial terms with the weather man, are hiking, in increasing numbers, to winter week-end camp sites to enjoy the adventure and thrill of life in the open. Skating, snowshoeing, skiing, tobogganing, fishing through a hole in the ice—these are part of the fun that the sturdy scout gets from the experience. Scout fathers are joining in. More than one week-end camp has welcomed scout "dads" who through scouting activities are enjoying splendid comradeship with their sons.

Three big things in any winter scout camp are: freedom, food, and fun; freedom, under good leadership, for a boy to discover his own talents; food, and plenty of it; and fun with the boys' own trademark on it. These result in Americanism, appetite, and adventure—three big factors in the scouting's mental, physical and moral preparation for the future citizenship.

The winter camp offers more adventure than the summer camp. It is more strenuous and more thrilling. Breaking ice in the morning to get water, pulling supplies on sleds over the snows, building radio communication in the forest so that the folks at home can hear often of camp doings, piling wood around a gorgeous camp fire—are duties for real, red-blooded scouts.

Each new snowfall presents a clear page on which stories of the open are written for scouts who know tracking and trailing. They may follow the trail of the fox, pursue the rabbit, learn the way to the home of the muskrat or beaver, and even discover how the field mice, pheasants, quail and game make their living during the winter months.

For winter camping the boy must practice the scout motto—"Be Prepared." He must have heavier shoes, well oiled; extra thick socks, wool shirt or sweater, stocking cap, and extra five pounds of wool blankets more than he requires in summer time.

Pilgrimages in honor of famous men of scout deeds and character have their place in the winter camp life. The boys of Denver visit the grave of Buffalo Bill on the mountains near Denver. Scouts of the Middle West go to Lincoln's boyhood homes in Kentucky, southern Indiana and Illinois. Chicago scouts visit the site of old Fort Dearborn. Philadelphia members spend Washington's birthday at Valley Forge, and New York lads journey to the tomb of Theodore Roosevelt.

BOY SCOUT WINTER CAMPERS

Outing is a big part of scouting, say the boy scouts, who, in increasing numbers are enjoying winter week-end camping, and all the wholesome, outdoor winter fun that goes with it.

SCOUTS FIND LOST BABY

Scouts of Charleston, Ill., brought relief to an anxious home when they found two-year-old Robert Mahan, who had been lost for 12 hours, and delivered him safe and sound to his relatives. Robert had strayed from a party of children who were nutting in the woods near Whetstone Ford. Later unable to find the little boy the children gave a frightened call for help at a house nearby. After a fruitless search by neighbors, word was sent to the Charleston scouts. Under their scoutmaster, a number of the older boys hiked rapidly to the spot where the child had been seen last. There they divided into squads and began their search. Within a quarter of an hour they came upon the baby asleep in the hollow of a tree 15 feet from a tall bluff.

TEXAS BOY SCOUTS' RECORD

The boy scout spirit of service was well interpreted at the recent South Texas State fair, where the scouts stood at all times to help. In addition to performing other good turns, the boys found 72 lost children, as traffic officers handled six parades, acted as runners for officers of the fair association, furnished escorts for children during the baby parade, parked automobiles in the fair grounds, met all incoming trains, and maintained an information bureau.

DAIRY POINTS

KEEP YOUNG HEIFER GROWING

Winter Rations for Animal Important if Profitable Milk Producer Is Expected.

The dairy heifer, since she is for the present unproductive, is likely to be neglected after the pasture season is ended. To keep the young stock growing normally during the winter months the department of dairy husbandry of the Missouri College of Agriculture suggests the following rations:

If silage and clover or alfalfa hay are available, feed from two to five pounds of corn or other farm-grown grains available, depending upon the age of the animals. Heifers close to calving time can profitably be fed somewhat larger quantities of grain.

If silage is available but no clover or alfalfa hay, a good ration would consist of silage and fodder or mixed hay with a grain mixture consisting of equal parts of corn and linseed meal. Cottonseed meal or gluten feed may be fed in place of linseed meal.

Where clover or alfalfa hay is fed alone dairy heifers will do fairly well but will not make normal growth. About two pounds of corn daily will improve the ration at small cost.

Heifers Are Often Neglected When Cold Weather Sets In.

When only corn fodder or timothy hay is on hand it is generally best to purchase clover or alfalfa hay and feed equal parts of the two roughages. A good grain mixture for this roughage consists of two parts of corn to one of linseed meal.

ICE WATER FOR DAIRY COWS

Animals Dislike It as Much as Human Beings in Winter, Says Kansas Dairyman.

Although people drink large quantities of ice water in summer, they do not like it in cold weather. But the only ice water that dairy cows get is in winter, and they like it then as little as do human beings, according to C. R. Gearhart, extension dairyman of the Kansas State Agricultural college.

Cows producing milk require large quantities of water. They will diminish their milk flow rather than drink cold water so often furnished them.

Water which is stored in tanks in winter should be warmed with a tank heater, says Mr. Gearhart. These are made to burn coal, wood, or corncobs. When only one or two cows are to be watered, a teakettle of boiling water will take the chill off of the half barrel of water necessary for them.

GRADING OF CREAM IS URGED

Surest Means of Producing Good Butter, Says Dairy Specialist at University Farm.

Pointing out that cream grading is the surest means of producing good butter, A. J. McGuire, dairy specialist with the university agricultural extension service, adds that Eastern markets are scoring butter closer than ever before. "There is real competition," he says, "for the best markets, and if co-operative creameries are to hold such markets they must make good butter and see that it is sold as such. A cream-cooling tank on every farm makes cream grading easier, both for creamery men and for patrons. Are you urging cream cooling and cleanliness of cream separators? This should precede cream grading."

METHOD FOR FEEDING COWS

Dusty Hays or Feeds That Are Liable to Taint Milk Should Be Given After Milking.

Hays that are dusty or feeds that are liable to taint milk should be fed after the cow is milked. A fine method for feeding is to feed hay three times a day and silage and grain twice. If grain is fed only once the cow is liable to have digestive troubles and this will affect the milk flow.

Only Safe Bull.

The safe bull is the one that is never given an opportunity to be otherwise, and that is not permitted to run at large in the pasture with the cows.

Feed and Care of Cows.

Regularity in feeding and caring for dairy cows and keeping them comfortable are quite as important as good feeding.

Expensive Substitutes.

Stock tonics are expensive substitutes for good feeding and care.

THORNY ROAD OF BUSINESS IN LAND OF THE FREE

From Live Coals.

A merchant recently remarked to me that the present taxes he was required to pay would drive a less optimistic man to suicide, and incidentally inquired if fire insurance companies were afflicted with this burden.

Recalling a 12 years' siege with this matter for our company, I told him I thought they were.

We have been held up, held down, sand-bagged, walked on, sat on, flattened out and squeezed, first by the United States Government for excise tax and corporation income tax, premium tax, license tax, privilege tax and fire marshal tax by 35 States in which we are licensed, a municipal tax, a firemen's relief and fire patrol tax in every town that can boast of a hose cart, and by every society and organization that the inventive mind of man can invent, to extract what we may or may not possess.

Contributions to the Society of St. John the Baptist, the G. A. R., the Women's Relief, the Community Fund, the Red Cross, the Black Cross, the Purple Cross, the Double Cross, the Children's Home, the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Boy Scouts, the Jewish Relief, Salvation Army, Knights of Columbus, Milk for French Babies, Orphans' Home, War Chest, Baby Day, Twilight League, Boys' Club and every hospital in town.

The various States have so governed our business that I don't know who owns it. I am suspected, inspected, examined, reexamined, informed, required and commanded so I don't know what I am, where I am, or why I am here. All I know is, we are supposed to have an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need or desire or hope of the human race, and because we will not sell all we have and go out and beg, borrow or steal money, I have been cussed, discussed, boycotted, talked to, talked about, lied to, lied about, held up, hung up, robbed and nearly ruined, and the only reason why I am clinging to life is to see what in hell is coming next.

Tuesday the biology class of Mt. Airy High School visited places of interest in Washington, D. C.

Not content with watering stocks, it is complained that some of our promoters are milking the railroads.

The American people would have more enthusiasm for a third political party if they didn't have two too many of them now.

If the Reds would only get a little redder in the face as the result of hoeing corn this summer, they would be viewed with more tolerance.

Claimed that women should control their children better, but most of them say their time is fully taken up bossing their husbands.

A father being asked one day by his inquiring son, as to who the Chief Executive is, remarked that according to his best information it was Mother.

What You Get Is What Counts.

It is very easy to spend money foolishly; spending it sensibly is the rub. Take coal. Many thousands of dollars are consumed in coal that isn't worth the trouble of mining and hauling. That is not our kind. Coal you get here is —Coal. It will burn steadily, conserve its heat, and leave only the white ashes.
