THE SUN FOR 1879

The ROCHESTER EDITION of THE SUN for the year 1879 will be issued on the same as in the past: To present all the news in a readable shape, and to tell the truth though the heavens fall.

This one has been, is and will continue to be independent of everybody and everything save the Truth and the interests of the people. It is the only paper which is honest enough and has ability enough to be read in every family in the country. It is not the organ of any person, clique or party. It speaks for itself and for the people. It is for the people because it is honest and has no ax to grind for the benefit of any class or party. It is for the people because it is honest. It is honest because it is independent of everybody and everything. It is honest because it is not the organ of any politician or political organization. It gives its support unreservedly when and so long as measures and men are in accordance with the Constitution and with the principles upon which this Republic was founded for the people. When the Constitution and constitutional principles are violated, as it was by the Democratic party in 1876, the party which was not elected was placed in the President's office, where he still remains—it pushes out the big it. That is The Sun's idea of independence. In this respect there will be no change in its programme for 1879.

The Sun has always enjoyed the bitterly hatred of fanatics, frauds and humbugs of all ages and class. It hopes to deserve that hatred not less in the year 1879, than in 1878, 1877, or any year gone by. The Sun will continue to shine on the wicked with unmitigated brightness.

While the leading editorial feature will be the constantly kept before the people, The Sun does not propose to make itself in 1879 a magazine of ancient history. It is printing for the men and women of the present and future; it is chiefly with the actual life of the present and future that it has the disposition and the ability to afford its readers the pleasantest, fullest, and most accurate intelligence of what is ever in the wide world is worth remembering; this and the resources belonging to an established prosperity will be liberally employed.

The present disjointed condition of parties in this country, and the certainty of the future, lead all to look with anxiety to the events of the coming year. The discussions of the press, the debates and acts of Congress, and the movements of the leaders in every division of the public will be watched with the keenest interest. The presidential election of 1880—an event which no man can be regarded with the most anxious interest by every patriotic American, whatever his political views and affiliations—will be the elements of interest and importance in the probability that the Democrats will control both houses of Congress, the increasing feebleness of the Republican Administration, and the spread and strengthening of the wave of a healthy reverence of Truth and Honesty. To present with accuracy and clearness the exact situation in each of its varying phases, and to carry out the principles and to be well known methods which experience shows that should guide us through the intricate trails will be an important part of The Sun's work for the coming year.

How far the success of the Sun's last year's editorial venture, the Sun, was a point last, a little more than a year ago, it is now entertaining and more useful than ever before; and we mean to keep them for my life.

Our rates of subscription remain unchanged.—For the DAILY SUN, our regular price of twenty eight cents a week, or $1.50 a month, or $18 a year, including the Sunday paper, an eight page sheet of fifty six columns, the price is 65 cents a month, or $7.70 a year, postage paid.

The Sunday edition of The Sun is also furnished separately at $1.20 a year, postage paid.

The price of the Weekly Sun eight pages, fifty six columns, is $1 a year, postage paid.—For clubs of ten sending $10 we will send an extra copy free. Address

The Atlantic Monthly
FOR 1879.

During the coming year the Publishers of the Atlantic will aim to maintain the high character of the magazine in all departments, and will especially seek to keep in the leading place it had made recently taken by its articles on Political, Economical, and Social Questions. The editorial on the Monroe Doctrine, "Certain Dangerous Tendencies in American Life," and the "Origin and Aims of the National Party," with other timely articles on the Chinese question, the race of the South, as a balance to the disorganizing elements in the North. His large and intimate personal acquaintance with workingmen, and his practical experience of their life, give peculiar value to his views.

Hon. J. W. Kearney, of Kentucky, will continue his papers on the History of American Finance.

A. G. Sedgwick, Esq., will write on legal points in politics; and men eminent in business and public life will write on matters connected with the interests they represent. The Atlantic will endeavor to give, not merely names, but papers of real value on all the public questions of the hour.

During the session of Congress the magazine will contain each month a Washington Letter. The New York Letters will also be resumed, and will treat of the life of the commercial metropolis in its most characteristic phases.

Fiction.—The Atlantic for 1879 will be unusually rich in the range and character of its Serial Stories, including Howe's Madonna of the Tuileries, a story of Americans in Syria; and Stories by Mr. T. B. Aldrich, Miss E. W. Olney, the author of One too Many, Mr. W. D. Howells, and Mr. Bjornstjerne Bjornson, the famous Norwegian poet and novelist, who will write a Serial expressly for the Atlantic.

Each month will be given a Short Story of the kind for which the Atlantic is distinguished.

Criticism.—This department in which the Atlantic has long been chief, will receive particular attention. The brilliant articles on contemporary novels will appear regularly; the book notices will be full, varied, and carefully written; and Mr. T. S. Perry will continue his characteristic reviews of French and German literature.

The Contributors' Club, a favorite department with Atlantic readers, will be fully sustained as the expression of opinion and desultory criticism upon social life and social topics.

Travel.—Mr. Charles Nordhoff's story will furnish studies of Italian locality and character; Mr. Henry James, Jr., will write transatlantic sketches; Mr. W. H. Bishop will contribute papers on art and life abroad; Mr. C. E. Norton a studies of art and history in his essays on Italian cathedrals will be continued; and Col. G. E. Waring Jr. will write of English country life.

Contributors.—Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe will write frequently, and Messrs. Longfellow, Whittier, Holmes, Richard Grant White, Stedman, Stoddard, Scudder, Mark Twain, Charles Dudley Warner, and Miss Preston, Miss S. O. Jewett, Miss C. F. Woolson, Mrs. Rose Terry Cooke, Mrs. Piatt, and H. H., with other well-known Atlantic authors, will contribute as heretofore.

PORTRAIT OF LOWELL.

An admirable portrait of James Russell Lowell has been executed by Mr. J. E. Baker, who made the Atlantic portraits of Longfellow, Bryant, and Whittier, and will be furnished to subscribers to the Atlantic, only, for One Dollar.

Terms.—$4.00 a year, in advance, postage free; 35 cents a number. With superb Elzevir portrait of Lowell, Whittier, Bryant, or Longfellow, $5.00; with two portraits, $6.00; with three portraits, $7.00; with four portraits, $8.00.

Special Offer.—The November and December numbers of the Atlantic, containing the first portions of Mr. Howell's new serial story, "The Lady of the Aroostook," will be mailed free to all new subscribers to the Atlantic who remit their subscription for 1879, the whole year, to the Publishers before December 15th.

Remittances should be made by money order, draft, or registered letter, to

EASTERN SHORE.
Mrs. M. S. Norris
of Easton, Md,

Would again call the attention of the ladies of Talbot and Caroline counties to her immense stock of Millinery, Notions and Fancy Goods just received from the cities, and which she is now opening for inspection and sale. Her stock is exceedingly large, embracing every article in Millinery needed by the ladies, and of the very latest fashions, and she does not hesitate to boast of the cheapest assortment now open in the shore. An inspection is all that is required to verify the above assertion. Call and see her, and you will surely purchase.

She would also state that she has secured the services of a lady from the city whose whole time has been spent in the Millinery business, and who of course understands getting up a Bonnet or other job of Millinery in the most fashionable city style. The rapid increase of business has compelled me to seek and secure first-class Milliners to assist her in conducting her business, and the ladies may feel assured that they can be accommodated in the most fashionable style. Just published in a sealed envelope. Price, 6 cents.

A Lecture on the Nature, Treatment, and Radical cure of Seminal Weakness, or Spermatorrhœa induced by Self-Abuse, Involuntary Emissions, Impotency, Nervous Debility, and Impediments to Marriage generally; Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits; Mental and Physical Incapacity, &c.—By Robert J. Culverwell, M. D., author of the "Green Book," &c.

The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of Self-Abuse may be effectually removed without medicine, and without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings, or cordials; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply privately and radically.

This Lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.

JOHN MASON,
Furniture Dealer,
CABINET MAKER
And Undertaker,

Would announce to the public that I am occupying as ware house my Dwelling House, next to the scene of the late fire. Having laid in new stock, I am now prepared to serve my customers and the public with anything in my line, and hope that none will think that because I have suffered so severely by the late disastrous fire, that I will not be able to serve them. My house is large and roomy, and I shall keep it filled with Furniture of the best kind, which I shall sell at the lowest price, and defy competition in price and quality. I am very grateful to a generous
