EASTON, MD.

TUESDAY, APRIL 15, 1879.

T. K. ROBSON, Editor.

DR. M'COSH, President of Princeton College, has become a naturalized citizen of the United States. He is a native of Scotland.

MR. CORNELIUS VANDERBILT has just paid the daughters of Horace Greely that little balance he owed Mr. Greely when he died. He paid it into the hands of the ladies himself, over $61,000

R. Stockett Matthews has been appointed Judge, to succeed Judge Giles, in the Baltimore district. His nomination is now before the Senate. The Anti-Custom house Republicans are kicking up jesse over Matthews' appointment.

MR. BELL, of New Hampshire, has been admitted to a seat in the U. S. Senate. He was appointed by the Governor of that State, and his right to the seat was objected to on constitutional grounds. Wadleigh's time expired; the legislature did not elect his successor; and many of the jurists in the Senate thought the Governor had no right to appoint a Senator in such a case.

THE Republican Senator's affected great surprise that the Democrats should propose to turn out the Republican officers of the Senate to put Democrats in their places, but the tears they shed did not prevent the axe from falling where the Democrats aimed the blow. The Republicans forget that they did precisely the same thing, when they got possession of the Senate in 1861.

SPEAKER RANDALL has announced the standing committees of the House. Of the Maryland delegation, Mr. Henry is chairman of the Committee on Accounts, Mr. McLane is chairman of the Committee on Pacific Railroads, and Mr. Kimmel is chairman of the Committee on Ventilation of the Hall of Representatives. Fernando Wood is again chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means. The Banking and Currency Committee is considered favorable to further expansion of the currency.

THE Democrats of the West have more than held their own at the late municipal elections. Chicago, St. Louis, Chillicothe, Detroit and Sandusky all went Democratic. The Republicans carried Columbus and Cincinnati. Tole do went for the Nationals. The Great Republican majority in Michigan has been cut down to 2,500. The Republicans only carried Cincinnati by a little over 270 majority, and that by reason of a third ticket that ran. Chicago has not gone Democratic in 20 years until this Spring.

PRESIDENT HAYES has appointed W. Elwell Goldsborough, Esq., of Baltimore, U. S. consul to Amoy, China. Mr. Goldsborough entered the Republican camp as a Lieutenant under O. Irving Ditty, in 1875; how is it he is rewarded in advance of his Captain? Was it enough for Mr. Ditty simply to be permitted to see the Louisiana colored "gal with pink eyes," while the fraudulent returns were being forged for Mr. Hayes? As the other visiting statesmen have been rewarded, Mr. Ditty should have had the judgeship given to R. Stockett Matthews, or at least a consulship equal to that conferred on Mr. Goldsborough.

"If the Presidency is to be put up at auction, I will not be the bidder."—
SAMUEL J. TILDEN.

Immortal words! What other man with Mr. Tilden's large fortune would have uttered them? especially after having been elected, and the "auction" was simply to assure the legal authentication of the fact? If the taking of such a stand, and the uttering of such words, under such circumstances, is not evidence of the purity of Samuel J. Tilden's character, then nothing could be regarded as such. The cipher dispatches, published to damage him, make his character shine tenfold brighter than it did in 1876. He may or may not be the Democratic candidate in 1880; but this much is certain, he retains the highest regards of every Democrat in the country.

WE notice that the dairy business is to be looked into and reported upon by a committee of the Choptank Grange. It is a little singular that, living in a good grazing country, within 100 miles of Philadelphia by rail, and 75 miles of Baltimore by steamboats, the former city having a population of nearly a million, and the latter approximating half a million, our farmers have never paid any attention to the dairy business. In Pennsylvania, New York, Connecticutt and New Jersey, the farmers find the dairy business about the most profitable branch of husbandry, and milk trains are daily run on the railroads for their accommodation. It would be profitable to both our railroad and farmers, if the dairy business was prosecuted on a large scale here.

WE published last week the statement of the merchants respecting the agreement made by them on the 27th of March between the two steamboat companies in regard to fare. No one we suppose doubts the truthfulness of their statement of the facts. If any one does, however, the following letter of Mr. Mattingly to the Maryland steamboat company, dated the same day the "agreement" was entered into, and since published by the Maryland Steamboat Company, is proof that such an "agreement" took place, and that Mr. Mattingly regarded it as an agreement between the two companies.

OFFICE OF THE POTOMAC STEAMBOAT COMPANY.
Pier No. 11 Light St. Wharf,
BALTIMORE, March 27th, 1879.

HOWARD B. ENSIGN, Esq., President Maryland Steamboat Co.

DEAR SIR:—

As there was nothing said in our agreement as to the freight tariff, I think it would be well enough for us to fix some uniform rates, by which we can both be governed. If you acquiesce in this, I hereby authorize Mr. Talbot, in connection with yourself or your agent, to make out a permanent tariff list by which we will be governed in the future.

Mr. Talbot is also authorized to arrange with you in reference to advertising, handbills, &c. Very Respectfully, &c.,

(Signed) GEORGE MATTINGLY,
Supt. Potomac Steamboat Co.

We italicise two words in the above, to call attention to the fact that Mr. Mattingly uses the word "our" in speaking of the "agreement."

After writing that letter on the 27th, it is apparent that Mr. Mattingly departed from the truth in his handbill of the 29th, wherein he repudiates the "agreement," and says "I have not seen or conversed with any of the officers of the Maryland Steamboat Co., on the subject."

It is evident from this that the Superintendent of the Potomac Steamboat Co., is a trickly man, who does not respect his engagements, and is prepared to deny them when it suits his convenience to do so. As it has been hinted that our merchants were not to be credited until Mr. Mattingly was heard from, we have said this much to show that nothing he may hereafter say can discredit them.

Three applications cured me of severe Rheumatic pain, and I cheerfully recommend Keller's Roman Liniment.—Cornelius Noonan, Lieutenant Metropolitan Police, Washington, D. C.

MR. EDITOR:—There seems to be some discrepancy between the published statements in the STAR, of Messrs Thompson, Anderson, Hubbard, Jump, and Higgins, on the one hand, and that in the Ledger, of Mr. Mattingly, superintendent of the Potomac Steamboat Company, on the other. But there need not be; Messrs Thompson and others, in the STAR of April 8th, do not contradict Mr. Mattingly in the Ledger of April 3d, where he says, "I have not seen or conversed with any of the officers of the Maryland Steamboat Company on the subject, etc," but assert that when they waited on him, after first calling on Mr. Ensign, who refused to move in the matter until the Potomac Steamboat Co. should first do so, that he, Mr. M., proposed and submitted in writing on paper for each one of them (the Com) and through them, one for Mr. Ensign, President of the Md S. Co., with the published result in the STAR of the 8th inst. But what does all this mean? Why were these gentlemen waiting upon the Superintendents of the two respective steamboat companies? It is alledged by them in the STAR that "it was the common complaint of the merchant that their patrons were jilted away, of the farmer that he could not keep his hands on the farm, and of the companies that they were losing money." But from what convention or [illegible] did this committee come? Were they a[illegible]ed by the people of the counties interested in this matter? No, but by only a small portion of the people. Let us see, the merchants of Easton invited the cooperation of those of Cambridge, and so the mercantile portion of Talbot and Dorchester counties, in part, were thus represented before the two steamboat companies. But were all the merchants in these two towns interested? did all manifest interest in this matter? Some were not at the meeting which was called for the appointment of such a committee, but sent representatives and then were unfortunate enough not to blind their customers. But, if the farmers were equally interested, as it appears from the letter in the STAR, why were they not invited to cooperate? This is easily answered. Had they been invited, the object for which they were appointed, and on account of which they went to Baltimore would have been defeated.—It is too well known, that out of the proceeds of the farms, the merchants must live, nor can he carry on business without the farmer. It has been said that because of the freighting done by the merchants, they get free passage on the Maryland Steamboat Co.'s boats. The farmer has no such advantage, though this time he has less freighting done on steamboats, and hence less reason to expect such a favor. But the farmer's grain and other produce must go to Baltimore, because he cannot find a sufficient market for it in all Easton. From Baltimore he obtains his money, and hence is under no binding obligation to deal in Easton, but has a right to spend his money, like the merchant, either in Baltimore, Philadelphia, or elsewhere, because it is to be supposed that those who buy his produce have value received. Again, the merchant, we admit, has a right to buy his goods anywhere he can do so, to the best advantage, and to put his own price on his own stock; and the farmer or lawyer has a right to spend his money with him, or with some other merchant in some other place. But the merchant says he has not, and he shall not, if not in exact language, he does it, when he attempts to have raised the price of travel so that by paying high fare on the boats and board in the city, the farmer cannot afford, with the loss of his time from home, to go away to buy. Some time ago, the cut-throat business was tolerated in Easton to an alarming extent. To illustrate: one week, an article which sold at one house for 80 cents, the next week was sold there for 25 cents. "We have determined not to be undersold." But lately, it seems, that "Pilate and Herod have been made friends together," and are now arrayed, not openly, by secretly, against that class of people by whom they get their living.

We would not, however, be misunderstood. We do not want a monopoly of trade. Let us have competition. Let both companies send their steamers to our wharves, but let them charge a fair price, and there is work enough, or pay enough for a good living for both. And yet we are now fully persuaded, that the visit of this committee lately to Baltimore, will not benefit one of the steamboat companies, but will be of decided advantage to the other. We are sorry for the trouble brought upon them as well as for those who have brought it on themselves. Some have already settled their bills at some of our stores, and say they will hereafter go by a certain line to Baltimore, and buy and pay more for what they get, if necessary. The merchants, it appears, have asked an increase of the price of passenger travel for the benefit of the steamboat companies, but not an increase on freights. Why not? Everybody knows why they did not. To see such philanthropy savors of downright selfishness. Just here another question propounds itself. If the merchants were so opposed to a reduced fare on account of the steamboat companies, the farmer, and on their own account, why have they continued to travel on that line which showed itself willing to reduce the fare to almost nothing, rather than share the travel with another? O Consistency, thou art indeed a jewel!

Yes, we believe that both boats should come to our shores, there is a living for both here, or there would have been if a fair price had been agreed upon. But should that company which has held sway so long be the only one judging from their course years ago, in reducing the fare until the opposition line had stopped, then raising it to old figures; and judging from their course towards the Potomac Steamboat Company lately, the refusal to allow a landing at Double Mills, etc., etc., we can but conclude that the tariff of the past, would again be the bugaboo of the future.

I conclusion, we would most respectfully suggest, that, if necessary, a meeting of the farmers of the two counties be called to decide their course with respect to the matter involving their best interests, and yet in this suggestion, we quake for the future of those, who having put their hands to the plough, are now looking back with regret for so doing.

Very respectfully,
A FARMER.

April 12th, 1879.

Could the opinion or wish of Mr. Mattingly influence and make a law for the guidance of the whole company?

COMMUNICATED.

MR. STAR:—Is it not rather cool in the Choptank Grange, in one resolution to denounce the "merchants" for appointing a committee to go to Baltimore, to endeavor to secure equitable steamboat fare, and then to turn around at the same meeting, under another resolution, and appoint a committee of its own, to go to Baltimore and wait on the steamboat companies, and do the same thing they condemn the merchants for doing? This appears to outsiders as the oddest piece of absurd grangerism ever heard of. And, then, how inconsistent is it for these grangers to denounce other people for combining to protect their own interests, when the very quintessence of grangerism is a combination of grangers against every body outside of the grange! Can it truthfully be said, that there is in Talbot county a merchant, dealer, manufacturer or mechanic, who has not been jewed, or threatened, or proscribed, or cut by the grange combination, because he or she would not sell or work at prices dictated by the grangers, some of whom have more money than they know what to do with, but would think no more of starving a home mechanic to death to save a penny, than they would in shooting a squirrel in roasting ear season. The Choptank Grange is much mistaken if it thinks it can pull wool over the eyes of the working people, by the flapdoodle contained in its pinchback resolutions. Everybody knows it is a friend to nobody but itself on general principles.

ANTI-GRANGE.

COMMUNICATED.

MR. EDITOR:—It is seriously to be regretted that an angry antagonism should be fomented between our merchants and farmers, growing out of the steamboat war. Grant that the merchants made a mistake in doing what they did, is that a sufficient reason why they should be ruined in their business? If everybody is to be damned for his mistakes, what farmer, or any other man will be saved? The towns are just as much advantage to the farmers as the farmers are to the towns. The inhabitants of the towns, if prosperous, buy the produce raised by the farmers, while the farmers buy their groceries and clothing, and other needful articles of the merchants. The exchange benefits both, and he is no friend to either who tries to break up their commercial intercourse. We trust the clear-headed people of the community will interpose, and endeavor to allay the existing excitement, and reconcile the conflicting elements. It is to be expected that the steamboat blowers will do what they can to fan the flame, they may be paid for blowing, who knows? But they will not amount to a drop in the ocean, if the intelligent, Christian masses will "put their foot down" and say "Let us have peace." People have a right to go to the city and buy goods, if they want to, and nobody can gainsay that right; but when they buy in the city they have to pay the cash. If our merchants in self defense were to stop crediting, and put everything down on a cash basis, so as to compete with city dealers, many people in this county would be greatly inconvenienced. They have a special interest in striving to allay the excitement, and in restoring the status quo. PACIFICATOR.

Snakes as Life Destroyers.

The loss of life in India due to the ravages of venomous snakes is almost incredible. Yet the disease which is as wily and deadly as the deadliest India reptile, is winding its coil around thousands of people while the victims are unconscious of its presence. It has long been a hobby with incompetent physicians to assume that consumption is incurable after the formation of tubercles has begun; and in every case they fail to effect a cure,—of course tubercles had begun to form and they were incurable. The records of medical science disprove any such theory. On the contrary, in cases of lung disease which had been cured and the patients lived forty and fifty years in robust health, post-mortem examinations showed large cicatrices (scars) where the tubercles had been formed and removed. The tubercles are removed by absorption into the blood. An efficient alterative, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, must be used to cleanse the blood of the scrofulous impurities. For tubercular consumption is only a form of scrofulous disease. Golden Medical Discovery is a sovereign remedy for scrofulous disease, or king's-evil, such as tumors, white swellings, fever sores, scrofulous sore eyes, as well as for other blood and other skin diseases.

R. J. TRIPPE,
Agent for Talbot county.

We refer to Hon. C. M. Jump, Messrs. W. J. Shehan, Thomas G Reynolds, Wm. Mason, Charles Bowdle, N. C. Rittenhouse and others, who used it on Corn last season.
R. J. Trippe.

OXFORD NECK, Aug. 9th 1878.
To Boykin, Carmer & Co.—Gentlemen:
About May 1st, I bought, through your agent, Mr. R. J. Trippe, of Easton, the chemicals for making 4 tons of the "Home Fertilizer." I confess that the purchase was made more from friendship for Mr Trippe than anything else, but to my great astonishment, I am prepared to give all praise to the "Home Fertilizer." On a 20 acre peach orchard, already exhausted by three consecutive crops, I grew this year by the use of 3 tons, more and better corn than I did the 3rd year after a heavy clover lay; the result of which is, that I have given my order to Mr. Trippe for 10 tons to be applied to my wheat this Fall.

Very respectfully,
T. G. REYNOLDS.
R. J. TRIPPE, Agent for Talbot County.
