—The corn and grass fields need rain.

—Jefferson Davis is 71 years old to-day.

—The New Opera House is nearly finished, except painting.

—DROUGHT.—The crops in this section are suffering for rain.

—The dogs made another raid on Mr. Jas. M. McNeal's sheep last week.

—The peach crop in this county is uninjured, and the trees are extra full of fruit.

—Wheat is now headed out, and promises a fine yield, if no disaster happens to it.

—The Methodist Protestant fair and festival, held in town last week, was a great success.

—Court adjourned last Friday night, and the Judges left for their homes Saturday morning.

—The McCormick self-binding reaper has "cleared the track" wherever used. It is perfection.

—Children free to the circus next Saturday afternoon. Here is a treat in store for the boys and girls.

—HOT.—The thermometer registered 94 on Saturday, and it was about as warm Sunday and yesterday.

—The steam saw mill at the Chapel, belonging to Messrs Jones & Kichline, was burnt on Saturday night.

—For North Carolina heart and sap shingles go to E. E. Jackson & Co., 13 West Falls Avenue, Baltimore. tf

—By far the best thresher and separator in use is the New End Shake Old Reliable Sweepstakes. T. C. Nicols, agent.

—The circus next Saturday will exhibit on the lot by the Easton depot, just beyond Mr. John L. Caldwell's house.

—Geo. W. W. Haddaway's new store house on Market space is under roof and the floors are laid. It will soon be finished.

—Shingles, laths, pickets, fencing, etc., for sale at lowest cash prices by E. E. Jackson & Co., 13 West Falls Avenue, Baltimore. tf

—Mr. John H. K. Shanahan now keeps his stall in the Easton market open every morning till 12 o'clock, to supply his customers with beef from his refrigerator—a great convenience.

—The M. E. Church, South, will give their annual excursion to Oxford and Cambridge on the Fourth of July. This is generally the most popular excursion that is given from our town.

—35 in a registered letter to James H. Reed, Bower's Beach, Delaware, will secure the delivery of a nice barrel of Delaware bay trout on the cars at Wyoming. Warrented to keep. 2-3

—Rev. Mrs. Talbott, the revivalist, arrived here again last Saturday, and preached on Sunday morning and evening at the Methodist Protestant church. She left for Baltimore last night.

—Miss Lillian Duer has been indicted, and is now being tried at Snow Hill, Md., for the murder of Miss Ella Hearn last November. The trial attracts great interest on account of the youth and beauty of the accused.

—The Monitor agricultural engine and New End Shake Sweepstakes separator or small separator, with Wood, Tabor & Morse engine make the most perfect threshing rig offered. They are unapproachable. T. C. Nicols, agent.

—Capt. Wm. H. Smith, of Easton, has been appointed by Gov. Carroll one of the commissioners to examine mines in Allegany and Garrett counties, under the act of 1878, chapter 157.—Messrs C. H. Hamill and John Ryan of Allegany, are the other commissioners.

—Mr. Mallalieu has bought about 25,000 pounds of wool in this county this season for his woolen factory at Crumpton. He says the wool grown in Talbot is of better quality than any other wool he can get, and he has paid the very highest market price in order to secure the bulk of the crop.

—Cambridge is going to cut down her cotton wood shade trees, and plant maples and linden to take their place. Mr. H. Lane took over 100 orders for trees there during May, mostly ornamental shade trees, to be delivered next Fall. There is plenty of room in Easton for more shade trees. Now is the time to order for Fall planting.

—Appleton's Journal for June treats of the the Shakesperean myth, the literature of the Victorian reign, the Spanish priest Las Casas, the present French republic, gives a chapter from Froude's Cæsar, and contains its usual quantity of stories, poetry, and criticism. Intellectual people, who read for information, will find Appleton a journal after their own heart.

—The President of The Talbot County Agricultural Society offers a special premium of $5 for the best dozen ears of corn exhibited at the next annual fair of the Society, and will himself compete for the premium. If any farmer in the county can grow larger and better ears of corn than Mr. Barnett, he will get the premium. We hope other farmers will offer special premiums for other products, and also enter the list of contestants. In this way things at the next fair may be made lively.

—We are glad to learn that Capt. Jno. M. Allan, former editor of the Southern Planter, and Horticultural editor of the State Agricultural Journal of Virginia, who is in our county, representing the well known nursery firm of Franklin Davis & Co., of Richmond, Va., has met with great success. The Richmond nursery is too well known to need recommendation, and those of our farmers who have not already been supplied by this house, should avail themselves of this opportunity of purchasing from Capt. Allan.

—It is said by those who have seen it, that the new Protestant Episcopal chapel at Claiborne, is one of the prettiest churches in Talbot county. By the way, mentioning the new church at Claiborne, reminds us of The Bazaar of Nations to be held there to-morrow afternoon and evening. This carnival will be one of more than ordinary interest, and should especially attract to it the people of Easton, who must go abroad to learn something. It is estimated that over 1,000 people will be present, and the exhibition of the costumes of all nations will render the show unique and interesting. Render go.

Fire in the County.

The dwelling of Mr. Robert Soulsby, in Chapel district, was destroyed by fire about 10 o'clock last Tuesday morning. The fire commenced in the roof, and was caused by a defective flue in the chimney.

Spring Opening of Attractive Men's Wear,

At C. N. Ochm & Son's One Price Cash Clothing House, 230 W. Pratt st., near Hanover st., Baltimore. Their tasty and most beautiful assortment of men's, boys', and children's clothing together with their unequalled low prices, is exciting universal admiration, and attracting throngs of customers. See their advertisement in another column. tf

A Delightful Excursion.

Coates Lodge of Masons will give an excursion up the Choptank River, on the new and splendid steamer Enoch Pratt, Friday next, June 6th. This makes a most delightful excursion. Persons desiring a day of pleasure and recreation should be sure not to miss this opportunity. The boat will leave Easton Point at 6 A. M. and Dover Bridge 12½ P. M.

Sharp's Island for Sale.

Charles E. Shanahan, Esq., trustee, advertises Sharp's Island for sale in to-day's STAR—the sale to take place on the 24th inst. It is a fine farm of 300 acres, a splendid gunning place, abounds in diamond back terrapins, grows splendid wheat, has abundance of fruit, and would make a superb summer resort. It is the next thing to a champagne farm, having on it the best crab apple orchard in Talbot county. Here is a rare chance for somebody who is fond of farming and sporting.

Camp Meeting

The M. E. Church, South, will hold a camp meeting, commencing Friday, August 15th, near Bayview church, on the old Bayside camp ground, in Bay Hundred district. There is a splendid spring of water near the grove, in which the camp is to be held, and the bay shore affords an excellent landing for excursion steamers from Baltimore. It has been three years since a camp was held in Bayside, and no doubt the coming camp will be a large one, it being the custom of the Southern church to invite other denominations to join them in their camps.

County Commissioners.

EASTON, May 27, 1879.

The board met; present Messrs. William Willis, Charles M. Jump and Joseph Hopkins, commissioners, Joseph S. Robson, clerk.

It was voted to make no changes in assessments for the levy of 1879 after this day.

George E. Hardcastle, collector, paid $500 on account of taxes for 1878.

Orders for bridge plank were given to Joseph H Brown and M Connolly, supervisors.

R. J. Shaw, supervisor of Bayside road, was allowed the services of hands and teams, free of charge, on Easton turnpike road from Easton to Oxford.

Prof. Charles Wilson asks, that the commissioners use the Court House one night next week for a musical entertainment, provided he does not interfere with the sessions of the Court.

A large portion of the session was occupied in auditing and passing accounts.

Bills to the amount of $741.71 were paid.

Adjourned to Tuesday next.

The circus which exhibits in Easton next Saturday, the 7th inst.—The Great Commonwealth Circus and Nelson's Pantomine Company—is said to be the finest company on the road. It is a co-operative combination of accomplished artists. The big shows that attract the crowds by their long caravans of empty wagons, refuse to pay from cent for any thing like reasonable wages, and consequently they are thrown out of employment, and have to give place to inferior performers. A number of these accomplished circusmen have combined together and started The Great Commonwealth Circus. They profess to make little show outside with wagons, but make a grand display in the "Ring." They travel by water in a steamboat, and can afford to give a better show for the same money than any circus that travels by land. Those who attend the circus next Saturday may depend on being highly entertained, as it is in all respects a first class show.

(opposite the Court House,)

Easton, Md.

The Ladies of Easton and Talbot county, as well as the towns and counties adjacent, are respectfully requested to call at the Great Bazaar of Fashion and inspect the beautiful and superb stock of Bonnets, Hats, &c., of the very latest styles, as well as Ribbons, Trimmings and Flowers in heavy stock which has just been received and opened for inspection and sale. Every article in Millinery and Fancy Goods can here be obtained, without visiting the cities as heretofore, and prices are astoundingly low. Her unprecedented large sales during the season just passed, has given her great encouragement to extra efforts. This she has done as will be seen from an inspection of her immense and beautifully selected stock.

She has secured the services of a lady from the city, whose good judgment and excellent taste in the trimming department has never failed to please the most fastidious.

She now invites her friends and customers to give her a call when visiting Easton, and returns profound thanks for the very liberal patronage extended her in the past, and earnestly solicits a continuance.

STORE and FARM.

I.

The two story frame dwelling house, wherein the said William B. Ewing resides, usually built, and in good condition, with the store house attached to said dwelling, together with a lot of land, containing One Acre, more or less.

II.

All that tract or parcel of land called "Little Bristol," lying adjacent to the above named property and containing 60½ Acres, more or less, together with the crop of wheat now seeded, farming implements, horses, cattle, &c., &c. This property is enclosed by good fences, is in a high state of cultivation, and has growing on it a young and thrifty peach orchard, in full bearing. OXFORD MILLS, Aug. 9th 1878.

To Boykin, Cottner & Co.—Gentlemen: About May 1st, I used the fertilizer you sent Mr R. J. Trippe, of Easton, the ensuing season for making 4 tons of the "Home Fertilizer." I confess that the purchase was made more from friendship for Mr Trippe than anything else, but to my great astonishment, I am prepared to give all praise to the "Home Fertilizer." One 20 acre peach orchard, already estimated by three competitive crops, I grew this year by the use of 2 tons, more and better corn than I did the 3rd year after a heavy clover lay; the result of which is that I have given my order to Mr Trippe for 10 tons to be applied to my wheat this Fall.

Very truly, etc.,

T. G. REYNOLDS.
