ELOPING WITH A NEGRO.

The Last Step Taken by a Wealthy and Accomplished Pittsburgh Girl.

The following is a horrible affair; but those who preach aristocracy should not complain if they suffer by the principles they inculcate in their children:

Freeport, May 10.—The little town of Beaver, in the suburbs of Pittsburgh, is a fashionable summer resort. One of our wealthiest, and most accomplished young ladies the city left her mother's house and deliberately married a negro. [illegible] Miss Jones has given her parents a good deal of trouble by her reckless, wayward conduct, [illegible] Her father is United States storekeeper in Indiana county, but lives in Beaver, and is wealthy. Her uncle is ex-Chief Justice Daniel Agnew of the Supreme Court, and the family is one of the best in this part of the state. Mrs. George Jones, nee Miss Annie Mason, is 22 years old. She is a brunette, with large eyes, exceedingly pretty face, and fine form. [illegible] her parents [illegible] night, and early yesterday forenoon she left her home and met Isaiah Jones, colored [illegible] by an appointment which she had made by some unknown means the night before. At 8 o'clock [illegible] morning Jones and Miss Mason went to Rochester, which is about a mile from Beaver, and hurried to the house of a colored clergyman, who married them in the presence of two white men, who were called in to act as witnesses. The couple then took the next train back to Beaver, where Jones hired a room in a small house which has only a three rooms in it. [illegible] coupled by [illegible] girl sent [illegible] trunks, plate, and some [illegible] from her room, and [illegible] information [illegible] her [illegible] Her mother [illegible] to persuade her home, but [illegible] not at home, and [illegible] of the affair. It is [illegible] Mason became acquainted [illegible] she ever met him. Threats are openly made by the young men of Beaver that tarring and feathering Jones and driving him out of the town, but up to the present time nothing has been done, and Mr. and Mrs. Jones are living in their squalid room, while the poor young girl's mother is lying at her elegant home very ill with brain fever, brought on by her daughter's conduct.

"Household Departments" are very good adjuncts to a newspaper in their way when edited by a woman, but the male journalist who dabbles with the heaven-inspired mysteries of cooking rules is frightful risk. The editor of The Weekly Petaluma Peavine started a column of that kind recently, and a few days afterwards a fierce-looking female came into the office, concealing some object behind her apron. "Are you the man that published that new and improved way to make current cake?" He said he was. "You said to mix washing soda with the flour, and stir in a little corn-meal and a little oil to give it consistency?" "I—I believe so." "And to add raisins and some eggs, and bake slow?" "Yes, and gum arabic, and set it in a cool place to bake?" "I think that was it." "Well, take that, then!" and the indignant housewife floored him with a weapon that felt like a small club, but which he felt in his heart must have been a half-baked hunk of cake constructed on the Plymouth pattern.—San Francisco News Letter.

What an Alligator had Swallowed.

The large alligator that for many years has been a terror in Mr. M. A. Muldrow's mill pond at Darlington, S. C., was captured on the evening of the 14th ult., by a colored man named Mingo Marous. The terrible looking creature measured, from head to tail, twelve feet. When cut open his stomach was found to contain pieces of wood, fish nets, hickory nuts, pieces of cast iron resembling pot ware and great wads of hog hair. Although he has been shot at every summer for several years, no traces of his ever having been hit can be found.

The following is the latest in California: "Say, Pat, did you see Dennis?" "Why, Dinnis! Who's Dinnis?" "Why, Dinnis Kearney!" "And who is Dennis Kearney?" "Why, Dennis Kearney; don't you know Dennis Kearney?" "No; what does he do?" "He dad, he don't do nothing; he's a working man."

Leave your grievances, as Napoleon did his letters, unopened for three weeks, and it is astonishing how few of them by that time will need answering.

It is said there are more frogs eaten in America than in France. Another evidence of land-grab.

BRICKLAYING.

Having removed from Baltimore, and located in Easton, for the purpose of following my trade in Talbot county, the public are informed that I am prepared to do all kinds of brick laying and grave bricking, at short notice, and in the best manner. If 25 years experience on the best of city work is a recommendation, I offer it as evidence of my ability to do any thing done with brick, including pressed brick fronts and setting steam boilers. I respectfully solicit business from those wanting brick work done. Prices to suit the times. Orders addressed to me, care of Mr. James Morgan, Easton, will receive my prompt and personal attention.

SPRING & SUMMER FASHIONS,

JUST RECEIVED,

And I would like every one to call and see them, and leave their measure for a new suit. I guarantee all work made in my shop to fit, and made in the best manner. I could refer you to the Bishop and his laymen, to the politician and his constituents, but I do not, for the reason that I want my work to stand on its own merits. If I misfit, I am ready to pay for goods or refund the money. References are cheap. I do not resort to them, as I would not place a friend in so awkward a position as to recommend me above any other person. That's the kind of a man I am.

Cutting done in the best manner for the public, and made plain so any one can put it together.
