Baltimore Markets.

OCT. 4, 1879.

Stock of grain in elevators: Wheat 1,320,565 bushels; corn 209,017. The market is firm and prices about the same. Choice Longberry $1 33; prime Fultz $1 28; No 1 Maryland red $1 31. Corn, best Southern white is worth 83 cents. Oats 38 cents. Rye 75 cents.

—Don't forget to register.

—The Republicans will hold a mass meeting at Easton next Tuesday.

—Don't forget to attend the Democratic mass meeting in Easton next Saturday.

—There will be a grand tournamont at Hambleton Park on the 23rd of October inst.

—The total number of car kinds of peaches shipped over the Delaware railroad this season was 4,956.

—For North Carolina heart and sap shingles go to E. E. Jackson & Co., 18 West Falls Avenue, Baltimore. tf

—The thermometer was up to 90 on Friday. Last week will be remembered as real summer weather in October.

—Shingles, laths, pickets, fencing, etc., for sale at lowest cash prices by E. E. Jackson & Co., 18 West Falls Avenue, Baltimore. tf

—James H. Willis, Esq., trustee, will sell Mr A. E. Beall's property in Oxford Neck on the 23d of October. It is advertised in the STAR.

—For seasoned flooring, weather-boarding, and all kinds of building lumber, go to E. E. Jackson & Co., 18 West Falls Avenue, Baltimore. tf

—The town commissioners have had all the stands in the Easton market numbered, and now issue a regular license to all who rent them.

—It is very difficult to keep our little ones free from the disorders of babyhood, and we advise all mothers to keep Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup handy in case of need.

—"Sellers' Liver Pills" stand unrivaled in the United States for curing billiousness, sick headache, etc.

—"When wise men speak let the multitude give ear." Use "Sellers' Liver Pills." Sold by all druggists.

—Mr. James T. Small has opened a private school at Hambleton with flattering prospects of success. We wish him success. He is said to be an excellent teacher.

—Mr. Martin F. Lucker, a jeweller, from Saratoga, New York, has established himself for the present at Prof. Minnick's store, where he is prepared to do all kinds of watch and jewelry work. See his advertisement.

—Mr. William W. Cheezum, a printer, late of this town, and now a resident of the city of Indianapolis, was married on the 18th ultimo, to Miss Annie Burns of that city. We tender the congratulations of the STAR.

—Messrs W. W. Tunis & Brother have just had theree new boilers, made in Wilmington, put in their saw mill at Oakland. They now have ample power to drive all their extensive machinery, and can promptly fill all orders for lumber.

—We judge that the business of Baltimore is reviving, because the Sun supplements are becoming more frequent. There is no better indicator of the activity of business in the city than the advertising columns of the Sun newspaper.

—We understand that Mr. Thomas S. Hayward, of this place, and Mr. E. Stevens, of Cambridge, intend soon to open another drug store at the stand just vacated by Mr. Jesse Hughes. This will make the fourth drug store in Easton.

—Gentlemen who want a nice fitting shirt, should call at Jarrell, Nichols & Cox, and see the Elghmie patent shirt, something new and which recommends itself at sight. No breaks or wrinkles from wearing. Try it once and you will wear no other. Price within the reach of all.

—We understand that regular theatrical costumes have been provided for the Knights who may ride at the Tournament at Hambleton Park on the 23rd instant. They will present a gorgeous appearance—a sight worth seeing. It is to be a magnificent affair, and there will be a band and first rate music.

—The shoe business of Easton appears to be concentrating about the corner of Washington and Dover streets. Mr. Higgins is on one corner, Elliott & Rathell on anosher, Jesse Hughes nearly opposite, and Jacob Williams just around the corner, on Market Square. That is the place to find all the latest styles, and the cheapest boots and shoes in the market. Look at the advertising columns of the STAR.

—Better men's and boys' clothing cannot be bought anywhere than at C. N. Oehm & son's leading one price cash clothing house, 230 W. Pratt street, Baltimore. Their enormous assortment, together with their one price cash system, insures lowest prices and perfect safety to those not so sure of their own judgment. Our experience has taught us always to buy there, and we say go to them without fail. sep28tf

A Card.

H. Myers, jeweler, on Dover street, begs to return his warm thanks to the public of Easton and surrounding country for the patronage and confidence they have given him the past seven years. He trusts with strict attention to business to merit a continuation of the same favor in the future as in the past. No modern charges made for imaginary watch repairs, but a strictly honest one for work actually done. A full line of the celebrated Waltham watches always on hand, 18 karet gold watches of that make from $45 to $200. A variety of 30 hour and 8 day clocks at lowest figures. Eye glasses and spectacles to suit all sights. 2t

The Pocomoke Fertilizer.

PRINCESS ANNE, MD, July 31, 1879.

Gents:—I used your Pocomoke Superphosphate on wheat last year, with satisfactory results to myself, so satisfactory in short, that I expect to use it again this fall, and by keeping it up to the present standard, I have no doubt that you will succeed in extensively introducing it among our farmers.

Respectfully,
BER'J F. LANEFORD.

NEAR POCOMOKE CITY, Nov. 29, 1879.

Gentlemen:—I used you Pocomoke Superphosphate beside "Star Bone," on wheat, and though a very unfavorable year on this crop, I could observe the superior quality of your Fertiliser in the unusual height attained by the clover. I also used it on corn, and its effects were perfectly satisfactory. It is the best Fertiliser for the money I have ever used.

JOHN E. BRITTINGHAM.

NOTE—The "Star Bone" alluded to, was made by Mr. B. of bones, oil vitrol, Peruvian guano, and hen-house manure. F. L. & D.

The Democratic Boom.

There will be a public FREE DINNER at the Democratic mass meeting in Easton next Saturday.

There will be a Democratic BARBECUE, and a beef roasted whole, at Cordova on the 25th inst.

Removal and Enlargement of Business.

Jesse Hughes has removed his boot, shoe and leather store to the large and handsomely furnished room, one door south of Odd Fellows' Hall, on Washington street, in Mr. John Mason's new block. He will continue to carry on the boot and shoe trade, but will add a large and well selected stock of groceries, which latter department will be conducted by Mr. Chas. E. Nicols. Hereafter Mr. Chas. H. Hughes will have an interest in the business and it will be conducted under the firm name of J. Hughes & Co.

COMMUNICATED.

MR. EDITOR:—I noticed that the dignified and austere Knight Commanding the Gazette announced "officially" last Saturday, that in the next issue would be published the "official records of the two candidates for Register of Wills," made out by some dear little Buttercup, we presume, who "knows all about it." This is as it should be. The public likes to see disclosures that do justice to all concerned. Let us have the "official record," as far back as possible, of the present incumbent, with that of his "numerous and admiring crowd of relatives,"—"his sisters, his cousins, and his aunts, especially his cousins, whom he reckons by the dozens." We believe this would be quite an interesting record. Give us the whole of it or none, and please don't "mix those children up."

"A SIMPLE SAILOR."

Orphans' Court—Aug. Term.

EASTON, Sep. 30, 1879.

Court met; present I. Davis Clark, Chief Judge Samuel Stewart and John C. Bartlett, Associate Judges; Charles R. Mullikin, Register of Wills.

Letters of administration on the personal estate of Mary S Orem, dec'd, were granted to Sarah W Orem, who filed a bond in the penal sum of $8,000, which was approved. A warrant was issued to John C Harper and C W Haddaway to appraise the goods and chattels of said deceased.

The last will and testament of Phil'n Rakes was duly probated and filed for recording. Letters testamentary were granted to R H Kemp, who filed a bond in the penalty of $5,000, which was approved. A warrant was issued to Ed D Thompson and Robert T Mullikin to appraise the goods and chattels of said deceased.

John W. Plummer, heretofore appointed guardiad to the infant children of John F Plummer, dec'd, filed his bond in the penalty of $2,000, which was approved.

Joseph R Marshall and James K P Marshall, ex'trs of James Marshall, dec'd, presented an account of sales of the goods and chattels of said deceased; it was duly examined and approved.

Adjourned to Tuesday next.

County Commissioners.

EASTON, Sep. 30, 1879.

The board met; present Messrs. William Willis, Charles M. Jump and Joseph Horney, commissioners; Jos. S. Robson, clerk.

The following judges of election were appointed for one year from this date.

Easton District, Precinct No 1.—Jas H Covington, M M Dawson, John F Kersey.

Precinct No 2.—W W Tunis, Wm P Powell, James M Cowgill.

St. Michaels District—John C Harper, H C Dodson, Joseph A Robinson.

Trappe District, Precinct No 1.—Montgomery Lloyd, J W Martin, A C Mullikin.

Precinct No 2.—Edw'd S Harrison, Wm P Benson, W H Seth.

Chapel District—W L Arringdale, A B Hardcastle, Edw'd Y Davis.

Bay Hundred District—T J Lowe, T P B Seth, James H Cooper.

The location of the new road in Miles River Neck was considered, but laid over.

Mr J R Fountain appeared and stated that he would move his fence as directed by the Board, the dispute between him and Capt. Todd having arisen from a desire to straighted the road.

Bills to the amount of $1,801 05 were passed and paid, $440 of which was for interest on the county railroad bonds.

Adjourned to Tuesday next.

The Lecture Last Tuesday Night.

Professor A. S. Marye's lecture on "What is Poetry," delivered at the Opera House on Thursday evening, before the Pinkney Literary Society and a large and cultivated audience, was a beautiful and chaste composition, and showed that the lecturer was perfectly familiar with the poets, ancient and modern. He read a number of beautiful poems, selected from the classic writers, and analysed the philosophy of poetry with a master's hand, exhibiting an incite into the escence of poetry that reminded us of the descriptions of Professor Wilson in the "Noctes Ambrosianæ." In the course of his lecture, the Professor paid one of the most beautiful and eloquent tributes to woman it has ever been our pleasure to hear. Poets are singular beings. J. Howard Payne, who sang more sweetly than any other poet of the charms of "Home, Sweet Home," never had a home, but lived the life of a wanderer; and those who write most beautifully of lovely woman, strange to say, are generally bachelors:

"Distance lends enchantment to the view."

It is needless to say, Professor Mayre's lecture was thoroughly enjoyed by those who heard it.

At the conclusion of the lecture, Mr. C. G. Wright, President of the Society, after returning thanks to all, announced the coming anniversary of the Society to be held sometime during the first of November, also an entertainment on Christmas night; this last we have since understood will be an exhibition of Mrs. Jarley's "Wax Works," a world renowned piece of amusement taken from Dickens' "Old Curiosity Shop."

For the Star.

(COMMUNICATED)

MR. EDITOR:—I notice that Messrs H. C., and Chas. R. Mullikin head the Republican ticket as candidates for the two most important and lucrative offices in the county. In 1861 they were living the life of quiet citizens in Trappe district. The war broke out, and these men got up a company, not to go to Virginia to fight the rebels, but to stay home on the Eastern Shore, draw their pay, and hacass and arrest, and persecute their fellow-citizens who disagreed with them in politics! In this matter it is notorious that C. R., if not H. C., out heroded Herod. Seventeen years ago they were scorned by almost every decent man in the community, for their despicable record. White men and black men, bond and free, alike denounced the proceedings of the company of which Charles R. Mullikin was captain. If the records of the Baltimore Provost Marshal's office could be brought to light, it would doubtless disclose a fearful number of slanderous charges made by officers of this Regiment against many of the best men of the Eastern Shore. The whole corps was regarded as little less than spies, defamers, and land pirates. No regiment raised during the war, not even "Billy Wilson's Thieves," made for itself so ignominious a record. And when the bugles sounded calling it to Gettysburg, what did the brave Charles R., do? Did he go to the front and fight to free the colored people? NO. He resigned his commission and came home, to be laughed at and ridiculed by those he had so often wronged. I believe that H. C. did better. At least it was so reported; but I believe his war record is not very brilliant, certainly not enough so to wipe out the record of his company on the Eastern Shore.—

Ever since the war, these two brave officers have been laying low, but now they come forward as candidates, and ask the people of Talbot county to endorse them—to approve and vindicate all they did during the war and sanction the cowardice implied in the captain's resignation. I understand that they take to themselves great credit for the part they played in aiding in robbing their fellow-citizens of their property. They have had their day, and now the people of Talbot have their day, and an opportunity to square accounts with them. It should be done scrupulously according to the laws of justice; and they should be made to know that the voters of Talbot, whom they have wronged, or whose fathers they wronged, have no use for them in any public office that comes of the suffrage of the people. I do not like to again bring forward the issues of the war, but, Mr. Editor, you know the Republicans of the North are doing it every day, and that their whole stock in trade consist of such issues. They aim constantly to draw the line on war issues, and therefore I refer to these reminiscences. I do not see how any Democrat in this county can vote for either of the Mullikins, nor how any white Republican not tarred with the same stick can support them; and I do not think Mr. Charles R's song, which he chants to the colored people about

"He who turns and runs away,
May live to fight another day," is calculated to win many colored votes. I think his political health very precarious, and that the night air of Ivy Town is doing him no good. The blacks have sense enough to tell a brave man from a runaway, and they will not support any one who skirked the rebel fire of Gettysburg.

I do not think the people of Talbot are ready to indorse and elect these men. While they respect, and would cheerfully vote for, a true Union soldier, as they often have done, they can have no respect for the non-fighting "home-guard" soldier, whose avocation is to draw his pay for persecuting and tormenting, and outraging and robbing his fellow citizens who disagree with him in politics. Such unscrupulous party tools should never be forgotten nor forgiven when it comes to voting. TRAPPE.

The Good Children's Pinafore.

The Pinafore performance at the Opera House on Tuesday evening was a brilliant success, financially and otherwise. Nearly $100 was realized for the orphan children of the late Gen'l John B. Hood. The following was the cast for the performance:

Sir Joseph Porter, K. C. B.	Mr C Keith
Captain Corcoran	Mr L Tharp
Dick Deadeye	Mr A Tharp
Ralph Rackstraw	Mr S P Minnick
Boatswain	Mr R Carrington
Guard	Mr M Forman
Little Buttercup	Miss Laura Forman
Josephine	Miss Emily Goldsborough
Hebe	Miss Hattie Minnick
Midshipmite	Master Elias Dawson

Full chorus of sisters, cousins aunts, and sailors, by young ladies and gentlemen of Easton.

It was the general opinion that the opera was as well performed as it was by Ford's troupe in in the same hall a short time ago. Mr. Keith played Sir Joseph Porter with dignity and ease. Miss Minnick made a most interesting Hebe, her sprightly expression and charming voice, fitting the character admirably. Miss Goldsborough played Josephine to perfection, and was frequently encored. She has a splendid voice. Mr L Tharp made an admirable Capt. Corcoran, and Mr A L Tharp made the best Dick Deadeye we have ever seen. Being a natural comedian, and a very fine singer, he is specially suited to the character. Percy Minnick made an excellent Raph Rackstraw; although his fine voice was somewhat weakened by recent illness, yet he displayed superior culture. R. Carrington played the Boatswain to perfection. Marie Forman was exceedingly comical in the Guard. His soldierly appearance, his formidable whiskers, and his right and left shoulder shift arms were irresistably provocative of merriment. Nothing could have been sweeter than Miss Laura Forman's Little Buttercup. Her charming voice and aptitude for the character are remarkable in one so young. Master Elias Dawson made a lively little Midshipmite and did his part well. The whole crew of sailors, and the the large family of sisters, cousins, and aunts all played their parts admirably. The performance was a real treat to the five hundred of our citizens who filled the hall, and was under the special management of Mrs. Captain William H Smith, of Easton, who played the accompaniment on the piano. To Messrs Edward Nicols and L Tharp are due the credit of getting up the scenery and costumes, which added so much to the general effect of the opera. The quarter deck, hatchway, and all the appointments of a ship of war, including the flags of many nations, were very cleverly presented. Our juvenile Pinafores need not be ashamed to appear before any audience. The audience signified their delight by repeated encores, which were always generously responded to and doubtless duly appreciated. To study up a play like Pinafore, commit the music, and master the characters, must have cost our young people many hours of hard study; but they will be well paid for all their toil and trouble, by the consciousness of having devoted their talents to a noble charity, and sent the destitute Hood children a generous contribution.

Bishop Lay in Elkton.

The visit of the Bishop of Easton to Elkton was one of unalloyed satisfaction to his people and numerous friends in this community. He came up from Sassafras Neck on Thursday morning, the 25th ultimo., and was the guest of the Rev. Mr. Skinner at the Rectory. He preached that night after Evening Prayer, the Rev Messrs W J Frost, D D., and W J Jefferis of Delaware and the Rev G W Easter of Port Deposit assisting. On Friday, after Morning Prayer and Litany, conducted by Rev Messrs Frost, Easter and Miller (of North East) he preached, and also administered the Right of Confirmation. On Friday afternoon he confirmed a sick man in private. Friday evening between the hours of eight and ten was devoted to a general "Reception" at the Rectory. The house and grounds were previously decorated with flowers and vines, both cut and growing, by the deft and tasteful hands of several ladies of the congregation. Flowers, plants and trailing vines were everywhere in profusion and beauty—on each side of the paved walk leading from the street, on the porch, in the hall, on the table of which stood a large pyramid of rich dahlias, in the parlor and in the dining room. In one corner of the parlor stood a tall "pastoral staff" or shepherd's crook, twined with flowers, and a small table at its foot bore a large Bible on which rested a mitre made of tube roses and other white flowers surmounted by a small cross composed of the same.

At dark festoons of many-colored Chinese lanterns were suspended in the front porch, and from the porch to the nearest trees in the grounds, the whole converging toward the transom over the front door, which was occupied by a transparency bearing in large red letters the words "Welcome to the Bishop." This was brilliantly illuminated by the gas-light in the hall behind the lanterns outside. The whole arrangement was effective and made a scene both picturesque and brilliant. A large company of both sexes and old and young assembled to do honor and give welcome to the Bishop. After a space given for interchance of greeting and for general conversation, the Bishop was asked to take a large chair provided for him and the company were called to order by the Rector. Mr H B Wirt, Junior Warden of Trinity Church, then, at a given signal, advanced and made a neat and appropriate speech to the Rt. Rev. Bishop on behalf of the congregation expressive of their attachment and esteem for him; their solicitude during many months for his health, and their joy in thus receiving him again after his long absence abroad. The Bishop courteously arose and, in his happy manner, expressed his thanks, alluded to his travels, briefly pointed out the blessings of ease and plenty which, as a people, we enjoy in comparison with the lands he had seen, urged us to renewed liberality and zeal for God's cause in proof of gratitude to Him, and invoked upon the assembly the Divine blessing. Soon after the guests shook hands with the Bishop and clergy and took their leave. The Rev. Messrs. Frost and Easter assisted at the reception. It was an occasion to be remembered, and was highly appreciated by the good Bishop, who warmly expressed himself to that effect.—Cecil Democrat.

Campaign Blasphemy.

A Republican campaign meeting was held at Trappe on Tuesday evening Sept. 30th. The colored Republicans of the town and vicinity generally attended this meeting, and there were also present a few white Republicans, among them, one, at least, of the Republican candidates.

Joseph Gray, colored, of Easton, made a speech to the meeting. This address was not particularly remarkable for pith or point, truth or common sense. It was a rambling, disconnected harangue,—such as only could be expected when a man like this Gray is put up by his party, or rather, by the candidates of his party, who want the 1300 votes Gray's brethren are to cast, as a representaitive of his party and a political instructor for white and colored Republicans. The indifferent observer would pass by the whole thing without comment, and with simply a feeling of contempt for the men who, instead of using their efforts to instruct such men as the newly enfranchiadd colored people in their duties and responsibilities as citizens make political teachers of the most ignorant and least responsible among them. But for the fact that this speech of Gray's was interlarded with blasphemy, that cannot but be demoralizing, and which if continued and repeated at all the district meetings and neighborhood meetings that will be held among the colored people, will be ruinous to the simple minded colored people for whom these speeches are made.

Gray wished to make the point that the colored people should vote the entire Republican ticket without scratching a name, and for illustration said he would tell them an anecdote. He went on to say that once there was a man whose child was taken sick, and as it had never been christened he called in a minister to christen it, thinking the child would die. The preacher commenced to christen the child, Gray continued, and said, "I babtize yu in de nam' ob de Fader, an' de Son, an'—" Here he hesitated as if he had forgotten the word, and after repeating the formula as far as the word Son, he asked, as if puzzled, "Who am de oder feller?" "De Holy Ghost, hi! hi!" shouted a dozen voices. Then Gray went on to make the application. "On Gray went on to make the application. "On 'lecshun day, vote de whole ticket. Don't forgit an' dat oder feller—de Holy Ghost, too!"

Gray did not specify which of the Republican candidates he had Deified, nor what names on the Republican ticket he considered equal in importance, and in dignity, and in honor to the names of the Holy Trinity.

At another place in his speech he said the blood of Abraham Lincoln had as much atoning power for the colored race as the blood of Jesus Christ had for the human race.

These blasphemous utterances, which for charity's sake, may be referred to the ignorance of this political instructor, received the countenance of several intelligent white Republicans who were present, one of whom, as said before, is a candidate for one of the most exalted offices in the gift of the people. Not a word of remonstrance or disapprobation was heard.

Gentlemen, in the name of that common Christian religion, many men of both parties profess, can you not stay these blasphemies? Is it not better to lose your election even, than to suffer this thing to continue?

J. Q. A. HOLLOWAY,
Originator and Manufacturer of

The above are the most concentrated FERTILIZERS ever offered to the Farmer—combining all the stimulating qualities of Peruvian Guano, and the ever-durable fertilizing properties of Bones, in fine, dry powder, prepared expressly for drilling in with the Grain—and it is the universal opinion of the Farmers of Maryland and Virginia, after over twenty years experience in the use of the Excelsior manufactured by me, that an application of 100 pounds is equal in its effects to 200 pounds of any other Fertilizer or Guano, therefore fully 50 per cent. cheaper.

With my present advantages and superior facilities for Manufacturing, I challenge competition with any Fertilizer sold in the United States in Quality, Mechanical Condition and Price.

By strictly adhering to my Original Formulas, using only the most concentrated materials, and, as superintending in person their manufacture—as for the past twenty years,

UNIFORM QUALITY IS GUARANTEED.

☞ Farmers to secure the only Genuine Excelsior and Ammoniated Phosphate, prepared according to my original Formulas established in 1858, should see that every Bag is branded as above, with the analysis and my name in red letters.
