STAR LECTURE COURSE.

AT MUSIC HALL,

Tuesday Evening, January 13th 1880,

Alfred J. Knight,

In His Popular Entertainment

Historical Costume Impersonations

The Beauties of the Legitimate Drama

In Complete and Elegant Costume

With Readings, Humorous, Burlesque, Pathetic.

PROGRAMME.

PART I.—Select Recitations.

The Editor's Guests — Will Carlton

Burdock's Goat

Moses and bees Mound — Anon

PART II.—Historical Costume Impersonations.

Mr. Knight's object has been to take a selection indicative of the character assumed, rather than the worn out quotations so often made.—He will not attempt imitations of other people, but will give his own rendering of the passages selected.

Richard III—In the Tower—Soliloquy

Shylock—From the Merchant of Venice.

Mark Antony—From Julius Cæsar—The Oration over the dead body of Julius Cæsar.

Cardinal Wolsey—Wolsey's charge to Cromwell—From King Henry VIII.

Hamlet—Soliloquy, "O what a rogue and peasant slave am I."

PART III.—Popular Selections.

Mirliky's Conversion — Julia Pickering

As rendered by Mr. Knight pronounced the masterpiece of humorous elocution.

The Entertainment will conclude with

The Romance of a Sleeping Car — Burlington Hawkeye

Baltimore Grain Markets.

Jan 3, 1880.

Stock of grain in elevators: Wheat, 1,467,364 bushels; corn, 545,376 bushels. Good Southern wheat is in active demand for milling purposes Good to prime Fultz at $1 40@$1 45, prime to choice Longberry $1 50@$1 55. Corn is quoted at 57, 60 and 62 cents. Oats 46 cents. Rye $1 00.

—The Maryland legislature meets to-morrow.

—Gov. Hamilton will be inaugurated to-morrow week.

—Gov. Carroll's annual message to the legislature will be delivered on Thursday.

—For North Carolina heart and sap shingles go to E. E. Jackson & Co., 18 West Falls Avenue, Baltimore. tf

—There is to be a fine military display at Annapolis on the 14th inst., in honor of the inauguration of Gov. Hamilton.

—"Nip your cough in the bud," said Horace Greeley, by taking Dr. Sellers' Cough Syrup.—Lose no time in getting a bottle.

—Shingles, laths, pickets, fencing, etc., for sale at lowest cash prices by E. E. Jackson & Co., 18 West Falls Avenue, Baltimore. tf

—For seasoned flooring, weather-boarding, and all kinds of building lumber, go to E. E. Jackson & Co., 18 West Falls Avenue, Baltimore. tf

—$50,000 to loan on first mortgages. Wanted and for sale—horses, cows, mules, and farming implements. Anything a farmer wants.

dec 16tf HINROD.

—We would call particular attention to D. H Patty & Co's advertisement for men to sell nursery stock. To men out of employment this is a rare opening. nov 18 3m —Half the ills of human life proceed from a torpid and disordered liver. Submit to them no longer while Sellers' Liver Pills will cure you quickly. 25c. per box.

—If any of our people want any local legislation this winter, they should lose no time in preparing their petitions and forwarding them to the legislature.

—Mr. L. Dodson, Jr.'s, Sunday School entertainment at the hall on New Year's night attracted a full house, and was a very pleasant affair. The audience enjoyed the tableaux and especially the music. The children played their parts extremely well.

—After the organization of the legislature, and the delivery of the Governor's annual message, both Houses will doubtless adjourn over to next Monday, to afford the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate time to appoint the standing committees.

—There was a false alarm of fire about 10 o'clock Saturday night, which brought out the whole fire department. Everybody was crying "fire" at the top of his voice and no fire could be found. It is well the boy who first gave the alarm could not be discovered after the firemen found out they had been fooled. Had he been caught he would doubtless have been put to the pump.

—The fourth entertainment in Mr. Dodson's Star Lecture Course, will take place next Tuesday evening, the 13th inst. when Mr. Alfred J. Knight, the eminent dramatist and Shakespearian reader, will give his Shakspearian impersonations in magnificent historical costumes. The entertainment will be one of the best of the course. Richard III, Shylock, Mark Antony, Cardinal Wolsey and Hamlet will each be exhibited in historical costume. This of itself will be worth more than the admission fee. None of our young people should fail to attend.

—William Halstean, real estate agent, has sold the following farms: Mr. Brett's farm on Rail Road Avenue, 230 acres, to Edward Armbrust, of Sheldon Centre, N. Y., for $4000. 200 acres called Manedeer, to Robert Worrell, of Poughkeepsy, N. Y., for $5,500. 60 acres on Rail Road avenue, belonging to I C W Powell, to Mr George, for $1,100. C H Willard's farm, on Rail Road avenue, 61¾ acres, to John Armbrust, of N Y, for $8,100. Barney Finner's farm, near Cordova, 137 acres, to Samuel Sherman, of Clinton, N. Y., for $2,500. Mr W J Berry's farm, 84 acres, to Wm Wilkey, of New York, for $3,000. Dr Manfellet's farm, near Cordova, $140 acres, to John Bennett, of Michigan, for $1,200.

English Condition Powders.

Sold by J. C. Henry, R. J Trippe, and Stevens & Hayward. Read testimonials in advertisement elsewhere. jan 6

Wanted.

Sherman & Co., Marshall, Mich., want an agent in this county at once, at a salary of $100 per month and expenses paid. For full particulars address as above. nov25 1y

Furniture.

Benjamin Wasney, 208 West Pratt street, Baltimore, agent for manufacturers of furniture, mattresses, bedding, and house furnishing goods, invite a call from the citizens of the Eastern Shore when they come to the city. He is selling setts of walnut and cottage furniture made in the very best manner, as cheap as the cheapest. nov4-6m

County Commissioners.

EASTON, Dec 29, 1879

The board met; present Messrs John C Adams President; Francis A. Wrightson and James H Willis, commissioners; Jos. S. Robson, clerk.

This meeting was especially devoted to making appointments for county officers, and the the board was engaged until a late hour in considering the applications, but without concluding adjourned until Tuesday.

TUESDAY, Dec 30.

Board met; present as on yesterday.

R H Dixon presented a petition from over 100 citizens asking for an appropriation of 20,000 bushels of slag to be placed on the Point road, the same having become worn from constant use. Laid over.

Miss Horney of Miles' River Neck, appeared before the board claiming damages for the new road through her woods as located by the Surveyor. The board stated that if she should be damaged by the proposed road the county would probably be willing to allow fair compensation therefor.

The list of insolvents reported by Jno L Hopkins, collector for 1879, was examined and without definite action postponed until a future meeting.

Bills to the amount of $374 43 were passed and paid.

Adjourned until Tuesday next.

Slate Mantles.

For the handsomest and cheapest slate and marble mantles made in Baltimore, go to J. Coyle & Brother, 859 West Pratt street. They have a secret in the manufacture of slate mantles not known to other workers in slate, which enables them to sell a handsomer article for less money than any other house. Their designs cannot fail to please. nov1-1y

Sale of Valuable Property.

Attention is again directed to the sale of Mr. J J. Grogan's personal property, at "Hope," in Miles River Neck, which takes place next Monday, the 12th of January. The invoice embraces some very fine live stock, valuable farm machinery, and handsome furniture. The sale will afford those of our citizens who have not seen it, an opportunity to view this beautiful old residence of the Tilghman family. The property is advertised in the STAR.

Another Old Landmark Gone.

In October, 1873, J. F. Bateman, Esq., bought of Mr. Charles H. Stewart the old Violet Hopkin's property, opposite Mr. Joseph Graham's, on Washington street. He has since done nothing with it, because he could not get possession. The tenants, Mr. Justice Robinson and W. H. Turbett, vacated the two houses on the 1st inst, and Mr. Bateman sold them to Mr. T. T. Martin, who commenced yesterday to tear them down and remove them to his farm. We understand Mr. Bateman contemplates erecting a handsome new building on the lot next Spring.

A Visit to Baltimore

Will prove highly advantageous by inspecting C N Oehm & Son's immense one-price clothing establishment. A grand assortment of men's overcoats, ulsters and suits, ranging in price from $5 00 to $30 00, is now on exhibition, comprising all leading novelties for the present season. Their handsome boys & Children's oversacks, ulsters and suits for schools and dress at $2 50 and upwards are the delight of the little folks. Genuine low prices for well made garments is their motto, and we advise everyone before purchasing to call on C N Oehm & Son 230 W. Pratt st., 55 Hanover st, adjoining City Bank, Baltimore.

The Incoming and Outgoing State's Attorney.

Yesterday, being the first Monday in January, J F Bateman, Esq, our newly elected States Attorney, having previously qualified before the Clerk of the Court, entered upon the duties of the office. We feel confident that he will make an able and faithful prosecutor, and will give satisfaction to all by his impartiality in the discharge of the duties of the office. Charles H Gibson, Esq, the retiring State's Attorney, was appointed at May court 1871 to fill the unexpired term of I C W Powell, Esq, who resigned because of ill health. In November 1871 he was elected for four years, and reelected for a second term in November 1875. He therefore held the office for nearly nine consecutive years. Last fall he voluntarily retired from the position, and declined being a candidate for a third term. Mr Gibson has made a most able, faithful, and successful State's Attorney. We have never had a better prosecutor in Talbot within our recollection than he has made, if we may except the late James Lloyd Martin; and many think him quite equal to Mr Martin in this branch of his profession. He certainly has earned a high reputation in this respect. He has made the criminal law a special study, and it was seldom that a guilty party escaped a conviction. As a speaker he is particularly felicitous in handling the law and the facts in criminal cases. He has a host of friends in the county who regret his retirement from the office, but wish him equal success in his large civil practice. They hope at no distant day to see him in Congress, where he will find ample scope for the display of his splendid talents.

Orphans' Court—Dec. Term.

EASTON, Dec. 30, 1879.

Court met; present: Hon. Ormond Hammond, Chief Judge; Samuel B Merrick and Chas H Rose, Associates; Edward H Roe, Register of Wills.

J Kemp Bartlett, guardian to William and Margaret Benson, presented his fourt account of guardianship with each of said wards; examined and passed.

E L F Hardcastle, executor of Alcade Pratt, deceased, presented an account of sales of deceased's personal estate. It was examined and passed.

The bond heretofore filed by Chas J Thompson, administrator of Mary A Haddaway, deceased, was duly examined and approved. The said administrator then presented an inventory of the deceased personal estate which was duly examined and passed; and applied for an order to sell the same either at private or public sale on usual terms, and also for an order to notify the deceased creditors to file their claims. Orders granted.

Dr Jas Seth, guardian to Sidney O Seth, presented his bond as such in the penal sum of $1,600 with Julia T Seth and Samuel H Seth, as sureties. It was duly examined and approved.

M A Cooper, administratrix of Geo R Cooper, deceased, presented an inventory of the deceased's personal estate. It was examined and passed. She applied for an order to sell the goods and chattles of the deceased, either at public or private sale on usual terms; private sale, no article to be sold for less than its appraised value. She also applied for an order to give the usual notice to creditors.

Court adjourned until Tuesday next.

For the STAR.

MR. EDITOR:—I am repeatedly asked the question how long thorn hedges will live—(a question at my time of life considerably over three score and ten I am not able to answer). One thing I know, that it is 80 years since an Act of Parliament was passed in the British House of Commons requiring all fields to be enclosed and those hedges which look so young and beautiful in England, which travelers admire so much, were planted at the beginning of the present century. To be sure, the thornhedge there is the Hawthorn, a plant adapted to the climate; nevertheless, without proper care and attention I cannot tell what would have been their condition at the present day. But there they are properly cultivated and taken care of, from the time of planting till they are ready to cut or lay, as the case may be, which is generally from three to four years from the time of planting. But here we have the Osage Orange thorn, a plant considered by most people to be the best adapted to this climate. In my opinion it is over all others for fencing purposes. Now how long will the Osage Orange thorn live? that is a question which I am not able to answer. This I know, it is about 40 years (or may be over) since Mr. Clayton planted the first Osage Orange for fencing purposes in Cecil county, Md., near Chesapeake city, and when I saw it a few years ago it looked young and vigorous, and in my opinion, if properly taken care of, the Osage thorn will live and thrive in this latitude as well as the Hawthorn does in England. But here in many cases the thorns are planted, and then left to take care of themselves. It does not require a great amount of labor or expense to raise a thorn fence, and when once raised a man may calculate on having a good fence his lifetime. It is useless to attempt to raise an Osage thorn fence without laying it down. A great many ways have been tried to raise an Osage fence without laying, but all such fences that I have seen are failures. I would refer those who would see a perfect hedge fence to the Osage Orange thorn fence of Mr. F. Carroll Goldsborough, of Bailey's Neck. It was scrubby and unsightly when I undertook the management of it; now it is a model hedge, and so thick a rabbit can scarcely get through it. It is my experience that an Osage Orange hedge should not be laid before it is three or four years old. While the young thorns are growing, preparatory to laying, they should be well cultivated and manured and kept clean of weeds and filth. When once established, they are the cheapest and handsomest fence known to these parts. The young thorns should be planted about 8 inches apart, and all missing places should be reset the next Fall or Spring after they are planted.

CHARLES ADAMS.

Near Easton, Jan'y 3d, 1880.

COMMUNICATED.

MR. EDITOR:—"One of the Members of the Meeting," in Saturday's Gazette, says "Several Members of the Meeting" * * "shows conclusively that the examination of witnesses upon the violation of the local option law was not commenced until after a petition had been put in circulation," and "although the examination was going on at the time the petition was received by the jury * * it was not commenced until the hand writing was seen on the wall," * * and "the knowledge of the petition brought forth whatever examination was made in those cases." The idea here conveyed is, that the grand jury was determined not to investigate the alleged violations of the local option law, until it was alarmed by the "hand writing on the wall," and then it only partially investigated the cases, and protected the violators of the law instead of presenting them. This is an untrue statement of the case. The simple facts are these: the grand jury was convened on Monday, and organized for business; on the next day, Tuesday, some local option jists called on the foreman of the grand jury in the street, and presented him with a paper, naming certain persons to be summoned as witnesses, to prove the alleged violations of the law. He told them to sign the paper, and he would present it to the jury. They declined to sign it. He then offered to present it if they would allow him to use their names in the grand jury room: as the source from whence it came. THIS THEY ALSO RESPECTFULLY DECLINED.—The foreman of the grand jury then told them, if they proposed to back out themselves, and make him the informer, he should decline to have any thing to do with their paper, and advised them to take it to the State's Attorney, and let it reach the grand jury through that channel. They took it to the State's Attorney, and he presented it to the grand jury on Wednesday morning, and the same day the investigation was commenced. On the following day, Thursday, while the investigation was progressing, a petition, largely signed, was pesented to the grand jury, praying it to investigate the local option cases. Now, I should like to know which of these papers "One of the Members of the Meeting" refers to as "the hand writing on the wall," that so terribly frightened the grand jury? His imagination has evidently become excited, and he has gotten them mixed. He certainly does not know the kind of stuff the grand jury was made of. It fearlessly acted throughout from a consciencious sense of duty, and according to the law and the evidence, and was not influenced to do any thing, nor leave any thing undone, by any hand writing the liquor men or anti-liquor men, could fix upon the local option wall or anti-local option wall. When the matter was properly brought before the grand jury, it promptly acted on it, and the big petition on Thursday had no influence whatever on its action, except that it led it to enlarge the scope of its inquiries. It is therefore false, as alleged, that the knowledge of the petition brought forth whatever examination was made in those cases." If there has been any "twisting and squirming" with the matter, it has been by "One of the Members of the Meeting" and his confederates, who started out with a falsehood, and have persistently perverted the truth, and brought false accusations against honorable men and unimpeachable officials, in order to bolster up their slanders and to make the worse appear the better part." Their whole cause is based on assumption, their argument is simply abuse, and not one of them has produced a single fact to substantiate their baseless assertions and malicious innuendoes. They have affirmed what is not true; they have slandered the pure; they have insinuated fraud and collusion and perjury, where none have existed; they have arraigned the jury for not doing what it did do to the best of its ability; and they have damaged a popular cause by abusing their friends and making fools of themselves. If they do not do better hereafter, the public will have cause to believe that they are the fellows who have been privately keeping afloat the illicit traffic they are publicly condemning.
