—Mr. E. C. Green has retired from the management of the Brick hotel, and has been succeeded by Mr. J. Eddie, of East New Market, Dorchester county.

—Remember the entertainment to be given by the Pinkneys to-night for the benefit of the Irish Relief Fund. Go, and thus help to swell the receipts.

—Call and see those one cent edges and ruffilings; also a great variety of Hamburgs very cheap at S F Tower's.

—A. W. Strange, Esq, Lynchburg, Va, writes: "I use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup regularly for a tickling cough at night. It gives relief and puts me to sleep. It is much used here." Price 25 cents a bottle.

—"When wise men speak let the multitude give ear." Use Sellers' Liver Pills. Sold by all druggists.

—Don't deceive yourselves. Dr. Sellers' Cough Syrup for the cure of colds and coughs has no equal. Sold by druggists at 25c.

—We understand the directors of the Easton Town Hall Company have placed the renting of the hall in the hands of Mr. L. Dodson, Jr., and hereafter those wishing to rent the hall must apply to him.

—Senator Grome will please accept our thanks for a pamphlet copy of Senator Bayarda's speech in the U. S. Senate, Jan. 27th, 1880, in favor of the resolution withdrawing from United States notes legal tender power.

"The Virginia Mummy," the amusing farce which so pleased the people on Christmas night, will be put upon the boards again to-night by the Pinkneys. Go and enjoy a good hearty laugh at the "live mummy's" witticisms.

—Bishop Lay preached an eloquent sermon at Grace chapel, Oxford, Sunday afternoon. The church was crowded. After the sermon, Rev Mr Walker, rector of the parish, presented a class for confirmation, and the rite was administered by the Bishop.

It is fashionable now for all who can afford it, to make a trip to Europe. The winter has caught the traveling fever this year, and also gone to Europe. While the weather here is unusually mild, in Europe it is extremely and unusually severe.

"Sights and Sensations on the Eastern Shore," the original local play which met with such a flattering reception last Fall when played by the Pinkneys, is to be reproduced to-night.—All should see the many prevalent peculiarities of our progressive people illustrated before the footlights.

—Sheriff Griffin has just had built in his stall in the Easton market one of F. Rolleson's celebrated Baltimore refrigerators, in which he can keep fresh beef for weeks, in the warmest weather. The arrangements of the refrigerator are certainly very convenient and complete.

—We invite our lady patrons to examine our first selection of laces—including the new Tuscan, Brabant and Russian. Our Torchons, Valenciennes and French laces are very choice. New neck crepe lisses, and neck ruffles in snow flake and Breton laces are beautiful. Our new line of corsets surpasses all our past purchases.
feb 24-3t J. J. JUMP & Co.

—We had a sharp cold snap last week, which commenced with a northwester Wednesday night about 10 o'clock, which admonished us that old Boreas is still hovering about the regions north of us. He may or he may not drop down on us in March. Some of the goose bone prophets say he will. Mr. John Shannahan has no faith in them, however, and started for Maine Thursday night to purchase a summer's supply of ice.

—The Philip Phillips concert took place at the Hall on Tuesday night as advertised. Mr. Phillips sang a number of hymns and songs. He has a remarkably fine voice, and plays and sings delightfully. An organ was used as the accompaniment. In several pieces Mr. Phillips was assisted by his son, who has a rich, strong voice, and some liked his singing even better than his father's. About three hundred of our citizens attended the concert.

—Messrs A. W. Fountain & Son have bought of Mr. John Merrick, of Wilmington, Del., the carriage wareroom, just below the STAR office, lately occupied by Messrs S. B. Hopkins & Son. Messrs A. W. Fountain & Son have stocked it with a handsome assortment of carriages of their own manufacture, a class of work acknowledged much more durable than northern made carriages. They are now engaged with a large force building carriages for this purpose.

—Messrs Hughes & Withgott have just made for the Easton Fire Department, a new hose carriage, which is a very complete and handsome piece of workmanship—as nice a machine in all respects as could be put up in the city. They have lathes at their shops, and all other necessary machinery for doing first class work at the lowest figures. They are excellent mechanics and should be encouraged, as it must be a great convenience to our farmers to have such an establishment in town.

—Attention is directed to the advertisement of Mr. R. H. T. Councell in to-day's STAR. Mr. Councell is a house painter of long experience, works a large force, and does most the best painting done in Easton. After testing all the paints in the market, his verdict is, that the paint made by John Lucas & Co., of Philadelphia, is the best, being heavier, and entirely free from water. He has the exclusive use of this paint in Talbot county, and those wanting their houses painted in the best maner, with the very best paint, should read his advertisement and testimonials and engage his services.

Agents are wanted everywhere every day, but no better cause ever enlisted the services of any one than is advertised in our columns asking for volunteers to aid in the sale of the book, that took over four years to prepare, and which was all ready for the publisher when that stern Commander, grim Death, called General John Bell Hood from the field of his usefulness amid his happy family circle. He left ten little babes, twins only lately, and Gen. Beauregard has assumed the duty of giving to the world, without any additional note or comment, the work called "Advance and Retreat, Personal Experiences in the United States and Confederate States Armies." The book is beautifully gotten up and sold at a low price, $3 00. The entire proceeds are devoted to "The Hood Orphan Memorial Fund" invested in the Registered Loan of the United States, for the support, nurture, care and education of these helpless innocents, whose deplorable condition appeals to the sympathies of all.

English Condition Powders.

Sold by J. C. Henry, R. J Trippe, and Stevens & Hayward. Read testimonials in advertisement elsewhere. jan 6

—Herbert Gale, known among our livery men as "Trump," was held to bail yesterday by Squire Nicols, on the charge of horse stealing. The case grew out of a talked about trade last Tuesday, between Gale and Robert H. Plummer, of Matthewstown. Mr Plummer charging that while the were talking about trading, "Trump" got his (Plummer's) horse and hid it, refusing to give it up, and that the horse he offered in trade was not worth any thing. Plummer waited till night, but could find neither "Trump" nor his horse, and came to town Friday to look for his horse and could not find it, and thereupon had a writ issued against Gale. The case will go before the grand jury to be investigated.

The Maryland Grain Elevator.

The retrenchment boom is likely to block the scheme of Gen. Hardcastle to have the State spend $250,000 to build a State grain elevator.—ANNAPOLIS LETTER, Balt. Telegram, Feb. 19.

Fire Department Parade.

The Easton Fire Department had a parade in town yesterday, under the command of Capt Roberts, followed by a banquet last night at the Frame hotel. The fine turn out of the Department made quite a show in the streets. The Easton Mozart band furnished the music.

Gentlemen, Attention.

Our first invoice of foreign and domestic suiting just received, and opened for exhibition on second floor of our establishment. Gentlemen must call at once to secure best selection, as our choice styles cannot be duplicated. See our new linen collars. J. J. JUMP & Co.

Furniture.

Benjamin Waskey, 208 West Pratt street, Baltimore, agent for manufacturers of furniture, mattresses, bedding, and house furnishing goods, invite a call from the citizens of the Eastern Shore when they come to the city. He is selling setts of walnut and cottage furniture made in the very best manner, as cheap as the cheapest. nov1-6m

Slate Mantles.

For the handsomest and cheapest slate and marble mantles made in Baltimore, go to J. Coyle & Brother, 350 West Pratt street. They have a secret in the manufacture of slate mantles not known to other workers in slate, which enables them to sell a handsomer article for less money than any other house. Their designs cannot fail to please. nov4-1y

Fire in Chapel.

The dwelling of Mrs Sallie Scott, in Chapel was destroyed by fire on Saturday morning, between midnight and day. It was insured in Mr R B Dixon's agency for $1,400. Mr. Polk Willis, Mrs. Scott's son-in-law, who was living on the farm, lost a portion of his furniture, nearly all his wearing apparel, and a large lot of potatoes, canned fruit, etc., which were stored in the cellar.

A Grand Beef.

Ex-Sheriff Griffin exhibited on the streets of Easton on Tuesday his big prize beef. A finer ox was never exhibited in town. He weighed 2020 pounds, was raised and fatted by Mr. A. A. Pascault, and was a cross between an Alderney and Durham, but resembling in appearance the former breed of cattle. Mr. Griffin slaughtered him on Wednesday, and had the beef on his block in the Easton market on Saturday morning. He will accept our thanks for a fine roast.

Watches and Jewelry.

Mr. Martin Lucker, at Minnick's, a watch maker of large experience on fine watches, guarantees to give entire satisfaction to all who may entrust him with their work. All kinds of fine jewelry repaired in the very best manner. He has for sale a variety of gold and silver watches, fine and plain jewelry, clocks, and plated and solid silver ware. Call and see him. He will be pleased to show his goods, and guarantees satisfactory prices.

Death of Mr. Henry Cook Tilghman.

The community was greatly shocked on Thursday, to learn that Mr. Henry C. Tilghman, of Miles River Neck, a most estimable gentleman, and in robust health, had dropped down dead that morning. He left his table, lighted his pipe, walked out on his porch, and in less than three minutes was found by his family dead in his yard. Truly is it said, "in the midst of life we are in death." Mr. Tilghman was buried on Saturday at the family burying ground in Queen Anne's county.

Death of John H. Weeden, Esq.

Mr. John H. Weeden died at his residence in Dorchester county, two miles from Cambridge, on last Thursday week, after an illness from pneumonia of only a few days duration. He was buried in the P. E. cemetery at Cambridge, Rev. T. P. Barber, D. D., officiating. He died at the age of 65.

Mr. Weeden was the eldest son of the late Rev Daniel Weeden, of Talbot, and spent much of his life in this county. He was a highly esteemed citizen, wherever he resided, and a useful member of the community. At the time of his death he was superintendant of the Episcopal Sunday School at the chapel in the Neck, of Dorset.

Col. Legg's Condition.

It was announced a few weeks ago that Col. Wm. Henry Legg, one of our delegates to the Legislature, was was suffering from an attack of typhoid-pneumonia. Dr. Wm. Denny, his attending physician, has kindly written us the following in regard to the Colonel's disease, which will, we trust, set at rest any further apprehension in regard to Col. Legg's health:

Mr. Legg's trouble was, in its incipiency, congestion of one lung, complicated with typhoid fever. Under treatment his pulmonary trouble soon subsided, leaving him still feverish, which condition has lasted until within a few days part. Mr Legg has been quite sick, indeed, and has become considerably reduced in flesh. He is now convalescing, and will, I think, be able to return to Annapolis in 10 or 14 days' time. Had Mr. L's chest trouble been uncomplicated with typhoid fever, he would have been able to have attended to business two weeks ago.—Centreville Observer.

For THE STAR.

All Quiet in Bambury.

To "OBSERVER."

Who are you, "Observer," and from whence do you hail?
With your words that are anything but caressing;
Do you hie from the mountains, or from some low dale?
Answer soon, my suspense is distressing.

A good "Observer you may be, but it don't seem to me,
Judging from the standpoint, from which I've seen;
For while all were full of glee, from the centre to the sea,
You have charged us "on the war path" to have been.

There was sometime ago, as our citizens all know,
O'er school matters, quite a lively little jar,
But t'was settled long before, you formed your military corps,
Or your hostile piece came tumbling in the STAR.

So "Observer," now come forth and admit you were mistaken,
That you misrepresented us, and our fair land;
If you don't, it may require, to protect your own bacon,
All your "Generals" and your "military band."

The Oldest Church in Maryland Levelled to the Ground.

The vestry of Christ Church (Episcopal) on Kent Island having concluded to build a new church for the use of their congregation in the village of Stevensville, and having concluded also to use the material in the old church, the work of tearing down the edifice has commenced. This church was built about 1650, being the first church ever built in this state. It was 36x21 feet, built of brick upon a granite foundation, and was located on the Dr. Earickson farm now owned by J. B. Bright, Esq., about a mile and a half from Stevensville. There is about an acre of ground belonging to the church, and at the time it was on the public road, but the road being changed and straightened threw the church about 150 yards from the road. It was in the midst of a beautiful grove of old stately oaks and faced Broad Creek, an inlet from the Chesapeake Bay. Being the first church ever built in the State, more than common interest attaches to its history. In the year 1672 the Rev. Richard James, a clergyman of the Church of England, landed with Claiborne upon the shores of Kent Island, and established at that point the first religious community in the State. It was not, however, until about the year 1650 that the church was built, and history fails to inform us what was used for a church prior to that period. About that year the present church was built, the bricks being imported from England, and the building being erected by English mechanics. It was used by the people of the island continuously from that period until a few years ago, when it was abandoned, and since that time the congregation have worshipped in a chapel attached to the rectory in Stevensville. It seems to be a misfortune that the old edifice should not have been preserved for the sake of its antiquity, if for no other reason; but the members of the vestry have concluded otherwise, and the old building must give way to the march of improvement.—Centreville Observer.

Dr. Chancellor on our Orphan's Home.

In the Third Biennial Report of the State Board of Health to the Governor and General Assembly of Maryland, January, 1880, Dr. C. W. Chancellor, who visited The Home for Friendless Children, Easton, last Summer, thus speaks of this excellent charity, and we fully and most heartily endorse his conclusion, that "the institution well deserves the fostering care of the State:"

HOME FOR FRIENDLESS CHILDREN.—EASTON.

This excellent charity and model institution is under the care of an association of ladies. It was instituted in 1870, and has received at various times appropriations from the State, amounting in the aggregate to $11,000, of which $5,000 were expended in the construction of the house.

The purpose for which the institution was founded, is to receive indigent female children between the ages of three and eight years; to shelter them from evil associations; to surround them with proper influences; to inculcate good principles and habits of neatness and industry; to instruct them in domestic duties so as to qualify them for usefulness, and when old enough obtain for them good homes in town or country. The building is owned by the association, and will accommodate twenty-five inmates; at the time of my visit it had twenty-two inmates, of which five were received from the almshouse. The children are exceedingly neat in appearance, and bright and cheerful in disposition; they seem to regard the matron as a kind mother; and the lady managers of the institution are untiring in their efforts to surround these little orphans with physical comforts and moral influences, which shall make their lives a "well spring of joy" in the future. The only resources available for the support of this truly benevolent and useful "Home," is the annual donations received from friends, and the interest ($360) on $6,000 reserved from the appropriation made by the State, and which has been invested at 6 per centum per annum. The institution well deserves the fostering care of the State. It is not only a blessing to the orphans which it shelters, but an honor to the community in which it is located.
