dec 18tf HIMROD.

—Read N. Barnard's advertisement in to-day's issue, of very low prices for nursery stock. He is clearing his ground for fresh planting, and must and will sell.

—Dr. C. W. Chancellor, Secretary of the State Board of Health, will please accept our thanks for a copy of the Third Biennial Report of the Health to the Governor and General Assembly.

—We hope that Easton and vicinity will turn out en masse on Tuesday evening next, March 9th, the occasion being the lecture of Col Nicholas Smith at Music Hall. Secure your seats at once.

—Havana, Keywest, and domestic cigars.—Agents for Village Belle, Helen's Babies and Electric Light cigars. Stevens & Hayward, druggists and apothecaries. The skilfull compounding of prescriptions a specialty. 2 4w —Attention is invited to the advertisement of Mr. Joseph Miller, who has for sale, at the corner of the Point road, in Easton, a well selected and general stock of groceries, which he advertises to sell as cheap as the cheapest.

—Base Music. To be aroused from sweet and delicious slumber by a "cat serenade," is on a par with being annoyed in church by the steady hacking and coughing of individuals, who neglect to take Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price 25 cents.

—Sellers' Liver Pills stand unrivaled in the United States for curing billiousness, sick headache, etc.

—Thus exclaimed an old gentleman recovering from a severe attack of the bronchial tubes, "Sellers' Cough Syrup cured me." Price 25c.

—If Providence does not interpose, and send us an earthquake, to sink the cedar brush the road supervisor is piling up on the Bayside road, the prospect is, that the buts of that brush will be a terrible affliction to all riders on that road next summer.

—Messrs L. Jeff Milbourne & Co., have become the proprietors of the Baltimore Evening Bulletin. Mr. Milbourn was formerly in the Baltimore Sun office, and ought to know how to run a newspaper. The Bulletin is a spicy paper, and edited with marked ability.

—In the communication of "M. H." last week, respecting the Irish, where he referred to the great "docks" of Liverpool, our printer made him use the singular instead of the plural number. Of course the intelligent reader understood that there are more than one great dock in Liverpool.

—Col. Nicholas Smith, "the handsomest man in America," will lecture at Music Hall, next Tuesday evening, on "The True Aspirations of American Youth." Col Smith is a son-in-law of the late Horace Greeley, and said to be one of the finest lecturers before the American public. All should attend.

—Col Nicholas Smith, the only entertainment in Mr. Dodson's Course, that comes during Lent, should be well patronized by our citizens. He is handsome, talented, and his oratorical powers are surpassed by none in the country. He is spoken of in the highest terms, and his lectures are always said to delight his hearers.

—Mr. Benjamin B. Richardson, who left this county some ten years ago, as agent of a life insurance company, for Galveston, Texas, died in that city on the 11th of February, in the 50th year of his age. Mr. Richardson stood high as a Mason, and was buried with the honors of the Order. His many friends in this county will regret to hear of his death.

—Col. Nicholas Smith, son-in-law of the late Horace Greeley, will deliver his great lecture on "The True Aspirations of American Youth," at Music Hall, next Tuesday evening, March 9th, under the patronage of Mr. Dodson's Star Course. Col. Smith besides being an orator is said to be the handsomest man in America. Don't fail to hear him. Seats for sale at Dawsons'.

—We invite our lady patrons to examine our first selection of laces—including the new Tuscan, Brabant and Russian. Our Torchons, Valenclenne and French laces are very choice. New neck crepe lisses, and neck ruffles in snow flake and Breton laces are beautiful. Our new line of corsets surpasses all our past purchases.
feb 21-3t J. J. JUMP & Co.

—The attention of parties who have unemployed time on their hands is directed to the announcement of General G. T. Beauregard, of New Orleans, La., in our advertising columns, relative to the agency in this vicinity, for the sale of the great work on the war, by the late General J. B. Hood, entitled "Advance and Retreat, personal Experiences in the United States and the Confederate States Armies."

—Col. William Henry Legg, one of the delegates in the House, from Queen Anne's county, who has been detained at home several weeks by illness, resumed his seat in the House last Thursday. Col. Legg is chairman of the House committee on "The Chesapeake Bay and Tributaries." He called his committee together immediately on his return to Annapolis, and the oystermen can now be heard by it any time they may desire.

—General Howard B. Ensign has been re-elected President of Maryland Steamboat Company; Mr. James E. Byrd has been re-elected Secretary and Treasurer, and Messrs Enoch Pratt, J W D Pentz, Gilmor Meredith and Frederick Ives have been elected Directors for the ensuing year. Gen'l Ensign is one of the best steamboat men in Baltimore, and will continue to take care of the interests of his company and its patrons on the Eastern Shore.

—We understand the Messrs Tunis and others, at Tunis' mill, are about to establish an extensive paper mill at that flourishing village, the necessary amount of stock having been subscribed, to assure the starting of the enterprise. Straw is now extensively used in the manufacture of paper, and there are millions of pounds of it laying around rotting and useless in this county, which might be utilized in this way. We wish the company success.

—So much has been said in the papers about Col. Nicholas Smith being the handsomest man in America, that the ladies everywhere are anxious to see him. While millons of them all over the country will never have the opportunity, the same cannot be said of our Talbot ladies; for next Tuesday evening, at the Hall, in Easton, he will deliver his popular lecture on "The True Aspirations of American Youth," when they will not only have the pleasure of seeing him, but of hearing him lecture. None should fail to go.

—We have never seen such an immense stock of all kinds of plows as was received by Shannahan & Wrightson during February. The South Bend Chilled Plow should be tried by every farmer in the county; in it they defy competition. These young men are wide awake and buy their goods early, which enables them to give their customers every advantage. Their new spring advertisement appears in the STAR this morning, and to it we direct particular attention.

—We hope none of our subscribers will neglect to read the articles in the STAR, commenced last week, and concluded to-day, by Dr. Samuel A. Harrison, giving an account of the Charity Working School established in Oxford Neck, Talbot county, about 130 years ago, by Rev. Thomas Bacon, of White Marsh Parish. It is one of the most interesting and important papers which Dr. Harrison has thus far given to the public since he commenced writing up our local annals.

—The firemen's supper at the Frame hotel last night week was largely attended, and was a most pleasant reunion of the boys. A number of the professional gentlemen of the town were present, some of whom made eloquent speeches. From what the STAR reporter observed at the supper, it is his unbiased judgment that, could oysters speak, they would declare their decided preference to be at the bottom of the sea, to falling into the hands of the Easton fire brigade on a 22d of February celebration.

—Professor S. F. Baird, United States Commissioner of Fisheries at Washington, has appointed Mr. Jesse H. T. Hubbard, of Easton, to report the probable thousands of fish and crabs, the number of bushels of oysters and dozens of terraphins taken in the waters of Talbot county and the Great Choptank river for 1880. Mr. Hubbard is an experienced fishermen, a shrewd observer of the habits of fish, and a close calculator respecting the products of our waters. He has accepted the position, and his report may be relied upon as being as correct as it is possible to make it. Any reliable information touching the matter he has in charge will be thankfully received by him.

—The Baltimore Telegram is down on the State grain elevator project, which, if the bill should pass, would be an expensive thing to the farmers and the State treasury; but it might be a big thing to the one man who is expected to play Elevator Boss. The Telegram says it is proposed to build the elevator at a cost of $200,000, or take two of the State tobacco warehouses for it, and fit them up at about the same cost. Then what a shower of offices would follow: 3 commissioners, at $500 a year each; a superintendent, at $2,000; an inspector at $1,550; an engineer at $1,200; 3 clerks at $1,000 each, and smaller places innumerable. How does this gigantic scheme of splendid offices comport with Gov. Hamilton's theory as applied to tobacco inspections and the cattle scales? The bare suggestion of the elevator must make the Governor blaze. It is the biggest job that has been put up at Annapolis for many a day. Could he possibly sign such a bill were it passed and sent to him? Not certainly without jumping down from his high reform platform.

—There was a pretty fair attendance at the Hall on Tuesday evening to see the Pinkneys in "The Virginia Mummy" and "Sights and Sensations on the Eastern Shore," for the benefit of the Irish Relief Fund. All the participants equitted themselves very handsomely, and received rounds of applause. The net receipts of the house, after paying rent of the hall and other expenses, were $28.41, which was placed in the hands of Jos. Graham, Esq., treasurer of the fund being raised in Easton. Easton young ladies appeared on the stage and played the female characters. They did exceedingly well, considering it was a first trial, and was certainly a great improvement on dressing boys up in girls' clothes, to murder their characters. And we can see no impropriety in girls appearing on the stage as well as boys, if they possess the requisite qualifications. There is considerable talent in the Pinkney Society which should be cultivated. The Easton Mozart Band attended on Tuesday evening and played between the acts and pieces.

Slate Mantles.

For the handsomest and cheapest slate and marble mantles made in Baltimore, go to J. Coyle & Brother, 350 West Pratt street. They have a secret in the manufacture of slate mantles not known to other workers in slate, which enables them to sell a handsomer article for less money than any other house. Their designs cannot fail to please. nov4-1y

Valuable Farm for Sale.

We invite attention to the sale of the home farm of the late William B. Willis, in Oxford Neck, advertised in to-day's STAR by James H. Willis, Esq., trustee, to take place in Easton on 30th inst. It is well known that this is one of the very best farms of its size in Talbot county, and situated in a most desirable neighborhood. The sale will afford a rare chance to any one desiring a delightful place of residence.

Interesting Services.

On Sunday evening next the Sabbath School of the M. E. Church will offer an unusually entertaining programme. Mr. L. Dodson, Jr., the efficient superintendent, has arranged a Missionary service, comprising solo, duett, quartette and chorus singing, together with recitations and readings by well known elocutionists. With such a programme, under such management, we bespeak a success unattending any previous anniversary. All are cordially invited.

Accident in the Street.

On Saturday evening about dusk, Dr. Anderson's little son Howard, while playing in the street opposite the store of Mr. Moses Herz, was accidentally driven over by Mr. Robert H. Jump, who passed by in a carriage at the time. How ard had hold of one end of a stick, and the boy at the other end tried to pull him away from the approaching horse, but not seeing the danger, he resisted until knocked down, the wheel passing over his body and stunning him. He was taken into Mr. Herz's store, and attended by his father and Dr. Trippe. He was up and about next day.

Correspondence of the STAR.

CORDOVA, Feb. 28th, 1880.

MR. EDITOR:—The "cottage lectures" at this place, conducted by Rev. W. Y. Bevan, are eliciting increased interest each evening that service is held, the hall being filled with attentive listeners. Indeed, last night, many were compel led to stand up, and some to leave for want of room to accommodate them. Mr. Bevan's first two lectures were on "The Soul" and "Sin," interesting all who heard him. Last night Rev. Mr. Stryker lectured to a crowded house on Conversion. We hope we may be favored with the presence of the Bishop before the Lenten season is over. M

Correspondence of the STAR.

DEAL'S ISLAND, MD, Feb. 23d, 1880.

MR. EDITOR:—When a student at college a few years ago, I remember to have looked forward with much interest to the weekly visits of your valuable paper, taken by a school mate from Talbot, and it was regarded by "the boys" as being one of the best papers on the Shore. Since leaving school I have often heard of you through clippings from other papers, and having some spare time this afternoon I thought I would employ it, by indulging in a little epistolary chat with you for the sake of past pleasure, for which I owe you many thanks.

Our Island is rapidly improving, and one who visited it in the days of old Parson Thomas would scarcely recognize it, could he come among us now, so great has been the change. The inhabitans are chiefly engaged in the oyster business, and are noted for their strong and robust appearance; so healthy, indeed, is the place that we are unable to support a physician. On this account Dr. J. Zack Taylor, who has been one of us for a long time, was compelled to leave. We learn that he has settled in your county, and, whilst we sincerely regret the loss of so valued and useful a citizen, we extend our hearty congratulations to Oxford for having secured the services of such a promising and successful practitioner, and one who, at the same time, is so well calculated to adorn a Christian community by his exalted life.

This place has long enjoyed an enviable reputation for the delightful camp meetings held in a beautiful pine and oak grove at the upper end of the Island. Near the camp ground there is a very handsome M. E. Church in course of erection. It is of Gothic design and when completed will doubtless be one of the finest country churches on the Peninsula. The Knights of Pythias have erected a large three story building here, the second floor of which is used by them as a Castle Hall, the Masons and Red Men rent the upper room, and the ground floor is used as a Town Hall. We can boast of three schools—one a High school. Our debating society is in a flourishing condition, and perhaps we are preparing an embryonic Demosthenes or Cicero for future usefulness. Who can tell?

I have been using John Lucas & Co.'s Celebrated Enameled Ready-Mixed Paint, very extensively for the last two years and have tested it very thoroughly, and after using from eight hundred to one thousand gallons in 1879 alone, I have no hesitation in pronouncing it the best paint in the market. The following qualities make it superior to any I have ever used:

1st. It has no water in it, and can therefore be used in the coldest as well as the warmest weather.

2d. Two coats of this paint will give as much satisfaction as most other paints with three coats.

3d. One of its most desirable qualities is its uniform thickness; it is not so thin in warm weather as to be fit only for priming, nor so thick in cold weather as to not spread easily and evenly.

I have the exclusive sale of it in this county.

I have obtained the signatures of the following persons upon whose houses I have used this paint during the years 1877-78-79 (all of these houses were new and most of them finished with only two coats) and they recommend it as entirely satisfactory in solidity, brightness and durability.
