THE EASTON STAR

TUESDAY, APRIL 26, 1881.

T. K. ROBSON, Editor.

MR. THOMAS PHILLPOT has been appointed Register of Wills for Baltimore county, to fill the vacancy in the office by the death of Mr. Koller.

MR. W. A. M. GRIER, of Pennsylvania, the man that voted solitary and alone so many times at Chicago for James A. Garfield, before the convention took him up, has been appointed by the President Third Assistant Post Master General. It is right for Mr. Garfield to remember and reward Grier.

Death of Gen'l Lane.

Gen'l Joseph Lane died at Portland, Oregon, on Tuesday night. He was a number of years a Senator in Congress, and was the Democratic candidate for Vice President in 1860 on the Breckinridge and Lane ticket.

PRESIDENT GARFIELD has turned out Gen'l Tyler as Post Master of Baltimore and appointed in his place Col. Harrison Adreon. The custom house ring wanted Peter Thompson appointed, and the antiringsters wanted John B. Askew; but the President listened to neither, and on the recommendation of James A. Garey, appointed Col. Adreon.

THE President has appointed Richard A. Elmer, of New York, to be Second Assistant Post Master General, vice Thomas J. Brady, removed. Brady has been the "Boss" of the Star route service, and his extraordinary extravagant, and corrupt, operations have caused no little scandal in the Post office department. He was the kind of a rascal that old Hayes liked to tie to.

THE administration has given Senator Mahone the run of the post office appointments in Virginia, and for the past ten days he has been busy cutting off the heads of the Republican post masters in the Old Dominion and filling their places with repudiators. Mahone has taken advantage of the deadlock in the Senate to prosecute his guerrilla operations at home, and the Republicans can't help themselves. They are completely at his mercy.

Death of Lord Beaconsfield.

Lord Beaconsfield, late prime minister of England and leader of the Conservative party, and for the past forty-five years better known in English politics and literature as Benjamin Disraeli, died last week, and a brief sketch of his brilliant career will be found on the first page of this morning's STAR. He was of Jewish parentage, the ablest man in England, and raised himself to his proud elevation by his talents alone.

Banquet to Ex-Senator Whyte.

The merchants of Baltimore gave Ex-Senator William Pinkney Whyte a complimentary banquet on Thursday night, at which Gov. Wyte made an eloquent speech, in which he discussed many topics of interest to Baltimore as a great commercial emporium. Gov. Whyte made the city of Baltimore the most useful Senator the State has had in Congress for many years, and his retirement is a matter of great regret to the Baltimore merchants.

THE Democratic press of the State does not appear to sympathize with the movement of Gov. Hamilton and his particular friends to stir up strife in the Democratic party. The Hagerstown Mail continues to bellow against the party, but unfortunately Washington county is republican, and that county cannot render any effective aid in carrying forward legislative reforms in and by the party. The democratic counties must not allow themselves to be tricked in divisions among themselves by the inflamatory declarations and reckless statements of the Mail. A democratic paper in a republican county should not be permitted to lead the party on to hopeless destruction.

SENATOR FRYE, of Maine, has undertaken to play the role of James G. Blaine in the Senate. One day last week he made a violent stalwart speech, and his intimate relations with Mr. Blaine gave reason to believe that he spoke the sentiments of the administration. The speech was so violent that it offended several Southern Democratic Senators, which of course delighted Mr. Conkling, who has had the cunning to keep quiet during the partisan discussion now going on in the Senate. Conkling wants the votes of Southern Democratic Senators to defeat Garfield's nominations that don't suit him, and Garfield wants their votes to confirm them. As soon as the effect of Frye's speech was apparent, Garfield informed him that he had overstepped the bounds of discretion, and the offended Democratic Senators were semi-officially notified that the administration did not approve, and were not responsible for Mr. Frye's violence and falsehoods. The Democrats, however, still believe the speech was made with the concurrence of Mr. Blaine, On Thursday Senator Coke, of Texas, replied to Mr. Frye, declaring the speech remarkable for the recklessness of its statements and the the falsity of its charges. In concluding his speech Mr. Coke said the people of the South were of the same race as the people of the North, a race which had never been dominated by an inferior race, and never would be. That race meant to govern in the South, and forty or forty thousand entering wedges such as was supposed to have been inserted in Virginia would not deviate it from its course or change the results.

[Sheboygan Falls, Sheboygan Co. News.]

We never saw any one joyous when suffering from pain;—neuralgia for instance. In relation to this malady Mr. George Guyett, Prop. Guyett House, thus informed our representative: I have used St. Jacobs Oil for neuralgia, and can confidently recommend it to any similarly affected.

Blood-Atonement Fanaticism in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 22.—Rev. Robert Matlock, who was discovered hanged in Izard county, Ark., a few days since was lynched, as was supposed. Matlock was a preacher of the new light fanaticism prevalent in this region. Last year the enthusiasts among his followers who believed in blood atonement, under the lead at Matlock, killed six or seven men. Matlock murdered Thomas Miller at a barbecue last August with a knife. He was captured, tried, and acquitted as insane. A short time ago a murdered man was found on the top of the mountains, between Telica and Batesville, and the circumstances pointed strongly to Matlock as the murderer. The community was greatly excited, and Matlock is also supposed to be a victim of blood atonement.

[New York Union.] Did Him Good.

Mr. Charles H. Baner, editor of the above paper and Notary Public, in a late issue mentions the following: Patrick Kenney, Esq., some time ago, suffered much from rheumatism and tried almost every means to rid himself of this painful evil, but in vain. He was advised to use St. Jacob's Oil, which he did so successfully, that all pain has left him and he is as healthy and strong as ever before. Mr. Kenney is an enthusiastic advocate of St. Jacobs Oil, and it has done him good.

WE have received a pamphlet containing a criticism of the focal option letter of Senator Bayard, written by Rev. Thos. L. Poulson and Mr. Edwin Higgins, of Baltimore. These critics seem to misapprehend the meaning of Senator Bayard's letter, which was only aimed at the unconstitutionality of the power of the Delaware legislature to delegate to the people of Delaware the power to make a law, the Constitution of that State not conferring on the legislature any such power. We think Rev. Mr. Poulson gives utterance to some very singular and dangerous notions. He says:

"Why may not anything be constitutional that makes the people wiser, better, and happier? The cry of unconstitutionality has been raised every time since the beginning of things, whenever hoary theories and cherished vices have been assailed by a purer civilization. Shall we venerate a constitution that obstructs the welfare of the people, for whose advantage it was made? Are not the subjects of more value than the constitution? Is it wise, or true, to tell a suffering community that the constitution under which they live will not allow them to better their condition by a simple method at once practical and efficient?"

From these quotations it is apparent that Rev. Mr. Poulson does not allow the Constitution, the fundamental law of the land, or any other Law, to stand in the way of his fanaticism. This is exactly the spirit manifested by the old abolition party of thirty years ago, and they deluged the country in blood to gain what they considered the "purer civilization." Mr. Poulson is wrong. All parties in the State, and all interests in the State, must abide by and submit to and be governed by the Constitution. If it is wrong and obstructs a "purer civilization;" if it prevents the people from growing "wiser, better, happier," the people who made it can change it; but while it stands it must be respected; and such fanatics as Mr. Poulson must not be permitted to stamp it in the dust. And then who is to be the judge of the "purer civilization"? Rev. Mr. Poulson? The majority of the people might differ with him, and might not be willing to throw their constitution to the winds, or accept his "purer civilization" which pronounces no respect for constitutions, State or Federal. What then in that contingency does he propose to do? Trample the people and the constitution both under foot, as the abolitionists did to spread their "purer civilization"? We advise Rev. Mr. Poulson to call a halt, and revise his opinions respecting constitutions. His present notions are not only dangerous but are monstrous; and we re surprised that the State Temperance Alliance should father and circulate such sentiments.

ANOTHER BOMBSHELL.

Heavy Bombardment of the Mahone-Gorham Camp by a Republican Congressman from Virginia.

LETTER FROM CONGRESSMAN JORGENSEN —THE MAHONE-REPUBLICAN COALITION DENOUNCED—SHARP ARRAIGNMENT OF MR. GEO. C. GORHAM.

The Washington Post publishes the following letter from Hon. Joseph Jorgensen; republican Congressman from the fourth district of Virginia, addressed to Mr. George C. Gorham, editor of the National Republican, publication having been refused the letter in the latter paper:

Washington, April 18, 1881.—George C. Gorham, Esq., Editor of the National Republican: In the two issues of your newspaper (April 16 and 18) you make some strictures upon my visit to the President on Friday morning, with a delegation of Virginia republicans.

In the first place, you have made a number of misstatements as to what actually took place. The facts were as follows: A delegation of Virginia republicans from Petersburg called to see me on Thursday, requesting me to secure for them an interview with the President—a duty which I would most cheerfully perform for any gentleman or number of gentlemen who are respectable, whether their views accorded with mine or not. Members of this delegation, however, entertained many opinions in common with my own as to the proper course for the republicans to pursue in the coming fall campaign in Virginia. Their immediate errand, however, was not questioned by me at that time. On the following morning, while at the Executive Mansion, I requested them to state to me (if they thought proper to do so) the substance of what they desired to say to the President, informing them at the time that I had been advised that they wished to ask for a change of officers in Petersburg, and that if this was correct I did not agree with them. In reply they stated that they did not intend speaking to the President on this subject, but desired to know his views as to the condition of political parties in Virginia, as contradictory reports were afloat as to the expressions of his opinion on this subject. After their introduction on this subject. After their introduction to the President one of the gentleman said that there were two officers in Petersburg occupying prominent positions who at the late presidential election voted for Hancock and English and requested their removal, at the same time naming two gentlemen to fill their positions. I here interrupted and remarked that I was not informed that this was their intention in seeking the interview, and that I did not unite with them in this request, and that they alone were responsible for what they said. Now this is a correct statement of what occurred. I don't know that it is of much importance, and would not have taken the trouble to allude to it in any way were it not for the fact that you made it the basis of a most malicious and slanderous attack upon myself. Coming from a republican journal it was more keenly felt than if it had emanated from a newspaper of democratic proclivities. The motives charged to me for my course could come only from a person entertaining bitter and hostile feeling toward myself, and bearing such evidence upon their face that the articles have therefore that full effect that was intended, and have impressed no one who was not materially interested with you.

As far as my opinions are concerned in regard to the present political situation in Virginia, they can be expressed in a very few words, to wit: The republicans should maintain their party organization, and not affiliate with any organization of any faction or party outside of them. The State central committee should call a republican convention, whose province it should be, through the regularly authorized representatives of the republicans throughout the State, to do whatever would be most conducive to the interests of the republican party, its success in the future and the maintenance of its principles, whether that should be an alliance with the readjusters or not. The latest information that I have of Senator Mahone's views is that the republicans should amalgamate or fuse themselves with his readjusters. This I look upon as suicide to the future of our party in the State of Virginia, and a monstrous proposition: When we remember that at the last election the republicans cast 85,000 and the readjusters 30,000 votes, that we should abandon our organization and support their candidate, elect their representatives to office, principally by and through our votes, I do not think that any sane person who is a republican, and who is honest in his convictions, would ask of us any such arrangement—such sacrifices—and if success should result to the readjuster party from such a fusion, to be told afterwards, with the utmost complacency, that we had done no more than our duty, and should go about our business and be satisfied with the result! I do not favor any such amalgamation, and as long as I can make my protests of any avail against such a proceeding I shall continue to do so, acting as honestly as I can and for the best interests, principles and welfare of the republican party of Virginia.

And now, sir, I should like to know who are you, that you should act as a censor of my conduct, and that you should construe my motives, and that you should taunt me with failing to perform my duty to the republican party of Virginia or of the nation? It seems to me that your assurance is almost boundless, taking into consideration the fact that I have never been anything during my lifetime but a republican of the straightest sect, sustaining its principles under all circumstances, and almost going through hell in maintaining them, and through dangers and persecutions in upholding them that you never dreamed of. That you should be the one to attack me thus posses my understanding, for were you not the very same man who, only two short years ago, marshaled and led the Bourbon democratic cohorts in California, and almost succeeded in your efforts to destroy the republican party there? Are you not the very man whom nearly every republican in California is denouncing in the bitterest terms and thanking Almighty God that you are not there to do further harm to the party you nearly destroyed? And in imputing the motives to me that you do, that I am actuated only by my desire to control patronage, do you, who charge this to me, not know that the whole country, irrespective of party, sees in this interest displayed by you in the readjusters' success in Virginia, that it is purely for the purpose of securing office through the influence that Senator Mahone now possesses?

No, sir! I advise you "to extract the beam from your own eye ere you endeavor to take the mote out of mine." Be more charitable in imputing motives to a fellow republican, and permit him an expression of honest opinion and convictions, remembering all the time that he is kicking inside of his party traces and not outside of them. I call upon you, in justice to myself, to publish the above letter, for I am unfortunate in not having a newspaper of my own in which to express my opinion, and as you have been employed by the republican stockholders of the National Republican newspaper to publish such matter as would advance the the cause of republicanism, I trust that, having an identity of principles and interests with them, I will be permitted to have the same opportunity with your self in setting myself right before the public. Very respectfully yours, &c.,

JOSEPH JORGENSEN.

General Grant and the Mexican Railway Schemes.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 13, via NEW ORLEANS, April 22.—Great interest is manifested here in railroad matters. Gen Grant and Senor Romero were looked on with distrust upon their arrival, but they now appear to be gaining ground. By consenting to have the Gulf terminus of the Mexican Southern Railroad changed from Anton Ligardo to Vera Cruz they have secured powerful aid from friends in this city. It is now thought that Gen. Grant may secure the modifications to the railroad concession he desires. The advocates of the Topolovampo Railroad seem to belosing ground, even with the great influence of Gov. Pacheco, of California, who is here in behalf of that company. Many comments are made on the sudden departure of Gen. Diez for Matamoras just at this time. The city is crowded with Americans.

A Word to my Friends and Patrons in Easton and Vicinity.

I assure you I am grateful for your kindness in the past year. I have tried to deal upon the principle of right, because it is right to do right, and with this sacred principle to characterize my dealings in the future, I can but ask a share of your liberal patronage. But in view of the fact that it is not all of life to live nor all of death to die, therefore, in the future, my place of business will be closed on the Sabbath of the Lord thy God—the Sabbath commencing at the setting of the Sun on Friday and ending with the setting of the Sun on Saturday. I must fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man; and also to deal honest and be honest, prompt and energetic. In the future I remain your humble servant,

W. CULVEYHOUSE.

CALL AND EXAMINE.

To Farmers and Breeders of Talbot Co.

Being desirous to secure to the county the services of a horse of superior stock, I have induced a gentleman of Philadelphia to give me control for the season of the splendid stallion

HANNIBAL MEMBRINO.

He is a fine large horse, full sixteen hands, of great power and speed, and tested in public when 4 years old in 2:32, but has not been since trained.

He was foaled in 1873 on the stock farm of Mr. Richard Peniston, near Lexington, Kentucky, and is by the celebrated horse "Woodford Membrino" with a record of 22½; was was the best son of "Membrino Chief," sire of "Lady Thorne" with a record of 2:18¾. Woodford Membrino has six colts with records of 2:30 and better, and also sired "Mallice" and "Manetta" each with a trial of 2:20¾.

HANNIBAL MEMBRINO is out of Lady McKinney, the dam of "Nil Desperandum", who has a record of 2:21¾, and is entered in the great free for all stallion race—purse, $10,000—to be trotted at Beacon Park, Boston, Mass. Hannibal is half brother to "Princeps", sire of "Prince" whose record is 2:19¾, as a four year old.—Also half brother to "Membrino Russell" (owned by Mr. Dana of the New York Sun), and stands at $100 the season though but three years old.

In order that the horse may be well introduced, and that all who desire may have an opportunity to raise a $1,000 colt, I have determined to put his rates for this season at very low figures, and will stand him at Easton, St. Michaels and Island Creek Neck.

TERMS.

For season, in advance, $15, or $20 at end of season. To insure, $30. Groom fee, 50 cents.—Owners parting with mares held responsible for insurance.

WIARDS PATENT

NEW 1880 SERIES

Malleable Iron and Wood Beam Chilled

PLOWS

are offered to the Farmers of the country for the coming season with many valuable improvements.

THE WIARD is the strongest and most durable Plow in the market.

THE WIARD is the best for general purpose work, it both sod and stubble.

THE WIARD has the simplest and most complete adjustment for using two or three horses abreast.

THE WIARD is the best Plow extant for hard clay and stony ground.

THE WIARD rivals all other chilled Plows for cleaning in loose and adhesive soil.

THE WIARD cannot be excelled for Lightness of Draft.

Our Malleable Iron Beam is the only practical adjustable metal beam made; is guaranteed against bending or breaking; is perfectly adjustable for 2 or 3 horses; over 20,000 in use, and not one a thousand failed.

Our Jointers Wheels and Handles are all adjustable.

Our Moldboards excell all others for fineness and uniformity.

Our Plows are warranted to any reasonable extent.

If you are going to buy a new Plow, be sure to give the WIARD a trial.
