THE EASTON STAR

TUESDAY, JUNE 7, 1881.

LOCAL RECORD.

NOTICE.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONSERVATIVE VOTERS of Talbot county are hereby notified to meet in the Court House, Easton, at 2 o'clock P. M., on Tuesday, the 21st inst.,

for the purpose of ELECTING FOUR DELEGATES to represent Talbot county in the State Convention, called by the Democratic State Central Committee, to meet in the city of Baltimore on Thursday, 23d inst., to nominate a candidate for Comptroller of the Treasury.

EDWARD LLOYD,
E. L. F. HARRISON,
PHILIP F. THOMAS,
Committee for Talbot county.

Easton, June 1, 1881.

Baltimore Grain Market.

BALTIMORE, June 4.—Amount of grain in elevators: Wheat 927,517 bus.; corn 298,863 bus. Southern wheat is in good demand at from $1.25a$1.30, according to variety and quality. Corn 60c. Oats 49c., for the best. Rye $1.07.

—Are you going to Annapolis next Friday?

—Corn is growing finely this showery weather.

—The old jail looks rather queer, with its comb cut off.

—A Residence on Railroad Avenue for sale. Apply to N. Tuthill. tf

—This section was blessed with an abundance of rain last week.

—If you want a good barrel of mackerel or flour, cheap, go to Collins & Wilson's.

—Mr. Joseph Stafford, an estimable farmer and citizen of Chapel district, died last week.

—Mr. Elms who lost his arm sometime ago is improving, and will soon be well, minus his arm.

—Collins & Wilson have just received a fine assortment of low cuts for men and slippers for ladies.

—Some wheat is already taking on the golden hue, which shows that harvest is approaching.

—Miss Alice Chesser is selling many things off at cost, among which great bargains may be received.

—Choice home made cigars retailed by Hoffman, corner Railroad avenue and Hanson street, Easton. m24-3m

—For bargains in gent's, ladie's, and misses' fine button gaiters, sandals, and slippers, go to Joseph Miller's. 3

—The History and Directory of Easton is now out and for sale by Dodson & Goldsborough. Price 40 cents.

—The M. E. Sunday School make their excursion to Washington on the 17th inst. See their advertisement in the STAR. It will be a grand trip.

—Something new in glass, china and queensware, call and examine stock and prices at Joseph Miller's, Dover street, Easton. He sells cheap. 3

—When the old jail chimneys and gables were thrown down Saturday afternoon, they jared the ground a hundred yards off. The vibration was like that of a small earthquake.

—Miss Alice S. Chesser's store is the place to get bargains in Hamburgs, Corsets, Ladies' and Children's hose, as she makes these a specialty and keeps a full line at bottom prices.

—Joseph H. Gray holds a convention of the colored Republicans to-day. His call indicates that the colored Rebublicans of Talbot intend to occupy back seats in the party no longer.

—Send your lawn mowers to Culveyhouse and have them sharpened. He knows how to do it, so that they will cut as smooth as a razor. It is not everyone that knows how to prowerly sharpen a lawn mower.

—The excursion to Annapolis next Friday is one of the events of a life time. Many decided to go when it was first announced, while recent developments and the many attractions have largely increased the number.

—Mr. James T. Robinson has moved into his new store, built on the site of his old one, and has added a large new stock to his old one, making his assortment of shoes and groceries very complete. Give him a call.

—Other provisions being scarce, the rats in Graham's alley have commenced devouring the colored children. They commenced on two of John Newnam's children, but were driven off before they did much damage. The wrist of one of them however was badly bitten.

—The trotting match advertised to take place at Hambleton Park Saturday afternoon, was postponed on account of the weather. It will take place this afternoon, if fair, if not the next fair afternoon. Some fine horses are entered in the races, and the sport will be fine.

—Mr. John Satterfield wishes it made known all the country round that if any gentleman in the county wants a new suit made, to wear on the excursion, or to camp meeting, his is the shop to have the work done promptly to order and on excursion time, and he guarantees a fashionable cut and nice fit.

—A promising young horse has been named Dr. Tanner in hopes that it will make him fast.[—Exchange. That might do for some horses; but we had rather take our chances on a package of M. B. Robert's Horse Powders, asthey guarantee a healthy and vigorous constitution, which is essential for any horse's speed and endurance.

—We regret to learn that Dr. Sam'l A. Harrison, of "Woodstock," met with a serious accident one day last week, by his horse becoming frightened at a bicycle on the Easton Point road, and wheeling around and turning his carriage over. His head was cut and he was also much bruised in his body. We hope he will be over it in a few days.

—A single dose of J. M. Laroque's Anti-Bilious Bitters, taken at night on retiring, will make you feel so much better the succeeding day that henceforth you will not be without it. Take our advice on the first approach of disease—Try it. The cost is trifling; 25 cents a paper or $1 a bottle. All druggists sell it. W. E. Thornton, proprietor, Baltimore, Md. 2t

—We understand that all the farmers' horses in this section that are given M. B. Robert's Horse Powders are able to plough from one-third to one-half more acres per day than those that are given any other, owing to their laxative, tonic, and purifying qualities. We advise all those that have not used them to do so. They are not adulterated with bran or cake meal and sold by the pound, but are put up in neat packages from pure drugs and sold for 25 cents by all druggists.

—The reasonable hours for the departure and arrival of the Methodist Protestants Annapolis excursion next Friday meets with the just approval of everyone. The daybreak hurry scurry will be avoided, a good night's rest remaining unbroken, and after the usual breakfast hour, a delightful three hours' trip on the salt water over the heaving bosom of one of the most beautiful rivers in Maryland, then a most enjoyable and interesting visit to "ye historic old city," that on this occasion will be alive with all the attractions of naval display; then a charming evening run across the foaming crest of the Chesapeake, reaching home just as the sun sinks below the western hills. What could be more delightf ..? Let's go.

She went to the play of "Olivette,"
And near an open window she set,
And by so doing she there met
The fate of all who rashly get
So imprudent.

She saw a notice in the weekly STAR,
"To cure a cold—Use Sines' Syrup of Tar."
So she went to her druggist, and then and there
Invested with a single quarter
In the article.

Now if you only have occasion to see,
How earnest and vehement she be
When telling how quickly and entirely
She was cured of the cold, caught on said settee
'Twill surprise you.

Cut This Out.

It is presumed that barely one-fourth of purchasers of clothing are fair judges of their purchases, and it is therefore important to know where you can buy with confidence, that you will get your money's worth. C. N. Oehm & Son, 230 W. Pratt st., through to 55 Hanover street, have been in the business in Baltimore for over a quarter of a century; they manufacture every garment sold by them.—Their experience enables them to give satisfaction in quality, prices, material and workmanship, and no one in want of clothing should fail to call upon them. It will pay you.

Farm Wanted.

Wanted to Rent—a small farm in this county, any tenant or land owner having such a farm and would sell present crops, apply at the STAR office. 3

Sale of Furniture.

Mrs. Julia A. Hall, who for the past eleven years has been keeping boarding house in Easton, owing to failing health, will discontinue her business, and dispose of her household and kitchen furniture at public sale on Saturday, the 18th inst. Terms made known on day of sale.

Special Notices.

Messrs. J. Fisher Kemp and Jere Marshall request us to state that they are still in the field canvassing for trees for the celebrated nurseries of D. H. Patty & Co., Geneva, New York, and they claim to have delivered the finest trees delivered in this county last fall.—Those wanting fruit or ornamental trees will find them ready and pleased to wait on them.

Postponed.

The pigeon shooting match, which was to have taken place on Friday, was postponed on account of the rain. The Club, however, had a ball shooting match in the afternoon, and fixed on Monday for the pigeon shooting, the weather being favorable; if not, Wednesday to be the day Col. Samuel Wetherill, of Oxford, President of the Club, came up the river in his yacht, and handsomely entertained the Club on shipboard after the shooting.

A False Charge.

William E. Tarr was before Justice Robinson on Thursday, on the charge of violating the local option law. The witnesses against him were William M. Sisson and George W. Tucker Mr. Gibson appeared for Tarr and State's Attorney Bateman for the State. It was proven that the charge was false, and that the prosecution was a conspiracy of Sisson and Tucker to put Tarr in jail or make him leave town. Justice Robinson discharged him.

Health.

We are requested to state that Dr. C. W. Chancellor, Secretary of the State Board of Health, will be in Easton next Thursday evening, to address our citizens at Music Hall, at 8 o'clock p. m., on "Malaria, and the means of preventing its mischievous effects. It is expected that Gov. Thomas, Bishop Lay, Mr. Gibson and others will also address the meeting. Dr. Chancellor will organize on that occasion a local Board of Health for Talbot county. The subject is an important one, and all of our citizens should attend.

A Narrow Escape.

Mr. M. P. Flowers came very near handing in his chips, and throwing up the jail contract, last Saturday afternoon. While at work on the third floor of the old jail, assisting in breaking off the west gable wall, a batch of bricks fell from the top of the chimney and hit him on the head and shoulders, stunning him badly. The carpenters who were at work with him, at first thought he was dead. He was taken into Mr. Tuthill's store, followed by a host of sympathizing friends. Dr. Trippe rendered medical relief. After a couple of hours he recovered sufficiently to be taken to his home on Railroad aveuue. Yesterday morning he was well enough to superintend the work on the jail; but he had a narrow escape.

Indecent Assault.

William M. Sisson, living near the depot, was arraigned before Justice Robinson on Thursday, on the charge of committing an indecent assault on the wife of William E. Tarr, on the 18th of May, while Mr. Tarr was in jail. The woman swore positively to the fact, but Sisson proved some kind of an alibi by his children, and as Mrs. Tarr did not make the complaint for two weeks afterwards, the Justice discharged Sisson, stating, however, that the grand jury might investigate the matter next November. Mr. Bateman appeared for the State, and Mr. Mullikin for the defense. An amusing incident occurred during the trial. A witness was summoned by the defense to support the alibi, and supposing it a local option case. he said he wanted it understood that he was "non est, nulla bona in all that kind of business."

Public Business.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

The county commissioners met on Tuesday, and appointed Nicholas Willis, Thomas J. Clark and A. A. Pascault. examiners, to lay down a public road and landing on the sales farm, near Hambleton. The examiners to lay down the Peck's Point road reported favorably. Bills to the amount of $604.25 were passed and paid.

ORPHAN'S COURT.

The Orphan's Court met on Tuesday, the 31st of May. Wm. A. Kirby and John T. Stevens appointed to appraise and value the real estate of George L. Jenkins, orphan son of Thomas F. Jenkins, deceased, presented their valuation. A number of accounts were passed by the Court, after which it adjourned to the 7th of June.

The Annapolis Excursion.

Next Friday, the 10th inst., is the day for the M. P. S. S. excursion. Besides the pleasure of the trip on the steamer, the unusual attractions at Annapolis on that day will no doubt cause many to go. President Garfield, Secretary Hunt, of the Navy, besides other Cabinet officers, as well as prominent Senators and other high dignitaries will grace the occasion with their presence. Training ships, U. S. men-of-war, and other naval vessels have been coming to Annopolis for more than a week past to participate in the Naval Academy exercises on that day. No less than seven steamboat excursions from various parts of the State will be there; those from Easton and Centreville will land at the Academy wharf. Ample time will be given to witness the exercises, go through the beautiful grounds, and pay a visit to the time honored and historic old State House, which has recently had thousands of dollars expended upon it in improvements. If you fail to go, you will surely regret it.

The Last of the Old Landmarks Gone.

The work of tearing down the old jail was commenced by Mr. Flowers, the contractor, last Wednesday. Every man, woman and child who now meets Sheriff Reddie, stops him and asks, where are the prisoners gone?—or where do you keep the prisoners? For the information of an inquiring minds, we repeat, for the relief of the sheriff, that the prisoners are now confined in the building on Washington street near the Point road, where Mr. Whittington Cox formerly lived, which the county commissioners have rented as a temporary jail. As the building is full of prisoners, the sheriff has his office in the court house; he boards with ex-Sheriff Griffin, in the Joseph Rasin house, in the rear of Miss Chesser's store, fronting Railroad avenue.

RECPAITULATION.

The jail is in the Whittington Cox house.
The Sheriff's office is in the court house.
The Sheriff boards with Mr. Griffin in the Rasin house.

If you have business with prisoners, go to the jail in charge of Walter Hubbard. If you want to see the sheriff, go to the court house where he can be found.

The Complimentary Hop at Music Hall.

Last Wednesday evening, the 1st inst., was an occasion long to be remembered by many of the young people of Easton, being a return of the compliment to the ladies of the town who had inaugurated the masquerade sociable given to the gentlemen last winter at Music Hall. The event had been long talked of, and no amount of pains was spared to make this return in some measure as enjoyable as the first. The floor of the large auditorium of Music Hall was put in excellent order; a music stand was erected on the south side of the room, and tastefully decorated with flowers and flags while above it in letters of gold upon a large shield suspended from the ceiling, were the words, "Welcome to our Hop." Evergreens and flowers were arranged in various parts of the room,—the whole forming a sight at once picturesque and pleasing in the extreme. Young's band of Baltimore furnished the music, which was all that could be desired. The dancing commenced about 10 o'clock, and soon

"Bright eyes were sparkling, hearts were light, Loved and lovers' faces grew merry and bright."

About 12 o'clock supper was announced, and the avidity with which this part of the programme was entered into, showed conclusively the appreciation of the labors of those who managed this department The supper was a substantial one, in which the oyster and terrapin served in most tempting styles, figured prominently, besides these were numerous side dishes, the last course being ice cream, strawberries and cake. It was a supper that did credit to the taste and ingenuity of the ladies who prepared it. After the "intermission" the "tripping" again commenced, and the youth and beauty of our town were once more "whirling about in their maddening fun."—The "wee sma' hours" had passed, and the goddess of morn was streaking the East with her rosy fingers, ere the musicians received notice to "hang up the fiddle and the bow." The event was one of unalloyed enjoyment, in which everyone present seemed equally to share. Visitors from Baltimore, Wilmington, Centreville and elsewhere were present and entered heartily with Eastonians into the spirit of the occasion.

[Correspondence of the STAR]

The Episcopal Convention—Sermon of the Rev. John Cotton Smith—Address of Bishop Lay—Admission of St John's and enlargement of All Saints Parishes—The place of the Next Convention.

The Thirteenth Annual Session of Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Easton assembled at 10 A. M., in St. Peters Church, Salisbury, on Wednesday, the first day of June 1881,

After morning prayer the sermon, one of profound thought and unusual power and ability was preached by the Rev. John Cotton Smith, D. D., of New York, from St. Matthew's Gospel, 28th chapter, 18th, 19th, and 20th verses.

At the close of Divine service the Bishop called the convention to order, the roll of clerical and lay delegates was called and the credentials of the latter handed in. No other business of importance was transacted and the Convention adjourned until 8 P. M. The principal part of the evening session was occupied by reading the able address of the Bishop, a copy of which if in my power I would be glad to furnish you a synopsis. It was an exceedingly interesting and instructive paper and should be published not only in the journal but in pamphlet form and distributed liberally throughout the Diocese.

After morning prayer on the second day considerable time was spent in receiving and considering reports of committees, among which, as of special interest to your readers, was one for the admission of Miles River Parish; the enlargement of the boundaries of All Saints' by annexing a small portion of Wye and St. John's Parishes and an enlargement of St. Mary's White Chapel from the territory of St. John's; each of which were ratified by the convention. Reports were also made and accepted upon the revision of the Prayer Book, the state of the church, the Episcopal fund, Parochial assessments and several other subjects.

The standing committee, Trustees of the Episcopal fund, lay members of the Diocesan missions and officers of the Home of the Friendless, were unanimously re-elected, and the nomination of the Bishop of Trustees for Trinity Cathedral confirmed.

During the evening session of the last day there was considerable debate upon a report submitted by the committee to whom was referred the question of the expediency of organizing a Church Temperance Society upon the plan of that recently adopted at the close of the Convention of the Diocese of Maryland; but after an exhaustive discussion which occupied a great portion of the expiring hours of the convention, it was thought best to postpone the whole subject to the next convention which by a nearly unanimous vote will be held in St. James Church, Port Deposit, on the first Wednesday of June, 1882.

The proceedings of the convention were marked by great dignity and decorum and the debates conducted in a courteous and christian spirit which was not only very pleasant to witness but also called forth the approval and commendation of numerous visitors.

It should also be stated that service was held on Tuesday evening preceeding the meeting of the Convention when the Rev. Father Maturin delivered a discouse on the Incarnation; and at evening prayer of the last day a sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. Carmichael, of St, James Parish. Port Deposit.

The music at each service was pronounced to be of a very high character, particularly that of Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning when it was rendered in a more elaborate and artistic manuer. Indeed, it was said by judges that it rarely falls to the lot of lovers of music in rural districts to hear the conceptions of the great masters rendered with greater accuracy, sympathy and expression than by the choir of St. Peters upon the occasions specially noted. Their position and that of the organ is in plain view of the entire congregation and it adds not a little to the charm of the music to witness the expression of those bright faces as they pour forth in harmonious concert the solemn and beautiful chants of the church.

The laymen from your county, six in number, were quartered at the Peninsula House, Chas. H. Rider, Esq., Proprietor. To say that Mr. Rider and his efficient assistant, Mr, Parsons, did all in their power to render their guests comfortable and happy, is but an expression of literal truth.

The table was attended by polite and obliging servants and supplied with all the luxuries and delicacies peculiar to the lower portion of the Peninsula whether contributed by earth, air or ocean, and that in the greatest profusion. The slightest suggestion of a want if not anticipated was speedily supplied and with such evident heartiness and good will that a spectator might readily suppose that they and not their guests were the parties obliged. DELEGATE.

The Steamer Ida.

The Maryland Steamboat Company's new boat, the Ida, made her first trip here last Wednesday morning, and in the evening, on her return from the Choptank, quite a number of our citizens went down to Easton Point to see her. She is an iron steamer, and a beautiful boat in all respects, and as fast as beautiful. She runs right away from the Georgeanna. The Ida takes the place of the Enoch Pratt, and the Pratt now runs to Virginia, in place of the Kent. The crew of the Pratt, Capt. E. T. Leonard, commander, man the Ida. Capt. Leonard is proud enough of his new boat, which is the finest steamer on the Chesapeake, excepting the boats of the Bay Line. The Ida is 200 feet long and 50 feet beam. She has 50 state rooms on the saloon deck, each containing 2 berths. She has 4 alcoves, each containing 4 rooms, specially adapted to social parties or families. The state rooms are finished in hard wood, which gives them a very pretty appearance. She has comfortable saloons forward and aft of the wheels, furnished with handsome walnut furniture. Abaft the engine room on the lower deck are 36 berths for men, and in a separate room are 28 berths for ladies. Forward and below deck are two rooms, one for men the other for women, each containing 24 berths—Besines which ample sleeping arrangements are provided for the waiters and crew. The pilot house and captain's room are on the hurricane deck. She has four life boats, and the steam escape is on the new plan, blowing off under water. She has ample room for the storage of freight. On Friday, Capt. Leonard gave a free excursion from Easton up the Choptank to Dover Bridge, returning in the evening. We regret to say the rain prevented a great many from going who otherwise would have been happy to accept the invitation. All who went returned perfectly delighted with the new steamer, pronouncing her the best boat that has ever been upon our waters. The Maryland Steamboat Company deserves the thanks and the liberal patronage of the community, for its liberality in providing the public with such elegant travelling accommodation. We understand the Company proposes soon to build another steamer like the Ida, to take the place of the Highland Light; then they will leave nothing to be desired. We sincerely wish the company success and the gentlemanly commander of the Ida such an increase of business as shall amply compensate his employees for furnishing him with such a charming vessel.
