—The November term of the Circuit Court for Talbot county commences next Monday.

—The Middle Convocation of the Diocese of Easton, meets at Denton next Monday evening.

—Guiteau's trial for the murder of President Garfield commenced yesterday at Washington.

—Mr. Lloyd Lowndes lost a valuable horse last week, which died of the prevailing horse disease.

—The late warm spell has been a great thing for the young wheat. It is growing finely, and looks well all over the county,

—Hon. Herman Stump, of Harford, late President of the Maryland Senate, was a candidate for reelection to the Senate, and was defeated on Tuesday by a few votes.

—These are the days when the man with the shotgun goes out hunting and gets back with a bad cold. Then Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup takes the place of the gun every time.

—It was a nice little Republican dodge, to print and circulate the law against bribery, and then pour out its money like water and buy up all the voters it could find salable in the market.

—There is now about as much complaint about the wet weather as there was sometime ago about the drought The fields continue so wet and muddy that farmers find it impracticable to secure their corn crop.

—Attention is called to the advertisement in to-day's issue of the sale, by Mr. A. L. Tharp, of the Live Stock and Farming Implements on Mr. William W. Hemsley's Farm in Oxford Neck, to-morrow week, Nov. 23d.

It appears that the Republicans literally chawed up our Democratic friends in Caroline last Tuesday; but it cost them a small fortune to do it. A few such victories would be to their pockets worse than half a dozen defeats.

—The stone work on the new jail is completed; the slate is on the roof of the sheriff's house; and the roof of the jail will be finished sometime this week. Mr. Flowers, the contractor, is getting the building in shape for the plasterers.

—If my 5 cent natural Havana filled cigar, upon which I am trying to build a reputation, is not as represented, the money will be refunded. I have handled leaf tobacco for 21 years. P. G. Hoffman, cor. Railroad avenue and Hanson street. aug30-3m

—Boston, the barber under the brick hotel, hopes to have the pleasure of waiting on the gentlemen who come to court. He can give them a nice, clean shave, and cut their hair in the most fashionable shape. No shop in town can polish off a customer in better style.

—The Republican vote in the county on Tuesday was about the same as it was in 1879; the Democratic vote is near 400 short of what it then was. It is the absentees that beat us. If half the absentees had gone to the polls and voted, the whole Democratic ticket would have been elected.

—The Republicans of Easton tried hard to vote a "dead darkey" on Tuesday. They brought him to the polls in a carriage, but when he got theee, he could neither speak nor raise his hand, and as the business could not be done by proxy, they had to cart him back to Potter's field without voting.

—After all their fuss and bragging, and big meetings, and spread eagle oratory, the O. L. D.'s of Baltimore only polled about 1,000 votes in all the 20 wards of that city They have since reorganized, but will doubtless soon disband, as they will not have the Republicans now to pay their campaign expenses.

—Mr. John W. Prettyman, of Easton Point, caught at one haul of his seine on Thursday, at the mouth of Peach Blossom creek, 1,300 pounds of rock fish, which he shipped to Philadelphia Friday morning. Most of the fish were of large size, from 20 inches to 3 feet in length. This is what seine hauliers would call a "big haul."

—The Maltby House, Pratt Street, Baltimore, Col. C. R. Hogan, proprietor, has made a great success the present year, by providing its guests with a first class table and other excellent accommodations for a little over half the price per day charged by those hotels that hang out their signs "first-class." The Maltby is full all the time, and no one wants a better table than it provides. Col. Hogan knows how to keep a hotel.

—The negroes turned out solid on Tuesday and voted the Republican ticket, while hundreds of Democrats did not deem it neccessary to attend the polls. Hence the Republican victory. Of course, if Democrats won't vote, the Republicans must win. If the absent Democrats had gone to the polls, and voted the Democratic ticket, we should have carried the county by 200 majority.

—Messrs. C. N. Oehm & Son, the great one price Baltimore Clothing House, corner of Pratt and Hanover stretts, have an immense stock of clothing, including suits, overcoats, and boys' clothing, which they are selling very cheap, and it would be well for all persons wanting clothing to examine their stock before purchasing. Every article sold by this house is made up in their own establishment, and they guarantee it as represented. They make up the very best class of work to order, and warrant a fashionable fit or no sale.

Personal.

Mrs. Gov. Thomas has returned from Europe. The Governor went to New York last week to meet her.

Col. H. E. Bateman, who has had quite a long spell of illness this fall, is convalescent.

Senator J. B. Groome, of Elkton, and Mr. William T. Hart, of Boston, were in Easton last week, engaged in the work of cancelling the bonds issued by the Maryland & Delaware Railroad Company. Senator Groome was the trustee, appointed to sell the road. The bonds had been paid, but they had remained in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court of Talbot county, and it was deemed proper to cancel them.

Capt. E. T. Leonard, late of the steamer Ida, was in town on Wednesday. He has resigned his position as Captain of the boat, to the very great regret of his many friends in Easton, and is no longer in the employment of the Maryland Steamboat Company. He had been with the Company ever since its organization in 1872 up to the time of his suspension, growing out of the collision between the Ida and the Georgeanna, and has been one of the Company's most popular Captains. He is so careful a commander, that travelers feel perfectly safe under his charge, however, stormey the weather may be. The withdrawal of Capt. Leonard will be a great loss to the Company.

[COMMUNICATED.]

MR. EDITOR: Last Tuesday's election brought defeat to the Democracy of Talbot. Everyone knows the cause. It is unnecessary to state it here. It is enough to say that the Democratic party was defeated by Democrats—traitors to the principles of Democracy. Defeat, planned and carried out by old leaders, who, upon the stump and elsewhere, have taught the young Democracy: "For God's sake never to cut their tickets, even though the devil be upon it, if he be a Democrat." These men have been on the ticket in times gone by, and they took all occasions to teach young Democrats what to do about voting the whole ticket. They will hereafter be spurned by their former followers. They will be as repugnant in the eyes of all young Democrats as the "devil," in the meanest shape he ever assumed. While we may respect their gray hairs, and treat them courteously upon the street and elsewhere, their political actions in the late campaign will never—no, never, be forgotten. We think this is the opinion of every true Democrat; and are positively certain that it is the opinion entertained by the whole of the YOUNG DEMOCRACY.

Thanksgiving Day.

Thursday, the 24th inst, is the day appointed by the President of the United States, and the Governor of Maryland, as a day of thanksgiving.

[From THE CHURCHMAN, October 29, 1881.]

The Little Sister Not to be Despised.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CHURCHMAN:

In the discussions about the division of dioceses, mention has often been made of the Diocese of Easton. One specific statement, to which I shall presently refer, is the occasion of this article.

But lest my purpose should be misconceived, allow me say in advance that while I should greatly rejoice to see Virginia and North Carolina divided, I do not desire to promote any considerable increase in the number of our dioceses at this time. We gain nothing by carving up a strong and yet manageable diocese into a number of feeble ones.

The nine counties on the Eastern Shore of Maryland were made a diocese by reason of a geographical necessity. As a matter of fact and experience, it has proved impossible for the Bishop of Maryland, with the superior claims of the Western Shore, and the intervention of Chesapeake Bay, to render the necessary offices to the less significant region. It does not at all follow that the like course should be pursued where there is no like necessity, and where nobody is neglected in the episcopal ministrations.

Furthermore, I suppose that none of our people anticipated that our diocese would be a splendid example to others. It is peninsular, no tide of travel or immigration flowing through it. It has no cities, no town of more than 3,000 inhabitants. It has no extensive manufacturers, no foreign trade. In a word, it is emphatically a rural diocese, made up of farms of moderate extent and of the villages necessary to supply the local trade. As for population, it has 157,000, which is less (according to late estimates) than that of the one city of Washington in the old diocese from from which it was taken.

Reasonable people must see that we cannot vie with dioceses of large numbers and resources, having the centralized wealth of a city to sustain diocesan institutions.

One of your correspondents, some months since (I have not been at pains to identify the article because I wish to make this one entirely impersonal), made the very emphatic statement that the Diocese of Easton was generally acknowledged to be a "failure."

This and other like statements induce me to address you.

So far as we ourselves are concerned, we are not at all discomposed, and would not care to make reply. But inasmuch as our example is imported into the general question, it seems right to demur to this disparagement. It has occurred to me that the fairest test of success or failure would be to take the roll of the parishes as I found it at the first convention over which I presided (viz., that or 1869), and to state in each instance the gain or loss, if any, in those particulars which can be computed. Yet a certain significance attaches to the outward manifestations of zeal and enterprise. Let us, then, go over in order the list of the parishes. I omit none—not even those which exist only on paper. What are the changes within the last twelve years?

1. ST. JOHN'S, CAROLINE.—A new church builded at Greensboro', and rectory improved. Increase, $3,000.

2 ST. MARY'S WHITECHAPEL.—Revived after a vacancy in the rectorship of a century. Chapel builded at Denton. Increase, $1,500.

3. AUGUSTINE.—Nominal. No change.

4. NORTH ELK.—Divided into two. Two churches builded in Port Deposit and on the fishing shore, and one rectory purchased. Increase, $10,000.

5. NORTH SASSAFRAS.—Parish church rebuilded. Church builded at Cecilton. Increase, $10,000.

6. TRINITY, ELKTON.—Rectory purchased. Increase $3,000.

7. DORCHESTER.—New Church on Taylor's Island. Increase, $3,000.

8. EAST NEW MARKET.—No change,

9. GREAT CHOPTANK.—Chapel at Maple Dam; other churches restored. Increase $2,000.

10 VIENNA.—No change.

11. CHESTER.—Parish church rebuilt and other improvements. Increase, $6,000.

12. I. U. PARISH.—No change.

13. NORTH KENT.—New church at Millington. Rectory added. Increase $6,000.

14. ST. PAUL'S, KENT.—No change.

15.—SHREWSBURY.—Parish church restored. New Church at Galena. Increase, 6,000.

16. KENT ISLAND.—New chapel. Increase $1,500.

17. ST. LUKE'S, QUEEN ANNE'S.—Parish church restored. New church at Sudlersville. Increase, $5,000.

18. ST. PAUL'S, QUEEN ANNE'S.—No change, except the establishment of an excellent parish school and some restorations of church.

19. WYE.—No change.

20. COVENTRY.—Rectory builded. Increase, $2,000.

21. SOMERSET.—New church at Monie. Increase, $3,000.

22. WICOMICO.—Nominal. No change.

13. POCOMOKE.—Rectory purchased. New Church at Naswaddux. Increase. $2,500.

24. ST. MICHAEL'S.—Divided into three self-supporting parishes. Parish church rebuilded. Two new churches at Claiborne and Longwoods. Rectory builded. Increase $20,000.

25. ST. PETER'S, TALBOT.—Parish church enlarged and restored at a cost of $10,000. New congregation formed under the bishop, with two chapels (shanties, to be sure.) Rectory builded. Orphanage established. Increase, $25,000. This includes partial endowment of Home for Friendless Children.

26. HOLY TTINITY, OXFORD.—Nominal. Served from Whitemarsh.

27. WHITEMARSH.—Chapel builded at Oxford. Increase, $1,500.

23. ST. MATTHEW'S. — Nominal. No change.

29. SPRING HILL.—Divided into two parishes.

30. STEPNEY.—Nominal. No change.

31. ALL HALLOWS.—No change, except restorations. Increase, $1,000.

32. WORCESTER.—New church at Ocean City. Increase, $1,000.

To sum up these "simple annals of the poor," nowhere has there been any loss. A few parishes on the list are nominal. A few others exhibit no material gain. In all the rest there has been substantial advance. During the twelve years the communicants have increased one half: the parochial clergy one-third. The missionary expenditure is three or four times as much as before division. No stated pecuniary aid has come from without.

I respectfully submit that if the prosperity of the whole can be measured by the prosperity of its parts, the Diocese of Easton is not a failure, to be held up as a warning to others.

The clergy tell me that my estimates are below the mark. I may add that out of sixty-one churches and chapels, fifty-eight have all the seats free.

I have endeavored to emancipate myself from the influence of imagination, "that delusive faculty ever obtruding beyond its sphere." I have purposely weakened my statement by including a number of parishes which have no real existence.

The facts may readily be verified, and if I have misstated anything, or overstated anything, I invite correction or confutation.

HENRY C. LAY.

Easton, Md., October 15th, 1881.

The Best Time.

Many of our most prudent customers and citizens are now buying their clothing for themselves and boys for the fall and winter. We have everything ready, and there is no reason for delay, and there is reason for buying now. You may as well have a house full of clothing to select from and plenty of time to pick it out, as to come in a crowd after a while—after the first cold snap has caught you unprepared. Largest stock in Baltimore. Lower Prices than all at C. N. Oehm & Son, One Price Clothiers, Hanover and Pratt sts. We hav'nt asked permission but we will chance it and refer to the publisher of this paper.

THE STAR can confidently recommend both goods and prices.

The Poor.

We publish this morning the annual report of The Union Dorcas Society of Easton. It is another urgent appeal to the public, to provide the Society with funds to enable it to take care of the poor of the town during the coming winter: and it is an appeal that should not be disregarded. This Society has done a noble work in caring for the poor of the town for the past fosty years, and our people will but fulfil a christian obligation by liberally sustaining it in the future. The ladies will soon make a personal call upon our citizens for their annual contributions, and the treasury of the Society shows that they can do nothing unless it is replenished.

Pulmona.

Stevens & Hayward, duggists, Easton, always have a full supply of Pulmona, the greatest known remedy for coughs, throat and lung trouble. It requires only a fair trial to convince one of its efficacy. Free from Morphia or any other anodyne. Price 50 cents.

Forty-Seventh Annual Report of the Dorcas Society of Easton.

For nearly half a century our annual appeal has been presented to you and has invariably met with a generous response. When this Society was organized there was no concerted effort in the town for the relief of the poor, who were compelled to beg from door to door, or to suffer in silence the pangs of hunger and cold.

Now, the churches of all denominations have each their Charity Committees who care for the wants of those belonging to their fold. But there are others among the poor—unnected with any church—who are apt to be "neglected in these ministrations." Such cases are reached by our Union Dorcas Society, whose charities are limited only by the want of ability to relieve.

From various causes the collection last year fell far below what we have been accustomed to receive, and we were therefore obliged to withdraw help from all who were not in absolute want of the necessaries of life. The list of regular pensioners is therefore very small just now, but we have been compelled to turn a deaf ear to some cases we should have been glad to relieve.

In the prospect of the coming winter, accompanied by the unusual scarcity and high price of provisions, we are constrained to beg of you, more earnestly than ever before, to place in our hand the means to feed the hungry and cloth the naked. So shall ye receive the blessing of Him who has said "Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye did it unto unto Me."

Book Notices.

The American Newspaper. An Essay. Read before the Social Science Association, at Saratoga Springs, September 6th, 1881, by Charles Dudley Warner. James R. Ozgood & Co., Boston.

Both editors and newspaper readers may peruse this little volume with profit. Mr. Warner opens his essay with this pithy paragraph: "Our theme for the hour is the American Newspaper. It is a subject in which everybody is interested, and about which it is not polite to say that anybody is not well informed, for, although there are scattered through the land many persons, I am sorry to say, unable to pay for a newspaper, I have never yet heard of any body unable to edit one." The work is very neatly printed in green and gold.

The British Quarterly Review, Oct., 1881. American reprint, from The Leonard Scott publishing Company, New York. Contents: "Heinrich Heine" "Intellect and Evolution." "The Golden Age of Australia" "The Tenure and the Transfer of Land." "Thucydides." "Comparative Church Politics." "The Attack upon Free Trade." "Contemporary Literature." The periodicals printed by the Leonard Scott Publishing Company are Blackwood's Magazine, and the London Quarterly, Edinburg, Westminster and British Quarterly Reviews. Terms—either publication singly 4; or the five for $15.

Special attention is directed to the prospectus of the Century (formerly Scribner's Monthly) for 1882, and also to the prospectus of St. Nicholas, for 1882, both published in to-day's STAR. The Century is a superb magazine, illustrated in the highest style of art, and St. Nicholas is the best magazine for young people ever published.

SILKS, SILKS, SILKS!

Real Bargains and Don't You Forget It!

We have invested in and now have open for inspection full lines of

BLACK & COLORED DRESS SILKS.

Watered Silks, Brocade Silks and Satin De Lyon.

From medium to fine qualities which we are willing to put in comparison with samples from any city; and if our silks are not CHEAPER, remember we say cheaper, than silks from any city, we will reduce the price to make them cheaper. Last spring we beat every time, and we can do better this winter than last spring.
