—Miss Ellen Wright, Feb. 21st.

—Snow a foot deep—that will do.

—For stove repairs go to E. J. Hulse.

—Another big snow storm last Saturday.

—Dentristy, Dr. J. N. Baird, Easton, Md.

—It snowed furiously most of the day last Tuesday.

—The sleigh bells have been tinkling fast enough since Saturday.

—The new registration bill has passed the Senate and is now before the House.

—Wild ducks from Dickinson's bay continue to come to Frank Wright's market.

—If you want a cheap cook stove, heating stove or fire-place heater go to E. J. Hulse.

—Genuine Havana filled cigars at P. G. Hoffman's, cor. Railroad avenue & Hanson st.

—The Pennsylvania road has not yet taken possession of the Delaware and Chesapeake road.

—You can have your cook stove made to work like new by having it repaired at E. J. Hulse's.

—Judge Hammond was the only judge of the the Orphans' Court, that put in appearance on Tuesday.

—Mr. J. Price Kirby, who studied law in Baltimore, has opened a law office opposite the M. P. Church.

The circuit court for Talbot county meets to-day, to transact chancery business, and to draw the jury for the May term.

—Do not trifle with the affection of a young girl; it is worse than trifling with a bad cold, for this can be cured by Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

—The committees in the legislature are piling in the bills in both houses, and the work of the session is being pushed forward as fast as possible.

—Would it not be well for the town commissioners to have the sidewalks cleaned with a snow plow? It could be done in an hour with a man and horse.

—The United States lighthouse board has given official notice that the Sharp's Island lighthouse will have a permanent light placed in position on February 1.

—Mr. Harry J. Hopkins, one of our young lawyers, recently admitted, has opened a law office where Thomas & Bateman had their office before they moved to Masonic Temple.

—It is more than probable that Josh Billings may bring a suit for damages against the Easton Gazette, for honoring Mark Twain with the authorship of Josh's celebrated "Lecture on Milk."

—The Easton Gazette despairs of any reform bills passing the present legislature. As the head of the Gazette is at the tail of the legislature, he should wait and see what is done before passing judgment.

—A bill has been introduced in the legislature to charter the Md. & Del., Free Ship Canal Company. This is a movement looking to the construction of the Md. & Del. Ship Canal, Choptank route, by the Federal Government.

—The market was small enough on Saturday, but there were sweet and Irish potatoes, turnips, parsnips and carrots, but no cabbage, and but little poultry, a few eggs, and some butter. The butchers were busy selling meat and sausage.

—Mr. James Gorsuch, of Oxford, Md., a worthy Christian gentleman, will make a thorough canvass of the Eastern Shore of Maryland with Mr. J. Zack Taylor's Medicines, which are undeniably the best medicines of the kind ever introduced for public patronage.

—Fever and Ague, or Chills and Fever, Constipation, Headache, Dyspepsia, and all Bilious affections promptly, speedily and effectively cured by using J. M. Laroque's Anti-Bilious Bitters. 25 cents a package, or $1 a bottle. All druggists sell it. W. E. Thornton, proprietor, Baltimore, Md.

—President John W. Garrett, through Gov. Hamilton, has presented to the legislature of this State a portrait of George Calvert, the founder of the Colony of Maryland. The legislature has passed an order accepting the portrait with thanks, and requesting the Governor to have it appropriately placed in the Executive Chamber of the State House at Annapolis.

—Mr. William H. Councell requests us to correct a paragraph published in the last STAR, respecting his vote against the Baltimore precinct bill; he voted against the proposition to advance the bill ahead of all others, but voted for the bill on its final passage. We had not seen his vote on the final passage of the bill when the paragraph was written, or we would not have placed him in the wrong in the matter.

—The Electric Light is the name of a new paper in Baltimore, and it appears to have been started for the special benefit of Mayor Whyte, for it wallops him unmercifully in almost every article and line. Its articles are written with decided force, and it must be an awful thorn in the Mayor's side; but he will probably survice the venom of this his latest enemy. But such articles must have influences with a great many people.

—Messrs. L. Jeff Milbourne & Co., 128 Baltimore, have a well established advertising agency, and those who want advertising done through the newspapers, will find them prompt and thoroughly reliable. Persons out of this county, and especially in Baltimore, who may desire to use the advertising columns of the STAR to extend their business, can contract through Messes. Milbourne & Co., on just as good terms as they can obtain from this office. Jan10-2m.

—We do not approve of the manner in which Sunday afternoon was spent by a large number of our young men, but the way snow balls flew about the heads of the passers-by on Washington St., at that time was a caution; and at times the warfare waged between parties holding opposite corners became intensely exciting. It was amusing to see strong men, wishing to get away, yet fearing to desert their crowd—knowing that a volley of balls would be showered upon them if they attempted any such movement—seek the protection of even 7-year old misses. No wonder they were missed; however, they were not dis-missed.

—Business in the Clerk's office has fallen off recently that Mr. J. Frank Turner, the Clerk, has been forced to curtail expenses by dispensing with the services of his deputy clerk, Mr. Peter Stevens, and last Tuesday he notified Mr. Stevens to look out for another situation, but to keep his place until he found other employment. Mr. Turner says the fees of the office for January only paid clerks' hire and office expenses, leaving nothing for himself. Mr. Stevens is a first-rate clerk, a very clever gentleman, an accommodating public officer and it is a matter of general regret that he should lose his place. We hope business may revive, so that he may be retained. Mr Turner says the law giving magistrates jurisdiction in criminal cases cuts the Clerk's office out of a large amount of fees.

—A company of half-jack actors from the city gave a theatrical performance at the Hall Friday night. The actors neither knew their parts, nor how to personate their characters, and so disgusted the audience that they would have been egged, but for the fact that they put themself under the protection of the sheriff, after the performance, to get to the hotel in safety. Those who bought seats were badly sold. It is no use for such a miserable company to come to Easton, if they don't want to get into trouble. Our people will bear anything better than a sell of this kind. But it is not right to maltreat such offenders. Keep away from their performances if they are not the right stripe. And over and above all else should we strive to maintain the good reputation of the town. The ill treatment of one bad company may keep a dozen good companies from visiting us.

—The Easton Mount Band under command of Capt. Barney Williams McHale, was serenading Thursday night. The band played a number of beautiful airs selected for the occasion in front of several residences, to the great enjoyment of the inmates.

A Easton Cutting Affray.

On Wednesday morning, about 3 o'clock, while Captain Zebedee Andrews was asleep in his vessel, two colored men, who were employed on his vessel as deck-hands, stole his clothes, and were making headway to the shore when Mr. Andrews discovered them. He hailed his brother, whose vessel was anchored a short distance away, to bring his yawl alongside, which he did. Jumping into the boat, Zebedee made for the residence of Constable Barnes, and asked him to go with him in pursuit of the thieves. The constable, however, refused to accompany him, and he started alone for Taylor's Island Bridge, where he knew he would intercept them. When they approached he asked for his clothes, and, they refusing to give them to him, he endeavored to recover them by force. During the struggle, he was cut in two places—one across the neck, slightly touching the jugular vein, and the other in the back of his head, the knife breaking off about two inches in his head—and he succeeded in getting one of them down, when the other came at him with a large stick, and he had to run for his life. The negroes were seen passing through Church Creek Wednesday morning, and, it is thought, making their way to Baltimore, from whence they originally came. It is thought that Mr. Andrews will not survive.—[Cambridge Era.

On Sunday night last Deputy Sheriff Lee arrested on the Steamer Georgeanna, at Easton Point, a mulatto man who gave his name of John Henry, supposed to be one of the men who robbed and stabbed Capt. Andrews. He got on the boat at Wallack's wharf, and says he is from Baltimore. He is now safe in Easton jail, and Mr. Lee has telegraphed the State's Attorney of Dorchester county to come or send and identify the man, if he is one of the men who committed the crime. Capt. Andrews was still alive on Saturday evening.

Public Business.

The Orphans' Court was not in session last Tuesday.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

The Board on Tuesday contracted with John H. Williams & Co., of Baltimore to do the plumbing at the jail. The Board were engaged hearing appeals, and passed and paid accounts amounting to $374.14.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The February term of the Circuit Court for Talbot county meets to-day, Judge Stump to preside.

TOWN COMMISSIONERS.

The town commissioners met yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, at their office in Masonic Temple. Bills were audited and paid amounting to $190.00. Railroad Avenue was reported shelled beyound Aurora street, but that the snow had stopped the work for the present. 15,000 bushels have been put on the Avenue, and it will take 10,000 more to pave to the depot. All those having teams in town were invited to haul shells at 1½ cents per bushel, and a number of taxpayers availed themselves of the invitation.

SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS.

The County School Commissioners are doing the proper thing, by enforcing the law compelling all children who attend the public schools to be vaccinated. The law in this respect cannot be too strictly enforced. If vaccination is not attended to, a case of small-pox in a neighborhood would close its public schools for weeks; whereas, if all the children are protected by vaccination there there would be no danger.

The American Farmer.

The American Farmer for February 1st is a number of great merit, the articles which are from numerous and most practical writers being peculiarly appropriate to the approaching season of spring work. Questions connected with fertilizers and home-made manures and their application are always prominently discussed in the columns of this time-honored farm journal, while especial attention is paid to improved live stock, fruit-growing, gardening, etc.

The publishers announce that they have made an arrangement by which Dr. Thomas Pollard, late Commissioner of Agriculture of Virginia, becomes associated with The Farmer. This gentleman is widely known for his ability and practical views, and his accession to the editorial corps of the paper cannot but be welcomed by its readers. It is announced also, that the prizes offered for essays on various topics of great consequence to agriculture will result in the presentation of some very valuable papers in its columns. In short the solid attractions of the Old Pioneer are such that it will return to every subscriber many times its cost, which is $1.50 a year, or $1.00 to clubs of five or more. Valuable premiums are offered to clubs of subscribers. Samuel Sands & Son, Baltimore, are the publishers.

The Midwinter, February, Century.

After the new cover, the first "midwinter issue" of The Century is chiefly distinguished by its unusual range of popular contributors, whose names of themselves awaken in the reader the desire to see their contributions. Of these are Ralph Waldo Emerson, Henry W. Longfellow, the late Dean Stanley, Mrs. Barnett, Mr. Howells, Frank R. Stockton, "H. H.," E. C. Stedman, A. C. Burner, each of whom has his special audience. Add to these attractive names the other features: a fine frontispiece portrait of George W. Cable, author of "Old Creola Days" and "The Grandissimes," engraved by Cole, with a sketch by Col. Waring; another of the unique and amusing "Tile Club" papers, illustrated by ten of the members of the Club; the text (somewhat abridged) of Mrs. Burnett's play of "Esmeralda," now running successfully at a New York theatre; an illustrated account of the growing sport of Lawn Tennis, with full directions; a review of "Significant Features of the Atlanta Exposition," by Edward Atkinson, Esq., who, we believe was the prime mover in that enterprise; and a beautifully illustrated paper on "The Phidian Age of Sculpture"—and it will be seen that the number contains rare elements of popularity.

Humbug Advertisements.

The time never has been and never will be when the people of this or any other country can buy a gold dollar for seventy-five cents. Neither can you, dear reader, purchase an organ worth three or four hundred dollars for $60. This is all nonsense. Still we have no objection to other people doing their business just as they see fit. We are selling a good, honest Organ (not all stops) for from $48 to $475. All our goods are made upon honor, and we send to any part of the world on test trial, and if no pleasse no keepee, as the Chinaman would say. For the past ten years we have sent both Pianos and Organs to every part of the world, and our instruments give the most universal satisfaction. If you wish a good instrument, one that will always last you, we shall be pleased to send you our catalogue and prices; and if you purchase one of the Thomas Brothers' SILVER TONE INSTRUMENTS you will get what you require, and one instrument sold in the neighborhood always sells us more. Address, for prices, etc.,

JAMES R. THOMAS,
Successor to Thomas Brothers,
Catskill, N. Y., U. S. A.

Weather Predictions for February.

The New York Sun gives the predictions of De Voe, the Hackensack weather prophet, for this month as follows:

"February will be a month long to be remembered on account of its frequent and heavy snow storms and sudden falls in temperature. More snow will fall during this month for this section than has fallen for the past two years combined. It will enter warm and slushy till the 5th, when it will change suddenly. Snow storms will occur about the 5th, 7th, 10th, 15th, 23d, and 27th. Rain will fall on the 3d, 11th, 18th and 24th. The average temperature will be lower than during the previous month. The winds will be very high from northwest, shifting suddenly to northeast. The ladies would do well to take a few inches off of the rims of their hats, or they will need an extra pair of hands."

An Ice Machine Bought for Easton.

Mr. John H. K Shannahan has bought an ice machine, and hereafter will manufacture his ice instead of buying it in Maine. He has a large retail trade in ice, and uses a great deal himself in his betehering business, and expects by his machine to defy competition; and he will not only manufacture all he needs for his retail trade, but expects to make a thousand tons per week extra, to supply dealers in neighboring towns. Mr. Shannahan shows commendable enterprise in all departments of his varied business, and we hope his ice machine will prove a success.

An Old Lady writes us: "I am 65 years old and was feeble and nervous all the time, when I bought a bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic. I have used little more than one bottle and feel as well as at 30." See other column.

PENTHEYMAN.

The streets of Chestertown are to be shelled.

Oysters are one dollar a bushel at Snow Hill.

Snow Hill has a man who will "Pay for his girl.

Laurel, Del., is to have a new basket and crate factory.

At present seventy-seven prisoners are in New Castle jail.

A steamboat line between Dover and Philadelphia is contemplated.

J. Walter Evans, a prominent citizen of Newark, died last week, aged 50 years.

Rev. Mr. Lucas is conducting a successful revival at the M. P. Church at Clayton.

George Warfield, Esq., has been re-elected President of the Chester River Steamboat Company.

There were $80,000 worth of mortgages recorded in the clerk's office of Somerset county last year.

A drive well at Showell's wharf, Sinepuxent Bay, furnishes 700 gallons of water per hour. It is 76 feet deep.

Selbyville is one of the largest lumber shipping points on the Peninsula. Seven saw mills there are constantly kept busy.

The Cecil Whig and the Democrat are battling over local option. The former votes "aye"; the latter—well, a little mixed.

The clerk of Dorchester county, Charles Lake, is out of marriage certificates and applicants are anxiously awaiting the blanks.

The Greenwich Dramatic Association is about beginning to wrestle with a drama, to be presented on the evening of the 21st inst.

—The Delaware Ledger thinks that the Democrats would do well to return Senator Saulsbury and Representative Martin to Congress.

A Pocomoke City man recently killed a hog that registered the magnificent weight of thirty-five pounds, though it was only two years old.

The Cambridge Chronicle says the marriage license is the only Maryland institution the Governor didn't want abolished or reformed. He probably forgot it.

—A. Lee Cummins, proprietor of the extensive phosphate works at Clayton has failed. His liabilities are estimated at not less than $25,000, and his assets, much of which is in real estate, are about the same.

The law-abiding people of Denton are nonplussed. It has come to light that Mr. Thomas Melvin has been acting as Justice of the Peace for the last two years without having qualified. The question is how to make his official actions legally binding.

The Rising Sun Journal says: "It is hardly probably probable that Wilmington newspapers will send any more representatives to Elkton, to abuse the Local Option Law; since the last expert received such a merited chastisement at the hands of the Whig and News. People who come to Cecil county with the expectation that no whiskey has ruined her business, will go home with a flea in their ear; especially if they wish to make an affirmative report and advocate the whisky interest. Local option has driven the liquor business from the county—but it has given us instead, happy, peaceable people."

St. Nicholas for February.

Opens with a story of the adventures of a Mexican prince, illustrated with a beautiful frontispiece by F. H. Lungren.

Other short stories are: "The Man in the Moon," a tale full of Humor, by Sophie Swett, with pictures by George D. Brush,—"The Round Stone," a Hungarian Folk-story, contributed by the Hon. Jeremiah Curtin, and strikingly illustrated by Alfred Brennan, —"Cornwallis's Buckles," an incident of Revolutionary times, in which figure a small girl, a cow, and the English commander-in-chief; the illustrations being by G. W. Edwards,—and "Lady Ann's Valentine," a tale full of interest and tender feeling, by Sargent Flint, with a fine picture by Frank T. Merrill.

"Men-and-Animal Shows, and How They are Moved About" is the title of an entertaining article by William O. Stoddard, crammed with information about the doings and fittings of circus-menageries. There are many illustrations to this, the first half of the article; the conclusion, which is to be even more fully illustrated, is from the March number.

Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge, the Editor, relates in this month's installment of her serial, "Donald and Dorothy," a gallant rescue by the hero, who bravely stops a runaway horse that was bearing off the heroine, a picture of the exciting scene being furnished by Frank T. Merrill; and Edward Eggleston, in his serial, "The Hoosier School-boy," carries the young people in the story through stirring scenes of frontier school-life, as it was in his own boyhood; a fine picture, by George D. Brush, adorns the present installment. Dr. Eggleston also describes, in a short article, "A Curious Drama" which he saw in London, and in which Dr. George MacDonald and his family represented scenes from the second part of the "Pilgrim's progress," of John Bunyan. Mr. Harry M. Kieffer, in "Recollections of a Drummer-boy," gives graphic accounts of camp-life in winter during the late war, and the terrible scenes on the field after a battle; the illustrations are by Allen C. Redwood.

Several poems and humorous verses, besides comical single pictures, help to enliven the pages of this number. The "Very Little Folk's Department" has a short illustrated story by Charles Barnard,—"Jack-in-the-Pulpit," the "Letter-box," and the Riddle-box" are full of short and interesting paragraphs, letters from young readers, puzzles, etc.,—and there is a long Report concerning the St Nicholas Agassiz Association, which now has 1,700 members.

Blackwood

for January has been republished by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co., 41 Barclay Street, New York. The appearance of the magazine is much improved, and the price of this, as well as of all the other reprints, has been greatly reduced, and they are now cheaper than ever.

The principal contents are as follows:

"The Open Door." A very exciting ghost story.

"On Some of Shakespeare's Female Characters. Juliet IV." We gladly welcome another of Lady Martin's charming letters. In this one she dwells upon her personal experiences and also holds out a promise of more good things in the future.

"Inside Kagwan." An account, historical and descriptive, of the "Holy City" of Tunis, which has been secluded from the busy world for centuries, and was occupied by the French last October.

"A Bird's eye View: in a Letter from the Bel Alp," a critical essay on books and writers, the work's noticed including poetry, history and biography.

"Eels and Eel-sets." A description of the habits of the British eel and the methods of catching it, written to show that "eel-sets" are a benefit to the angler.

"Coleridge Marginalia." A description of some sixty odd volumes now in possession of the British Museum, which having formerly belonged to Coleridge, are filled with his marginal notes, from which many quotations are given.

"Finances West of the Atlantic," in other words, free trade and protection in the United States and Canada.

Enforcing the Oyster Laws.

The oyster police sloop E. B. Groome, Capt. Clements, has recently captured a number of dredgers who have been violating the law by dredging in the forbidden waters of Poplar Island Narrows. Among those captured are the schooner Wye, Capt. W. Whitehurst; the schooner Juvenile, Capt. F. Whitehurst; the schooner Austria, Capt. J. Padmore; the pungy, Algeria, Capt. J. Faley; and the bugeye, Bessie M. Somers. The dredgers have lately discharged their rifles several times at Capt. T. J. Valliant, the local policeman, while making observations; but the Capt. has planted a cannon on Poplar Island, near the Narrows, and will fire and spare not, the next time he is fired at by a dredger.

Revival of the Post Office.

The Easton Post Office was moved last night from the Gazette office, where it has been for sixteen years, to Machinery Hall, where a large and convenient room has been fitted up especially for it. The location was not so central as the old office, but this will be more than made up by the convenience about the new office. The room is large, and Mr. Shreve has spared no expense to make the appointments first-class in all respects, and Easton will hereafter have the best arranged post office on the Eastern Shore of Maryland.

Frazer Axle Grease.

One trial will convince you that it is the best. Ask your dealer for the Frazer Axle Grease, and take no other. Every box has our trade mark on it. 3m.

Another Maryland Enterprise.

The "Chestertown Strawboard and Manufacturing Company of Kent County" has been incorporated, the capital stock being from $15,000 to $20,000 it to be credited. About a mile from Chestertown. Strawboard only will be manufactured at first, and the new enterprise is expected to begin operations by October next. Canning will be undertaken also. The capital stock is $20,000. The incorporators are Thomas W. Eliason, John K. Aldridge, T. W. Eliason, Jr., Geo. B. Westcott, Wilbur Eliason and Charles T. Westcott. Chestertown already has two phosphate factories, one cannery, one agricultural implement factory and two carriage factories.

Miss Wright and Prof. Weber.

Miss Ellen Wright, the renowned and wonderful impersonator, will be assisted in her entertainment by the famous Weber, which so delighted our people on the occasion of their last visit here; there will be an entire change in their musical programme. Music Hall, Tuesday evening Feb. 21st.

A SOLILOQUY.

To buy or not to buy, that's the question:
Whether 'tis more economical to buy my new suit now,
Or put it off, and suffer all the ills and shakes of winter,
Or to purchase, and thus put an end to a thousand and one heartaches.
To freeze and shake, aye, there's the rub,
For in those heartless blasts of old Boreas,
Such biting air will come as will freeze the marrow in my bones;
And thus the native hue of resolution grows bright within me,
And, I'll go direct to Thompson & Kersey's Clothing Emporium
And buy my new suit and overcoat for Christmas,
And thus put an end to the doubts that harass me.

1882 THE BALTIMORE WEEKLY SUN. 1882

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

A FRESH, BRIGHT, NEWSY JOURNAL FOR THE FIRESIDE.

A WEEK'S EVENTS IN COMPACT SHAPE. ENTERTAINING STORIES, ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

Its columns contain a complete record of the foreign and domestic news of the world, its POLITICS, COMMERCE, FINANCE, LITERATURE and SCIENCE.

ON-RESPONDENCE from the great centres of activity, Washington, New York, San Francisco, London and Paris.

Articles upon the latest discoveries, keeping the reader abreast of the times in all that relates to the Laboratory, the Workshop, the Farm, the Orchard, the Garden and the Dairy; also FULL COMMERCIAL, FINANCIAL, COTTON, CATTLE, MARKET AND STOCK REPORTS.

Pure in tone, no parent fears to place the BALTIMORE WEEKLY SUN in his children's hands. Conservative in view, THE WEEKLY SUN presents facts undistorted by partisan feeling. Compact in style, THE WEEKLY SUN says much in few words.
