The Principality of Servia has been advanced to the dignity of a Kingdom, and Prince Milan is to be King of Servia, the great powers of Europe consenting.

Gov. Hamilton Ill.

Gov. Hamilton is quite ill at the Governor's Mansion, at Annapolis. He was taken quite sick with diphtheria while at Hagerstown, in February. Last Thursday week he was better, and returned to Annapolis. Since then he has had a relapse, and also an attack of gravel, which has confined him to his bed. It is thought he may be out again in the course of a few days.

He Can't See It.

Roscoe Conkling declines to go on the supreme bench. He has written to that effect to President Arthur, but his letter has not been published. The Baltimore American, which is in the secrets of the White House, says, "Mr. Conkling's letter of declination will not be given to the public," so says President Arthur. Perhaps it reads somewhat in this fashion: "My dear fellow—I refuse to be shelved in anticipation of 1884. Will you please paste this in your hat?"

CAPT. JAMES MCSHERRY, the receiver of Mount St. Mary's College, appointed about a year ago, when the college was in financial distress, has accomplished a settlement and relieved the college from its difficulties, resigned the trust, and turned the college over to the Trustees. The action of the receiver reinstates the "Nursery of Bishops," and restores to it all of its original rights and franchises, and under the management of Rev. Dr. William Byrne, it is believed Mount St. Mary's will hereafter be as prosperous as formerly.

THE troubles, dissensions, divisons, and factional strife in the Republican party in New York, Pennsylvania, Maine, Massachusetts and Ohio, make those States very uncertain for the Republicans next fall and the chances are that the Democrats will largely increase their vote in Congress at the next election. It is almost certain that the next House of Representatives will be Democratic by at least 30 majority, if the Democrats will only stand shoulder to shoulder, and take advantage of their oppertunity. The skies at present look very bright for a Democratic victory next fall.

General James R. Herbert Re-Elected Police Commissioner.

The Democratic legislative caucus at Annapolis met on Wednesday night to nominate a Police Commissioner for Baltimore, to be elected by the legislature. There were really but two prominent candidates, General James R. Herbert, the present commissioner, and Senator Biane. Genl. Herbert was nominated on the first ballot, the vote being Herbert 43, Biane 32. The legislature ratified the nomination on Thursday by re-electing General Herbert Police Commissioner for six years as his own successor. The Republican caucus candidate was Mr. D. Pinkney West, of Baltimore. The vote in the legislature was, Herbert 69, West 38.

Indignant Conkling!

What insolence in an upstart, mushroom President to be taking the liberty of appointing the "lordly Conkling" to any position whatever! What brazen audacity in said President to presume to dictate the personages with whom this princely sovereign shall associate in future! "We know of it. We'll not accept! We'll decline! And even if we did accept the position we would resign!" When a man had the house(?) of engaging in a first-class quarrel with a really "Big" President, and has, perhaps, been instrumental, in no very remote degree, in deciding that distinguished person's fate, it is neither more than (proud) flesh and blood can bear, to be told by a factitious President that he must, henceforth, condescend to sit on a bench and decide the petty quarrels of meaner men. It might be considered by persons of a moderate degree of wit, that it is no small honor to be thought worthy of being intrusted with the decision of great questions of state, and to be put forward as an exponent of the difficult and abstruse science of law, in the highest tribunal of one of the greatest nations of the earth. And so it would be for mere common men. But this one of America's free-born haughty sovereigns, must not be classed with even the best of the ordinary herd. He may not even be distinguished as the best among equals, but must be bowed down to as a good deal better than the best. And so, instead of accepting Mr. Arthur's invitation to sit on the Supreme Bench, Mr. Conkling has very quietly, and very properly, turned around and—sat down on the President.

It is an indisputable fact that Hall's Hair Renewer renews, cleanses, brightens, invigorates and restores faded or gray hair to its youthful color and luster, cheaply, quickly and surely. People with gray hair prefer to buy it, rather than proclaim to the world through their bleached locks that they are becoming aged, and passing on to decay.

A Traitor by Practice.

From the Chicago Inter Ocean.

It intends to say the Democratic party learned in 1872 just what the Republican party is learning in 1882—that the New York Tribune is better as an open enemy than as an unwise or pretended friend. A friend by profession and a traitor by practice is about the attitude of the Tribune toward the Republican party.

7 New Cardinals to be Created.

LONDON, March 6.—The Times' correspondent at Rome says: At the approaching Consistory the Pope will create seven new Cardinals, including Most Rev. Dr. McCabe, Archbishop of Dublin. It is understood that this expresses the Pope's approval of the efforts which Archbishop McCabe made in the cause of law and order in Ireland.

A Good nurse

should not hesitate to wait upon those whom even such a disease as small pox has attacked. There is little to be feared by persons waiting on the sick if they will use Darbys Prophylactic Fluid freely in the water they bathe with and also take it internally. In sick rooms it should be exposed on a plate or saucer, and the patient sponged off with the Fluid diluted with water, and also a few drops used internally. It should also be used about every part of the house.

The Next Governor of Maryland Interviewed by a Baltimore Sun Reporter.

(Special Correspondence Balto. Sun.)

ANNAPOLIS, MD., March 7, 1882.

Your correspondent had a conversation with Hon. George R. Williams, the President of the Senate, this morning, in which the Senator from Baltimore county expressed his views of things in Maryland very freely and forcibly. Mr. Williams is the champion who wears the belt, and will not yield an inch to Baltimore city. He said: "Mr. George M. Gill's letter to the Sun was a very sensible paper, but it did not go far enough. Instead of getting up reports on things that may be still further taxed, or looking around to see what may be still brought to the tax-makers' mill, it would be far better to appoint committees to ascertain how little taxation the city can get along with. Baltimore would then have a chance to thrive. By comparison of rental values of real estate in Baltimore and in other cities of the Union, Baltimore is the least thriving of them all, and Mr. Gill did not state half the truth. I think this the true explanation of the opposition to city extension. They want to sweat the green grass and the golden fields of the country to mitigate the consequences of municipal extravagance, and of course the honest countryman rebels. The more the subject is ventilated by your city press, and examined by thoughtful and intelligent countrymen, the more they don't want to become citizens. I have no interest in city extension. My residence this year will be 15 miles from Baltimore. I don't believe that Baltimore county has all that the richest and the largest county in the State, on the score of population, is entitled to, and I believe in standing up for her rights, not territorial alone, but political and otherwise.

"As to democratic party affairs, you know what a mess has been made here in Annapolis for two sessions, but this time I think we can claim that in spite of opposition the right thing has been done. Nevertheless I believe there must be a good deal of unloading of fellows who consider themselves party leaders, especially in Baltimore city, before the ship will be trim and well ballasted. As to my own candidacy for the governorship next time, I will say I am not indifferent to it. It is a high honor for any man to be the Governor of Maryland, and it is a proper aspiration for the best, but, I will not wade through slime and filth to obtain it. This pending measure to sweep away the incubus on the tobacco trade is a legislative step in the right direction. I am a free trader in tobacco. I would advocate the sale of the warehouses, and they had better be burned even than ruin trade of the party. Senators Gill and Bond, one representing the mercantile interest and the other the planter, have reached the proper solution of the problem, and the Senate at least, has signified its approbation of the reform. And yet, while we are taking this step, I hear of attempts by the cattle traders to restore the scales and the State system, which was abolished last year, with all its corresponding iniquities; and some butchers, too, are in favor of the restoration, which I take to be inexplicable

"You ask me what I have to say about the canal. When six lawyers took testimony all over the State a year ago to convict Mr. Gorman or thinking they could, with no result amounting to a cobweb, and a federal court so decides, I take it the assaults on Mr. Gorman and "the corrupt ring" are babyish. As a trustee of the canal and a large holder of its bonds, I understand all its relations and know what utter folly the prosecution was. I think Mr. Gorman's resignation of the presidency of the canal will be a great calamity to the bonds I represent. Now this is an entire change on my part, for at first I listened with credulous ears to gossip, but the more I inquired after truth the more I was converted from my first adverse impressions. I say this freely and with pleasure, for I know no work in Maryland better administered than the Chesapeake and Ohio canal under the present direction.

"The printing matter, which gave so much trouble this session, is likely to be no cause of much disturbance in the future if the course prescribed by the Senate is followed. You know I introduced a bill, which was adopted, authorizing the clerk of the Court of Appeals to advertise for proposals three months in advance of the meeting of the General Assembly, and award the contract. That removes the chance for trading on the printing and the disgraceful squabbling that has always taken place. There is also a bill which has gone through the Senate to reduce the cost of advertising the laws in the newspapers, and authorizing the attorney-general and the Governor to designate such laws as ought to be published. I think it right and proper that the laws the people are expected to obey should be plainly set before them, where they can read and understand. If these two printing bills do not become laws it will be a mistake. If the Senate has failed to pass any other reform measure I don't know what it is; if there remains anything to be completed, the responsibility will rest on the House of Delegates."

(Special Dispatch to Baltimore Sun.) Wilmington M. E. Conference—Senator Bayard and Local Option.

WILMINGTON, DEL., March 10.—The regular session of conference at Middletown this morning was opened by Bishop Hirst, and the prayer service was conducted by Rev. V. Gray. Rev. D. C. Babcock of the National Temperance Society, addressed the conference in behalf of Sunday school and temperance literature. In the course of his remarks he alluded to Senator Bayard's letter on local option. The letter, which was dated March 8, 1881, and addressed to a gentleman in Wilmington, took the ground that "local option" laws were of doubtful constitutionality and positive inexpediency. The submitting a law to popular vote in local districts defeats the principle of our government, which is representative in its character and places the whole law making power and direction in the Legislature." The application of this principle of local option to the punishment of criminals would be wholly at variance with our theory of government, and to apply such a rule to the use of alcoholic or fermented beverages is, in the judgment of Mr. Bayard, quite as unsafe. Mr. Bayard advocated a well-regulated system of licenses and severe penalties for illicit sale. Sumptuary regulations become inquisitorial and impossible of execution, as evidenced in those communities in this country where they have been enacted. "Statistics abundantly prove that the attempted suppression by statutes of the use of alcoholic stimulants is accompanied by an increase of opiates; and that open drinking being stopped, secret drinking ensues. I do not believe any man has a greater horror of intemperance than I, and my appreciation of its dangers and evil effects grow with my experience of human affairs, but the graver the evil, the more essential to apply the right principle to its cure; and for the reasons I have stated and many others, I hope the experiment of 'local option' will not be made by our Legislature, but increased checks under the license system be continued."

This letter, Mr. Babcock said, killed the bill then pending, and that Mr. Bayard had sold himself to the liquor men. In reply to a question by Rev. Mr. Colclazer as to the authority for that statement the speaker said that Lewis Schade, attorney for the liquor men, had openly boasted of his success in securing a letter from Senator Bayard which killed the local option bill. Rev. J. L. Houston said that Schade's making the remark did not prove it. He thought Senator Bayard had given his opinion conscientiously. Mr. Colclazer and Mr. Mowbray defended Mr. Bayard.

"A Girl's Choice."

It was in a drug store of course. All interesting incidents occur in drug stores—that is nearly all. She was pretty, with blue eyes and golden hair, one of that kind of beauties the poet would have called an "angel," but for the fact that a colony of pimples on her fair frontispiece precluded all thought of a celestial being. Bowing timidly to the handsome clerk, she asked for "Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases," and upon receiving it vanished like the morning dew before the Summer sun.

A Maryland Village in Ashes.

From Baltimore Sun.

The village of Prince Frederick, the county seat of Calvert county, Md., was nearly destroyed by fire last Friday evening, and of eighteen buildings of different description in the place only three remain habitable as a city. Among the burned buildings were a new Methodist Episcopal church and parsonage, the courthouse the Brentforn House hotel, the store of J. W. Shemwell & Bro., the law office of Jos. A. Wilson, John E. Benson and Jno. B. Gray, and the dwelling of S. R. King.

The fire started with the Methodist Church, Rev. J. P. Wilson, pastor. The edifice, a neat structure of wood, was to have been dedicated last Sunday week, and the workmen were putting the finishing touches on the interior. The Methodist Episcopal parsonage, adjoining the new church, and occupied by Rev. Mr. Wilson and family, was soon destroyed, and the occupants saved nothing, not even their wearing apparel. Next the wind carried burning shingles a quarter of a mile distant to the dwelling occupied by Mr. S. R. King which was also burned. Mr. King lost everything, including a sum of money. The fire then became general, involving the hotel, courthouse, law offices, Journal newspaper office, storehouse of Shemwell & Bro., &c. In an hour and a-half, or by dusk, the place was in ashes except the jail which is a log structure in rear of the court-house, the dwellings of Mrs. Dowell and Mr. Shemwell, and an old house built by Judge Magruder.

Mr. Somerville Sollers, clerk of the county court, was in his office in the courthouse and saved some papers, but with these exceptions all the county records were lost. Every book and paper in the county commissioners' office, and the office of the register of wills were burned up. In the clerk's office all the original papers were lost, and a great many records, running as far back as 1650, and many papers of great interest relating to the early history of the county. These records and papers were invaluable, and their loss will cause inconveniences and expenses that will be felt for many years.

The loss by fire is estimated at $50,000, and is a calamity from which Prince Frederick will not emerge for a long time to come.

The Money Kings.

The tax assessors of New York in making out their lists for this year, show in what quarter we are to look for the colossal incomes. Thus: William B. and John Jacob Astor are rated at receiving $11,500,000 per annum; William H. and William K. Vanderbilt (exclusive of their Fifth avenue residences), $3,250,000; New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Company, $9,500,000; the Goelet estate, $5,750,000; shareholders Bank of America, $3,250,000; corporation of Trinity Church, $2,500,000; Arnold, Constable & Co., $4,250,000; shareholders Chemical Bank, $3,000,000; ex-Governor Morgan, $1,000,000; Elizabeth Burr, $1,200,000; shareholders Fourth National Bank, $3,000,000; Mutual Life Insurance Co., $1,200,000; Moses Taylor, $1,900,000; National Bank of Commerce, $5,500,000, and so on.

A Crisfield Calamity.

CRISFIELD, MD., March 8.—Miss Lillie Roach, daughter of the Hon. William Roach, was very seriously and painfully shot recently at the residence of Captain John Miles, near this place. The shooting was occasioned by the accidental discharge of a pistol in the hands of William Berry. Berry, thinking all the chambers of the pistol were empty, pointed it at Miss Roach, and playfully telling her he was going to shoot her pulled the trigger, when, to the great consternation of all present, it was found the pistol was loaded. Miss Roach is wounded in the left breast, but the doctors do not think the breast-bone is penetrated, and have hopes of her recovery.

Twenty Thousand Sufferers.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The Secretary of War has received the following dispatch from L. H. Mangum, Commissioner for Arkansas at Memphis, Tenn.: "Have issued 100,000 rations throughout overflowed country in Arkansas to about 15,000 sufferers; will last seven or eight days; affairs very alarming; suffering on the increase; will continue so from forty to fifty days under the most favorable circumstances There are not less than twenty thousand sufferers from overflow in Arkansas."

General Ignatieff's Little Scheme.

LONDON, March 8.—The Times this morning printed a letter from St. Petersburg which it says it has the best reason for knowing accurately describes the situation. The letter declares that General Skobeleff's speeches were pre-arranged between him and General Ignatieff. It is said that the object of the latter is to embroil matters to such a degree as to create an opportunity for him to offer his services to the Czar as Minister of Foreign Affairs in order to straighten them.

Carter's Little Live Pills are free for all crude and irritating matter. Concentrated medicine only; very easy to take; no pain; no griping; no purging.

Carrying the Thing Too Far.

From the New York Sun.

Another curious feature of the readjusted government in Virginia is that the Legislature devotes its time to fighting over the offices and adjourns without providing for the support of the government. This is carrying the readjustment of things too far even for the Readjuster Governor and he has called the Legislature together again.

IT IS A FOOLISH MISTAKE to confound a remedy of merit with quack medicines. We have used Parker's Ginger Tonic with the happiest results for Dyspepsia, and Debility and know it to be a sterling health restorative. Times.
