THE [illegible] thinks the STAR [illegible] Senator Hamilton's race. We have no stock in the concern.

Adjournment of Congress.

All the appropriation bills have been passed, and Congress will doubtless adjourn [illegible]

THE Sandy [illegible] for Robeson's corrupt jobs while on [illegible] the naval appropriation bill. [illegible] them all off, and Robeson [illegible] his hankering when the [illegible] the House.

THE Republicans are greatly alarmed by the state of their affairs in Maine. There is a fair prospect at present that they will lose the governor, the legislature, one or two members of Congress and a United [illegible] Mr. Blaine is going [illegible] to stem the tide by making twenty speeches. Perry Belmont [illegible] company him.

Fighting in Egypt.

The [illegible] resistance in force on [illegible] to feel Arabi's strength. They encountered the Egyptians on the canal, when a sharp fight ensued, about 2,000 on each side being engaged. The English artillery was too much for [illegible], who promptly retired. General Alison says his reconnoissance [illegible]

IT is to be hoped that the poisonous Ague medicine [illegible] their day. Arsenic and quinine [illegible] desirable commodities to carry about in one's system, even for [illegible] displacing the [illegible] produced Fever and Ague. Ayer's Ague Cure is a antidote for the Ague, and is perfectly harmless, leaving the system in as good condition as before the Ague was contracted.

The Agony Over.

U. Irving Ditty, ex-confederate soldier and ex [illegible] has been appointed Internal Revenue Collector for Baltimore, vice [illegible] Ditty, [illegible] take the Statistics, his old enemies, another black eye. The Republican committees from Baltimore come will visiting the President now for awhile.

THE gold [illegible] of Washington pay the President retired the River and Harbor bill because he found in it a large appropriation to clear the obstructions out of Salt river, and Mr. Arthur could not find [illegible] map. His Republican friends in the House and Senate [illegible] the country [illegible] them next November, and the whole Republican party would probably find it in 1884. So the bill river appropriation carried bill over the veto.

Designing Villainy.

When you go to your druggist to buy Simmons Liver Regulator, look [illegible] offers you some counterfeit with a similar name, [illegible] thing is vile and [illegible] him all no [illegible] you the genuine in white wrapper, with red Z trademark, prepared by J. H. Zeilin & Co. The only expect such a dealer can have is the fact that he makes an extra twenty-five cents per bottle, gives the article a cheap and counterfeit article which may do you positive injury.

Passage of the River and Harbor Bill over the President's Veto.

On Wednesday last Congress took up [illegible] it over the veto of the President. It required a two-thirds vote in each branch to prevail. In the House, the vote was [illegible] nays. In the Senate the vote was [illegible] nays. The bill then [illegible] President refused [illegible] Senator Gorman, and all of the Maryland Representatives except Mr. Covington, who was absent, voted to override over the President. Senator Groome would have voted [illegible] but he was absent when the vote.

THE gold [illegible] New York city appear to be in high [illegible] over the President's veto of the River and Harbor bill [illegible] They are talking about holding an indignation meeting, to [illegible] Congressmen [illegible] Thus, the vote as a whole [illegible] by any one. Apparently it would be a rebuking Christian [illegible] worse than accepting the bill. When New York and New [illegible] to obtain [illegible] to the state [illegible] the appropriations. But it is altogether different when large appropriations are made for the harbor of Baltimore, and [illegible] of the banks of the Mississippi river, to prevent destructive floods and great loss of property. We think Southern Democrats in Congress were right in voting for almost any kind of a river and harbor bill, to secure some important appropriation for their own section. It is all right, say northern people, to throw away several hundred or a thousand millions of dollars to pension and back pay soldiers, who have been pensioned and paid two or three times over, but an appropriation of eighteen millions, to make necessary improvements in rivers and harbors, not for the exclusive benefit of New York, but needed for the commerce of the balance of the [illegible] is a great outrage. We are doubtless some items in the bill which [illegible] not to be in it, but Congress had too much sense to stop all the works begun, and refuse to commence [illegible] because of these objectionable items; and the executive of [illegible] objectionable items should say it was very important to the particular localities they are intended to benefit.

We opine that what hurts the New York [illegible] of $10,000 in the bill, looking to the ultimate construction of a Maryland and Delaware ship canal. They feel that this appropriation is nothing more or less than giving New York a slick off, and they have one in terrible without mentioning [illegible] national importance, and it is bound ultimately to be built; and they might just as well submit to the inevitable with a good grace. The people are being fast educated up to the fact, that there are other parts of the country besides New [illegible] and New York entitled to be benefited by the national appropriations, and hereafter they intend to have them even if the annual appropriations for rivers and harbors have to be doubled in order to secure them. The government destroyed the levies on the Mississippi river during the war, and it is right that the Government should rebuild them. The $4,000,000 appropriation for the purpose in the vetoed bill is a needful and proper appropriation, and should be followed by [illegible] river is fully protected against [illegible] if engineering skill can accomplish it.

This Means Business.

The Republican State Committee which met in Baltimore last week appointed a Finance Committee, and passed the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the members of this committee devote their earnest efforts toward the registration of every republican voter in the State; that the finance committee be authorized to give such aid as may be deemed necessary; that the chairman be authorized to call upon the members of the committee from each county to carefully urge the importance of the matter upon each county committee."

"Mr. Smoot has well notify the county committees by circular on this subject."

THE Tariff Commission is having a good time. It has loafed at Long Branch and invited everybody that presumes to know anything about the tariff, to call and tell the commission what they know. Such manufacturers as want the tariff raised on goods they are interested in are availing themselves of the invitation. The manufacturers of linen goods have already made a demand for a raise of the tariff from 35 to 75 per cent. on their goods. If the country gets any tariff reform out of Mr. President Arthur's commission, it will be agreeably disappointed. At present it appears to be working in a directly opposite direction from what was expected of it when the bill was passed creating the commission.

IN his veto message of the River and Harbor bill, President Arthur plainly tells congress it does not know where to place the money so as it will do the most good; but he says that he and the Secretary of War know exactly where to go place it; and he advised Congress to pass a ten million River and Harbor bill, and place the money at their disposal, and it would all be right! This is certainly cool for August weather. Why not have all the appropriation bills lumped in the same way, to be expended as the President may see fit. His suggestion is nothing more or less than a proposition to Congress to abdicate its constitutional functions, and place a monstrous power in the hands of the President! It is enough to make a patriot's blood boil to read such a proposition deliberately made by the President of the Republic.

IT looks now as if England and Turkey might go to war before the Egyptian question is settled, in which event Russia would be sure to have a finger in the pie, as the ally of Turkey. When she once gets her army at Constantinople, it will probably stay there, and the Turks will have to leave. Once in possession of the Bosporus, Russia could hold Constantinople against all Europe. She wants that part of the Turkish possessions and so she gets it, she will not scruple about the means. She would propably hold it as indemnity for aiding Turkey to drive the English out of Egypt. Austria could be bought off with territory on the Adriatic and Bismark satisfied by giving Germany a slice of Russia-Poland. France and Italy are too weak to make any fuss over these arrangements. Italy might be given the Tyrol, which she is very anxious for.

"Pro Bono Publico."

It is a remarkable fact, that while thousands of people refuse to read paid puffs of worthless nostrums, acres skips over Dr. Swayne's little squib about his Ointment for Itching Piles that itch so much at night. The people well know that it is published for their benefit, in other words it is Pro Bono Publico. May its far reaching effects be perpetuated to the end of time.

The total wheat crop of Minnesota this year is estimated at about 40,000,000 bushels, an increase of more than 7,000,000 bushels, on the yield for 1881. The corn crop is estimated at about 32,000,000 bushels, the same as last year; barley, 6,000,000 bushels, an increase of 2,000,000; and oats 36,000,000 bushels, an increase of 8,000,000.
