THE EASTON STAR

There has recently been a new registration of voters in local throughout the state. The lists for voting precincts in Baltimore have all been changed. The ring, which has for some years managed the democratic party of the State, has been shattered. Few constitutions are to be found and it is safe that to take place. If the democratic party carries the city of Baltimore at the next election it will probably hold it for some years to come, and the politics of the city will be a large measure control the politics of the State, and it will be good or bad just as good or bad men, overall, in the coming struggle in the party in the city.

Under these changed circumstances, it is of vital importance to the well being of the democratic party, the city of Baltimore, and the people of the State, that none but the best men should be put forward for office in the city of Baltimore, so that the party there shall be thoroughly purged of the last taint of corruption and fair dealing prevail to party as well as in business politics. The Baltimore Sun, ever alive to the best interests of the party and the city, and always standing on a high moral plane, has come forward as the champion of an improved party organization, and is showing conclusively that the old methods must be abandoned if the leaders of the democratic party in Baltimore expect to hold the city and command the confidence of the people of the country. The Sun is occupying an advanced, and, let it be on such solid ground, and so well fortified by common sense, that its position is impregnable. The democratic party of the city cannot be too careful in making up its slate. None but the very best men should be nominated, and, in order to do this the business men of the city should make their influence felt in the organizations. If they absent themselves from the primaries and allow the rough element to make the ticket, they will have no right to complain if they get sick. They expect other to look for them. The way to secure a good ticket is for those who desire it to attend the primaries. It looks to us that the path of duty is plain for the democratic party of Baltimore, and if it comes up to the requirements indicated by the Sun it will carry the city by a large majority and hold it as long as it shall deserve, or at least as long as it shall keep its hands clean of the taint of corruption.

The Ledger complains that the STAR has treated the Democratic party in giving up its inconsistent "jumping" about like a chicken with its head cut off. If democratic principles and strategy, the Democratic party it should not.

"Wire in and wire out,
And leave the people still in doubt."

Whether the snake that made the track is going South or coming back, we know not. We do know that should plant Rest on principle, and stand by it in season and out of season, with the firmness of the Duke of Wellington on the field of Waterloo. The opposition will be in the high fire in November. The doubting Mr. Gorman one week writes "double extra supplement" and then deserting him the next and leaving him in the lurch, recalls the little boy in Punch's caricature of Lord John Russell, who chalked "No Popery!" on his door, and then ran away as fast as the little legs could carry him.

The "flopping" of the Ledger under his present Administration reminds us of a circumstance that occurred during the late civil war. The tide-water counties of North Carolina were known as the "Buffalo counties," and were repeatedly visited alternately by detachments from both armies. An old farmer lived down there who always "flopped" over to the strong side, but like the Ledger was liable to make a mistake in his calculations. On one occasion he was visited by some union troops and rebel guerillas. He entertained the union men handsomely, and was loud in his praises of Old Abe and the South. Of course, they took stock and cleaning him out generally. Some time after wards the old farmer was visited by some rebel soldiers, and he gave them the best he had in the larder, and was lavish in his praises of Old Jeff and the union. After partaking of his hospitality, informed him that they were a guerilla foraging party, and considering all such disloyal people as subjects for spoliation, they cleaned him out of his live stock and took their departure.

The old man was nonplussed. He had discovered that "loyalty" didn't pay. He had not seen so far into a millstone as he thought he could. He determined to fall back on his dignity and never again to show his hand to strangers. Not long afterwards he was visited by another foraging party, but the old fellow was very reticent. At last they asked him "old man what's your politics any way?" His prompt answer was, "not much of anything, and d——— little of that."

Now, if the Ledger does not stop its kiting and stick to its integrity, Democrats will begin to think it "not much of anything, and d——— little of that." If it advocates as "unpledged ticket" it should vote for what it advocates. If it hoists the standard of its favorite, it should stand by him as long as there is a drop of ink in the bottle. If it is for the "Ring" it should make the welkin ring with the "Ring." If it is anti-ring it should spare neither bosses nor managers, but preach "Reform" as lustily as a Washington county Governor. To preach one thing and do the opposite exhibits an inability to distinguish in an organ of public opinion. The people have no use for equivocators in politics, and the newspaper that aspires to the organship of a great party should be above playing the Jeremy Diddler for the amusement of its followers. People cannot have confidence in a paper that is constantly "hunting with the hare and holding with the hound."

We have a good respect for the Ledger, and must protest against its indulging in antics calculated to impair its influence with the Democracy of the County. We have nothing to say about its personal affairs, but the Democracy of this county in the interests of the Democrat party we have a right to kick in being all things to all men and false alike to all.

Much serious sickness and suffering might be prevented by promptly curing those slight derangements that otherwise, often develop into settled disease. When a cold or other cause checks the operation of the sensitive organs, their natural healthy action should be restored, and inflammatory material removed from the system. Ayer's Pills accomplish this quickly, easily and surely.

General Wolsley after Arabi with a Sharp Stick.

After taking possession of the Canal, Sir Garnett Wolsley had commenced advancing on the Egyptians from Ismailia. On Thursday 2,000 Egyptians and 10,000 Arabs and held their ground. The English army advanced, defeated the Egyptians, and captured the camp at Mahsamah railway station, taking five Krupp guns, 25 railroad cars laden with provisions, and a large quantity of ammunition and rifles. The British loss was but trifling.

CHILDREN (from cradle upward) suffering with Chilblains and Tonic to meet approaching sickness, Simmons Liver Regulator will relieve colic, headache, sick stomach, indigestion, dysentery and complaints incident to childhood. The printed directions are easily followed by any one. Let the children take the regulator and keep well. It is purely vegetable, not unpleasant to the taste and safe to take either alone or in connection with other medicine, being perfectly harmless.

It is estimate that the surplus of wheat for export this year will be 150,000,000 bushels. The largest amount exported in any former year was 100,000,000 bushels.

RICHARD GARLAND, indicted in Lunenburg County, Virginia, for murdering Joseph Addison, in April, some time ago, has been acquitted.

GOV. HAMILTON has appointed Mr. G. Harlan Williams Supervisor of elections for Baltimore, vice James Hodges, declined.

MY WIFE SAID I WAS A FOOL—when I brought home a bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic. But when it broke up my cough, drove away her neuralgia and cured baby's dysentery she thought I had made an excellent investment.

The action of Carter's Little Liver Pills is prompt, mild and natural. They gently stimulate the liver, and regulate the bowels, but do not purge. They are sure to please.

A Great Work Just Completed!
The Popular Want at Last Supplied!

The "People's Cyclopedia" or universal knowledge is the greatest, latest and cheapest work of the kind ever published. It contains 3,000 pages, 4,000 illustrations, 1,000 maps and hosts of features now first offered to the public. It has 10 editors, 200 contributors and is a life-time compilation of matter to any one or family. It contains the wide research of such men as Dr. Lyman Abbott, President Noah Porter, Prof. Sylvester, Inventors and Mechanics, and has received the highest commendation from science in many of the schools, also from the press of reference. Bishop Hendricks says:—"the value of its information is inestimable and it has the ring of the hammer of truth upon it." Bishop Williams says: "It seems to me a marvelous work, and I wish it a wide circulation." Prof. F. Newman says: "I examine the section on Mechanics and other great works at a venture and find them very good." Hon. E. B. Washburne, ex-minister to France, says: "I find it a most valuable work." Hon. Wm. Cullen Bryant says: "I find it very low for a better work can be made." Hon. Schuyler Colfax says: "It is certainly one of the best, if not the best, work of the kind I have seen." Hon. Wm. Pitt Fessenden says: "I find it very low for a better work can be made." Hon. Wm. Dennison says: "It is a marvelous work, and I wish it a wide circulation
