Hon. John M. Robinson,

For Associate Judges,

Hon. Frederick Stump,

ELECTION—Tuesday, November 7th, 1882.

WANTED,

AT THE STAR office, a young printer with some experience in the business.

To the Polls! Democrats! To the Polls! And vote for Covington and the old Judges.

THE election commences this morning at 8 o'clock. Let no Democratic vote be lost. Vote for the old Judges.

WORK while it is day, lest the night cometh, when no man can work. Work, Democrats, and let no vote be lost. Vote for Covington.

THOSE who want the internal revenue system, with all its frauds and plunderers abolished, will go to the polls to-day and vote for Covington for Congress. Vote for the old Judges.

THE Republicans can only be defeated in Easton district to-day by every Democrat going to the polls and voting for Covington and the old Judges. Vote for the full Democratic ticket, and vote early.

THOSE who want such a modification of the tariff as shall relieve the farming interests of their heavy burdens of taxation, will go to the polls to-day and vote for Covington. Vote for the old Judges.

THOSE who want justice and right to be maintained in our courts—who want the laws administered as they are, without fear, favor, or partiality, will go to the polls to-day and vote for the old judges. Vote for Covington.

THE Park Theatre in New York was destroyed by fire last Monday evening week, only about an hour before Mrs Langtry, "the Jersey Lily," was to commence her first performance in this country. She witnessed the fire from her hotel, where she was packing her wardrobe, to send to the theatre. The loss is estimated at $250,000

THE imputation attempted to be cast upon the Judges of or Court by the scribblers of the Gazette, in falsely alleging that they have not enforced the local option law in the cases brought before them, will fall to the ground with the contempt it deserves, as everybody in this county knows that the law has been strictly enforced. Vote for the old Judges and nail this slander to the counter.

GOV. HOYT, of Pennsylvania, came out last week in a letter to Mr. Wharton Barker, of Philadelphia, openly endorsing and supporting Stewart for Governor and the Independent Republican ticket. This is the last and fatal nail in Don Cameron's coffin. The Cameron dynasty has ended in Pennsylvania. The best thing the Senator can do now is to buy a farm on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, and go to farming.

THE American Union is informed that, when the STAR speaks of polling votes, it is understood here in in Talbot as referring to voting. Polling Republican votes in Caroline may mean counting them without first having been registered or voted, but we have not arrived at so learned a trick on this side of the Choptank. We hope the talk of giving a large majority for the Republican ticket in Caroline does not imply that it is to be done by the Union's way of polling votes.

FOR the first time since the Tarbutton-Woodall trial, the Gazette of Saturday attempts to throw the blame of the loss of the case by Mr. Woodall on the Judges who tried the case, while it is notorious in this community that Mr. Woodall had not a particle of proof to sustain his case. The Gazette has done this to aid in defeating the Judges it had before declared to be honest and impartial. Vote for the old Judges and nail this base slander to the counter.

THE American Union, of Denton, having charged Judge Stump as disregarding his judicial obligations, in nullifying the constitution, and referred to Mr. Edwin H. Brown, of Centreville, to substantiate its charges against the Judge, Mr. Brown published a letter in last Thursday's Union nailing the slander to the counter, by giving the proper interpretation to the constitution which had been entirely misapprehended by the American Union. Mr. Brown is a good witness for Judge Stump; but a bad witness for the Union.

JOSEPH H. GRAY, colored, politician and gentleman of leisure, is out in Saturday's Gazette in an address "to the colored voters of Talbot county, Md." Joe says to the colored brethren, "the age in which you live is full of terrible sublimity." He has probably been studying the comet—not the St. Michael's Comet—but the comet with the big fan-tail. After conducting the brethren through "academic groves," he pictures what the rising generation of darkeys are to be, namely, "the future statesmen, orators, lawyers, physicians, artisans and agriculturist of the land!" Oh! heavens! and winds up by declaring the highest duty of man to be—to "vote the Republican ticket." Joe is the wise man of the Talbot Republicans. He has an office bee in his bonnet, but the Republicans have not yet gratified his ambition. It is not unlikely that his great address of Saturday will put him on the track for a place in the Custom House.

Mexico and the United States by a Golden Spike.

The Arizona Star, published at Tucson, Arizona Territory, states that on October 26th, the ceremony of driving the "Golden Spike," connecting the New Mexico and Arizona railroad with the Sonora Limited, connecting this country and Mexico with rails of steel, took place at Nogales, on the border on the 25th of October. The spike was driven by Mrs. W. R. Morley and Mr. C. C. Wheeler, general manager of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad. An address was made on behalf of the Mexican government; a letter from Gov. Tuttle was read and translated; and Judge F. M. Smith made an address of Congratulation.

THE contest in Baltimore over the election of Judges is so fierce, the titles and parties are so split up and divided, it is impossible to make any reasonable calculations as to the result of the election. The Democrats believe they will elect their whole judicial ticket, but the Republicans are sanguine of electing Mr. Duffy. The Independents have but little hope of electing any of the disaffected Democrats they have put up for Judges. There appears to be a great deal of opposition to the Inde'nt ticket among Republicans, the two Republican papers in Baltimore, the American and Herald, being both against it. The Herald calls it the "Kangaroo ticket;" the American sneers at it as the "Sunflower ticket." We shall know to-morrow which wins. We have great confidence in the indomitable Democracy.

THE Gazette said on Saturday, that the only vote cast by Mr. George W. Covington at the last session of Congress was a vote for the River and Harbor bill. The Gazette is not well posted. Mr. Covington was sick and not in the House when that bill passed, and consequently he did not vote for it. He stated in the House, afterwards, that he should have voted for it if he had been well enough to have been in his seat. If the Gazette will take the trouble to examine the record, it will find that Mr. Covington voted for the measures proposed by the Democrats to reduce the taxes. And all those who desire a reduction of the tariff and other Federal taxes, should vote to-day for George W. Covington, and nail the Gazette's slander to the counter. The reason Mr. Covington has not canvassed the district this fall, he has been sick, suffering with an enlargement of the spleen, and his physician forbid his indulging in traveling and public speaking. Vote for Covington.

ON assuming the duties of the chair at the Music Hall Democratic meeting last Tuesday, Col. H. E. Bateman made the following appeal to the Democracy of Talbot county to stand firm and do their duty to-day to Democratic principles. After returning thanks for the honor conferred on calling him to the chair, he said:

"Although I have attended political meetings for a half a century, it has rarely happened that I have felt a deeper, or stronger interest, or greater anxiety for the success of the nominees of the Democratic party. The re-election of the present judges looks to me as a moral necessity, knowing as I do, that so much of the well being of the community, the safety of property, the protection of the weak, the administration of equal and exact justice to all, depends upon them. And knowing also, what has been their course in the past, I cannot but feel the deepest anxiety for their re election, and I am sure, gentlemen, you agree with me. While almost daily tidings of Democratic progress and Democratic victories reach us upon the wings of every mail, while the defeat of the Republican party appears to be imminent in the great States of Pennsylvania and New York, let us be careful, my fellow citizens, by untiring energy, to see that the First Congressional and the Second Judicial Districts take no step backwards, and beyond all, let us, the Democracy of Talbot, look well to the results as an improvement on the vote of 1880."

The Inconsistency of Man.

Scheming, diverse, and manifold advertisements of worthless goods will never attract profitable customers, only meritorious articles such as Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases are recognized and sought after by the people. Real worth always receives its just merit. A quack may profit for a while by imposing upon the public, but it is only a question of time when he will reach the efficacy of this great vegetable Ointment.

THE NEWS.

The aged Josiah Quincy, of Massachusetts, is dead.

Thurlow Weed, the veteran New York editor, is ill, and fast dying of old age.

United States Senator Harris, of Tennessee has been ill, but is convalescent.

Ex-Governor Thomas A. Hendricks, of Indiana, has been quite ill lately, but is better.

Gen. Crook told the Apaches at San Carlos on Thursday that they must learn how to make a living for themselves, and that they had made no progress in eight years.

We shall be able next week to tell who is elected. It looks now as if there was a good chance to bring out the STAR roosters, to crow over the election of a Democratic Congress.

Saturday evening wound up the campaign work of both parties throughout the country. To-day they will do the voting, and the poll will show which party worked the harder.

Ex-Gov. Wilard P. Hall died at St. Joseph, Mo., yesterday, aged 64 years. He became Governor of Missouri after the death of Gov. Gamble during the war and was in Congress before that time.

Lord Randolph Churchill, conservative, is considered the rising star in the British Parliament. He is said to be as clever as Lord Beaconfield, and is destined to be at the head of the Conservative party.

Despairing of electing Secretary Folger Governor of New York, President Arthur threw up the sponge in New York on Thursday and returned to Washington. The last hope of the Republicans in New York is to keep Governor Cleveland's majority from exceeding 50,000.

While ex Senator John B. Henderson and Henry A. Cunningham were arguing a case in the United States Court at St. Louis Friday they came to blows, Henderson knocked Cunningham against an iron pillar and then to the floor. One of his fingers was broken and two others dislocated. Judge Treat fined Henderson $20.

Virginia is new passing through an important political ordeal. The Demourats are making a prodigious effort to maintain the honor of the State, by redeeming it from Mahoneism, while Genl. Mahone and his Readjuster crew, aided by the assessments on Federal office holders and the Federal patronage in Virginia, are trying to sink the old Dominion in irretrivable dishonor. We truly hope that Boss Mahone may be overthrown to-day.

In New York one day last week, the wife of Dr. Sequin, an eminent physician of that city, murdered her three children and then committed suicide, in a fit of insanity. Although Dr. Sequin has been esteemed a high authority on the so-called science of alienism, strange to say he never detected the first symptom of insanity in his wife, and never dreamed her to be the least insane, until after the horrible tradegy. The case is one which must go far to knock into a cocked hat the kind of medical experts that figured in the Guiteau case.

What Eminent Physicians Say.

The Celegrated London Physician, Erasmus Wilson, says: "Several cases of incipient consumption have come under my observation, and they have been cured by a timely use of LIEBIG,s LIQUID BEEF TONIC."

ERASMUS WILSON, M. D., F. R. S.

"I have had the process explained by which the beef in this preparation is preserved and rendered soluble by the brandy employed, and I am satisfied this combination will prove a valuable adjunct to our pharmacopœia." (Signed)

ARTHUR HILL HASSELL, M. D., F. R. S. Pres. Royal Analytical Association, London, Russell Square, London, W. C. 3d January, 1868.

Since the date of the above analysis, and by the urgent request of several eminent members of the medical profession, I have added to each wineglassful of this preparation two grains of Soluble Cirate of Iron. T. COLDEN.

Correspondence of the Star.

After consulting that the readers of your valuable paper would like to hear something from Logan county, Illinois, and the scenery of the B. & O. R. R., I find an opportunity to say that I left Easton on the 6th of September, and after an exceedingly pleasant passage over the dark and deep blue waters of the Chesapeake Bay on the magnificient steamer Ida, of the Maryland Steamboat Co., I found myself in Baltimore on the following morning. After taking breakfast I boarded the cars for the west. The entire day was consumed in crossing Western Maryland, and on Tuesday night at nine o'clock I found myself in Grafton, West Virginia. Although many of your readers know no doubt more much better acquainted with the scenery of Western Maryland than I, I cannot write further without saying that the scenery on this part of the road surpasses all claimed by any other in the United States. It is gorgeous in the extreme. With the Cumberland Moustains forming a magnificent view on the one side, and the Potomac river on the other, is pronounced by all persons as far superior to any other they have seen. Changing cars at Grafton, we resumed our route through the Western part of West Virginia, but as darkness overshaded the lands your readers will pardon me for not describing this section of the country, but I am told it is dotted with thriving towns, and the soil is exceedingly fine for agricultural purposes. Nearly the entire state of Ohio was passed during the night but the people informed me that I passed throug a country noted for its beautiful residences and highly cultivated farms. Of course I was much disappointed in not seeing this country, and more so after hearing that she gave 20,000 Democratic majority at the election a few weeks since. But leaving political matters and the state of Ohio also, we were notified by the conductor as the sun extended its rays over the western horizon, that twenty minutes would be given for breakfast at Chicago Junction, a thriving and attractive town of several hundred inhabitants on the boarder line of Ohio and Indiana. The time having elapsed travel was again resumed through the northern part of Indiana which was crossed at noon on Wednesday the 13th. After passing Utica, Broomdale, New Baltimore and numerous other towns of commercial importance, we noticed on each side of the train sandbanks several hundred feet in height. The windows of the train were closed, and I was informed by one of the conductors that it would be impossible to pass unless they were closed, as the atmosphere for several hundred yards around was densely filled with blown sand. According to the schedule time we were due in Chicago at 9 o'clock, and just before reaching the city we passed a town of several thousand inhabitant, know as South Chicago. This place is noted for its industries of many descriptions and as building is increasing so rapidly it is the opinion generally that at no distant period it will be classed as a part of the great and populous city of Chicago. I have no doubt that your readers well know that this city ranks next to New York, in regard to her inhabitants. But referring to a commercial point of view, it is generally conceded that in a few years it will leave New York, from the fact that the country surrounding is finely adapted for agricultural purposes, with its broad fertile prairies, and many farmers who own land enough to enable each of them to ship corn to the amount of ten to twelve thousand bushels yearly and their average crop of wheat being from ten to fifteen thousand bushels. It is a rare instance to hear of a farmer who does not grow the amount named above. Leaving Chicago at 9:30, on the evening of the 13th, on the Chicago and Alton road, we were due in Lincoln, the distance of nearly 200 miles on the following morning. Many flourishing cities are passed on the route and it is surprising to notice their rapid development, especial the city of Lincoln, a place of ten to twelve thousand inhabitants. This is a remarkably flourishing town and very populous to the western people that Lincoln will in the course of a few years be quite a populous place. She has every opportunity of growing, bounded on every side by the wealthiest farming countries in the world. There are several coal shafts near the town, mills of various kinds, and has four or five Banks

Resuming my trip to its termination, the distance of ten miles, to New Holland, a flourishing little town, situated in West Logan county, has only been settled 6 years, has several hundred inhabitants, 3 or 4 large elevators, half dozen stores, and many other industries. But all of this can be easily explained, because it lies in a rich and productive country, settled by agriculturists who have grown immensely rich, one of whom is a man who came from Maryland in 1854 and to-day is the owner of several large and productive farms. He votes the Democratic ticket, and his party were exceedingly anxious to nominate him as a candidate for the Legislature this fall.

Much excitement prevails over the election which takes place here on the 7th, but it is generally a conceded fact that the Democrats will elect a majority of their ticket. I notice that Mayor Harrison comes out in the Chicago Times and says that Cook county and Chicago, which have heretofore been giving a majority of 10,000 Republican, will this fall give 5,000 Democratic. Several good Democrats have said to me that there will be gains throughout the entire State, and others say that the State will go Democratic. Ohio has been giving 40,000 Republican and recently gave a Democratic majority of 20,000, and the Democrats have a right to say that in '84 they will roll up a heavy majority for the coming President. Correspondence of the Star.

TUCSON, ARIZONA, Oct, 28, 1882,

Editor Star:—My previous letter was written f om Globe City, 100 miles North of this place. Globe City is one of the most promising mining towns in Arizona and contains a population of about 1,000 souls. It has one hotel, two newspapers, a banking house and several large stores Machinidze is brought in by ox and mule teams from Willcox on the Southern and Pacific R. R., 130 miles distant, and from Casa Grande, 100 miles, via Pinal, in burros across the Pinal Mountains. The town is supported mainly by three Copper Mining Companies, one of them the old Dominion Copper Company is now producing with one furnace 8 tons of copper a day, netting the company $1,600. Two other furnaces are now being erected. which will increase the product to over 500 tons of copper a month.

After remaining in Globe City two weeks I crossed the Pinal Mountains on a mule for Pinal. The celebrated Silver King Mine is situated within five miles of this place. It has produced about three millions within the past five years. The original locators, it is said, are indebted to an old white mule for the discovery. Four poispectors were crossing the Pinal Mountains with a pack mule. The mule threw off the load, and as the party stopped to replace it, one of them discovered a vein of mineral and upon digging a few feet they took out some specimens of native silver. They at once located the claim. After remaining at Pinal four days I rescied Florence on the 19th inst. This place is the county seat of Pinal county, situated on the Gila river. The town contains about 1,000 inhabitants, composed of Americans, Spaniards, Mexicans and Pima Indians. The buildings are generally adobe, one story high, with very thick walls. It has two hotels, two public schools, a catholic church and a weekly newspaper. The land in the vicinity is made very productive by irrigation. After leaving Florence I examined two copper mines in the Picacho Mountains, one of them having recently been discovered by a Papasso Indian. It will doubtless be a very valuable property when developed. On the 22d I reached Tucson. It is the chief commercial town of Arizona, being eligibly situated for trade on an elevated plateau in the valley of the Rio Santa Cruz, in the midst of a productive country and on the line of the Southern Pacific R. R., having an altitude of 2542 feet above the sea, 65 miles from the Mexican border. The location was selected by the spaniards as long ago as 1560, making Tucson one of the oldest towns in the United States. The city has an estimated population of 10,000 souls, mostly Mexicans and Americans. The houses are with few exceptions built of adobe, (sun dried bricks) one story high. The city is lighted with gas and water works have recently been completed. The streets, however, are very dusty, as no springing has yet been done. There are three hotels, two daily newspapers, a fine Court House, and several large stores. Near the center of the city is a Military Plaza, and not far off an old Catholic Church, built of adobe. There are also three other churches, Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist. Altogether Tucson is a curious place. Gambling is going on day and night, but I am told it is a very orderly place. The Mexican men wear very broad brimmed hats generally without coats and are a lazy set. The Mexican women wear no bonnets, but cover their heads and the greater portion of their faces with a black shawl. They are not pretty as a class, the only noticeable feature about them being their black eyes.

Yesterday I had the pleasure of meeting Dr. Edward White, a son of Dr. A. M. White of St. Michaels. He has been living here for a year or two. The railroad connecting the Southern Pacific R. R. with Guaymas, Mexico, on the Gulf of California, was completed on the 25th. A traveler can now ride from Quebec to the Gulf of California, being the longest distance one can travel continuously in the cars on this continent. From what I have seen and can learn I am satisfied Arizona will soon be the greatest producer of copper of any section of the United States.

I leave in a few days for Alamos, in the Southern part of Sonora, 210 miles South East of Guaymas, from which place I will write you. S.

THE

HANCOCK INSPIRATOR

THE BEST FEEDER KNOWN,

—FOR—

Stationary, Marine & Portable Boilers.

Has No Rival For Pumping Purposes

IS SIMPLE, RELIABLE AND ALWAYS IN ORDER.

CONSUMES LESS STEAM THAN ANY OTHER BOILER FEEDER KNOWN.

REQUIRES NO OILING.

They will lift water 25 feet, and deliver to boiler at comparatively High or Low Pressure, as desired. No adjustment required for varying steam pressures. Has no movable parts to get out of order.

One important advantage of the Inspirator over a pump is that all the steam required to operate it is condensed in the water, thereby heating it and returning it all into the boiler, and enabling us to feed hot water to the boiler without the use of a heater (although a heater can be used with the Inspirator as well as with a pump). The Inspirator requires no repairs, no oiling, and is noiseless in its operation, whereas a pump requires repairs, it has to be oiled, is usually noisy, and all the steam used in operation is wasted. The only loss of steam by using the Inspirator is by radiation from the pipes, and this is no greater with the Inspirator than with the pump.
