—The question has been asked us, "why is it that in a town as large as Easton there is not a Young Men's Christian Association?" Can any one answer?

—It has been suggested that the Pinkney Literary Society be resuscitated, and that they again favor the citizens of Easton with some of their popular entertainments.

—About 3,000,000 young men throughout the United States "swore off" yesterday and those who "fell by the wayside," ere the shades of night, numbered just 2,999,999.

—A dramatic association is being organized in this town by a number of young men. We understand they propose giving our citizens several performances during the season.

—Very little ice stored by private families as yet this season. It would be advisable to take advantage of the next cold snap and get in as much of the frozen aqua as possible.

—People had no reason to complain of the weather during Christmas. It was simply charming. Not so the roads, however; they were very muddy, and unpleasant to travel on.

—Lew Simmons' Minstrels, from Philadelphia, on Friday night, gave our theatre-going people two hours of genuine fun and some splendid music. It is the best troupe of the kind that has ever visited Easton.

—One of THE STAR employees received just twenty-two handkerchiefs from twenty-two different persons as Christmas gifts, and all the counties have not been heard from. He is wondering if there is not a job about it in some way.

—The Christmas gifts this year were superior in design to any we have ever seen. Among the most notable were the magnificent Christmas cards—which, by the way, are fast superseding the more costly Christmas boxes as presents.

—There is something soft and tender in the fall of a single snow-flake, but it always reminds us to look after our bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup—our old stand-by in the days of coughs and Colds—for we have always found it reliable.

—Antonio De Pasquale, the Fashionable Tailor, opposite M. P. Church, Easton, Md. All garments cut and made by him are guaranteed to fit, and made in the very best manner, and in the most fashionable style. feb28-1y

—We guarantee to show as fine assortment of Fire Place Heaters as ever shown in Easton by anyone, and will be pleased to show them to anyone in need of a Heater. We guarantee everyone to give satisfaction. NICHOLS & BRO.

—An Easton youth took a piece of bride's cake home the other evening to "dream on." He swears now that he will commit suicide before he would marry the ugly looking object he saw in his vision. Moral—Don't eat heavy suppers when you intend to sleep on a piece of bride's cake.

—Hayward & Brother, druggists, Easton, Md., have secured the agency for Pulmona, the greatest known remedy for coughs, colds, throat and lungs. Free from Morphia. A fair trial will convince any one of its efficacy. It is highly endorsed. Price 50 cents. oct24-6m

—Charley Collison, the old shoemaker and cobbler, wishes the public to know that he has not moved his shop with the beginning of the year, but is at his old stand, opposite Covey's stable, where he is prepared to do promptly all work in his line. Boots and shoes made to order, and old shoes repaired and made as good as new. Call and see him.

—Raffling is now the popular way of disposing of the more expensive articles of Christmas goods, which are left on hand when the holiday is over. It is a perfectly fair game. One fellow is sure to get a splendid bargain, which about fifty other fellows pay for; but all have an equal chance, and nobody is out of pocket more than 25 or 50 cents. The "Combination" raffle is the most popular, as every fellow that throws high enough, or low enough, is sure to get five or ten times the worth of his money, and the balance have the benefit of the circus free, after they have paid for their ticket.

—Be sure and write it "1883."

—A slim market Saturday morning.

—The Sheriff sells the Saunders house in Oxford to-day.

—The blacksmiths are kept busy "caulking" horseshoes.

—Prime dry corn was worth 62 cents in Baltimore on Saturday.

—Butter is worth 30 cents per pound, and eggs 25 cents per dozen.

—Best remedy in the world; see advertisement of Simmons Liver Regulator.

—Start out this year by paying the printer what is due him for your paper.

—For valuable information, read the advertisement of Simmons Liver Regulator.

—The two-inch fall of snow Saturday morning started the sleigh bells to jingling.

—Quite a number of Easton ladies received their gentlemen friends on New Year's day.

—Those in want of Hay should read the advertisement of Mr. F. G. Wright in another column.

—The best, the cheapest remedy in the world; see advertisement of Simmons Liver Regulator.

—The Methodist Protestant church will not be finished until February, when it will be re-dedicated.

—THE STAR tenders its readers the compliments of the season, and wishes them all a happy new year.

—On Saturday last Justice Nicols tried, convicted, and sentenced Jake Howard, colored, to 40 days in jail for wife beating.

—President Ensign, of the Maryland Steamboat Company, will please accept the thanks of THE STAR for a complimentary ticket for 1883.

—Mr. John S. Griffith has bought the two story brick dwelling and store on Washington street, so long occupied by Mr. Moses Herz as a clothing store.

—Mr. Joseph Haid, the well known Baltimore piano tuner, will be in Easton next week. Those wanting their pianos tuned should drop him a posta! card through the Easton postoffice.

—Mr. Samuel H. Willey, of the Ledger office, got out a handsome Christmas advertising sheet, which was well filled with interesting articles, and very creditable to the office from which it was issued.

—The Gazette came out in "blue and gold" on Christmas morning, but we can't say that we admire that style of newspaper work. It savors too much of the job office. It looked very well, however, and served to relieve the monotony of Easton newspaperdom.

—Old sailors say, if the Chesapeake bay does not freeze over before new year, it is not likely to freeze over during the winter. If the sailors' saying is true, the bay is likely to be open all this winter, which is a good prospect for those farmers who have not yet shipped their corn.

—Yesterday being a legal holiday, the commissioners of Easton did not hold their regular monthly meeting, which takes place on the first Monday morning of every month. They will meet to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock in their office in the Masonic Temple, when all persons having business with the Board are notified to attend.

—The first of the year is the time when everybody used to pay their printing bills. There are about a thousand we should like to hear from on the subject, and learn what they think of the old time custom. It used to be a very good one for printers, and we are sorry it has fallen into disuse. Come, gentlemen, let us renew the good old custom, and doubtless we shall all feel better by so doing.

—Following are the officers elect of Guardian Council, No. 510 Royal Arcanum: Regent, Wm. A. Pratt; Vice Regent, Thomas Hughlett; Orator, Rev. Robert Wilson; Secretary, S. E. Whitman; Collector, J. S. Robson; Treasurer, R. F. Walker; Chaplain, D. C. Avery; Guide, Wm. J. Biery; Sentry, Wm. T. H. Lee; Trustees, C. R. Leonard, Wm. E. Shannahan and Thos. S. Hayward; Medical Examiner, Dr. E. R. Trippe; Representative to Grand Council, D. C. Avery; Alternate, Wm. R. Martin.

—For sale, a few unbound copies of the "Customary Law." This new Code is "founded on the moral convictions and wishes of the community" and "forbids the doing what the law of the State allows." It is the "higher law," which overrides the "Statutory law," and has been prepared and revised with great care by the new "Legal Light," with explanatory comments on the law terms, "may" and "must," and a brief explanation of the "Darwinian law of Evolution," showing how "primary meetings" and "juries are fixed." Apply at the Gazette.

"The Best Practical Art Magazine.

The Art Amateur for 1883, judging from the publisher's announcement, will amply maintain its high reputation as the "best practical art magazine" of the day. To an abundance of beautiful, full-size working designs for painting, embroidery, wood-carving, and other art work, with copious practical illustrations for all classes of amateur artists, it will continue to add a profusion of charming illustrations of porcelain, furniture, needlework, and bric-a-brac, together with an endless supply of entertaining information on decorative and industrial art. Numerous artists' sketches will be published as usual; the leading exhibitions will be largely illustrated and piquantly criticised, and artists of merit will be biographically noticed. A series of beautiful embroidery designs from the South Kensington Royal School of Art Needlework, and a number of articles on china painting by Miss McLaughlin, of Cincinnati, will be published during the year. It is not too much to declare, with the London Academy (which places it above any magazine of the kind in England), that THE ART AMATEUR is a "marvel of variety, beauty, and cheapness." This opinion may be readily verified by sending thirty-five cents for a specimen copy to Montague Marks, Publisher, 23 Union Square, New York. The subscription price is $4 a year.

Public Business.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

EASTON, Dec. 26.—The Board met, President Willis presiding, Commissioners Tarbutton and Bartlett present. The Board was engaged in passing and paying accounts, and closing up the business for the year. Public Notice was authorized to be given of the days the Board will meet to hear appeals, and also for proposals for working the public roads in Easton district for the year 1883. The Board adjourned to meet again on Friday.

ORPHANS' COURT.—DECEMBER TERM.

EASTON, Dec. 19.—The court met, Chief Judge O. Hammond presiding, and Associate Judges Merrick and Rose present.

The Court passed an order ratifying the sale of the leasehold estate of William Green.

Sarah A. F. Chapman, administratrix of Wm. P. Chapman, passed her final accounts of debts sperate, administration and distribution.

Choice Tobacco.

While buying your Christmas notions and your New Year presents don't overlook the fact that good tobacco and fine flavored cigars are the one thing needful, that must not be forgotten. Men can do without mince pie, and sugar candy, and plum pudding, but they can't do without tobacco. They must have their plug or cigars, their pipe or cigarette, or they will be as restless and unhappy as a confined tiger. The place to find all the fines. brands of cigars, and the best chewing tobacco, the best fine cut, and those famous brands of smoking tobacco, Durham and Bob White and Westward Ho, is at William W. Benton, opposite the frame hotel. He has a nice stock, and sells as cheap as any one on the street. Give him a call and buy a supply and you will be sure to try him again when you want more.

James Vick.

From the appearance of VICK'S FLORAL GUIDE, which is on our desk, we should judge that the young Vicks are "chips of the old block," as the FLORAL GUIDE with its lithographed cover is handsome enough for the parlor table. It is printed on the best of paper, has three colored plates of Flowers and Vegetables, and full of useful information. Those who send 10 cents for it cannot be disappointed, as the plates alone are worth the amount. Address, as in past years, James Vick, Rochester, N. Y.

Many Wonder How Parker's Ginger Tonic can perform such varied cures, thinking it simply essense of ginger, when in fact it is made from many valuable medicines which act beneficially on every diseased organ. See other column.

Cattle Wanted.

The Men Who Never Advertise.

Sing, business muse, the dark and doleful fate
Of him who labors but that he may wait:
The piles of goods heaped up within his store;
Which can't be less, and never may be more;
The man whose life has lost all fortune's prizes;
In fact, the man who never advertises.

Sing of his start, his great ambition's scope,
The capital that gave him cause to hope,
His credit large, his full and ample stock,
His bank account as solid as a rock;
Then tell the doom to which the man was fated
Who never advertised, but simply waited.

So simply, and so vainly! Splendid signs,
Which basement art irradiates and refines,
Plate glass show windows elegantly dressed,
Such lovely clerks, cashiers, and all the rest,
Served but to show him how the public sizes
The style of him who never advertises.

He waited, and all waited; clerks, cashiers,
Salesmen, saleswomen, such delightful dears,
Impatient waited all the season through,
With precious little for the crowd to do.
The public saw—that fact there's no denying—
But passed the store without a thought of buying.

Business was dull, but salaries and rent
Went on till cash and credit both were spent;
The silly merchant hoped his luck would turn,
Until the Sheriff closed the whole concern.
Now, at a pittance which his soul despises,
He works for one who always advertises.

The January Century.

"A Look into Hawthorne's Workshop" is a most remarkable feature of the January Century, when we consider that the paper consists of the most interesting portions of Nathaniel Hawthorne's own posthumous notes for a romance. The notes are published here for the first time, the original manuscript, in Hawthorn's minute and difficult hand-writing, having been lent to the Century by Mr. Julian Hawthorne. In these gropings after a satisfactory plot and characters Hawthorne displays, in the most fascinating manner, every characteristic of his genius.

Professor Wallace, the noted English scientist and author of "Island Life," contributes an important estimate of "The Debt of Science to Darwin," which interprets the theories of Darwin, and says the only name with which his can be compared, in the whole domain of science, is that of Newton. The frontispice of the number is a striking portrait of Darwin, engraved by Johnson, after a photograph taken by the scientist's son; views of Darwin's home and his study are also given. Another Englishman, Frederick W. H. Myers, writes briefly upon the personal and literary influence of the late Dean Stanley.

Prompt Payment.

The late J. J. Jump died on the 6th of December and the Arcanum, of which he was a member, paid the amount due the dependants named in his Benefit Certificate on Tuesday, December 26th, just twenty days after his decease, as the following receipt will show:

EASTON, Md. Dec 26, 1882.

This is to certify that I have this day received from Robert F. Walker, treasurer of Guardian Council, No. 510, Royal Arcanum, Order No. 582, on E. A. Skinner, the Supreme Treasurer of that organization, for three thousand dollars ($3,000) for the late J. J. Jump's children, Mary S., John W. D., and Edmund Percival Jump, being the full amount due on Benefit Certificate, No. 12,665, held by the deceased.

ROBERT S. FOUNTAIN,

Trustee named in Benefit Certificate.

We understand that the money has been invested in a first mortgage.

Serious Shooting Affray in Broad Creek Neck.

On Wednesday night last, during a festival at Chatham Chapel, in Broad Creek Neck, a disturbance arose among some of the young men present, which resulted in the shooting of James Burton Niblett, son of Thomas J. Niblett, by a young man named Tyler, son of Mr. John Tyler, residing in the neighborhood. It seems that during the altercation a pistol was drawn by one of the Tyler's, and whilst young Niblett was attempting to protect himself from the threatened danger he was shot by Tyler's brother. The ball entered just under the chin on the side of the neck and lodged in his throat, where it remained at last accounts. The doctors regard the condition of Niblett as serious. Young Tyler was arrested and arraigned before Justice Neavitt, by whom he was held to bail in the sum of $300 for the action of the grand jury.—[St. Michaels Comet

Change of Base.

Mr. William J. Golt has moved his harness shop to the carriage factory of Mr. R. S. Fountain.

Mr. Henry Waikart has moved his bakery and confectionery store to the room next to the frame hotel, vacated by Mr. Golt.

Mr. Thomas C. Nicols has taken the spacious storeroom lately occupied by Messrs. D. C. Avery & Co., where he will keep a full line of hardware and agricultural machinery, stoves, carriage material, robes, and sportmen's goods.

"An Ambitious Individual."

"Oh! I'm boiling over to do some good act," shouted a politician the other day, as his red nose protruded from a face ornamented with unhealthy blotches. "Well, sir," replied a friendly listener, "unless you want to be an animated sign for a drug store, and make the passers by sick, I would advise you to use Swayne's Ointment and be cured of that skin disease." The ambitious man acted upon the advice, and is now a living exemplification of what this excellent remedy can accomplish.

Real Estate Sales.

Through the agency of Charles E. Shannahan, the following sales have recently been made: The farm of Mrs. Helen J. Andrew, in Bayside, about two miles from St. Michaels, to N. B. Brown, of Philadelphia, 55 acres, for $4,000, cash. The Hickory Ridge farm, 2½ miles from Easton, by John Chilcutt, to Wm. Slye, of Iowa, 140 acres, for $8,500. Also the farm in Chapel district, near Cordova, lately owned and occupied by Wm. Slaughter, to J. Thomas Wilkins, of Kent county, Md., 100 acres, for $2,850.

On Thirty Days' Trial.

The VOLTAIC BELT CO., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed. jan2-y.

Special Notice.

Those subscribers who have received their bills from this office, will oblige us by bringing them with them when they call to pay them, as it will save us the trouble of making out new bills. These bills have been rendered because we need the money, and we will be very much obliged if they are paid as early as possible.

Eight Cases of Small-Pox.

There are at present no less than eight cases of small-pox in a small tenant house on the farm of Mr. N. P. Jenkins, Broad Creek Neck. Those suffering from the disease are all colored, a majority of whom are children, who were never vaccinated. The afflicted family occupy the house wherein the colored man, Moody, died a few weeks since.

Death of Mr. Silas Kirby.

Mr. Silas Kirby, an excellent old gentleman of Miles River Neck, who has been in feeble health for sometime, died at his residence near Tunis Mills on Sunday week. Mr. Kirby was a member of the M. E. Church, and was largely instrumental about a years ago in building the M. E. chapel at Tunis Mills. His death is a loss to the community.

Fire-Place Heaters.

We have arranged as they appear when put up, the following heaters: Sexton's Grand Heater, the handsomest heater in the market; the New Golden Sun, Sexton's Original Baltimore, and Old Style Golden Sun. If you call you can see all the leading heaters in the market. NICHOLS & BRO.

Farm Sold.

Mr. William Slaughter, of Cordova, has sold 100 acres of his home farm, including the mansion house and farm buildings, to Mr. Thomas Wilkins, of Kent county, for $2,850.

Anonymous Communications

Are among the principal worries of the country newspaper editor. Some people desire to express their views through the press on public affairs, but are so modest they do not want the public to know the writer; and so cautious are they, that they are unwilling even to trust the editor of the paper they address their communications to with their names. Such articles are naturally deposited in the waste basket, it being the editorial rule not to publish anything without a responsible name. Often these communications possess real merit, and editors would gladly publish them did the names of their authors accompany them. But there are exceptions to all general rules, and sometimes editors violate in this respect the rules of their own offices, by occasionally allowing one of these anonymous effusions to see the light, but they must be exceptionably good to receive such treatment.

We received on the Saturday before Christmas an anonymous letter, which, under our office rule, ought to be consigned to the waste-basket; but as the writer has ventured to travel out of the beaten track, we are tempted to relent, and permit it to see the light. But we hope anonymous writers will not take advantage of our good nature, shown in this instance, and inundate us with their effusions, unless their letters are closely followed by the expressman, as was the case with this one.

But we will say no more, and permit the letter to speak for itself. We will remark, however, that we promptly acted on the writer's suggestion, and now tender him a happy New Year. For his kind remembrance he has our sincere thanks, and we only regret that he has retained his "incog," and thereby prevented us from thanking him personally.

The following is his letter:

"T. K. ROBSON, Esq.

My Dear Sir and Friend:—I send you simultaneously with this note a box containing a turkey, as an humble token of my appreciation of your loyalty to Democratic principles and as a man, which you can dispose of on Christmas day for dinner, if you see proper.

I was afraid your supply of roosters had given out ere this, and knowing your good taste, and that you and your good wife could not subsist on such poultry as the Gazette lately furnished you with, my sympathies have been enlisted in your behalf, and prompted me to send you this small tribute. Hoping you have a supply of stock on hand, and that success may so crown your efforts, as to give a display of roosters to crow for us on the 6th of November, 1883. And wishing you and yours a happy Christmas and a prosperous New Year, I have the pleasure to be your friend. ANONYMOUS."

A New Bakery.

Mr. Robert T. Wrightson has rented the storeroom and bakery, at present occupied by Mr. Henry Waikart, and intends remodelling and otherwise improving them, with a view to running a first-class confectionery store and bakery. He has secured the services of a good baker from Baltimore, and expects to build up a trade upon the superior quality of his goods. He will open as soon as poessession can be obtained.

Holiday Presents.

It is the custom of all who can afford it to make Presents to friends and loved ones at least once a year, and a real good habit it is. The only matter that bothers givers is what buy. We come to the rescue, and suggest, is there anything more useful than a Suit for your boy or husband, especially when you can get quality, fit and the lowest prices in the State from C. N. OEHM & SON, Hanover and Pratt Sts., Baltimore.

Excellent Entertainments.

The St. Michaels Dramatic Association gave two excellent entertainments in the town hall, St. Michaels, to large audiences, on Thursday and Friday evenings last. The minstrel part of the programme was splendidly rendered. The farces and comedies were put on the stage in good style, and the entertainments were both an artistic and financial success.

Personal.

Mr. Henry A. Bateman, from the Baltimore & Ohio railroad office, spent his Christmas with friends in Easton.

Mr. Tilton Hemsley and family are visiting Gov. Thomas, Mrs. Hemley's father.

Mr. Jahn T. Lowe has gone South for the winter.

Printers on the Wing.

Mr. George O. Garey, of the North East Star; Mr. William L. Hall, of the James River Herald; and Mr. Milton A. Garey, of Philadelphia, spent their Christmas in Easton. They are all Easton boys, graduates of THE STAR office, and are doing well in their respective new homes.

1868. X-MAS. 1882.

Every citizen of the counties of Talbot, Queen Anne's and Caroline is hereby invited to come to our commodious and well supplied establishment and judge for themselves whether or not they can get better supplied in Holiday supplies and staple articles in our line than anywhere else on the peninsula.

In Books alone we have a larger and better selected stock than all the dealers on the shore combined.

In Fancy Articles we have the finest display of any store between the two bays.

In Fine and Staple Stationery, we carry the fullest stock of any house south of Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Our Holiday stock is selected from the largest and best importing houses in New York and other great cities. Come and see us and we will try to make you happy. Send us your address and we will send you a copy of our new and humorous illustrated paper, "Easton Christmas Bells."
