THE EASTON STAR

TUESDAY, JANUARY 9, 1883.

T. H. ROBSON, Editor.

L. JEFF. MILBOURNE & CO., Newspaper Advertising Agents, 136 West Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md., are authorized to contract for advertisements for THE STAR, at our best rates.

THE Russian press deplores the death of Gambetta as a loss to Russia and Europe.

YESTERDAY, the 8th, was the anniversary of the battle of New Orleans, where "Old Hickory" achieved immortal glory in 1815, and where the British general Packenham and his host of redcoats met their everlasting doom.

Now that Gambetta is dead, and Mr. Gladstone's public life is nearly spent, it would be a good time for Bismark to retire, and see how Germany could get along without him. His retirement would be a guarantee of peace.

GOV. BEN BUTLER's inaugural message is a scorcher. It is fifteen columns long, and peppers every abuse that has grown up in the State of Massachusetts under a long Republican rule. It contains many valuable recommendations. He concludes by saying he will not be a candidate for re election.

GOV. CLEVELAND has been inaugurated Governor of New York, and Governor Waller inaugurated Governor of Connecticut, and Gov. Butler inaugurated Governor of Massachusetts, and Governor Pattison will be inaugurated Governor of Pennsylvania next Tuesday—all Democrats. How's that for high!

WHY should the loss of Gambetta be feared as the death of the French Republic? A State should not be dependent upon the life of any one man for its liberties. Certainly there is some great mind in France capable of filling his place, in controlling the turbulence of the fierce elements of the extreme left in the Assembly. We shall soon see what is to be seen.

THE Mayor and Board of Health of Baltimore have gone to work vigorously to try and stamp out the small-pox which has become epidemic in parts of the city. The quarantine hospital is already crowded with patients. Mayor Whyte has appointed vaccine physicians with orders to vaccinate the whole population of the city not already protected against the disease.

THE Gazette's "" correspondent, who pleads lustily for the continuance of the Jay Hubbell corrupt assessment business, is answered by the late decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the Curtis case, and the Senate's civil service reform bill, which passed the House, unamended, last Thursday. What do we want with political assessments here? This district is soundly Democratic, and we want no political assessments to change it. It is good enough as it is.

HON. GEORGE HAWKINS WILLIAMS, of Baltimore county; Hon. Charles B. Roberts, of Carroll county; Hon. Henry W. Archer, of Harford county; Hon. William McKenny, of Queen Anne's county; Hon. Lemuel Showell, of Worcester county; Hon. Robert Ford, of St. Mary's county; Hon. Wm. T. Hamilton, of Washington county; Hon. Ferdinand C. Latrobe, and Hon. Robert M. McLane, of Baltimore city, are all spoken of in connection with the Democratic nomination for Governor at the next State Convention.

Another State Defaulter.

Mr. M. T. Polk, the State Treasurer of Tennessee, is absent and a defaulter. Only $400,000 have gone where the woodbine twineth. The State legislature is holding an investigation of the Treasurer's office. Polk has been speculating in Wall street, and has gone to Mexico to wait for something to turn up. He is a nephew of President Polk, a graduate of West Point, 51 years old, and has a wife and a large family of children. Of course no interest is being paid on Tennessee bonds, due the first of this month. Polk only had $6,000 on hand in the treasury when he decamped.

Eighteen Convicts Drowned.

A dispatch from Raleigh, North Carolina, of the 3rd inst., gives the particulars of the drowning of 18 convicts, mostly colored, by the sinking of a flatboat loaded with convicts, while crossing the Tuckaseegee river. The drowned are a portion of 500 convicts hired by the State of North Carolina to work on the Western North Carolina Railroad. One of the two guards swam ashore; the other was rescued in an unconscious state, but resuscitated. The bodies of the unfortunate drowned people were recovered by twos and threes wrapped in each others arms. The sinking of the boat was caused by a panic among the convicts. Seeing water and ice in one end of the boat, they called out that she was sinking, and immediately they all rushed to the other end, and caused her to fill with water and sink. Fifty persons were on board. Thirty odd swam ashore. Those drowned could not swim.

An Eventful New Year's Day.

New Year's day this year was a day of some remarkable events. On that day occurred the death of the great French statesman, Leon Gambetta, the strongest orator France has produced since the days of Mirabeau. Elisha H. Allen, the Hawaiian Minister at Washington, died suddenly in the White House, and cut short the President's New Year reception. Samuel Colley, the mayor of Salem, Massachusetts, went out of office on New Year's day, and immediately went home and hung himself. Harry W. Bell, one of the editors of the Selma, Ala., Times, died on the same day from an overdose of chloroform taken by accident. William H. Baldwin, the chief commissioner of highways, of Philadelphia, whose term of office was about to expire, dropped dead on his way to the City Hall, where he was going to work for a re-election. Ex Alderman Samuel B. Lentz, of the same city, fell dead at the dinner table at his residence on Jefferson street while talking about Mr. Baldwin's sudden death. Rev. S. H. Deshon, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal church, at Meriden, Connecticut, died of blood-poisoning on New Year's day. Shortly after 12 o'clock on Sunday night, an attempt was made at Buffalo, New York, by some parties to blow up a church during a watch meeting by the firing of a cannon filled with powder and stones. No one was killed, but the front of the church was wrecked. The small pox having broken out in the Baltimore city jail, over 300 prisoners were let loose to prevent the disease from spreading. In Nova Scotia the New Year was ushered in by an earthquake. In New England there was a tempest of thunder and lightning. A meteor of remarkable size and brilliancy was observed from East Concord, New Hampshire. It appeared like a great ball of fire and exploded like a rocket. People were awakened from their sleep by their rooms being suddenly illuminated as by lightning.

A Monument for Baron DeKalb.

Senator Groome has secured the passage of a bill by the Senate appropriating $10,000 for the erection of a monument at Annapolis in honor of the distinguished Frenchman Major General Baron De Kalb, who was killed at the battle of Camden, in the war of the Revolution. The Congress of the Federation pledged the government to the erection of this monument in 1780, but no appropriation has ever been made for it by Congress. It is to be hoped that the bill will pass the house without opposition.

The Comptroller's Report.

Comptroller Thos. J. Keating will please accept our thanks for a copy of his Annual Report of the Treasury Department, to the Governor of Maryland, for the fiscal year ending 30th September, 1882. The receipts into the Treasury for the year were $1,924,481.47, less than the year previous by the sum of 73,156.61. The balance in the Treasury proper at the end of the year was $639,506.63. In addition to this sum there was cash to the credit of the free school fund, $18,520,47, and to the credit of the sinking fund $495.46, making a total in the Treasury in cash of $657,522.62. The investments during the year, in the bonds of the State, amount to $188,239.18, of which $25,600 were placed to the credit of the General Sinking Fund, and $162,639.18, in the Treasury Relief Sinking Fund.

The State debt, for which interest is to be provided, is $11,269,031.78, of which $401,529.18 have been, in fact, paid in advance and deposited in the sinking funds. The revenues of the State last year from all sources were $1,924,481.87. The whole disbursements for the year were $2,038,173.13.

Death of Gambetta.

Leon Gambetta, the French Republican orator, and statesman died on New Years' day, of the wound he received by the accidental discharge of a pistol last November. Gambetta was regarded as the ablest and most influential man in France, and his sudden death, in the prime of his manhood, has created a great sensation throughout Europe; some statesmen considering that his death will assure the peace of Europe, and others that it will endanger it. The French Government honored his memory by according him a State funeral.

He was born at Cahors October 30th, 1838, became a member of the bar in 1859, attained eminence in 1863 as an ultra-Liberal, and in 1868 became still more famous by his denunciation of the arbitrary measures of Louis Napoleon. He was elected a deputy in 1869 and became Minister of the Interior at the downfall of Napoleon, and afterward at Bordeaux assumed the general direction of the government during the siege of Paris. He has occupied various prominent positions under the republic, attaining that of president of the Chamber of Deputies in 1881. He was the real leader and minister during the Jules Ferry cabinet. His spirited foreign policy no doubt really caused the Tunisian war. He resigned the ministry in February last. Had he lived a few years longer, he would doubtless have been elected President of the Republic, to succeed President Grevy.

The weight of Gambetta's brain is 1,100 grammes.

Speeches were delivered at Gambetta's funeral in the name of the French government, the Chamber of Deputies, the bar and the government of the national defense. Delegates from French societies in Alsace have requested permission of Mr. Gambetta's family to erect a monument over his grave.

The Siecle, in replying to articles in the German press on the death of Mr. Gambetta, says those journals are mistaken if they suppose that the just claims of France die with Gambetta.

Madame Grevy placed the first wreath on Gambetta's coffin.

The Journal de Paris declares that convincing proof that domestic affairs had nothing to do with the pistol-shot wounded M. Gambetta will be published when the proper moment arrives.

It is estimated that 300,000 persons were present at the funeral of M. Gambetta.

The American legation had a wreath placed on Gambetta's coffin.

Victor Hugo carried a wreath to the Palais Bourbon, but before he reached the room containing the coffin his strength gave way, and he was unable to personally place the wreath on the coffin.

The Secret Out at Last.

It has long been a source of wonder, as to why Courtney failed to meet Hanlan in a sculling contest. The general explanatory argument was, that he feared the little Canadian. This opinion, however, is exploded by the authentic announcement, that on the days fixed for the race, Courtney was unable to sit in his shell, on account of the intense itching and soreness caused by the Piles. Having recovered through the use of Swayne's Ointment, he now announces that he will row Hanlan any time this Summer.

Locals from Third Page.

Local Option in Dorchester—A Physician Arrested for Alleged Violation of the Law.

The last grand jury of Dorchester county found six indictments against Dr. John Esgate, of Cambridge, for violation of the local option law, for Dorchester county, under subsection 1, which compels physicians to write all prescriptions for liquors in ink, and to number, date and keep a record of them for the inspection of the State's attorney and the grand jury, and also only to write such prescriptions when persons actually require liquor, under a severe penalty.

Col. Clement Sulivane is the counsel for Dr. Esgate, D. M. Henry, Jr., is State's attorney, and the cases were tried before Justice J. Henry Hooper. The doctor was found guilty in one case, from which decision Col. Sulivane appealed. He was acquitted in one case, and the other four will be tried by a jury. Dr. Esgate gave bond for $250 for his appearance at court. This law, and especially the section referred to, is denounced as an outrage upon the people by the most intelligent persons of that community.

Business in the County Clerk's Office.

J. Frank Turner, Esq., Clerk of the Circuit Court for Talbot county, during the year 1882, issued the following licenses: Marriage licenses 160, of which 97 were for white, and 63 for colored people; oyster tong licenses 304; scrape-boat licenses 51; traders' licenses 178; female traders' licenses 61; exhibition licenses 20; billiard tables 7; real estate brokers, 8; retail liquor licenses 2; peddler's licenses 2. There were 243 civil suits brought in the Circuit Court for Talbot county during the year 1882, and 29 suits in Chancery. There were 69 criminal presentments made in the Court, 599 deeds and mortgages and certificates of surveys, and 74 bills of sales recorded.

In the office of E. H. Roe, Register of Wills, there were 55 letters of administration and letters testamentary granted, 11 of which estates were closed within the year. 24 wills were probated.

Going to Wait for the Next Transit.

The following is told of a prominent young disciple of Justinian, of this town: During the recent transit of Venus, he with a number of his fellow-attorneys was viewing the spectacle through smoked glasses. While the rest saw the disc on the sun's surface, by some means his piece of glass failed to work, and, after looking very intently for several moments he became disgusted with the attempt and smashed his glass on the pavement, exclaiming as he did so, "I can't see the deuced thing; but I'll swear that I'll have the right kind of glass by the time Venus makes her next transit." A hearty laugh followed this speech, and the crestfallen fellow slunk away to his office, to indulge in Blackstone and Coke and to forswear looking at anything in the heavens. The cream of the joke lies in the fact that a transit of Venus occurs only once in a 100 years, but of this the young in wyer was ignorant.

Centreville has a gymnasium.

John E. Stanley, of Caroline county, died very suddenly week before last.

A new church is being built on St. Andrews church, in Queen Anne county.

Perry W. Roth, of Centreville, has been placed on the police force in Baltimore.

Capt. William H. Hamilton has been appointed postmaster of Chestertown, vice J. W. Collins.

Mr. Samuel D. Truitt wants to be State Librarian of Delaware, and the Delawarean, says he is sure to get the place.

Rev. W. C. Alexander, of Middletown, fell down the stairway of the Presbyterian Church, of that place, and was badly hurt. He narrowly escaped being killed.

Dr. Robert Wright, of Queen Anne's county, celebrated his 85th birthday on Christmas day, and Judge Carmichael his 75th. Both are hale and hearty, with a prospect of many years of life yet.

The legislature of Delaware met on Tuesday, and elected Samuel B. Cooper, speaker, and Charles Wiley, clerk, of the Senate; and George P. Bates, speaker, and E. W. Waples, clerk of the House. All Democrats.

The Sower.

Six Lectures Delivered in Christ Church, Easton, Md., in Lent, 1882. By Rev. Robert Wilson, M. D., Rector of St. Peter's Parish, Easton; Author of "Four Lectures on Confirmation." New York: Thomas Whittier, 2 and 3 Bible House, 1883.

We are indebted to the author, Rev. Dr. Wilson, for a copy of this very neatly printed little volume. We are sure that those who heard these lectures delivered orally will read them with pleasure and profit. The first is on the "Seed" which the Sower went forth to sow; the second is on the "Wayside," where the fowls of the air devoured them all; the third is on the "Stony Ground," where they came up and were scorched, and because they had no root they withered away; the fourth is on the "Thorns," which sprang up and choked the seed; the fifth is on the "Good Ground," which brought forth fruit, some an hundred-fold, some sixty-fold, and some thirty-fold; the sixth and last is on the "Harvest Field;" the harvest is the end of the world, and the reapers are the angels. In the exposition of the text, the author has entwined with the word of truth a number of scientific facts, which serve to illustrate the subject and impress the scriptural truths on the attention of the reader. The difficulties in the way of pure christian life, and the means to advance personal piety, are set forth in these brief lectures with potential force.

Literary Notices.

Golden Days, for boys and girls; monthly or weekly; by James Elverson, Philadelphia; $3 a year. The monthly parts contain each 80 pages of the choicest reading for juveniles. The December number opens with the first chapter of "Lyon Hart; or Adrift in the World," by Oliver Optic, a capital story with which the boys will be delighted. If you want to make the children happy, send on to Mr. Elverson and subscribe for Golden Days for them for 1883.

Godey's Lady's Book, for January 1883, will be found all that the ladies could desire. It is a charming number, both in its illustrations and letter-press. Godey publishes the best of stories, and keeps its readers thoroughly posted in the fashions and household art. Only $2 a year. Address the publishers of Godey's Lady's Book, Philadelphia.

The Continental Magazine; devoted to Literature, Poetry, Romance, and the Useful Arts; illustrated; Baltimore, Md.; Vol. 1, No. 1, January 1883; monthly; price six cents per number, or fifty cents a year. The initial number is well-printed in clear type, and contains a number of interesting articles, opening with "The Savoyard Boy," illustrated. Address the publishers of the Continental Magazine.

What Affects Massachusetts is Our Trouble Too.

Gen. Butler, in his inaugural address as Governor of Massachusetts, said, among other good things, the following, which affects Maryland as well as the old Bay State: "Our statutes punish as crimes many acts of children which are left in other States to be corrected by the discipline of the parent. Many laws against offenses, such as the non-observance of the Sunday law by unnecessary labor, profane swearing and the like, which seem to deter nobody from their commission, as a rule are only enforced as a means of venting malice and spite by a few individuals against their neighbors."

School-Tax Fund.

State Comptroller Keating in making the annual distribution of the public school tax to the white and colored schools in the State, allows Talbot county the following apportionment: white schools, $2,061.20; colored, $892.12. The drafts for same are payable on and after to-morrow.

ORDINANCE NO. 78.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE AGAINST THE SPREAD OF SMALL POX IN THE TOWN OF EASTON.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted and ordained by the Commissioners of Easton, That whenever any physician or physicians, practising in the town of Easton, shall discover that any person or persons living in the said town, whom he is attending, is inflicted with the disease known and called as Small Pox or Varioloid, it shall be his duty and he is hereby required forthwith to report the same to the Commissioners of Easton in writing, giving the name or names of said person or persons, the house or houses in which any such person or persons may be, and the race, age and condition of such person or persons.

SEC. 2. Any physician or physicians violating the above section shall be fined the sum of ten dollars.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the Bailiff of said town of Easton, upon the report of any physician or physicians being made to the Commissioners of Easton that any person or persons inflicted with the said disease of Varioloid or Small Pox upon the order and authority of any one or more of the said Commissioners, to nail to the front part of said house in a prominent place a yellow flag not less than three feet in length, which flag shall remain nailed to the house until the physician reporting the case or cases shall report to the said Commissioners that danger of the spread of the disease on account of the occupancy of said house by persons inflicted with the disease has ceased.

SEC. 4. Any person or persons who shall remove any such flag or flags except upon the authority of the said Commissioners or who shall resist or interfere with the said Bailiff in nailing any such flag or flags to any said house or houses shall be fined ten dollars.

SEC. 5. This ordinance shall take effect from the date of its passage.

Enacted and ordained into a By-Law by the Commissioners of Easton this 4th day of January, 1883.

House and Sign Painting and Paper Hanging

Done in all its branches by day or contract. As I am Sole Agent for John Lucas' Ready-Mixed Pure Oil and Tinted Gloss Paint, I can offer inducements to persons wishing work done. I have painted a large number of houses in Easton with this paint since I have been using it. I give a few names of the persons upon whose houses this paint has been used:

J. E. Seth	Building Committee	W. D. Roberts & Sons,	Builders.
G. G. Stevens,	Rev.	M. F. Bowers,
Rev. E. M. Jones,	Trinity Oxford.	Mrs. J. A. W. Powell,
C. F. Eastman,	Philip F. Thomas,	Chas. T. Wrightson,
J. R. Carroll,	Thomas K. Robson,	H. G. Connell,
Julius A. Johnson, Jr.,	Peter Stevens,	Antonio DePalacios,

I have on hand a good assortment of Mixed Paint, in Pints, Quarts and One-Half Gallons. All work in this branch will be done with despatch and in a workmanlike manner by myself or my son Charlie.

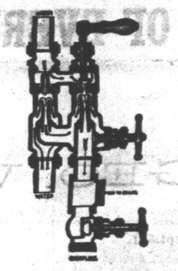
THE
HANCOCK INSPIRATOR
THE BEST FEEDER KNOWN,
—FOR—
Stationary, Marine & Portable Boilers.
Has No Rival For Pumping Purposes
IS SIMPLE, RELIABLE AND ALWAYS IN ORDER.
CONSUMES LESS STEAM THAN ANY OTHER BOILER FEEDER KNOWN.



REQUIRES NO OILING.

They will lift water 25 feet, and deliver to boiler at comparatively High or Low Pressure, as desired. No adjustment required for varying steam pressures. Has no movable parts to get out of order.

One important advantage of the Inspirator over a pump is that all the steam required to operate it is condensed in the water, thereby heating it and returning it all into the boiler, and enabling us to feed hot water to the boiler without the use of a heater (although a heater can be used with the Inspirator as well as with a pump). The Inspirator requires no repairs, no oiling, and is noiseless in its operation, whereas a pump requires repairs, it has to be oiled, is usually noisy, and all the steam used in operation is wasted. The only loss of steam by using the Inspirator is by radiation from the pipes, and this is no greater with the Inspirator than with the pump.
