THE EASTON STAR

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1883.

T. H. ROBSON, Editor.

L. DUPP MILBOURNE & CO., Newspaper Advertising Agents, 136 West Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md., are authorized to contract for advertisements for THE STAR, at our best rates.

JOHN B. GOUGH lectured in Baltimore last week.

MISS SUSAN B. ANTHONY has sailed for England.

THE waters in the Ohio river are gradually subsiding.

CONGRESSMAN MILTON G. URNER says he is done with politics.

REPRESENTATIVE elect Holton says Collector Ditty will be removed.

CONGRESS has only five more days in which to finish the business of the session.

GEN'L JUBAL A. EARLY was in Baltimore last week, and delivered an address at the Confederate re union.

IT is estimated that the cotton worm destroys $15,000,000 worth of cotton in the Southern States annually.

MR. REUBEN MCLENAHAN, Chief Engineer of the Maryland Steamboat Company, died last week of consumption.

MAJOR WILLIAM H. DALLAM, deputy collector of customs of Baltimore city, recently appointed by Collector Webster, is dead.

MARSHAL BAZAINE has published a book on the Franco-German war, entitled "Episodes of the War of 1870 and the siege of Metz."

THE corn and cotton crops of Texas for this season are estimated at 1,400,000 bales of cotton and 150,000,000 bushels of corn, worth $145,000,000.

A NEW French ministry has been formed with M. Jules Ferry as prime minister. The new ministry insist on President Grevy retiring the Orleans princes from the army.

THERE is now every prospect that the Democratic party will go into the contest next fall thoroughly united and determined to achieve a great Democratic victory throughout the State.

MAYOR WHYTE has appointed Major J. Monroe Heiskell, Fire Marshal of Baltimore, under the new ordinance recently passed by the city council. The nomination was unanimously confirmed.

DR. GEORGE W. BENSON has been reappointed and confirmed a Commissioner of the Board of Health of Baltimore for another year. He was only confirmed by 1 majority, the vote being 14 to 13.

GENERAL MCADARAS emphatically denies the infamous accusation made against him regarding the Phœnix Park murders, and denounces the charge that he was Carey's "Number One" as a cruel libel.

THE United States naval steamer Ashuelot was wrecked in the Chinese Sea last week. The officers were saved, but eleven of the crew were lost. The Navy Department admits that the Ashuelot was not sea worthy.

THE steamer Moro Castle of the Clyde line, running between New York and Charleston, was destroyed by fire at Charleston, S. C., Wednesday morning last. The officers and crew escaped with only the clothes they had on their backs.

MR. FORSTER and Mr. Parnell had a lively debate in the British House of Commons last week. Forster made the greatest speech of his life, and made grave charges against Mr. Parnell; the reply of the latter was rather feeble, because of the embarrassing position in which he was placed by recent developments in Ireland.

COMMANDER GORRINGE, who has resigned his commission in the Navy, has rented the Reading Railroad shipyard, near Philadelphia, to embark in the ship-building business. We are for Commander Gorringe for Secretary of the Navy under the Democratic President to be elected in 1884. We do not know or care anything about his politics, but just such a man is needed at the head of the Navy Department.

CONGRESSMEN CARLISLE and Blackburn, of Kentucky, have agreed to pool their issues for the Speakership of the next House of Representatives, a majority of the Kentucky delegation to decide which of the gentlemen shall be the candidate. The House had better decide for Kentucky by electing Hon. John Randolph Tucker its speaker. The country does not want a high protective tariff speaker, like Mr. Randall.

IN speaking of J. Frank Turner, Esq., of this county, who has been suggested by THE STAR and other papers as a good man for Comptroller, to succeed Mr. Thomas J. Keating, the Centreville Observer says:

"From a long personal acquaintance with Mr. Turner, extending back even to his childhood, we take pleasure in saying he is a gentleman of marked ability, faithful, honest, and in every respect such a man as the people of the State would do themselves credit by honoring."

CAPT. JOHN S. WISE was returned elected to Congress for the State at large in Virginia last fall. Rev. John E. Massey, his defeated competitor, is contesting his election, on the ground of fraud. While taking testimony last Tuesday at Richmond, Mr. Wise, who is a powerful young man, committed a violent assault upon Mr. Massey, who is an old and very feeble man. Wise's conduct is universally condemned. The assault was a great outrage on decency, and reflects great discredit upon the ruffian who committed it. It is to be hoped that, if the election of Wise was fraudulently procured, the House of Representatives will unseat him at an early day in the first session.

THE Gazette is informed that THE STAR does most emphatically deny that the charge of "machine nominations" in the Democratic party, other than nominations by a majority of those who may choose to attend the primary meetings. Democratic primary meetings are open and free to all members of the party, and no nominations have been made other than by the action of the majority. And the majority have not infrequently placed in nomination some of those voting with the minority at the primaries. Can anything be fairer. If it be "machine" politics, it is the only machine that should run any party, or that can run a party successfully. It is the will of the majority ruling, which is the only proper rule.

SOMETIME ago we published an editorial article in THE STAR against the bill now before congress, providing for extending the time for the payment of the internal revenue taxes of the whisky now in bond. Subsequently the Easton Gazette, the would-be temperance organ, poked fun at THE STAR for the said article, ridiculing our being in favor of "cheap whisky." We notice that the Maryland State Temperance Alliance last week sent to congress a remonstrance against the passage of the aforesaid bonded whisky bill. Now, what has the Gazette to say about the State Temperance Alliance being in favor of "cheap whisky."

THE informers Kavanagh and Carey have furnished the necessary testimony to convict the Phœnix Park murderers. The chief conspirator, whose name is not given, but who was known to the assassin band as "Number One," is still at large; is said to be an Irish-American, and it is believed that Gen. McAdaras, of St. Louis, Missouri, is the man. He and his family have resided in Bordeaux, France, for two years past. Carey, in his testimony, said "Number One" was from France. He furnished the pay for the job. Secretary Forster is the man they intended to kill, but as he had left for England, when the plot was ripe for execution, the assassins concluded to take vengeance on Mr. Burke. The murder of Lord Cavendish was not a part of the original plot.

SOME of our Maryland exchanges are discussing the tariff, with a view to make the people understand the abominations of the protective system. But to do this they should enter into details. For instance, take the duties on blankets, which are about 100 per cent.; that is, a blanket that costs $3 in England can not be imported and sold in our markets under $6. Including the cost and duties. Now we can manufacture blankets in this country as cheap as they can be made in England; but instead of our manufacturers selling the same quality of blanket at the English price, $3, they sell it at $5 75, which undersells and excludes the English blanket. The result is, the Government gets no revenue from the importation of blankets. But instead of getting their blankets at $3, Americans have to pay $5 75, and the difference between the price of the English and American blanket; that is, $2.75 on every $3 blanket, goes into the pocket of the American manufacturer. It follows that, on every blanket used, a heavy tax is paid by the consumer, not to the government, but to the manufacturer; and that is why they are all so rich. Now, blankets are only one article taxed in this way under the protective tariff; a thousand other articles are taxed in the same way for the benefit of the American manufacturers; and this is the whole of the protective system. It excludes the foreign article and makes the people pay double price for the home made article; the government getting nothing, and the manufacturer getting double price for his goods.

Tariff Reformers.

The Republicans are in favor of a high protective tariff on general principles. They are expected to support such a tariff under all circumstances, and their voting for high duties surprises no one. But the Democrats as a party profess to advocate free trade, that is, for keeping the duties down to the revenue standard. They profess to oppose the protective system and believe that a revenue tariff affords all the protection our industries need. And so the Democrats of the country generally profess to believe. But when Congress undertakes to levy a tariff, or reform an obnoxious protective tariff, what do we see? There is hardly a Democratic Senator or Representative but what has some special interest he wants protected by a high tariff duty. For instance, Mr. Davis of West Virginia and Mr. Gorman of Maryland, want a high duty on bituminous coal, the product of Western Maryland and West Virginia. Senator Randall Gibson, of Louisiana, wants a high duty on sugar, so as to protect Louisiana sugar. Senator Bayard of Delaware wants a high duty on powder, to protect the powder manufacturers of Wilmington. Senator Voorhees, of Indiana, wants high duties on glass, to protect the glass makers of Indiana. And so on through the alphabet. Now these Democrats can only get what they want by voting with the Republicans, and while they so vote, there is little prospect of tariff reform during the present century.

THE Gazette winces under THE STAR'S exposure of the infamous, tyrannical, and corrupt "Republican Machine," which excludes three-fourths of the Republican voters from all participation in party nominations, and all the offices elective and appointive. We respectfully submit, that there has never been anything like this anywhere outside of Maryland. At the South both Democrats and Republicans recognize the colored voters, by sharing with them the honors and profits of the party. But here in Maryland, where all the colored voters are Republicans, and where the white Republicans are only a handful of the Republican party, the colored men are deliberately and systematically excluded from both the management and the profits of the party. The Gazette carefully dodges this issue. Why is this? Can it give a reason for it? Can it justify such unjust conduct? Has it any excuse to make for such iniquitous party management? Could a "machine" be invented that could be more unjust to the majority of a party? We intend to take up the cause of the colored people in this respect and make the Republican party do them justice, or force it to stop its gabble about the "Democratic machine." The Republicans did nothing for the colored people when they had control of the State of Maryland. It made no provision for educating their children. The Democrats have done so. It failed to repeal the slave code against them. The Democrats have repealed those obnoxious old laws. It made no provision for their testifying in the courts against white men. A negro could not even prove to an account against a white man under the Republican regime. But as soon as the Democrats came into power in 1867, this unjust law was repealed, and provision made for justice to the colored people, by giving them equality before the law in the courts. And after this atrocious Republican record towards the colored people, and this fair and generous Democratic record towards them, the Gazette has the impudence to say the colored people are naturally Republicans. Why naturally so? Is it natural for them to go against their own rights in the courts? against their own schools, and the party that established them? We don't believe it, if they understand it, and they shall be made to understand it, if THE STAR can enlighten them.

After the war closed Col Tom Ochiltree, of Texas, embraced the Republican faith, and Grant made him the United States Marshal for the Eastern district of his state. Like most good Republicans in the days of Grantism Col. Ochiltree became "short" in his accounts to the government. This "shortage" with interest amounts to about $13,000, for which the government sued and obtained judgment. Not faring well as a Republican Col. Ochiltree appears as an Independent, and as such was elected to Congress last fall. His salary for his term will amount to $10,000, and about $2,000 more for mileage, stationery, &c. How to get his pay as Congressman is what is now occupying Col Ochiltree's mind. According to the Revised Statutes no one who is in arrears to the United States shall be paid any compensation until such arrears are paid, and the Secretary of the Treasury is prohibited from paying claims to persons so in arrears. It is said that several other Republican members of Congress from the South are in a similar dilemma.

The Perpetuity of Fame.

As the name of the immortal Washington has been most sacredly perpetuated as that of a hero and statesman, so also has the fame of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases descended into perpetuity as the only reliable remedy in the market for every character of skin disorders, and as the reward of well-deserving merit. Worth and merit go hand-in-hand. It is useless to contradict the worth of this article.

Immediately after the adjournment of Congress, Senator Edmunds will join his wife and daughter in the South where they have been visiting for some time. They will then go together to the Pacific Coast by the way of New Mexico. The summer will be spent in Oregon, and they will come home in the fall by the Northern Pacific Route.

A Suffocating Cough.

In a letter from Mrs. Charlotte Lisle, of Chicago, a lady well known as a contributor to the Western press, ascribes the cure of a dangerous cough, accompanied by bleeding at the lungs, to HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR. "My cough," she says, "threatened to suffocate me * * * * but the HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR has removed every trace of it." The letter was to a lady friend in this city who has placed it at the disposal of C. N. CRIENTON, 115 Fulton street, N. Y.

The proverbs about people living in glass houses will soon lose its metaphorical significance. One of the most prominent glass manufacturers of Pittsburg announces his intention of furnishing the public with glass houses at an approximately early period. As soon as a suitable annealing process is discovered and a factory and oven are built for the special purpose, glass blocks will become a reasonable building material.

Colden's Liquid Beef Tonic.

For adults traveling, a wineglassful may be taken three times a day with great advantage. Its tonic and nutritive qualities are sufficient to sustain the body without the addition of solid food. It is now recommended by the faculty as the best remedy for consumption, debility, loss of appetite, weakness, indigestion, dyspepsia, fever, ague, malaria, and all female and children's maladies.

CAUTION—See that the signature of T. COLDEN is on each bottle, as imitations are on the market.

HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH PEOPLE.

By John Richard Green, M. A.; in five volumes. Published by The Useful Knowledge Publishing Company, New York. Green's history of England reads like a novel, and is one of the most delightful histories extant. It commences with the earliest Britains and ends with the fall of Napoleon, at the battle of Waterloo. This Company's books are the cheapest printed, and are gotten up in good type and binding. There is really no excuse for people not knowing something about English history, when Green's history in five volumes can be bought, handsomely bound in cloth, at 50 cents per volume. And yet there are millions of English speaking people to-day, who are enjoying civil and religious liberty, who know comparatively nothing about the great political struggles and civil wars in England which won for them these inestimable blessings, simply because they have not read the history of England. They enjoy them as the hog does the acorns under the oak, without once looking up to the source from whence they come. Green's History of English People would be a valuable book to be studied in our public schools.

THE MARCH CENTURY.

The frontispiece portrait of Gambetta in the March Century, and the accompanying article by a writer who was intimately acquainted with Gambetta, appear now with a timeliness which, a foot-note explains, is not to be credited to editorial haste or energy, since they were both in preparation for the March Century before Gambetta's illness. One of the numerous interesting anecdotes in the article relates to the not over-scrupulous manner in which Gambetta's mother, who was ambitious for her son, outwitted the stubborn father, who wished his son to succeed him in business. An excellent portrait of the father shows a man of strong will and eccentric character. A short biographical sketch of the late Dr. Leonard Bacon, with portrait, is contributed by his son, Leonard Woolsey Bacon, under the appropriate title, "A Good Fight Finished." Mr. Bacon defends his father's position in opposition to the Boston extremists in the anti-slavery agitation, and records that Abraham Lincoln acknowledged indebtedness to Dr. Bacon in forming his own convictions on the subject. The writer, at the same time, disparages the work and influence of William Lloyd Garrison. Also of a controversial character is Mrs. Runkle's plea for the higher education of women, apropos of the recent petition for the admission of women to Columbia College. It is called "A New Knock at an Old Door." John Burroughs, in "Signs and Seasons," chats charmingly and instructively of country life and nature; and Elbridge Kingsley has illustrated the paper with several striking engravings. In contrast with the rural Americanism of this paper is H. H's study of local scenes and characters in "The Village of Oberammergau," which she visited at the time of the last Passion Play.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR MARCH

Has a notable list of contributors. Archibald Forbes, the distinguished war correspondent of the London Daily News, furnishes a vividly interesting story of the Turco-Russian War, entitled "Where was Villiers?" which has the additional attraction of being illustrated by the well known battle painter, W. H. Overend, of the Illustrated London News, himself a personal friend of both Forbes and Villiers. In the "Letter box" is a pen-and-ink sketch of Mr. Forbes by Hubert Herkomer, from the portrit of him by that artist. Rose Terry Cooke contributes a capital story of the Michigan fires of 1881, called "The Wrong Coat." There is a charming poem, "Ben Bruin," by Lucy Larcom, and one by Celia Thaxter. Lucretia P. Hale gives us the latest particulars from the Peterkins, and tells how "Mrs. Peterkin Faints on the Great Pyramid." Prof. William Elliot Griffis, the eminent orientalist, writes about Hokusai, a famous Japanese comic artist, and the paper is illustrated by reproductions of some of Hokusai's most popular pictures.

HANNIBAL,

No. 2191.

I would call the attention of the breeders of fine horses to the STANDARD-BRED horse HANNIBAL, No. 2191, (trial four years old, 2 30,) by Woodford Mambrino, 2.21¾. Dam, Lady McKenny; also the dam of Nil Desperandum, 2.24¾.

For size, speed and disposition Hannibal is the equal of any horse, and the best that ever stood in Maryland.

"What's his Number?" We are now just entering upon the season of the year when cross-roads, blacksmith shops, village barrooms and other places are ornamented with an immense amount of "horse literature." A great many of them will be announced as "standard bred trotters," and frequent reference will be made to the Trotting Register to prove it. The "pedigrees" will contain an overwhelming array of distinguished horses, and never think of stopping short of the Godolphin Arabian. All that is needed to prick the bubble is simply to ask the owner "What's his number?"—[Wallace Monthly, Vol. IX.

I am authorized by Mr. T. W. Martin, the owner of Hannibal, to give two hundred dollars in premiums to the best three colts to be shown August, 1885. To the best three years old, in harness, $100; to the best two years old, $50; and to the best yearling, $50. To those having his colts I would say, please have them in readiness, as I will see that the money is forthcoming. Hannibal will make the season of 1883 on the same terms as last year.

TERMS.

Will make the season in Talbot county at $30 to insure. Owners parting with mares will forfeit insurance money. Mares from a distance, or out of the county, will be charged $30 the season, with the privilege of return next year free, in case of failure, provided the horse is in my possession. Groom fee, 50 cents.

DISEASE CURED OR NO CHARGE MADE

"WILSONIA"

Magnetic Appliances

Have cured, in 90 cases out of 100, Catarrh, Dyspepsia, disease of the Lungs and Kidneys, Pain, Locomotor Ataxia, Paralysis, Spinal Disease, Insomnia, Sleeplessness, Nervous Debility and all diseases of the Nervous System, Chronic Diarrhœa, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, etc. Thousands to-day are rejoicing in REGAINED HEALTH through "WILSONIA." By the peculiar construction of our Appliances, mild, continuous magnetic currents are conveyed to the blood, which, in every person out of health, is DEFICIENT IN MAGNETISM. Thus the nerves receive tone, the muscles are strengthened, and the whole system is regenerated.

TWO YEARS' EXPERIENCE has proved the "WILSONIA" method to be the most successful ever employed for the cure of disease. Because of this success, unprincipled persons have attempted to deceive the public by imitating the appearance of our Appliances.

BEWARE OF THESE IMITATIONS. They are WORTHLESS. See that "WILSONIA" is stamped on each Appliance.

OUR CELEBRATED MAGNETIC INSOLES will keep the feet always comfortably warm. They are worth one hundred times their cost to prevending cold feet. Price, $1.00 per pair. Free by mail. In ordering, give size of shoe. Beware of a cheap and worthless imitation now being offered, which contains no magnetism. We will give a WRITTEN GUARANTEE to each purchaser. NO CURE, NO PAY.
