H. S. BASKETBALL

Next week will close the season of basketball for the local high school.

On Tuesday evening the Polygon Five, a combination of former High School and St. John's players, will oppose the high school team. Brown and Royer, former high school stars, will be playing for the Polygon Five. This will prove a very fast game as both teams have been playing good ball in recent games.

On Friday evening the last game of the season will be played when State Normal will be here. This year Normal is playing very fast ball and the game is sure to be one of the best of the season.

The high school team is just developing into its best form. This was shown last Tuesday evening when they held the strong Blue Ridge College Reserves in check and won by the close score 14-12. Come out and see these games. This will be your last chance.

A BEAUTIFUL TEA

Last Friday evening, February 20, between the hours of three and nine o'clock, the ladies of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union served a most successful "Colonial Tea" in the show room, of Mr. David R. Geiman, West Main street. The bright attractive room was decorated in apple blossoms. The young ladies who served were in Colonial dress with powdered hair, and some ventured the once fashionable hoop-skirt.

The menu consisted of dainty sandwiches, various kinds of salads, coffee, tea, ice cream, cake, and candy; served from small tables lighted with red candles, which made a very attractive appearance.

The occasion was not only a social success, but a financial one as well.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT WINS HONORS

J. Elmer Fritz, a student of the Westminster high school, won the state honors and a five dollar award for having submitted the best project report in vocational agriculture. This award was made by a committee appointed by the Vocational Agricultural Teachers Association of Maryland. Mr. S. P. Caltrider, teacher of vocational agriculture, supervised Elmer's project, which consisted of 14 acres of corn, and submitted the final project report at the Vocational Conference held in Baltimore last week. Mr. J. D. Blackwell, state supervisor of Vocational Education, wishes to congratulate Elmer on the good work he has been doing in agriculture the past two years.
