LOCAL RECORD.

Your home
Hath a temptation now. There is no voice
Of waters with beguiling for your ear,
And the cool forest and the meadows green
Witch not your feet away; and in the dells
There are no sunny places to lie down.
You must go in, and by your cheerful fire,
Wait for the offices of love, and hear
Accents of human tenderness, and feast
Your eye upon the beauty of the young.
It is a season for the quiet thought,
And the still reckoning with thyself.

—The oyster season is almost over.

—The weather last week was lovely.

—For stove repairs go to E. J. Hulse.

—A few herrings were caught last week.

—Ah! those horrible looking poke bonnets.

—Dentristy, Dr. J. N. Baird, Easton, Md.

—The salutary effect of Simmons Liver Regulator is proverbial.

—Fresh fish still coming to market and command good prices.

—Don't despair, but read the advertisement of Simmons Liver Regulators.

—W. H. Withgott & Bro., are building an addition to their mechanical shop.

—Mr. Robert Dalrymple will please accept our thanks for late Cincinnati papers.

—Fire-Place Heaters and Cook Stoves promptly repaired at Hulse's stove store.

—Genuine Havana filled cigars at P. G Hoffman's, cor. Railroad avenue & Hanson st

—Hon. George W. Covington, M. C., will please accept our thanks for public documents.

—"All that a man hath will he give for his life." To prolong it, look at Charles A. Miller's advertisement.

—The New Emerald cook stoves are full-size, heavy, and guaranteed to give satisfaction. For sale at Hulses.

—The public roads are getting good again. If the dry weather continues they will soon be as dry and hard as a turnpike.

—The two Conferences meet this week—the Methodist Episcopal in Cambridge, and the Methodist Protestant in Westminster.

—There is not now a single case of small-pox or variolod in Easton distriet, and we trust we shall hear of no more this season.

—The sermons preached in the Protestant Episcopal and Catholic churches, during this Lenten season, have been far above the average.

—Now is the time to buy your Spring suit, and the place to buy it is at J. E. Shannahan's where you can be suited in style, quality and price.

—Mr. Henry R. Torbert, of the Cecil Whig, has been appointed deputy collector in the Baltimore Custom House, vice Wm. H. Dallam, deceased.

—Mr. Thomas A. Leonard, through the agency of Mr. Charles E. Shannahan, has bought "Cedar Grove," in Trappe district, 226 acres, for $7,500.

—J. E. Shannahan will start for Philadelphia to-morrow, and will return in about a week with a full and complete stock of Spring Dry Goods in all its branches.

—Now is the time to order and plant fruit and ornamental trees. It is better not to defer planting too long, although they may be planted as late as the last of April.

—General Howard B. Ensign has been re-elected President of the Maryland Steamboat Company for another year. Mr. James E. Byrd has been re-elected Secretary.

—If any of our readers are in want of a job where they can be insured a good salary, they should read the advertisement of D. F. Attwood & Co., which appears elsewhere.

—Mr. W. L. Hubbard has bought the Hopkins' property on Dover street, and will build a new dwelling the coming Summer. It is one of the handsomest sites for a residence in town.

—The Bayside road between Royal Oak and St. Michaels is being repaired with oyster shells, and between Easton and the Glebe road the unsightly holes and ruts are being filled in.

—The mail bags between Easton and St. Michaels will begin to decrease in weight now that the steamer Olive has resumed running, as she carries the Baltimore and Western mails to St. Michaels three times a week.

—My Remedy, heretofore known as "Pulmonia," will hereafter be called New Life, the Great Cough Remedy. Price 50 cents. Sold by all druggists. A. B. Mettee, Proprietor, Baltimore, Md. oct24-6m

—Tin roofing and spouting promptly done in the best manner. Prices guaranteed to be as cheap as the cheapest, material and workmanship considered. A full stock of Tinware always on hand. E. J. HULSE.

—Father Carey and Mr. A. DePasquale have each planted a row of young shade trees about the corner of Aurora street and Railroad avenue, first removing the old and dilapidated elms that stood in the way of their flourishing.

—Now they speak of Crude Petroleum as a remedy for Consumption; better not try it, but take Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup—the standard Cough Remedy of our age. It is agreeable to the taste, never fails to cure, and costs only 25 cents a bottle.

—Antonio De Pasquale, the Fashionable Tailor, opposite M. P. Church, Easton, Md. All garments cut and made by him are guaranteed to fit, and made in the very best manner, and in the most fashionable style. feb28-1y

—The Commissioners of Easton have bought and paid for the right of way, for that part of Aurora street and Mrs. Kemp's road, which lies within the town of Easton, and are rewly to open the road whenever the County Commissioners are ready to build that part of it outside of the town.

—Mr. H. A. Bateman, of the Insurance Bureau of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, will please accept our thanks for a copy of the "B. & O. Red Book," giving particulars of "The Political Revolution" of 1882, and "How 'Twas Done," by J. G. Pangborn, Esq., of the B. & O. R. R. Co.

—How to buy Clover Seed.—A prominent farmer says the best plan yet in buying Clover Seed is to examine it before buying. Shannahan & Wrightson's is the place to go where you can find choice Clover, Timothy, Orchard Grass and Kentucky Blue Grass Seeds at prices that cannot be beat.

—Mr. A. A. Pascault leaves this A. M., in the cars for New York, for the purpose of securing several German immigrant families for himself and others. There is room and plenty of work for a hundred German families in this county. Our farmers need their labor in their fields and in their families. The German women make excellent domestic servants.

—All the negroes at the pest-house having gotten well of the small-pox, the house is now vacant. The thing was admirably managed by the Town Commissioners to prevent the spread of the disease, and our citizens have cause to congratulate themselves for having escaped a great calamity. The cost has been very heavy, but it was money well spent.

—Do you intend to order any young roses this Spring? If so, now is the time to make your selections. If you have not done so already, send to the Dingee Conard Company, West Grove, Chester county, Pa., for a catalogue, and order of this firm when you are ready. Their stock is perfectly reliable, and you can buy of them good varieties at 20 cents a piece.

—See here, friend, read the advertisement of Simmons Liver Regulator.

—Take in time: see advertisement of Simmons Liver Regulator.

—Rev. F. T. Tagg lectured on "Gold," Sunday evening to a large congregation.

—Mr. Philemon Mansfield, of St. Michaels, died last Thursday, after a lingering illness.

—Wheelwrights, blacksmiths and machinists are busy repairing farming implements.

—In ordering grapes, the Farm Journal says the following are the best to plant: Concord, Delaware, Brighton, Rogers' No. 4, No. 9 and No 15, Salem, Rebecca, Champion, Allen's Hybrid, and Catawba.

—Why do Wilsonia Magnetic Appliances effect their marvellous cures, where medicine fails?

This is a question frequently asked. The answer is plain. The force supplied by Wilsonia is precisely that which is lacking where disease exists. Magnetism is the force which gives life to the blood. See advertisement on another page.

Celebration of the Anniversary of Longfellow's Birthday in the St. Michaels High School.

Tuesday last being the 76th anniversary of the birth of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, it was appropriately observed by numerous schools throughout various parts of the country, but in no place was it made more of a rich literary feast than in the High School of St. Michaels. For some time past, Mr. Edward Reisler, the popular and efficient principal, assisted by Misses McDaniel and Loud, has been rehearsing the pupils in selections from Longfellow's writings, and on Tuesday evening the entertainment was given. The main school room was crowded with relatives and friends of the scholars. Hanging over the Principal's desk was a large portrait of the dead poet, on each side of which were "1807" and "1882" in evergreens. These being the years of Longfellow's birth and death. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow was born in Portland, Maine, on February 27th, 1807, and died in Cambridge, Mass., last year; his writings have been extensively used in the readers of the public schools throughout the United States, and he had gained a world-wide celebrity as a writer of beautiful poems, and they have been translated into more languages than those of any other English-writing poet.

The exercises opened with a song by the school entitled "The Psalm of Life," after which the following programme was rendered—all of the selections being the fruits of Longfellow's brain:

Recitation, "Life's Goblet," Miss Agnes W. Cooper.

Recitation, "The Church Scene," (From Evangeline,) Miss Louie Barnes.

Recitation, "The Village Blacksmith," P. Edmond.

Recitation, "From My Arm-Chair," Miss Rosa Hambleton.

Vocal Solo, "The Bridge," Miss Corrie Harrison.

Reading, "The Ghosts," (From Hiawatha,) Miss Bena Wittman.

Recitation, "Building of the Long Serpent," (Tales of a Wayside Inn,) Samuel Slater.

Recitation, "Flowers," Miss Rachel Slover.

Recitation, "Resignation," Miss Allie Weedon.

Vocal Solo, "The Rainy Day," Miss Emma Dodson.

Addresses, Rev. Mr. Poisal and Prof. Edward Reisler.

Chorus, "The Secret of the Sea," School.

Reading, "Life," (From Hyperion,) Rowie Dodson.

Recitation, "The Children's Hour," E. Valliant.

Reading, "The Building of the Ship," Rev. Mr. Crouse.

Music, "Angel's Footsteps," School.

At a late hour the audience dispersed heaping upon Prof. Reisler and his assistants many compliments and encomiums of praise for the able manner in which the affair was arranged. Each child was perfect in its part, and there was not a break in the entire programme, reflecting great credit alike upon the teachers and scholars. We understand they will celebrate the anniversary of Washington Irving's birthday in April.

Specially Reported for the Star.

A Positively Pleasurable Party.

While the pastor of the M. E. Church, Rev. E. P. Aldred, and his lady, were in attendance (as has been their invariable custom for the three years of their stay among us) upon the regular weekly prayer service in the church last Friday night, the young people of the congregation, mainly of the Sunday School, numbering considerably over 100, headed by Mr. L. R. Hooper as leader, with wonderful unanimity and concert of action, and with baskets, &c., in hand repaired to the spacious parlors of our fellow-townsman, Mr. W. H. Thompson, and from this point to the Parsonage. On the return of the pastor and his wife from the prayer meeting they found almost every room of the house occupied. In the dining room was spread the large extension table which was literally loaded down with foreign and domestic fruits and cake of every description, and in the pantry were large freezers of ice cream and water ices; which, under the management of the ladies, was served by the young gentlemen to the entire company, who were led to the table in pairs. After this very agreeable part of the entertainment ended, a still greater surprise was introduced by the presentation to the pastor of a very handsome and costly handtrunk, to his excellent and worthy wife a beautiful rattan rocking-chair; to their son Ernest a handsomely bound volume of Milton's works, and to their little daughter Lillie a beautiful gold cross. Mr. W. H. Thompson, in one of his inimitable off-hand speeches, made the presentation, which was responded by the pastor, and who was succeeded by Major Wm. E. Stewart in a very beautiful and sympathetic short speech, all of which was followed by singing the doxology, "Praise God from whom all Blessings Flow," immediately after which the venerable patriarch, A. C. Patchett, respected and loved by all who know him, appeared in the midst of the company and proposed his favorite song, "Palms of Victory," which was sung with a gusto.

After an evening brim-full of pleasurable enjoyment, at a late hour the party dispersed, feeling perfectly satisfied with the happiness they had afforded each other.

A PARTICIPANT.

She Forgot the Paregoric.

Last Sunday evening a STAR reporter was sitting in a church, in a neighboring town, listening to the words of truth as they eloquently fell from the lips of a prominent divine, when suddenly he heard a suppressed exclamation behind him, after which the following dialogue took place between a middle-aged couple in the pew just in the rear:

"Gracious me! Joshua, I must go home right away."

"Oh, sit still, Martha, and don't get fidgetty."

"You're a fool, Josh; I've gone and forgot to give the baby any paregoric, and by this time I expect its raising kingdom come."

As those sitting in the immediate vicinity heard the conversation they giggled heartily, and one good brother stuffed a handkerchief in his mouth to keep from laughing outright. "Martha" heard the tittering and arose from her seat with a look of injured dignity and as she proudly stalked down the centre aisle she cast a withering look at the titterers, and then went home to administer the narcotic to the baby

Sunday School Feasts.

The Sunday School scholars and members of the M. E. Church assembled in the school room last Wednesday evening to partake of a feast in the shape of ice cream, frozen custard, cake, fruits, nuts and confectionery. Five tables were loaded down with these dainties, and big and little were given as much as they wanted. This feast is usually held during the Christmas holidays, but on account of the death of Mr. J. J. Jump in December, it was deferred until last Wednesday evening.

The scholars connected with the M. P. Church and the members and friends of that organization were handsomely treated to ice cream, water ices, cakes, &c. The evening was spent in social converse by the older heads while the more youthful enjoyed themselves as only young folks can. Everyone present went home delighted with the evening's entertainment.

Another Saw-Mill Accident.

Daniel R. McNeal, a 17 years old youth, the son of Mr. Daniel H. McNeal, of Landing Neck, met with a serious accident while at work last Wednesday in Mr. Charles Cannon's saw mill. While cutting off shingle blocks, his hand was caught by the saw, which nearly cut off the second finger of his left hand, and lacerated his hand pretty badly. He came to town and Dr. Bateman dressed his wounds, but he will not be able to do any more work before May.

The Latest Novelty.

The Sackett Pulverizing Plow, now on exhibition; claimed to be one of the most valuable labor-saving implements ever offered. Call and see it. Due notice will be given of a public trial in a few days on a lot near town. See my New Ground Plows and learn prices. "Advance" Chilled Plows give unbounded satisfaction. Small plows in large variety. Agricultural implements in full supply.

Sunday School Anniversaries.

ST. MICHAELS M. E. SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The Fourteenth Missionary Anniversary of the St. Michaels M. E. Sunday School Aid Society was held in the church last Thursday evening before an audience of at least 900 people. As this is the principal feauture of church work with the Methodists of St. Michaels, it always attracts a large audience of not only Methodists but those of other denominations as well, consequently last Thursday evening was no exception to the rule, as the church was packed with the hospitable people of our sister town.

On and around the spacious pulpit were large pots of calla lilies, geraniums, box, &c., which gave to the altar a rich tropical appearance. On the right of the altar was a banner bearing the inscription, "Sin Brings Death—Righteousness Life." The one on the left bore the words, "Go Ye into All the World."

At 7 o'clock the children marched in marshalled by Mr. H. C. Dodson, the Superintendent, and took seats assigned them near the pulpit. The little ones were as bright and rosy children as it has ever has been our good fortune to look upon, while the young ladies of the school are splendid samples of the beauty of which St. Michaels boast, (for there is no place on the Peninsula where there are more beautiful women or strong, hearty men as can be found in that town.)

The officers of this school are H. C. Dodson, Superintendent; R. W Meeds, Assistant Superintendant; S. J. Hambleton, Sec'y; Mrs. E. F. Wittman, Treasurer; John S. Hambleton, Librarian; T. H. H. Blades, Assistant Librarian; Daniel W. Hope, Missionary Secretary; James H. Harrison, Missionary Treasurer; Miss Addie Dean, Organist; John W. Dean, Superintendent of infant school.

The exercises opened with an organ voluntary by Mrs. Cora E. D. Benson, after which the school sang the welcome song, "We Greet you To-day." Rev. T. O. Crouse, pastor of the M. P. Church, followed with prayer. Another chorus was rendered and then Misses Sadie Plummer and Stella Smithman and Messrs. S. E. Marshall and Herbert Ball sang splendidly, "Go Ye Into All the World."

The allegory, "The Tree of Life," was the crowning feature of the evening, and was presented by the pastor and twenty little girls. The allegory was in three parts, and comprised twenty sections and two tableaux. At the outset the tree presented the appearance of rottenness and decay—the result of sin—and the transformation from this to the flourishing tree of righteousness was a neat piece of mechanical ingenity. Ten little girls bore branches for this tree in the transformation scene, and they were placed by the pastor where the branches of decay had been hanging. This was followed by ten other girls who bore to the foot of the tree the fruits of this "Tree of Life," and each offered her tribute in a neat little song, when the pastor hung the different fruits on their respective branches. The fruit comprised Love, Joy, Peace Long Suffering, Gentleness, Faith, Meekness, Temperance. Previous to the transformation was the word "Sin" at the bottom of the tree, but after the fruits were brought it was mysteriously changed to "Righteousness." This allegory was a beautiful one, and each little miss acquitted herself nicely both in recitations and singing. The pastor made a short address and introduced Major W. E. Stewart, of the Easton bar, as the speaker of the evening. The Major seemed to be in his happiest mood and kept the audience interested for 30 minutes with his eloquence and oratory. He dwelt to a great extent upon the growth of the Methodist church and its mission work, and gave statistics showing its rapid increase in membership. He handled his subject in his usual able and masterly manner.

Reports of classes for March were then taken, and the full amount received was $144 80. Two prizes were offered—one for the highest monthly contributions and the other for the largest yearly report. They were both taken by the "Willing Givers," the monthly amount being $30.80 and the yearly $40. The "Little Gleaners," the infant class, gave for the month $25.74 and for the year $29.44. The total amount given to foreign missionaries by the school during the year was $185, about $65 above their assessment. Toward home missions they give $48.92 during the year.

"Soldiers of Zion," a chorus, was magnificently rendered. Memorial services were held as a tribute to the memory of Alfred H. Harrison, the only pupil who died during last year. After some more choice music the audience was dismissed by Rev. E. H. Miller, of Royal Oak, with the benediction. Miss Addie Dean presided at the organ in her usual artistic manner, and Mr. W. Reese Young accompanied her on the cornet. The following representatives of the press were present: Fayette Gibson, of the Comet; S. H. Willey, of the Gazette, and G. Robt. Cooper, of THE STAR.

EASTON M. E. SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The annual anniversary of the Easton M. E. Sunday School was held in the lecture room Sunday evening. The church was crowded. On each side of the pulpit were huge pots of calla lilies, while in the chancel was a large table upon which were several beautiful plants in full bloom: The following was the order of exercises:

Organ voluntary, Mr. Robert M. Todd; hymn, "In the Strength of Jesus," school; prayer, Rev. E. P. Aldred; address, Mr. W. H. Thompson; hymn, "Soldiers of Zion," school; responsive readings, pastor and scholars; reading of the annual report by the secretary, Mr Harry B. Elston; hymn, "Tell me the Story of Jesus," school; responsive reading, pastor and school; solo, "Trembling Soul be Still," Mrs. James Norris; hymn, "Saviour Lead us all the Way," infant class; solo, sung very sweetly by little Emma Thompson; responsive readings, Mr. L. Dodson and infant class; hymn, "Hosanna to the King," infant class; recitation, by another little girl, Helen Pratt, which was rendered very nicely; address, Mr. Leonidas Dodson; hymn, quartette, Mrs. James Norris, Miss Mollie Fountain and Messrs. Olin Hough and R. S. Fountain; responsive readings, pastor and school; solo, "We are Building Two a Day," Mr. R. S. Fountain; hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," congregation. Memorial services were held in honor of the memory of Mr. J. J. Jump, the late Superintendent, and Rev. Mr. Aldred, W. H. Thompson, L. Dodson, W. E. Stewart and J. C. Muljkin all spoke in feeling terms of the deceased, and the loss the school and church had sustained by his death. Solo, "I Shall Have Wings Some Day," was exquisitely sung by Miss Lillie Aldred; hymn, "What a Gathering there Shall Be," school. The exercises closed with the doxology and benediction.

Mr. Robert Todd presided at the organ, and the vocal music was in charge of Mr. R. S. Fountain, the musical director. The exercises throughout were very impressive and interesting.

Church Reunion.

By invitation of the pastor, Rev. F. T. Tagg, of the M. P. Church, the Sunday School scholars, officers and teachers, and members of his church assembled in the lecture room last Friday evening to indulge in a social reunion previous to the pastor's departure for other fields of labor. Everybody present was invited to a supper, which was spread out in the basement of the building, and each person seemed to vie with his neighbor in doing full justice thereto. Later in the evening a purse, containing $50, was presented to the pastor, which completely took him by surprise. This event brought forth a number of speakers who eulogized Mr. Tagg for the efficient work done by him during his stay in Easton. It was an evening long to be remembered by those participating in the festivities.

The Elkridge Hunters.

M. F. H., of the Elkridge Fox Hunting Club, of Baltimore, will please accept our thanks for a copy of the new Constitution of the Club, adopted January, 1883, together with the pedigree of their 27 imported hounds. It will be remembered that the Club created quite a sensation here by their visit last spring. They will be here again Wenesday and Thursday of this week—to-morrow and next day—for another grand hunt. They extend a cordial invitation to all fox hunters to join them, and as they promptly pay for all damages done to property, nobody need be alarmed by their coming. They are all high-toned gentlemen, and will be cordially welcomed by our sporting fraternity.

Consider these Things.

What is your money good for?
How will it most comfort you?
How go furthest and last longest?
How supply your wants and have some left?

First-class and complete stock of Shelf and Heavy Hardware, Seeds, Agricultural Implements and Machinery, containing everything you can possibly need in this line, and at prices that will suit you. This is no "gas" or "bunkum" but plain truth, as you will be convinced by calling.

Skepticism Flies

Before fact like thistle-down before the wind. W. A. Wilson, corner Huntingdon and Charles street avenues, Baltimore, Md., suffered two years from consumption, using $2,000 worth of medicine without relief. He says: "Last June I commenced using New Life. My cough has stopped, I sleep well and have a good appetite. I heartily recommend it to sufferers. Sold by druggists. Price 50 cents.

He Was Cured.

One of the printing offices in Talbot county has an apprentice who would rather any time lie down on the paper table and take a nap than work. His drowsiness becoming worse daily, one of the compositors, who became worried by this exhibition of laziness, complained to the lad's mother, and she promised him that she would brighten up her hopeful son, and if he laid down again to tell her. The next day the boy duly appeared at the office looking careworn and feeble, but as the day wore on he could not resist the temptation to lie down and take his usual nap. The compositor complained again to his maternal parent, and the second day the boy showed up looking greatly the worse for wear. After awhile he stated that he was cured, as his mother was giving him cathartic pills and intended doubling the dose every time he laid down in the office. It was a novel cure she adopted but an effective one.

On Thirty Days' Trial.

The VOLTAIC BELT CO., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed. jan2-y.

BALTIMORE, MD., Feb. 27, 1882.

MESSRS. HUBBARD & BROTHER:

Dear Sirs:—Enclosed you will please find result of my analysis of the sample of your OCEAN BIRD GUANO, and it is my candid opinion that the article represented by this sample must prove a valuable fertilizer. As stated in my Analysis 26.59 per cent. of the Bone Phosphate of Lime is soluble in a solution of Citrate of Ammonia at normal temperature, and would be quoted Available Phosphate, though the physical condition of the undecomposed phosphate justifies me in saying that all of the phosphate is in an available form, and ready to act as plant food at once. Yours truly,

G. A. LIEBIG.

It is not necessary that we should make further explanation of our O. B. Guano. The above analysis with the accompanying letter we think will satisfy any one who has a knowledge of the required elements to make a valuable GUANO, and from at least twenty tests that have been made from different samples, not in a single instance has it shown a less value. We have exclusive control of a vast deposit of this Guano, yet only a limited quantity can be got here in time for Spring crops. We have now at our factory and in Baltimore something over 200 tons and expect another cargo this month. Orders can be filled from either place. We shall be pleased to have our farmers generally test our O. B. on Spring Crops with our STANDARD PHOSPHATE or any high grade fertiliser in the market. To introduce the O. B. GUANO we are selling very low when quality is considered. Call at office and see the goods and get prices.
