THE EASTON STAR

TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 1883.

T. H. ROBSON, Editor.

L. IEPP, HILBOURNE & CO., Newspaper Advertising Agents, 10 West Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md., are authorized to contract for advertisements for THE STAR at our best rates.

MR. WILLIAM J. ROSS, the Nestor of the Bar of Frederick city, died last week, aged 77 years.

JUMBO, the big elephant, is growing fat, and now weighs 7 tons. This country agrees with him. He is a great tobacco chewer.

GEN. BRADLEY T. JOHNSON, speaking by authority, says Gen. Hancock is not a candidate for re election, and does not desire the Democratic nomination.

THE Forty-Seventh Congress appropriated no less than the enormous sum of $186,570,920 for pensions. There were doubtless not less than $50,000,000 of stealings in this huge pension job.

THE bonded debt of the State of Delaware is $625,000, but the State holds interest paying stocks and mortgages to an amount equal to her indebtedness, and is therefore practically out of debt. Delaware is a Democratic State.

THE libel suits of Ex-Collector Webb against the Baltimore American and Herald have been amicably settled, Messrs. Fulton and Hooper having withdrawn the charges and apologized for their appearance in their respective papers.

THE Democrats of Rhode Island have endorsed Gen. William Sprague, who had previously been nominated by the Independents for Governor. The election, which takes place on the 4th of April, is exciting much interest in political circles.

THE Chesapeake and Delaware Railway did not pay expenses last year by $16,111.18. But it carried a large amount of freight and passenger income into the treasury of the Delaware and P. W. & B. roads, which more than made up the loss to the owners.

HON. GEORGE H. WILLIAMS, of Baltimore county, is looming up prominently for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Mr. Williams is a lawyer of decided ability, and a gentleman of great independence of character. He would make a good governor.

REPORT says the manufacturing industries of the country are languishing, and quite a number of failures have taken place lately. And yet they have had the benefit of a very high tariff for over twenty years. Is the tariff the cause of the trouble, or what? Can any high tariffite tell us? If it is not the tariff, what is the cause of the trouble?

A LIQUOR dealer lately sent President Arthur a case of whiskey, with the request that he would sample it. The liquor was returned with the President's compliments, saying he was not in the sampling business. Where is General Grant? He never returned anything sent to him, except a dog once, upon which the express charges had not been paid.

Death of the Postmaster-General.

Hon Timothy O. Howe, Postmaster General of the United States, died of pneumonia, at Kenosha, Wisconsin, on Sunday last. The unexpected announcement of his death was a great surprise to the President and others in Washington as a previous telegram announced that he was better.

THE tariff question is not settled yet, by any means. But it will require judicious handling at the hands of the next congress, to prevent trouble. We hope the Democrats, who will have a large majority in the House, will be equal to the situation. It will not do for them to listen to the extremists on either side, and blunder on this important question on the eve of a president's election.

Come Home to Rest.

The body of John Howard Payne, the poet, and author of "Home, Sweet Home," who died in Tunis in 1852, when he was American consul there, has arrived in Washington, D. C., for interment. Payne's remains were brought home and buried at the expense of Mr. W. W. Corcoran, the philanthropist. They laid in state at the city hall, in New York, for several days last week, while en route for Washington.

Now that the Democratic leaders have had their say through the Baltimore papers, it is to be hoped they will subside for awhile, and allow the people to have their say. In the mean time, all can think over what has been uttered, accepting the good and rejecting the bad. Such sayings are only good for what they are worth, no matter where they emanate. After all, the Democratic State Committee must settle all disputed questions, and we have no fears that it will do anything to foment discord in the party. "Let us have peace."

CHARLES H. GIBSON, Esq., was in Baltimore on Monday week, and one of the reporters of the Day interviewed him on the political situation. The substance of the interview is published in the Day of the 19th inst. Mr. Gibson is very free to express his opinions on the topics inquired about by the reporter, as he is always ready to give expression to his opinion on current affairs. Although he has personal grievances like a good Democrat, he says he is "willing to bury the hatchet" for the sake of the success of the party. We regret we have not the space at our command this week to print his views at length as they appeared in the Day.

WE published a paragraph last week, which has been going the rounds of the press, chasing Hon. J. Randolph Tucker, member of Congress from Virginia, with Senator Edmunds and others, as among those who consider the tariff bill lately passed by Congress unconstitutional, because the tariff feature of the bill originated in the Senate. Mr. Tucker visited this county last week, and while here informed the editor of this paper that the paragraph in question does not correctly represent his views. On the contrary, he has no doubt of the constitutionality of the tariff law. The bill having originated in the House, as the constitution provides, he said the Senate had the unquestionable right to amend it as it seemed proper. The misapprehension in regard to his views he thought, might have grown out of the part he took in the discussion of the bill when the report of the conference committee was before the House, when he twitted the high protective tariff Republicans with a purpose to trade the constitution for a high tariff. These Republicans, after the Senate had reduced the duties, voted for a resolution declaring the action of the Senate unconstitutional; but when the conference committee changed the bill, and restored its high protective features, they turned right around, in the face of their expressed opinion on the constitutional question, and voted for the bill.

THE Delaware legislature has passed a general incorporation act.

THE indications now are that Carlisle, of Kentucky, will be the speaker of the House of Representatives. He is the ablest member of the House, liberal in his views, and his mind is eminently judicial. He possesses in an eminent degree all the qualifications for the position.

Letters from the People.

What Does It Mean?

It is reported in the Sun of last week "that Senator Gorman with several other State Democrats met at Brown's, upon an important mission." Senator Gorman said if the City Convention is made of material that does not command public confidence, the State Central Committee will assume control of the management of the primaries connected with the nomination for candidates on the State ticket, including the Legislature, instead of delegating that power to the city body."

Indeed, it would be great assumption for the State Central Committee to attempt such a thing; although a majority of the State Central Committee is believed to affiliate with the Gorman faction, yet we cannot believe that any would sanction such a "Bossy" interference with the regularly constituted city convention, which for years has managed the affairs of the Democracy in the city of Baltimore.

The State Central Committee is a body of very limited powers, and for it to attempt to interfere with the local self government of the people of Baltimore would be condemned by nearly every true democrat. The State Democratic Central Committee is composed of men from every county in the State, a few from Baltimore City. The Democratic City Convention will be composed of one hundred and eighty city Democrats, elected one from each precinct of each ward; the election to be held under the primary election law, which imposes penalties on the perpetrator of any fraud.

Suppose that the Democratic State Central Committee should assume control of the primaries as urged by Senator Gorman; the city convention will do what it has done for very many years, and what it has a right to do, that is, control the management of the primaries in the city of Baltimore; then we will have two primary elections for delegates to the Democratic State Convention, one called by assumption of the State Central Committee, the other by the regularly constituted Democratic City Convention. There will be two sets of delegates applying for admission to the State Convention, and a contest. Suppose that a majority of the delegates elected to the State Convention from the counties are German men, and that the State Convention should admit to the convention the delegates elected under the call of the State Central Committee. Does any sane man imagine that the Democrats of the city would submit to such injustice. Such conduct would spike the noblest gun that ever was in defense of "Democracy, the party would be defeated, the very citadel of Democracy in the State, the city of Baltimore, would be carried by the opposition.

Then would be revived the reported assertion many months ago of Mr. George Colton, that Mr. Gorman said that sooner than be defeated he would turn the Democratic party over to the Republicans.

DEMOCRAT.

For the Star.

Mr. Editor:—I write for information on party ethics. To illustrate what I am driving at, I will give you a hypothetical case. Suppose, for instance, a recognized Democrat applies for an office and fails to secure it, and leaves the party, denounces it as corrupt, and joins the Republicans, and canvasses his county in behalf of the Republican party, and is afterwards recognized by all parties as a Republican, is it considered within the bounds of sound party ethics, for a professed democratic party organ to permit such a man to denounce Democrats and the democratic party through its columns, at his will, without objection or comment? I do not profess to be posted in the ethics of politics, but, as a layman, it strikes me that an editor, managing a democratic organ, should exercise some discretion about such communications, and if pelted to by such a man to print his malicious and defamatory effusions, he should send both him and his document to the Republican headquarters, where they properly belong, instead of flowing him the use of his columns for the purpose of traducing the Democratic party.

I am induced to write this communication from having read an article in the last Easton Ledger signed "J. A. R." These initials is one those of a well known political turncoat, who, but a short time ago, after failing to obtain an office, left the democratic party and canvassed for the republican party. Mr. Keating having voted for another, thus defeating his aspirations, he vents his wrath against him, charging him with a purpose to "sell the Eastern Shore" for an office. Now this is a serious charge, and should not be made without the person who makes it has at hand the positive proof to sustain it. Until this is forthcoming, as a friend of Mr. Keating, I shall insist that the charge is untrue.

As to his other charge, that the Democratic party has been accustomed to hold "stock primary meetings," every Democrat knows it to be likewise untrue. Republicans have made such charges against the Democratic party, which is to be expected, and sometimes the deluded democratic minorities have repeated them, which is to be regretted. But the minorities have generally acquiesced in the result of the primaries, and turned out and helped to elect the ticket, and have not turned tail to, and gone and joined the Republicans, like "J. A. R.," because they did not get all they wished. It is only by the submission of the minority to the will of the majority, regularly and properly expressed, that party organizations can be maintained, and party principles established. If the democratic primaries in 1881 were fixed at an inopportune season, the fault was with the State Committee, and is not chargeable to Mr. Keating. The committee, doubtless did what it thought best for the party at the time, deeming its early notification advisable, apparently without considering the fact that the call impinged upon the harvest season.

But it is not my purpose so much to defend the Democratic party, as to protest against a democratic organ allowing a Republican the free use of its columns, for the purpose of traducing Democrats and assailing the democratic organization. If such attacks are to be made, the republican organ should be made the medium for their appearance. There may be those who do not know the political status of "J. A. R.," in finding his communication in a democratic paper, may suppose him to be a Democrat, without an explanation from the editor who published his "criticism." I hope those who may read this will understand that Capt. "J. A. R." was with the Republicans in 1881, when last heard from.

TRAPPE.

Mrs. M. Mears, Baltimore, Md., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters has done me great good in indigestion."

OPINION OF EMINENT DR R. S. STUART, President Maryland Hospital, Baltimore: "* * * I have used COLDEN'S LIQUID BEEF TONIC for more than a year, and recommend it as one of the most efficient preparations I have ever met with. It combines the virtue of food and tonic in a remarkable way, and I am satisfied has saved life when no other medicine could do so." (Remember the name, COLDEN'S—take no other.) Of druggists generally.

"I am the Last of Six."

One rainy forenoon, something less than a year ago, a pale, cadaverous youth walked into the store of C. N. Crittenton, New York, and in weak, husky tones, interrupted frequently by a dry hacking cough, stated that he wanted a couple of bottles of HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR. "I am the last of six," he said; "the others all died of consumption, and I am going fast. I will try this new remedy, but I have no hope." He did try it, and to some purpose. He took in all twelve bottles, and is to-day in perfect health—lungs sound, cough gone, not a sign of pulmonary disease remaining. Sold by druggists.
