—Antonio De Pasquale, the Fashionable Tailor, opposite M. P. Church, Easton, Md. All garments cut and made by him are guaranteed to fit, and made in the very best manner, and in the most fashionable style. feb28-1y

—Work given out. On receipt of your address we will make an offer by which you can earn $3 to $7 evenings at your home. Men, women, boys or girls can do it. H. C. WILKINSON & Co., 195 and 197 Fulton Street, New York. dec19-6m.

—Let no one miss the elocutionary entertainment to be given by Prof. S. T. Ford in the M. E. Church, King's Creek, Wednesday evening, April 11th; Cordova Grange Hall, Thursday evening, April 12th. Admission 25 cents. Proceeds for benefit of Sunday Schools.

—The large and varied stock of Boots, Shoes, Gaiters, &c., for Ladies and Gentlemen, Misses, Boys and Children, which have just been opened at Jacob Williams, Market Space, cannot fail to be attractive both in quality, style and price. Purchasers should call at once and secure rare bargains

—How to buy Clover Seed.—A prominent farmer says the best plan yet in buying Clover Seed is to examine it before buying. Shannahan & Wrightson's is the place to go where you can find choice Clover, Timothy, Orchard Grass and Kentucky Blue Grass Seeds at prices that cannot be beat.

—Of course everybody in the county, and their wives and children, will come to Easton Friday week to see the show; and of course they will spend the forenoon shopping through our attractive stores, buying their spring fixings. Now the way to save time and money, is for all first to consult the advertising columns of THE STAR, to learn where to buy the cheapest goods, and take THE STAR as a guide. Those who have anything extra cheap are sure to advertise in THE STAR columns.

—William Goldsborough, Jr., Esq., of the Boston University School of Oratory, will give one of his popular readings at Trappe on Thursday evening, the 19th inst. The people of Trappe may confidently expect a literary treat, and they will not be diappointed.

Mr. Goldsborough will also give a public reading at Tunis' Mills, on Wednesday evening, the 18th inst., at 7½ o'clock, for the benefit of the fund now raising to build a parsonage for Rev. Mr. Crozier; admission only 25 cents. He ought to have a full house.

—"Throw Physic to the Dogs" is a command, disobedience to which has cut short many a useful life. The remedy called Wilsonia, advertised on another page, strikes us as a most reasonable one.

Treatment by electricity has often been found beneficial, and could it be applied constantly might do more.

By the Wilsonia method, mild, almost imperceptible, currents of magnetism are constantly given, which in an almost marvellous way restore health. Its achievements in the East are the universal theme.

—We are glad to learn that the Pinkney Literary Society has concluded to open its doors to admit visitors and friends of the organization. This is something we have long hoped for. The Society has arranged a very interesting programme for next Thursday evening, consisting of readings, a declamation, and the following question for discussion: "Is morality ever fostered by inaugurating force as a means of advancement." The exercises, we have no doubt, will be highly entertaining and instructive, and as all friends of the Society are invited, they ought to have a large attendance.

A Truly Great Show.

TWO FAMOUS SHOWS POOLED IN ONE MONSTER COMBINATION—THE GRAND CIRCUS ROYAL, ENGLISH MENAGERIES CONSOLIDATE WITH THE GREAT ASTLEY'S MUSEUM-AQUARIUM CARAVAN, &c., &c.,

We do not hesitate to endorse this Great Amusement Temple as one of the very best travelling on the road The new and interesting features exhibited, such as the Glorious and Lightning Brilliant Electric Light, the Elephants, Two Circus Companies, Two Menageries, etc., place it at once first-class. This consolidation of Big Railroad Shows is to visit Easton, Friday, April 20th. Below will be seen extracts from various papers at places where the Grand Circus Royal has already exhibited:

"The Grand Circus Royal, etc., has come and gone. It is under excellent management, the company connected with it are good people in both an artistic and a personal sense. There is nothing emblazoned on the bills that has not its counterpart under the canvas."

"Parents, professors of educational institutions in the city and surrounding country should encourage the attendance of children, great and small, to witness this wonderful exhibition, known throughout the land as the "Grand Circus Royal," etc. Great because of its and attractive features, one of which is the charming and unrivalled Miss Mollie Brown, the champion of all lady bareback riders. The Great Electric Light; the $31,000 Hunting and War Elephant 'Empress;' the charming Luila, the human Cannon Ball; the pretty French Equestrienne, Gertrude Le Monde; the fascinating Mlle. Olympia, the Heroine of Niagara, and thousands of artistic and enjoyable sensational attractions that has never before been seen under the canvas of any tented show. Altogether this is the very best and most attractive show that has visited our city." —[Washington Critic.

Literary Notices.

FRANK LESLIE'S SUNDAY MAGAZINE.

The number of May is an unusually interesting one; prominent among the many admirable articles are a continuation of "What is Presbyterianism?" the present paper being by Rev. E. F. Hatfield, D. D.; also a continuation of De Leon's "The American Pilgrim in Palestine;" the first of a series of papers by Lieutenant Schwatka, "Among the Natives of the North," and a characteristic article by the editor, "Home." There are contributions of articles, serial and short stories, sketches, essays, poems, etc., by Alfreton Hervey, Adelaide Stout, O. M. Birrell, Edwin Aonold, Robert Buchanan, Ida E. Hervey, Rev. Mr. Hammond, J. W. Thirwall, and other favorite authors. In the Home Pulpit is a sermon by Dr. Talmage, "The Eye," and there are interesting Obituary Notices, Record of Important Events, the Collection Basket, Personal Notes and Editorial Comments, etc. This Magazine's popularity is constantly increasing, and it should be taken by every family in the country. The subscription is $3 a year; single copy 25 cents, postpaid. Address, Mrs. Frank Leslie, Publisher, 58, 56 and 57 Park Place, New York.

ANCIENT CLASSICS FOR ENGLISH READERS.

This is the title of a unique and really delightful series of books, the first volume of which, "The Commentaries of Cæsar," by Anthony Trollope, is just issued. The aim of the series is to open to the unlearned English reader the beauties and treasures of classic lore, tell who the writers were, give some connected outline of the story they narrate, present some of their most striking passages in choice English translation, and illustrate them with the wealth of modern scholarship. There are 27 volumes in all, and heretofore they have cost $1.00 each. They are published in The Elzevir Library, in really charming style, at 15 cents each for paper binding, or 30 cents for cloth binding. "Herodotus," by George C. Swayne; "Cicero," by W. L. Collins, and "Demosthenes," by W. J Brodribb, are announced for immediate issue, and the other volumes are to follow, one or more each week, until the series is complete From even these marvelously low prices large discounts are offered to clubs and for prompt orders. John B. Alden, Publisher, 18 Vesey street, New York.

Port Deposit, Cecil Co., Md., April 2, '83.

MR. EDITOR:—As an item of news affecting all your merchants and others using U. S. Special Tax Stamps for the sale of Tobacco, etc., I ask you to please state that by an order received this day, Talbot and Caroline counties are withdrawn from Division 4, John E. Graham, Deputy Collector, and attached to Division 3; therefore, from and after this date all United States taxes must be paid, and all United States returns made, to me.

Further notice will be given of my attendance in Easton and Denton to receive the annual taxes for 1883. Respectfully,

L. A. C. GERRY, Deputy Collector.

Spring Fashions.

A Catastrophe in Church.

A new paper has recently been started in Baltimore called the Rambler. Its Agriculture Editor recently visited his old home on the Eastern Shore, and while there, went to the old church to hear the new preacher, and here is what he says about the service:

"While there we went to hear a talented preacher whose eloquence had set the country on fire. He proved a regular stunner. He was none of your namby-pamby-milk-and-water-too-good-for-this-vale-of-tears preachers; but a downright hitter; full of nineteenth century sense, running over with ideas and gifted with rare grace in action and brilliancy in oratory. In short he was just one of those men who succeed in anything requiring language and what may be termed action. His subject was about that little unpleasantness between David and Saul. He was handling it superbly, and we shall always regret the two episodes which brought his really brilliant effort to an untimely close. He was leading up to one of those battles between David and Saul, and doing the preliminary business in graphic style when the first episode occurred. We could almost see the gallant slayer of the great Goliath, with his devoted band of followers as they stealthily threaded the mazes of the mountain fastnesses to meet in deadly combat the resplendently wicked Saul and his armies. The audience hung spellbound upon the tide of language which flowed from the preacher like lava from the throat of Vesuvius. One could have heard a pin drop. Throwing himself into a listening attitude, the preacher exclaimed with thrilling emphasis:

"Listen! What sounds are those which break the stillness of these solitudes? It is—it is the"—

"Me-ow! row! mew! wow! re-ow-wow! phish! phish!" suddenly screamed a chorus of cats outside.

The effect was electrical. Several brethren adjusted their neckties, and many sisters found it necessary to use their handkerchiefs for a hastily improvised cold. The preacher, too, showed that he appreciated the situation, for the corners of his mouth twitched as though he was repressing a smile with difficulty. However, the little ripple subsided and the orator went on. In about five minutes the good man tried another effect. Leaning forward with his right hand raised as if to still his audience and his left hand pointing obliquely behind him, he exclaimed in a stage-whisper:

"The battle waxes hot! They fight to the death! But methinks the tide is beginning to turn in favor of the son of Jesse! What are those sounds rolling down the valley, swaying the embattled hosts? Ah, can it be that the wicked Saul is to be undone? Yes! Yes! 'Tis David's shout of victory coming down the wind! Hark!'

'Me-ow! row! re-ow! wow! phish! phish! phish!' again broke out in the yard.

The preacher gave it up. It was no use to go on. The congregation just couldn't stand it. Everybody gave up trying to keep down the laughter, and there occurred a broad guffaw right out in meeting. The minister called for the long metre doxology and dismissed his flock."

Hated to Part with Him.

The Kent News has the following to say of Easton's new Methodist Protestant minister. "Last Sunday was 'farewell sermon' day in the Methodist Protestant churches in this county—all the pastors being changed. Rev. F. T. Little preached eloquently and effectively to crowded congregations at both St. James' and Lynch's. Mr. Little is one of the best preachers in his denomination, and universally popular as a pastor, and it is like 'drawing eye teeth' for the Worton people to part with him. If he is not eminently successful in his new field it will not be his fault.'

Local Option Defeated in Worcester County.

A special election was held Tuesday in the first, second, fourth, sixth, seventh and eighth election districts of Worcester county on the question of permitting or prohibiting the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors or alcoholic bitters therein. The aggregate vote in the six districts showed about 200 majority in favor of the sale of liquor. Snow Hill, or the second district, gave 86 majority against the sale of liquor; Stockton, the eighth district, gave 151 for license; Coulbourn's, the sixth district, gave 47 for license, and Newark 61 for license.

Personal.

Quite a number of ladies and gentlemen from a distance attended the German at Music Hall Thursday night, among whom were the Misses Tucker, of Virginia; Mrs. D. M. Henry, Jr., of Cambridge; Miss Sartori, of Philadelphia; the Misses Carter, of Delaware; Miss Forman, of Queen Annes; Miss Bryan, of Baltimore; Miss Hannah, of Baltimore; Miss Johnson, of New York; Mr. Forman and Mr. Hemsley, of Queen Annes; Mr. Luther M. R. Carter, of Delaware; Mr. J. J. Creen and Mr. R. H. Walker, of Dover.

Prejudice

Has stopped many an improvement; but prejudice is born of ignorance, and in the matter of Ready-Made Clothing has fast disappeared, so that two-thirds now worn is Ready-Made. Our styles and prices, have, we think, helped this materially, and gentlemen of taste and culture are endorsing us by purchasing liberally. C. N. Mark Twain's Life on the Mississippi.

The slightest examination will convince any one that in this book Mark Twain is in his own peculiar field, and that more than ever he has filled it with the racy flavor of the wild West, in which his readers delight. Every one reads Mark Twain's works, and no reader of Mark Twain can afford not to own this volume. MACK. GOLDSBOROUGH, Agent for Talbot county.

Electric Light in Easton.

The people in this county who have never seen the electric light, will have an opportunity to do so, by attending O'Brien, Handenberger & Astley's circus, which exhibits in Easton next Friday week. The circus carries a professional electrician with it from the Brush company, and the illumination is worth the full price charged to see the circus, to any one who has never seen the electric light.

Mr. George Lee Edwards,

Of Isle of Wight county, Va., is responsible for the statement that New Life, the Great Cough Remedy, cured him of a very bad cough which racked him after recovering from an attack of measles. This great medicine is winning laurels on every field. It is admittedly the greatest vitalizing remedy is use.

He Can Suit You.

The latest and most fashionable clothes in Easton are now being made by Mr. Harry B. Elston at his tailoring establishment near the postoffice. Give him a call and you will "feel like a new man" in a suit made by him.

The Beachamp Murder.

The grand jury of Caroline county has indicted James Ahern and Frances Belle Beachamp for the murder of Andrew M. Beachamp, near Concord, last fall. The accused are now in the Denton jail.

Farm Sold.

Mr. J. Frank Turner has sold his farm in Chapel district to Mr. Perry T. Leonard, of St. Michaels, 220 acres, for $7,800, including the growing wheat crop.

CHAMPION

MOWERS,

Single Wheel Self-Rake

AND DROPPERS.

Having accepted the agency for this justly popular Harvesting Machinery, I now have the pleasure to offer the same in the greatest confidence.

The Champion Dropper and Mower are too well known to need any remarks, and the One-Wheel Self-Rake Reaper has given such great satisfaction, that to use one is to be immediately convinced of their great utility.

Of the Champion Binder I will state that what was really an experiment of the past two seasons, is now a pronounced success. The great reduction in weight of the Harvester, and the complete adjustment of the Binder, make it now beyond question what the manufacturers always intended it should be, a perfect success.

The Champion Self-Binder is now in EVERY RESPECT RELIABLE, and its LIGHTNESS, SIMPLICITY and STRENGTH, will commend it to all practical farmers

These machines are now on exhibition, and all are invited to an inspection of them, ESPECIALLY those who contemplate a purchase of any kind.

BALTIMORE, MD., Feb. 27, 1883.

MESSRS. HUBBARD & BROTHER:

Dear Sirs:—Enclosed you will please find result of my analysis of the sample of your OCEAN BIRD GUANO, and it is my candid opinion that the article represented by this sample must prove a valuable fertilizer. As stated in my Analysis 26.59 per cent. of the Bone Phosphate of Lime is soluble in a solution of Citrate of Ammonia at normal temperature, and would be quoted Available Phosphate, though the physical condition of the undecomposed phosphate justifies me in saying that all of the phosphate is in an available form, and ready to act as plant food at once. Yours truly,

G. A. LIEBIG.

It is not necessary that we should make further explanation of our O. B. Guano. The above analysis with the accompanying letter we think will satisfy any one who has a knowledge of the required elements to make a valuable GUANO, and from at least twenty tests that have been made from different samples, not in a single instance has it shown a less value. We have exclusive control of a vast deposit of this Guano, yet only a limited quantity can be got here in time for Spring crops. We have now at our factory and in Baltimore something over 200 tons and expect another cargo this month. Orders can be filled from either place. We shall be pleased to have our farmers generally test our O. B. on Spring Crops with our STANDARD PHOSPHATE or any high grade fertilizer in the market. To introduce the O. B. GUANO we are selling very low when quality is considered. Call at office and see the goods and get prices.
