CARROLL COUNTY COMMUNITY TRAINING SCHOOL

1. Time and place. On April 13-18, 1925, in the Westminster Theological Seminary a training school will be conducted for the Sunday-school workers of all denominations in the county.

2. The faculty, C. E. Forlines, D. D., dean, professor of Systematic Theology, Westminster Theological Seminary; Miss Lula H. Crim, Supervisor Elementary Education, Carroll county schools; William Kinsey, A. B., B. D., professor of Bible, Blue Ridge College; Maurice R. Hamm, A. B., B. D., superintendent Field Administration, Maryland Sunday School Association.

3. The courses. Pupil Study: "The Pupil," Miss Crim; Principles of Teaching: "How to Teach Religion," Dr. Forlines; The Bible: "Teacher's Study of the Life of Christ," Prof. Kinsey; Organization: "Organization and Administration," Rev. Hamm.

4. Daily Program. Pupils may elect one of the above courses which will be continued for six evenings, 7:30-9:30, two class periods each evening. Between the class sessions there will be a twenty-minute period of inspiration and worship.

5. Credits. Those who complete the elected course satisfactorily will be granted one Standard Training Course Credit, twelve of which entitle the pupil to the Standard Training Diploma of the International Council of Religious Education.

6. Requirements. An enrollment fee of one dollar will admit to the privileges of the school. Each pupil is expected to purchase a text book. These will be one sale at the opening of the school.

7. Opportunity. This is an excellent opportunity to make intensive preparation for the work of Religious Education. The school has a faculty of experts, good courses of study, and fine equipment. Being inter-denominational, it offers the social inducement of a community co-operative movement.

8. Registration. At your earliest convenience send registration fee of one dollar, with your choice of the above courses, to the Dean, Rev. C. E. Forlines, Westminster, Maryland.

At last accounts, all the kids were willing to escort their parents to the circus this spring.

NEAR EAST RELIEF

Maryland and the District of Columbia Near East Relief work have combined in a new division. The Potomac Division, to be under the direction of Harold F. Pellegrin, now Maryland Director, is the announcement made by John W. Mace, National Field Director of the relief organization.

Dr. Andrew M. Brodie, who has been national representative of the Near East Relief in the District of Columbia, has had a nervous breakdown due to overwork and has taken a trip for recuperation. Upon recovery he will remain with the relief organization as national representative and speaker.

Harold F. Pellegrin, who has been Maryland Director since 1919, was Delware Director before coming to Maryland.

Washington headquarters will remain, as at present, at 321 Bond Building, and Maryland headquarters will stay at 14 W. Franklin street, Baltimore.
