—Mr. J. E. Crook will please accept the thanks of THE STAR for a couple of baskets of very fine Sharpless strawberries. These berries sell readily in the city at 25 cents per quart, and Mr. Crook informed us he was picking from his patch 500 quarts a day, and expected to sell 6,000 quarts of them.

—The annual commencement exercises of the Wilmington Conference Academy, at Dover, will commence next Sunday, June 17th, and continue until the following Thursday, June 21st. The exercises will be varied and interesting, and especially so to the membership of the M. E. Church.

—Make your homes cool, by using the Automatic Blind Awning Fixtures. These fixtures can be put on old or new houses, on brick or wood houses, the blinds turning back and fastening against the ordinary way. They are now being extensively used by architects and builders and give perfect satisfaction. The price is so low, that no one who values comfort, and enjoys a delightful shade, can afford to be without them. All fixtures galvanized. Now on exhibition and for sale by Shannahan & Wrightson.

—Sensible suggestions; read advertisement and take Simmons Liver Regulator.

—Every Evening.

—The lightning struck and damaged several telephone posts at Royal Oak, during the storm on Thursday, and knocked down, but did not injure, Mr. Philip Passerfield, Jr., the druggist.

—The excursion of the M. P. Sunday School to Tolchester last Saturday was a grand success. Everybody was pleased that went on it, and nothing unpleasant occurred to mar the pleasures of the day. Waikart, the caterer, had the refreshment table, and dished up the eatables in right neat style.

—If you want a neat and strong job of shoe mending done, call at Charles H. Collison's shop, on the Avenue, opposite Covey's stable. He is the man who can fill the bill of fare. And if you want a handsome pair of new boots or gaiters, made in the best manner, give him your measure and order them. He will give you a neat fit, and a first-rate job in every respect. Try him.

—James H. Williams, of Centreville, is the possessor of a powder horn which has a map of the State of New York engraved upon it. The map shows New York city, the North River, Half Moon, Stillwater, Saratoga, Fort Miller, Howes, Royal Bloom, Fort Edward, Fort George, Niagara, Iron Rally, German Flatt, Oswego Falls, Fort Stanwix, &c. It also contains a coat of arms and the picture of a Continental soldier making a charge. The etching is very neatly done, and the horn bears the name of "Reuben Smith, April 12, 1760." The horn is in a splendid state of preservation.—[Centreville Observer.

Oxford Items.

All indications point to a good fishing season.

Seth & Co.'s canning house opened yesterday.

It is said that there never was a better prospect for an abundance of soft crabs.

The new store buildings of Mr. William J. Shehan are fast approaching completion.

Several black bass have been caught off the mouth of Mr. Fred Awer during the past week.

Col. Peters Riverview House is now open. This excellent house expects a large number of guests during the season.

The new schooner J. Frank Bateman, built by Benson & Co. for Capt. James Benson, was launched last Thursday afternoon.

There was an excursion to Oxford on Saturday, under the auspices of the M. E. Sunday School of Woodberry, on the Samuel J. Peatz.

The first sheep's-head of the season was caught on Saturday last. It weighed about five pounds, and was served on Sunday by mine host Norris of Eastford Hall.

At the town election on Monday, the 4th, the following were elected Commissioners: Noah J. Foxwell, Robert K. Gollison, William M. Bergman, James H. Harris, and Nicholas R. Stevens.

The dwelling house of John Henry, colored, was struck by lightning, during the thunder storm of Thursday evening, and was damaged slightly. His boat, lying in the creek near by, was also struck and he must was shivered.

Eastford Hall opens to-day, with a good prospect for a large number of guests. It is still under the management of Mr. Samuel Norris, and he has with him Mr. T. J. Dittis as clerk and Capt. Stitts in charge of the culinary department, both of whom are well known in Easton. Everything will be run in first-class style, and visitors can be certain of fine accommodations.

Sale of "Hope."

Mr. J. Frank Turner, who recently bought "Hope," the old Tilghman homestead, in Miles River Neck, for a summer residence, sold the estate last week to Mr. George W. Towle, of Rhode Island, including the growing crops and planted oysters, for $20,000. The farm contains 258 acres, and 35 acres additional of the best oyster lands in the county. The mansion is a substantial old brick building, most delightfully situated on the broad waters of Miles river. During the short time Mr. Turner has owned the property he has made important improvements in it, and his selling it is doubtless a great disappointment to his family, who were making preparations to move there for the summer. It is one of the prettiest places in the county, and fine oysters in any quantity may be planted and raised at the door. We know of no better or handsomer residence in the county for a gentleman of fortune. The land is of superior quality, and may be made as productive as any in the county. Mr. Towle is to be congratulated on securing this splendid estate at such moderate figures. The sale was made through the land agency of Mr. Charles E. Shanahan.

A Valuable Natural Fertilizer.

The firm of Hewes, Hessey & Co., of Bridgeville, Del., have just closed a contract for a farm situated near Cambridge, bordering on the Choptank and containing 150 acres, more or less, which is said to be rich in an inexhaustible manurial deposit. Dr. Stuart, State chemist of Maryland, has furnished the company with an analysis of the deposit, which shows it to contain fertilizing elements far superior to the South Carolina rock or anything of the kind that has been put upon the market. The prospecting committee report the river bank to be thirty feet high, showing three strata of this substance, reaching far below the base of the bank and extending along the entire river line of the farm, a distance of nearly half a mile. It forms a vein or pocket, passing through the center and entire southern slope, and perhaps forming the bed rock of the whole farm. The committee estimate the deposit to be worth at least $8 per ton as it lies in the bed.—[The Day.

—Every Evening.

The New Passenger Train Service on the Delaware Division.

The great success of the new morning train up and the evening train down the Delaware Division has already proven the wisdom of the departure, and now that residents along the line may spend nearly four hours in Philadelphia and return to their homes the same night, many of them are taking advantage of it.

The residents of Cambridge may leave home at 6.00 A. M. by the train that stops at all principal stations, and reach Philadelphia at noon; returning leave Philadelphia at 3.01 P. M. and arrive at Cambridge at 8.15. For such places as Seaford, Farmington, Harrington, Felton, Dover, Smyrna, Middletown, and Wilmington, the allowance of time is of course proportionately longer.

Real Estate Sales.

Mr. Charles E. Shannahan, land agent, has sold the Roman Catholic Church farm in Chapel district, for Mr. John P. Stelle to Mr. A. V. Nevius, of New Jersey, 305 acres for $6,500.

Mr. Shanahan has also sold for Mr. John F. George, Jr., his farm near Cordova, 208 acres, to E. B. Samist and J. A. Samist for $6,000.

On Thirty Days' Trial.

The VOLTAIC BELT Co., Marshall, Mich., will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to men (young or old) who are afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality and kindred troubles, guaranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Address as above. N. B.—No risk is incurred, as thirty days' trial is allowed. jan2-y.

Entertainment

Next Thursday evening, June 14th, in the M. E. Church, by Prof. S. T. Ford, who will appear in his excellent renditions of dramatic, pathetic and humorous selections from great authors. A rich literary treat to the people of Easton. Mr. Ford gives his services without charge in this case, for the benefit of a young man studying for the ministry. Admission 25 cents; children 10 cents.

The Episcopal Convention.

The annual Convention of the Diocese of Easton met at Emanuel Church, Chestertown, on Wednesday, June 6th, the Right Rev. H. C. Lay, Bishop of the Diocese, presiding. Emanuel Church has recently been remodeled and enlarged, and is now one of the prettiest churches in the Diocese. It has a handsome organ chamber, and a fine new organ, made by Henry Nieman, of Baltimore, and a very pretty stained glass memorial window, placed in the chancel in honor of the late Judge John B. Eccleston. The organ chamber is built in front of the chancel, and the acoustics are faultless. The pews are finished in walnut, and the entire floor of the church is handsomely carpeted. The Convention sermon on Wednesday morning was preached by the Johnson Kirkby of the Episcopal Church, an eloquent and most interesting preacher. Archdeacon Kirkby has for the past twenty years been engaged as a missionary in British America and Alaska, and during the Convention delivered very exceedingly interesting missionary addresses. He is spending the summer at Garden City, Long Island. The usual routine work of the Convention was dispatched in a couple of days, and the Convention adjourned on Thursday night. Rev. J. A. Mitchell, of Centreville, was secretary of the Convention, with Mr. W. S. Walker, assistant secretary. The reports of the officers and committees show the church in the diocese to be in a most prosperous condition. Under a resolution of the Convention of 1882, ratified by the Convention of 1883, Hon. Jas. Alfred Pearce, of Chestertown, was appointed by the Bishop Chancellor of the Diocese, with a seat in the Convention. Rev. Mr. Gassner was ordained a Deacon on Wednesday, after which the Holy Communion was celebrated. On Thursday evening Bishop Lay read his annual address, which was extremely interesting.

The following church officers were elected:

Treasurer of the Convention—Col. Thomas Hughlett.

Treasurer of the Diocesan Fund—Dr. I. L. Adkins.

Treasurer Clergy Relief Fund—Gen. E. L. F. Hardcastle.

Register of the Diocese—Rev. Theodore P. Barber.

Standing Committee—Rev. Theodore P. Barber, Rev. James A. Mitchell, Rev. John C. Bartlett, Rev. E. F. Dashiell, Rev. Robert Wilson.

Trustees of the Episcopal Fund—Hon. R. B. Carmichael, Dr. I. L. Adkins, Gen. E. L. F. Hardcastle, Commodore Charles Lowndes, and George R. Goldsborough, H. H. Dashiell, and W. S. Walker, Esqs.

Board of Diocesan Missions—Right Rev. H. C. Lay, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese, (President,) Rev. Lewis Walke, Rev. Theodore P. Barber, D. D., Rev. F. A. Hilliard, Dr. I. L. Adkins, (Treasurer,) Dr. Joseph E. M. Chamberlaine.

Deputies to the General Convention—Rev. Theodore P. Barber, Rev. E. F. Dashiell, Rev. Robert Wilson, and Messrs. William S. Walker, and George R. Goldsborough, and Dr. I. L. Adkins and Dr. R. C. Mackall.

Officers of the Home for Friendless Children—Mrs. H. C. Lay, President; Mrs. George R. Goldsborough, Vice-President; Mrs. J. E. M. Chamberlaine, Treasurer; Mrs. M. M. Dawson, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. I. C. W. Powell, Recording Sec'y; Managers, Mrs. Dr. Earle, Mrs. Dr. Harrison, Mrs. P. F. Thomas, Mrs. M. Sherwood, Mrs. E. G. Kennard, Mrs. Dr. Bateman, Mrs. T. K. Robson, Mrs. John W. Cheezum, Mrs. Gen. Hardcastle, Miss M. Goldsborough, Miss S. Roberts, Miss J. P. Dawson; Advisory Committee, Rev. E. F. Dashiell, Rev. R. Wilson, Dr. I. L. Adkins, Dr. E. M. Hardcastle and John McD. Goldsborough, Esq.

The Convention of 1884 will be held at Princess Anne, Somerset county.

ORPHANS' COURT.—APRIL TERM, 1883.

EASTON, June 5.—The Court met, present Chief Judge O. Hammond, and Associate Judges Merrick and Rose.

Letters of administration on the personal estate of Miriam G. Pritchett were granted to Elmer H. Pritchett.

Dr. R. M. Dawson, executor of Mary Dawson, deceased, presented an inventory of the personal estate. Sale of the property was authorized by an order of the court.

The Court adjourned to Tuesday, June 12th.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

EASTON, June 5.—The Board met, present Messrs. Willis, Bartlett and Tarbutton.

Jerome B. Bennett was appointed a trustee of Talbot county Almshouse, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John W. Cheezum.

R. J. Tripp, Wm. T. Elbin and others, applied for a new road in Chapel district, from the junction of the Catholic church and Skipton and Cordova roads, through the lands of Chas. E. Shanahan, E. B. Samist, John McCormick, Elias O. Dawson and E. F. Jump to the public road leading from Three Bridges to Chapel, at or near Cranston's gate.

The Board adjourned until Tuesday next, June 12th.

ALMSHOUSE TRUSTEES.

WEDNESDAY, June 6th.—The Trustees of the Talbot County Almshouse held to-day their regular monthly meeting, present Solomon S. Hopkins, president of the Board, and Messrs. Charles Henry Rigby, John V. Lowe, James Cox, and Jerome B. Bennett. The last named had been appointed by the County Commissioners the day before, to fill the vacancy in the Board caused by the death of Mr. John W. Cheezum. Mr. Bennett was unanimously elected Secretary and Treasurer, vice J. W. Cheezum, deceased. President Hopkins announced the death of Mr. Cheezum in a few appropriate and feeling remarks, and offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That in the death of Mr. John W. Cheezum, this Board has lost another valued and honored member of its body; one who was always prompt and efficient in the discharge of his duty, courteous to his associates, and beloved by all.

Resolved, Also, that a copy of this action of the Board be forwarded with our sympathy to his family, and published in the county papers.

A Church 150 Years Old.

Persons going to Ocean City by way of the Wicomico river have probably had pointed out to them the quaint and ancient pile of brick resting on the high ground just beyond the water's edge at Green Hill. On the wall facing the river are the figures "1738." The old building is St. Bartholomew's Protestant Episcopal Church. It is exactly 150 years old, and is a landmark in church history. Bishop Lay referred to it in his address at St. Paul's Church last week, and highly commended its first rector, the simple-hearted, energetic Alexander Adams. The walls are of imported brick, and still strong, but the roof, doors and windows are giving way. Bishop Lay thinks that it would be a work befitting this anniversary year of the church in Maryland to repair the building and to preserve it for the use of a congregation hereafter to be gathered. With this purpose in view he has appointed as a committee to receive contributions Rev. F. B. Adkins, Quantico, Wicomico county; Rev. Geo. W. Bowne, Salisbury; Dr. Robert Atkinson, No. 277 Linden avenue, and Mr. Cassius M. Dashiell, No. 15 North street, Baltimore. In 1706, by parliamentary act, Green Hill, Annapolis, Oxford, Chestertown, St. Mary's Town and Beckwith's Island were made ports of entry.—[Baltimore Sun.

CHAFFINCH & CONEY.

Spring has come and

J. E. SHANNAHAN

is ready for it with his store room packed full of new goods. I can show a much larger stock of all kinds of Dry Goods, Notions, &c., than ever before, and intend to make this season surpass all previous ones.

In Dress Goods I can show you all the new styles and shades of the season, with trimmings to match.

See our line of Silks and Cashmeres, in black and colors, and compare them.

A full line of Satines, Foulards, French Chambrays, Ginghams and Calicoes.

White Dress Goods of all kinds.

A very large and extra cheap lot of Hamburgs and Laces.

Hoops and Bustles of all kinds.

Still another lot of Cassimeres.

Some new things in Shirts.

Collars, Cuffs and Neckwear just received.

While I do not claim to sell goods cheaper than any one else, I do claim to sell them as cheap as the cheapest, and when I can't do that, I shall cease to sell them at all.

Hoping you will favor us with a call, I remain
Very Respectfully,

J. E. SHANNAHAN.
