—The following are the collectors of State and county taxes for Caroline county lately appointed at Denton by the county commissioners: First district, W. T. Roberts; second, J. P. Manlove; third, J. B. Dukes; fourth T. L. Frampton; fifth, E. Hignutt; sixth, J. Gingher.

—The car load of Webster wagons received by Shannahan & Wrightson are going off in a hurry. Quality in wagons, as well as in other goods, will tell. The Webster wagon has been pronounced, after critical examination, to be the best wagon ever sold in this county, be sure to examine it before buying.

—Miss Helen Potter, the greatest impersonator in the world, will be at Music Hall, Friday evening, May 9th. All who desire an intellectual treat should secure seats at once, as doubtless the hall will be crowded. The people of Trappe, St. Michaels and Chapel as well as Easton, will doubtless crowd the hall on the 9th of May.

—The field of wheat on the Eugene Ross farm, in Bambury, so much praised for its extraordinary growth, (now standing three feet high on the level) was fertilized with Nickerson's Eastern Shore Domestic Guano. We note this for the information of those who may want to grow prize wheat next year. The article is advertised in the STAR.

—THE EASTON STAR job office is the most complete printing office on the Eastern Shore. It has three presses, two worked by steam, and a new and complete outfit of the latest styles of type, and can print a larger bill and do nicer work than any competing office, and it proposes to do as cheap work as any city office, having equal facilities as the best.

—Latest improved—The Cabin disc harrows, Acme pulverizing harrows, Taylor's field rollers, Champion double-row corn-planters, the Spangler one-horse corn drill, Taylor's iron frame and sulky cultivators, Planet, Jr., garden drills, and Darnell's patent double-row furrower and marker for sale at lowest prices by SHANNAHAN & WRIGHTSON.

—Messrs. Wm. Mason & Sons have lately sold a large number of carriages of their own make, and have orders for all they can make. They put up nice, strong carriages of strictly first class work, and are prompt in the dispatch of business. They advertise their carriages in to-day's STAR, and we advise those wanting a new carriage to call at their shop on Market Space and examine their work and prices.

—Ex-Sheriff William Reddie is getting his farm in Bambury in fine condition, and promises to be one of the most enterprising farmers in Trappe district. Sheriff Reddie is proving to those around him the advantages of heavy fertilizing for all kinds of crops. Before he was elected sheriff he thought no business was equal to fishing in the spring for money making, but he now finds that the cultivation of the soil pays much better than progging in the Choptank.

—John Satterfield, tailor, opposite the Frame hotel, Easton, announces to his customers and the public, that he has received the Spring and Summer fashions for 1884, and is prepared to cut and make suits in the latest fashion, and guarantees his work to fit and made equal in style and durability to any made on the Eastern Shore. Cutting of all kinds done to order, and with the same care as if the garments were made at his shop. Cutting suits for youths a specialty.

—Senator Groome has asked the Senate for an appropriation of $10,000, to complete the work of deepening the harbor at Easton Point, and urged upon the Senate in a brief speech the importance of granting the appropriation. A work of this kind when done should be well done, and if $20,000 more were spent on the Third Haven river it would be money well spent. A harbor that was good enough and deep enough twenty years ago might not be good and deep enough for the present, and totally insufficient for the growing demands of commerce.

—Petitions were presented to the county commissioners last Tuesday, praying them to establish a steam ferry at Oxford. To say nothing about the cost of buying a boat, the cost of running a steam ferry boat would be heavy. It is doubtful if the proposition will carry. If the petitioners had asked for a bridge between Ferry Neck and Oxford, it would have had more advocates, and would be much more likely to succeed. A bridge could be built for some $15,000, and it would be preferable to a steam ferry in all respects. The STAR votes for a bridge every time, and hopes, at no distant day, to see one built between Oxford and Ferry Neck.

—If Pangborn, when a newspaper man, displayed half the ingenuity and originality he has since his advent with the B. & O., he certainly must have kept things lively. He is out with another B. & O. book, as wholly different in conception and general style from last week's publication as possible to imagine. The latest is entitled "Mountain and Valley Resorts," and is a most exquisite thing. It is printed upon heavy paper; the views of the different resorts most exquisitely rendered (in no one can tell how many colors), and counterfeiting nature to perfection. The letter-press is in maroon, and throughout the reading pages are ornamental panels in various shades, and producing lovely contrasts. The book is a gem, and unquestionably reaches the highest standard of art yet accomplished by any railroad company. As usual, a request made by mail to C. K. Lord, G. P. A., Baltimore, with a two cent stamp for postage will secure a copy.

—Good reliable farm labor is very scarce in this county.

—Dr. J. A. Johnson has just put up a handsome new iron railing in front of his residence on Dover street.

—Faille cloths, like a cotton gros grain, with satin finish are new this season and very pretty.—[Godey's Lady's Book.

—Dr. Decourcy, of Piney Neck, is about to build a new house in place of his dwelling that was lately destroyed by fire.

—The Democratic State Central Committee meets in Baltimore to-day to arrange the program for electing delegates to the Chicago convention, the nomination of presidential electors and candidates for congress.

—The Blaine men are now confident of capturing the Baltimore postoffice, the custom house and the internal revenue offices, but "there is many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip."

—Now is the time to put out chrysanthemums, the most beautiful of all fall flowers. Send to Hallock, Son & Thorpe, Queens, New York. They cost from 15c to 30c a piece. You can get beauties for 15c, the new varieties cost more.

—Malleable gear wheels are used on no other binder but the Champion. Cast iron gear cannot stand the sudden starting and stopping of the binder, and the breaking of these gears has been a serious trouble with all binders. Malleable gears never break.

—Next Monday, May 5th, is the day of the town election, when one commissioner is to be elected in the place of Mr. A. A. Pascault, whose term expires on that day. Mr. Pascault is a candidate for re-election, and he makes about as good a commissioner as any to be found.

—Mr. Moses Herz has made an assignment to Charles H. Gibson, Esq., for the benefit of his creditors. Mr. Herz has been sick for several months, and seeing no prospect to attend to his business for some time, made the assignment to relieve himself of the annoyance of his creditors.

—Rev. E. B. Newnam will lecture on "Temperance" in King's Creek M. E. Church next Thursday evening at 7½ o'clock. His object is to establish a lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars at that place. The public are respectfully invited to come and hear this eloquent lecturer.

—The Champion light binder is acknowledged by all to be the best in the market. Built of the best material and according to the most scientific principles. They will last longer, cost less for repairs and do better work than any other binder made. Don't suffer yourself to be deceived on this subject. Get only the Champion and you will never regret it.

—The lightest draft, the strongest, the simplest and by long odds the best machine for cutting and saving all conditions of grain is the Champion light binder. A simple inspection by any one desiring such a machine will convince the most skeptical. It is no idle boast to claim the utmost superiority over any and all others and we defy all contrary assertions. There is none like it, there is none approaching it in valuable points.

—A pair of horses hitched to a farm wagon ran away late Saturday afternoon. Starting somewhere down town they went up Dover street at full speed. In going over the crossing at the junction of Dover and Hanson streets, the jar made the body bounce off; that frightened them so they left the street and ran across the porch of Mrs. Susan Dawson's house, opposite the Methodist parsonage, tearing out the supports and letting the porch roof down, and running into a tree near by, they were stopped. The runaway frightened lots of people who were on the street at the time.

Public Business.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

EASTON, April 22d. The board met, present—John W. Knotts, Henry Wilson and Silas A. Simpson, commissioners, Joseph S. Robson, clerk.

A largely signed petition was laid before the board, asking the commissioners to contribute to the Easton fire department, the county being interested in protecting the court house and jail from fire, and the county having recently dispossessed the town of the building used for the fire apparatus, thereby compelling the town to put up a building for the storage of the apparatus.

Three petitions were filed praying the board to establish a steam ferry at Oxford, and asking for an appropriation of $2,000 to start it.

Charles R. Wooters, recently appointed tax collector, filed his bonds, which were approved, and the bond for State tax collector sent to the Governor.

ORPHANS' COURT.

EASTON, April 22d. The court met, present—Judges Hammond, Merrick and Rose.

John W. Knotts, executor of Ebenezer Jackson, passed a distribution of the estate.

Capt. C. R. Leonard, adm. of Capt. Edward Bland, presented an inventory of the estate. The court passed an order authorizing the sale of the same, and directed the administrator to advertise notice to creditors to file their claims.

James Benson, executor of Capt. Josiah Thomas, presented an inventory of the real and personal estate. An order for the sale of the personal estate was passed, and the executor was directed to file a notice to creditors to file their claims.

Dr. F. M. Lloyd, one of the executors of Charles H Bowdle, filed an additional account of sale, and a general list of debts due the estate.

Jerome B. Bennett, executor of Silas Kirby, passed his final account of administration and a distribution of the estate.

Jerome B. Bennett, guardian to Anne Gale, passed his final account.

John B. Fairbank, guardian to Lillie R. Moreland, passed his final account.

Library Notice.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.

For May has been received. It is a very pretty and a very interesting number. The portrait for the month is that of Ex-President James K. Polk. Godey is the oldest of our magazines.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE,

contains its usual variety of literary, miscellaneous and fashion matter. It is a good work for the ladies to have in the house.

LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE

For May opens with an illustrated article on "The Hill Suburbs of Cincinnati." Lippincott is always interesting. It never contains a dull article.

THE CENTURY.

For May contains a steel plate engraving of Chief Joseph of the Nez Percas. Its table of contents will be found exceedingly choice, many of our most popular writers being represented in it.

ST. NICHOLAS.

J. T. Trowbridge opens the May number with a new serial story, entitled "The Scarlet Tanager"; Maurice Thompson also begins a six months serial, called "Marvin and his Boy Hunters," and Mayne Reid's thrilling story, "The Land of Fire," is brought to a satisfactory conclusion.

Elizabeth Stuart Phelps contributes an article with the suggestive title, "Supporting Herself," which should be read by every girl in the land. Charles G. Leland contributes a paper on "Leather Work. It makes a fitting supplement to "Supporting Herself."

Frank R. Stockton writes one of his quaint and inimitable fanciful tales, "The Philopena"; and in a different key is the pathetic story by A. G. Plympton, "The River-end Meroys' Rab."

Louisa M. Alcott's fifth "Spinning-wheel Story," "Little Things," is a capital girl's story of long ago. E. S. Brooks tell graphically of "Olaf of Norway; the Boy Viking," another "Historic Boy."

There are also many poems, verses and pictorial contributions by famous authors and artists.

"Nothing Succeeds Like Success."

Is an adage that is truly applicable to the career of the lyceum favorite, Miss Helen Potter. Of a retiring and unassuming disposition she has from the first gone steadily on in her work until her great talent and genius have won for her the position she holds at the head of the host of readers and elocutionists. We hazard nothing in saying that no other artiste in America has so firm a hold on the lyceum patrons, from Maine to California, and there are none who command as high fees as she does to-day, which in view of the constant demand for new people, is the best evidence of Miss Potter's continued power of attraction and popularity.

The following item is clipped from the Philadelphia Enquirer of February 13th, on Miss Potter's twelfth appearance on the Star course of that city:

"Miss Helen Potter was greeted with a very large audience last evening at the Academy of Music, the occasion being the opening night of the Star Course for this season. Miss Potter has always been a favorite here, and her reception last evening demonstrated that she had lost none of her popularity. Her selections comprised imitations of pulpit oratory, the three styles taken being negro, Darwinian and frontier; recitation of T. B. Read's poem "Drifting," in which she displayed a rare ability to modulate her voice; specimens of the reading by a country school class; two scenes from Henry VIII; Queen Katharine of Arragon's plea in court, and her speech when near death; remarkable portraits of Charlotte Cushman; an impersonation of Oscar Wilde, whom by the way, she commended for having brought some good ideas to this country; an imitation of a Yankee spinster giving her ideas upon training boys; and an address upon "newspapers," ala T. De Witt Talmage. The applause was freely given, and in many instances very enthusiastically. It was certainly an auspicious beginning of the Winter Course.

Mis Potter presents an entertainment that cannot fail to commend itself to the public generally. The fact that it has done so in the past is sufficiently attested in her great and continued popularity.

Harmony in the G. O. P.

The most glaring frauds appear to have been perpetrated by both factions of the Republicans at their primary elections in Baltimore last week, making the election a perfect farce. The bitterest feeling existed between the factions, which were carried into the conventions of the third and fourth congressional districts, causing a secession in each, and the election of a double set of delegates to Hagerstown and Chicago. Civil service reform was thrown to the winds, and office holders were the leaders in the gross frauds committed. Ballot boxes were stuffed and all kinds of cheating openly practised. Judges of election were caught with their sleeves full of tickets, and they fixed the vote to suit their side, just as they pleased. It was a most disgraceful affair from beginning to end, the biggest rascals walking off with the honors and abusing the other side like pickpockets. If this is the way they are putting Blaine through in other States, it will be bad for him next November.

A $20 Bible Prize.

The publishers of Rutledge Monthly offer twelve valuable rewards in their Monthly for May, among which is the following:

"We will give $20 to the person telling us how many times the word Paradise occurs in the New Testament Scriptures (not the New Revision,) by May 10th, 1884. Should two or more correct answers be received, the reward will be divided. The money will be forwarded to the winner May 15th, 1884. Persons trying for the reward must send 20c in silver (no postage stamps taken) with their answer, for which they will receive the June Monthly, in which the name and address of the winner of the reward and the correct answer will be published, and in which several more rewards will be offered." Address Rutledge Publishing Co., Easton Pa.

Base Ball.

Base ball is to the United States what cricket is to England, and is growing in popularity every year. There are organized for this year nine professional associations, represented by eighty clubs, and any number of amateur clubs. Last year Easton was pretty well represented by a number of local clubs—from the Eastons to clubs of boys from nine to ten years of Age. The Eastons did some fine playing last year, and having lately reorganized with all their old members and some new ones, as soon as the proper grounds can be secured, they will go to practising, and we have no doubt but that they will raise the standard of their playing still higher. As soon as the weather becomes settled arrangements will be made for games, and it is expected there will be quite a number played during the summer.

Republican Convention.

The county convention met at Easton on Tuesday; Mr. Charles H. Mansfield, president; Mr. James M. Mitchell, secretary. The following delegates were elected:

To the State convention at Hagerstown—Wm. P. Wright, James Valliant, D. C. Avery N. C. Fitzjarrell.

To the district convention at Chestertown—H. C. Dodson, M. M. Higgins, J. C. Mullikin, Wm. Hand.

The inquiry has been made as to why no colored Republican has been sent from this county, as a delegate, either to Chestertown or Hagerstown. As the colored Republicans constitute at least three-fourths of the Republican voters, it is thought they were at least entitled to one delegate to each convention.

Death of Mrs. Spencer.

Mrs. Henrietta M. C. Spencer, widow of the late Dr. Samuel W. Spencer, of Appalachicola, Florida, and daughter of the late Hon. William Hayward, of Easton, and granddaughter of Thomas J. Bullett, a distinguished lawyer of the Easton bar, and at one time President of the Easton bank, died at Savannah, Georgia, on the 21st inst. Dr. Samuel W. Spencer was raised in Easton, and emigrated to Florida about the year 1835, and was for many years collector of the port of Appalachicola. He died during the war.

Death of Mrs. Forman.

Mrs. Marcia Forman, who lately moved from Easton to her farm near Wye Mills, Queen Anne's county, died of pneumonia on Monday week. She was a daughter of Judge Watts, of Carlisle, Pennsylvania, and widow of the late William Hemsley Forman, of Queen Anne's county. Mrs. Forman's funeral took place last Tuesday, the Rev. Mr. Ware and the Rev. Mr. Mitchell conducting the services.

The Chestertown Convention.

The Chestertown Republican Convention met on Thursday and appointed the following delegates to Chicago: Charles T. Westcott, of Kent, and James C. Mullikin, of Talbot. Alternates—N. Walter Dixon, of Somerset, and Wilbur C. Eliason, of Kent. Mr. Wilbur C. Eliason, of Kent, was the president of the convention, and Mr. N. Walter Dixon, of Somerset, secretary.

Death of Mrs. Denny.

Mrs. Catharine Denny, widow of the late Spry Denny, of this county, died in Baltimore last Thursday morning. Mrs. Denny went to Baltimore last fall to spend the winter and receive medical treatment, and was ill some time before her death. Dr. W. H. Williams, her son-in-law, and Mrs. Wilson, her only child, was with her when she died. Her remains were brought over Friday morning, and the funeral took place yesterday.

Personal.

Comptroller Turner is getting quite well of his rheumatism.

Mrs. Col. R. O. Hollyday returned from New York last week, and is again at home at "Ratcliffe."

Right Rev. H. C. Lay, Bishop of Easton, is in New York, attending a meeting of the convention of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

A Card.

Having been called upon by a number of citizens to run for re-election for commissioner of Easton, this is to announce that I have consented to do so and will serve another term if elected. Thanking for past support, I promise to use to the best of my ability to keep the finances of the town in good condition if honored with a re-election.
A. A. PASCAULT.

Death of Miss Mary Vickers.

Miss Mary Vickers, aged 82 years, died at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Ariana Leonard, on South street, on Sunday evening. The funeral will take place at Mrs. Leonard's tomorrow (Wednesday) morning at 10 o'clock. Miss Vickers was a daughter of Capt. Vickers who commanded the first steamboat that ran between Easton and Baltimore.

Death of Dr. Cooper.

Rev. Ignatius T. Cooper, D. D., died at Camden, Delaware, last Saturday week. He was a superannuated preacher of the M. E. Church, and a very fine orator in the days of his prime. He had not been able to do circuit work for many years. He was a lawyer in Dover before entering the ministry, some forty-five or fifty years ago.

Baby Found in Oxford.

Justice Wamsley held an inquest on Saturday over the body of an infant child found in the parlor fire-place of Mr. Wm. H. Williams in Oxford. It is supposed it had been there several months. There was no evidence as to its mother, or that the child was born alive.
