THE EASTON STAR

TUESDAY, JUNE 3, 1884.

T. H. NOBLE, Editor.

L. JEFF. MILBOURNE & CO., Newspaper Advertising Agents, 139 West Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md., are authorized to contract for advertisements for THE STAR, at our best rates.

THE Republican national convention meets to-day. We shall soon learn the name of the man that Samuel J. Tilden will have the pleasure of distancing at the presidential races. The Republican party must go.

GEN. BENJAMIN F. BUTLER was nominated for President by the national greenback convention, which met at Indianapolis last week. Gen. A. M. West, of Mississippi, was nominated for Vice President with Gov. Butler.

THE Gazette prints a great cock-and-bull story about Comptroller Turner wanting to be Governor, in the event that Gov. McLane should be elected to Congress. The story is a slander manufactured out of whole cloth. He has no such aspirations. Another similar story has been circulated, to the effect that Mr. Turner would like to go to congress, if he could get the nomination. This is also a malicious slander. We are fully warranted in saying that he has no congressional aspirations.

THERE was a terrible disaster in Baltimore last Friday. The large four story warehouse of Wm. E. Hooper & Sons and Long & Dugdale, 37 South Gay street, stored full of cotton and fertilizer, fell suddenly with a crash, without apparent cause, and without a moment's warning buried a dozen or more people, including the proprietors and clerks, under the timbers, bricks and mortar. The fire department was ordered out to aid in rescuing the unfortunate inmates. Several were taken out badly mangled. Some were not much hurt, but nearly suffocated.

BLAINE's voting strength in the Maryland delegation to Chicago is said to be rapidly melting away. Most of the Republican conventions in the State that elected delegates, while they were for Blaine, some "first, last and all the time," simply instructed them to go for "the strongest man," supposing Blaine to be that particularly happy individual. Under their instructions, the delegates have been looking around for "the strongest man," and some of them went to the White House for information. They are now satisfied that Arthur is stronger than Blaine, and have therefore severed their connection with the Blaine army, and have coupled on to the Arthur machine.

To Country Belles.

VEILS and sunshades cannot prevent the summer sun from embrowning your complexions; but GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP will speedily restore if duly applied according to directions. The great charm of this article is, that there is not a suspicion that the effect it produces is artificial. Nothing can be more natural than the soft velvet texture it imparts to the skin. "G. N. Crilleulon, Proprietor," is printed on each packet, without which none is genuine. Sold by druggists and fancy goods dealers.

HILL'S HAIR AND WHISKER DYE, black or brown, fifty cents.

High Authority.

DR. W. E. SCOTT, President of the College of Physicians, Montreal, writes: "I have recommended COLDEN'S LIQUID BEEF TONIC as the best preparation used for debility, indigestion, dyspepsia, fever, ague and loss of appetite." (Take no other.) Of druggists generally.

From Wilmer Brinton, M. D., Baltimore.

"I have used COLDEN'S LIQUID BEEF TONIC in my practice, and have been much gratified with the result. As a tonic in all cases of debility, weakness, anæmia, chlorosis, etc., etc.; it cannot be surpassed." (Remember the name, COLDEN'S—take no other.) Of druggists.

THE CHAMPION BINDER.

These machines have all the facilities for cutting and handling grain that can be found in the best self-rake reaper, and the automatic action of the binding mechanism is entirely reliable and regular. Every part of the Harvester and Binder has been perfected with the utmost care, and improved by new and valuable appliances; and, by using the finest steel and malleable castings, the weight of the machine has been reduced to the lowest safe point.

The Binder gear wheels on the Champion are of malleable iron. They are very light and tough, and never break. There is twice as much malleable iron and half as much cast iron on the Champion as on any other Binder.

The Champion Guards are made of wrought iron, with case-hardened surface and soft and tough shanks. They are firmly riveted to the planed cutter-bar, and will not break or bend or get out of line on the roughest field. The Harvester guards are made exactly like the famous Champion Mower Guards.

The elevator of the Champion is very low, slopes up gently, and the canvasses are wide apart, giving great capacity. It never chokes, but carries up everything smoothly and gently, without shelling the ripe grain.

The Champion Cutter-Bar is made of angle steel. The front is upright, smoothly planed, and has a shoulder that holds the guards exactly in line. It is the most expensive cutter-bar ever made.

A malleable iron bracket connects the Champion Cutter-Bar with the Divider, and makes the grain-wheel run true.

All the important timber parts in the Champion are of hard wood, including Divider, bottom of platform, canvas slats, etc., and only screws and rivets are used to fasten the wooden parts, where other machines use common nails.

The ends of all reel arms, wooden levers and braces on the Champion are secured by safety rivets and washers.

The oil holes in the Champion main wheel and grain wheel are closed with safety screw plugs.

The Champion Trip actually weighs every bundle, and consequently makes larger bundles in ripe, dry grain than in wet, green, weedy grain—just what every farmer wants. The trip consists of a single rod and flap; it cannot possibly choke or get out of order.

The Champion Relief Rake at the inner end of the cutter-bar will save $25.00 in time lost with other binders, while stopping to clean out this "terrible inside corner."

The Reel of the Champion is very light, large, strong and elastic. The tough hickory reel arms will twist and bend when striking an obstruction, but will readily swing back into shape again. There is but one reel lever and a boy can handle it easily and correctly.

The Champion Harvester can be lowered from a 15-inch cut down to 8 inches, with a level platform, and can be tilted to cut a 1½ inch stubble. The driver can raise or lower the machine instantly and easily, without stopping the machine or leaving his seat. When set for cutting lodged grain, the long guards pick up the fallen grain, the large reel sweeps it through the knife, and the canvas, running close behind the knife, carries everything swiftly to the elevator.

The Champion main axle is bolted to the main frame, and forms a part of it, strongly bracing the frame. The gear wheels are always kept in proper line and mesh, making the machine light draft and durable.

TESTIMONIALS.

WITTMAN, MD.

F. H. Nickerson & Co., Easton, Md.

Gentlemen—The two tons of fertilizer I bought of you last Spring, I used on the poorest land on my farm at the rate of 250 lbs. per acre. One ton was used where there was no barn-yard manure, was very late planting, the cut worms destroyed more than one-third, I did not re-plant till June; notwithstanding, I made 25 bushels per acre. The same piece of land four years ago did not make ten bushels to the acre. I think it is all you claim it to be: a number one corn manure. Yours truly,

B. F. SHERWOOD.
