WIRE ROPE.—Wire rope, wire cord and wire clotheslines have been brought into such general use that articles of this kind are no longer a curiosity. One of our exchanges thinks that wire rope and wire cord constitute one of the most decided improvements on the ideas of our grandfathers that are entitled to attention in our enlightened age. The snapping of a sash cord, which leaves a window a heavy burden on all connected with it, has ever been the dread of housekeepers But the wire sash cord at once insures the most nervous against such accidents. For clotheslines the wire rope must supercede the old hempen arrangement, as it is not only strong, but durable. Dumb-waiters find in it a reliable way of elevating themselves, without fear of disconnection. Pictures in costliest frames may hang most favorably from silvered cords that look like shining thread of lightest gossamer. And speaking of gossamer reminds us that wire clothes is manufactured by the same company that makes the iron, copper, and silvered sash cord. Even lightning-rods are formed of copper-wire so plaited as to be continuous, and therefore not apt to puzzle the electric fluid with a single point in its free and easy passage to the earth.

THE SPEED OF BIRDS.—Spallanzi found that the swallow can fly at the rate of 92 miles an hour, and he computes the rapidity of the swift to be not less than 250 miles an hour. If it can move at this rate, even for a short distance, the swift must be ranked as the swiftest of birds. The common crow can make about 25 miles, the eider duck 90 miles, the eagle 140 miles, the hawk and many other birds 150 miles per hour. The flight of migratory birds does not probably exceed 50 miles within the hour. A falcon belonging to Henry IV., of France, escaped from Fontainebleau, and was found at Malta, having made at least 1,550 miles within twenty-four hours. Sir John Ross, on the sixth of October, 1850, despatched from Assistance Bay two young carrier pigeons, and on October 13 one of them reached its dovecote in Ayrshire, Scotland. The direct distance being about 2,000 miles, the speed was comparatively slow. Birds whose flights have excited astonishment have been, in most instances, assisted by aerial currents moving in the same direction.

THINGS TO BE REMEMBERED.—As the long evenings have come, and the lamps are in almost constant use, explosions will be more frequent unless great care be exercised. An exchange suggests the fellowing, which if observed may tend to render coal oil safe:—

Fill your lamps by daylight and keep them well cleaned; never burn a lamp when it is less than one-third full of oil; never fill a lamp near the fire, nor keep them on the mantlepiece near a stove; turn the wick down low before trying to blow it out; keep your oil can in a cool place: coal oil is explosive when heated; don't let little children meddle with either oil or lamps; if you want to blow yourself up, just pour a little oil out of your can on your fire to start it.

A young lawyer was examining a bankrupt as to how he spent his money. There was about two thousand dollars unaccounted for, when the attorney put on a severe scrutinizing face and exclaimed with much complacency: "Now, sir, I want you to tell this court and jury how you used those two thousand dollars?" The bankrupt put on a serious face, winked at the audience, and exclaimed: "The lawers got that!" The Judge and audience were convulsed with laughter, and the counselor was glad to let the bankrupt off.

Bagby, of the Native Virginian, speaks of a cotemporary thusly:

Mr. Foster of the Charlottesville Chronicle called on us the other day. He is 19 years old, quite handsome, 6 feet 8 inches high, and weighs 269 pounds. We desire no personal difficulty with Mr. F., but we tell him to his back that we are just about tall enough to bite him in the calf of the leg, and if he fools with us, by jing! we'll do it.

Dr. G——, of Sycamore, Ill., riding in the country one day, saw a sign upon a gate-post reading thus: "This farm for sail" Stopping his horse, he hailed a little old woman, who stood on tip-toe hanging out clothes. "I Say madam, when does this farm sail?" "Just as soon, sir," replied the old lady, placing her thumb to her nose, "as anybody comes along who can raise the wind!" The doctor drove thoughtfully on.

In a lecture at Buffalo the other evening Olive Logan remarked; "I never saw a pretty girl in all my life, one upon whose cheeks the roses were blooming, but that I wanted to fold her in my arms and kiss her," This was too much for one of the males auditors to hear in silence, and ignoring the propriety of the occasion, he exclaimed. "I feel just so too."—[Tremendous applause]

Young Swain, the son of the late proprietor of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, with the $4,000,000 left to him, will start a daily morning penny paper in Philadelphia. He is prepared to spend $500,000 in establishing his paper, and will probably need every penny of it.

Four enormous steers, the smallest weighing 3,300 pounds and the largest over 4,000 pounds, are en route from Northern New York to the city. They are said to be the largest animals of the kind ever raised. After they are killed their hides will be stuffed and placed in the Central Park.

The cars of the elevated railway on Greenwich street are to be propelled by wire rope belts, a mile in length, extending from the driving-wheel of one engine to the large pulley-wheel half a mile distant, and back to the engine.—Manufacturer and Builder.

The moral cement of society is virtue: it unites and preserves, while vice separates and destroys. The good may well be termed the salt of the earth; for where there is no integrity, there can be no confidence; and where there is no confidence, there can be no unanimity.

In the Iowa Legislature a resolution has been introduced instructing the Senators from that State to use their influence to prevent any further apropriations for the public buildings in Washington city.

The editor of a Kentuckey paper claims to have in his possession the tomahawk which Tecumseh threw at Col. Richard M. Johnson, just before the latter killed him. He means to keep it to throw at Ben Butler.

Massachusetts increased its valuation last year $120,000,000. Boston pays nearly one-third of the taxes of the State. There are in the State 337,043 polls; 207,027 dwelling houses; 103,113 horses; 155,830 cows, and 112,047 sheep.

The products of seventeen principle silver mines in the Comstock lode in Nevada during the past year were $7,265,000.

Bone Dust.

THE subsriber has just erected at his farm, near the city, the most improved machinery for making BONE DUST, and is now ready to fill orders for any quantity, which will be delivered at the shortest notice.

THE BONE DUST

will be finer than any heretofore made by him, (no chemical process resorted to,) enabling the Farmer or Planter to sow it with the Drill.

Mr. SAMUEL SANDS, well known to the Farmers and Planters of the United States, as the former editor of the American Farmer and Rural Register, will have charge of his office, No. 63 South Gay Street, near Pratt, and will be happy to receive the visits or orders of his old friends.

FORTY-FIVE DOLLARS PER TON, put up in neat bags. No charge for bags. Farmers and others are invited to visit my work, I have nothing to conceal.

My men have nothing nice to perform, therefore I have no "non-admittance" signs on my premises. Persons are free to examine my Factory, and the modus operandi of Dust-making.

I cannot afford to pay 5, 10 or 20 per cent, to commission merchants, as my profits do not exceed 10 per cent.

BONE DUST, as manufactured by me, is A simple, and its quality cannot be made to conform to the price.
