DEAF AND DUMB ASYLUM.

The joint special committee of the Maryland Legislature, consisting of Hons. J. M. Denson and John Jump, of the Senate, and Noah Bowlus, A. G. Chapman, J. M. Street, J. Alfred Ritter and James Webb, of the House, appointed for the purpose of examining into the condition and reporting in regard to the needed improvements for the State Deaf and Dumb Asylum, located in this city, arrived here on last Friday morning, accompanied by a number of gentlemen not of the committee, among whom were Hon. R. C. Hollyday, Secretary of State, J. P. Brinkley, of Baltimore, one of the Board of Visitors of the Institution, and Robert Fowler, late State Treasurer. The committee, and gentlemen accompanying them, through the intervention of Mr. Fowler, found their trip from Baltimore a most agreeable one, the special car of the President of the B. & O. R. R., supplied with proper refreshments, having been appropriated to their use for the occasion.

Arriving at the Monocacy Junction, the committee, and guests, were met by L. J. Brengle and John Loats, Esqs., and Col. G. R. Dennis, of the Board of Visitors. Hacks were in readiness at the Frederick Depot, and on the arrival of the train in this city, about noon, the party were conveyed to the City Hotel where they partook of an excellent lunch and refreshments, prepared in CARLIN'S best style. The committee and guests then repaired to the Deaf and Dumb Asylum. A thorough examination of the Institution was made. The refectory, the chapel, the infirmary, the dormitories, and class rooms, were all visited, and their condition and dimensions carefully considered. The visit was made specially interesting by a brief examination of the pupils in the several classes, by the Principal of the Institution, in which wonderful progress in reading, writing and in arithmetic was displayed by many of the unfortunates. After going through the building and taking a general survey of it and its surroundings, a visit was paid to Mt. Olivet Cemetery, when the party returned to the City Hotel. Here, in the private parlor, several of the members of the committee, and members of the Legislature from distant counties, not of the committee, being called upon, gave their views in regard to the policy of the State in the encouragement and support of this and similar other benevolent institutions, in the expression of which, there appeared to be great unanimity of sentiment, in reference to the claims of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum upon the bounty of the State, and the willingness of the speakers to vote liberal appropriations for the erection of additional and suitable buildings to furnish requisite accommodations, not only for the present inmates of the Asylum, but for the larger numbers from the different counties of the State eager for admission as soon as sufficient room can be afforded for their reception, and the necessary appropriations made by the State for their support. At 4 o'clock, while these views were being presented by members of the committee, and of the Legislature, dinner was announced, and all were invited to a discussion of the splendid bill of fare presented by Mr. Carlin, which would have reflected credit upon any first-class hotel in Baltimore or any of our principal cities. Lawrence J. Brengle, Treasurer of the D. & D. Asylum, presided, and in earnest and appropriate remarks, welcomed the guests to the Mountain City. Sparkling champagne of the best, but moderately imbibed, suggested generous sentiments, and inspired rational eloquence; and appropriate speeches were made by Senators Denson of Baltimore, and Jump of Talbot, and Street, Blake, Chapman, Webb and McCrery of the House, the Secretary of State, Capt. Baker of Liberty—of the Board of Visitors—and others, in advocacy of a generous policy on the part of the State in support of the enlightened, humane and charitable objects and designs of the Institution.

It was a source of regret to all that the departure of the cars at 6 o'clock rendered it necessary for the guests to retire after a briefer sitting than is usual on such occasions, and before several gentlemen present had an opportunity to unite their voices in approbation of the cause.

This Deaf and Dumb Asylum rises high above all partizan politics and all religious sectarianism. It is an institution which challenges the sympathies of men of all parties, and of all creeds; and while we would counsel a prudent economy in appropriations, on the part of the General Assembly of Maryland at all times, and now especially, for many reasons not necessary to be indicated, we have no hesitation in saying that the pride and dignity of the State is now at stake, and that having undertaken to provide a home and education for the afflicted children of the State, that it is absolutely necessary that some more commodious and convenient building should be erected for the decent and comfortable accommodation of the pupils, than these old delapidated, revolutionary barracks which would hardly be considered comfortable quarters for stout soldiers, much less for tender and delicate girls and boys.

That their thoughts may be elevated and their sentiments refined, and that the honest pride of every true Marylander may be gratified, we would urge upon the Legislature not to be parsimonious in its appropriation, but at least to go far enough to secure the erection of a decent and respectable dwelling place for these afflicted children while they are being educated for the duties of life.

They have for skating at paris an "aristocratic $2) admission pond" in de Boulogue. Americans are the chief skaters.

WESTERN MD. RAILROAD.

The vote in the city of Baltimore, on Tuesday last, on the ratification of the act of the Legislature and the ordinance of the City Council, authorizing the City to guarantee the bonds of the W. Md. Railroad to the amount of $1,400,000, insures, with proper management, the speedy completion of the road. We take for granted that our citizens in the northern districts of the county, who will be immediately benefitted by the completion of the road, are greatly rejoiced at the prospects now before them of convenient and cheap access to our great commercial emporium. Although the vote was a meagre one, considering the magnitude of the question in regard to which the people were called upon to decide, still the majority in favor of the endorsement of the bonds to the amount supposed to be necessary to finish the road, from Baltimore to Williamsport, was very decisive. Out of some 35,000 registered voters, only 9,242 votes were cast, of which 7,213 were for, and 2,030 against the ordinance. It is to be hoped that those who have the road in charge will now push on the work with vigor, and put the road in running order from end to end, without delay.

Views of a Prominent Democrat.

The Hon. T. A. Hendricks, the recognized leader of the Indiana Democracy, and a prominent candidate for the Presidential nomination at the last national convention, made a speech in New Orleans, some weeks since, in the course of which he discussed the question of negro suffrage and presented the following views. It will be remembered that the democrats in the Indiana Legislature voted solid against the ratification of the fifteenth amendment.—Mr. Hendricks said:

"The altered condition of things has been forced on the country and on you, not by the colored man, but by ambitious politicians North and South, who wish to make capital out of it. I hope to see Southern men taking this weapon, which is placed in their hands, and using it for their country's good. You have no cause to entertain against the colored people a feeling of prejudice. When your young men were far off in the field, and even your aged men—many of them were absent during the four years of the war—you left these colored men at your homes, where they stood sentinels at the doors, where your wives and your children were safe under their protection. They labored and cultivated your lands, and raised those products which supported the armies in the field. And now is it possible that the foreigner—I speak not of the foreigner as a man of another country, but men foreign to your interest, men of other sections of the country—is it possible that they shall come in and destroy you? Your interests are the interests of the colored men. A few colored men may be brought around the lobbies of the Legislature. They may be temporarily invested with a few offices; but you go to work and persuade the colored men that their interests are assured by just laws, and by just laws alone, and that these apparent benefits which are conferred on a few of their number do not go far to make up the benefits of the great body of them. Give them to understand that the offices which are conferred on the colored men here and the colored men there, work a positive injustice to the people at large. Let them understand that with regard to their civil rights you are willing to give them just laws. The negro, of his own notion, is not going to ask for social equality or social rights. It is the Northern adventurer only who is trying to agitate that question, to make it a ground-work for ill-feeling between you and the colored man.

COMING DOWN.—The rapid decline in the premium on gold, for the last ten days, indicates the near approach of a general resumption of specie payments in all business transactions. Gold has sold as low as 10½ per cent., and in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and other commercial centres, many merchants have increased their sales by paying specie in change on purchases. It is understood, that the banks are preparing for the new order, or old order, of things, which prevailed before the commencement of the late war. With a universal resumption of specie payments, we may reasonably anticipate a general decline in the prices of property, of labor, and of most of the necessaries of life—especially on imported merchandize, unless Congress should go to work and increase the tariff on importations.

THE CANAL SURVEY.—A correspondent of the Georgetown Courier states that the survey of the canal was resumed on the 17th of January, by Hon. Thos. H. O'Neal and his assistants. They have surveyed the Seneca Red Stone Quarries, and found that a considerable part of the face of the quarries is on the canal property, together with the shops, store-houses and other buildings; the large new mill does not however, trench on the canal property. The survey is progressing rapidly, and much encroachment on the rights of the canal is found along the line. The owners of real estate, in this direction, are anxious for the continuance and completion of the survey, so that the boundaries of the canal may be fixed and made permanent. The same correspondent says that Capt. Jno. T. Fletchall, the Superintendent of the Seneca Division, has a large number of hands employed preparing for the coming season, and that the work will be ready for navigation by the 10th of the present month.—Rockville Sentinel.

IMPROVEMENT IN DIVORCE MACHINERY—A Chicago benedict named Morgan has devised an ingenious improvement in divorce machinery. He engages two lawyers, one for himself and the other to represent his wife, in order that the affair might be quietly settled without troubling her to take an active part. Unfortunately, Judge McAllister failed to appreciate the merits of the invention and sent the plaintiff and both attorneys to jail for sixty days.

The Macon (Ga.) Telegraph says: "The peach trees in and about Macon are in bud and blossom, and their chance to escape such a nip from the frost king as will be fatal to the peach crop, strikes us as very small."

The New York World publishes an absurd story from its Paris correspondent, to the effect that the Emperor Napoleon died under the knife of his physician in September last, and that another individual, bearing a striking resemblance to him, has been "appearing for him" on public occasions.

DISGRACEFUL AFFAIR.—Three brothers, named Ford, got into a fight near Eagle's brick mill, in Buckeystown district, on Saturday last, two of them uniting in beating the third most shamefully. Mr. Piles, merchant at the place, interfered and rescued the beaten man from the vengance of his brothers and took him into his store. The assailants came into the store for the purpose of renewing the assault, and disregarding the remonstrance and warning of Mr. Piles, he finally fired on them and severely wounded Ignatius Ford, who lies in a critical condition.

FOUND DEAD.—On Friday last the dead body of a man, with sandy hair, supposed to be about 45 years of age, was discovered on the banks of Monocacy a few hundred yards below the Georgetown bridge. The only clothing on his person was a white check shirt. His scull was smashed in, and on his wrist was a mark supposed to have been caused by a rope. It was supposed that the body which was much mutilated by animals, had been in the water for a month or two. The jury of inquest decided that the deceased had come to his death by foul means.

Dr. Wm. E. Boteler was called in, who rendered the surgical aid necessary in the case.

Departed this life, on the 28th ult., CAROLINE, wife of Wm. S. Bantz, in the 40th year of her age.

The character of Mrs. Bantz deserves a faithful tribute to her memory, but it can only be given here in a few words. At the early age of fifteen, she publicly professed the religion of Jesus, and was confirmed as a member of the Church of her fathers—the Reformed Church; and since that interesting period she was uniformly consistent in her Christian deportment, and shone as an ornament to the Church. She was well instructed in the Kingdom of Heaven, and the consolations of religion, communicated in health, did not forsake her in her trying sickness. To her last sinking hour Jesus was precious, and almost her last expiring act was to signify that her end was peace. As death approached she rested her eternal all on the perfect righteousness of her Saviour God. Her mild and amiable temper rendered her exceedingly dear to all with whom she had intercourse. Although dead, she yet speaketh. Though her form is beneath the earth, yet her pure and lovely example will long linger behind her, and we trust shed its hallowed influence upon the pathway of those she so dearly loved, and whose happiness and well-being she so earnestly sought. Her afflicted husband and children we commit to the care of Him who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb.

On the 22nd ult., near Woodsboro', of Infantum Croup, EDWARD GRANT, only son of Joseph and Cecelia Murphey, aged three years, 3 months and 25 days.

On the 7th ult., near Unionville, Frederick county, Md., Mrs. MARY POOLE, aged 86 years and 11 months.

She leaves children, grandchildren and great grandchildren to mourn her departure; also many warm friends who loved her devotedly. But we sorrow not, as others, who have no hope. She "sleeps in Jesus;" "a sleep in Jesus, blessed sleep from which none ever wake to weep." Peaceful be her silent slumber, till the sound of the trump of God shall wake her dust to life immortal.
