The Washington Le Gore and Gettysburg Railroad and Power Company, of which Mr. J. W. The franchise gives the company permission to use certain streets and alleys "for the purpose of grading, constructing and operating a railway, and all other privileges not inconsistent with its charter passed by the General Assembly of Maryland." The franchise is perpetual and the railway company's property is exempted from municipal taxation for a period of 30 years.

The "Mission Worker" is the title of a twelve-page monthly paper, published and edited by Mr. J. Albert Zepp, of Melrose, to take the place of the "Shut-In Mission Worker," which the Post Office Department decided could not pass through the mails as second class matter. Application has been made for entry of the paper in its new form, at the Manchester postoffice, as matter of the second class. Postage on the original magazine, under the Department's ruling, was practically prohibitive of its circulation. The "Mission Worker" is really a religious journal, published in the interest of and for the comfort and pleasure of the invalid poor. We trust it may pass the Department's scrutiny and be granted mail privileges as second class matter.

A College League game of football between the teams of Western Maryland and Maryland Agricultural Colleges was scheduled for Saturday last, on the grounds of the former, but did not "come off." The reason for the failure was the refusal of the visitors to play because the president of the league had neglected to appoint officials for the game. Numerous propositions were submitted by the home team for the purpose of overcoming the scruples of the M. A. C. boys and several of the propositions were accepted but afterwards withdrawn. As a large crowd had assembled to witness the game the visitors were urged to consent to an exhibition game, which should not count in the league series, but they were obdurate and would not play. It is surmised that their refusal was due to their belief that the home team was "too much" for them.

The Court of Appeals has affirmed the judgment of the Circuit Court for Washington county upon the appeal of the late Joseph L. Haines in the case of Elizabeth J. Winfield Items.

The students of Winfield Academy celebrated the feast of Lanterns on the eve of All Saints Day, in true Hallowe'en style. The hall was wierdly lighted with pumpkin lanterns, by the ghostly flicker of which one could read here and there on the wall such ominous placards as "The Gobbleuns'll git ye if ye don't watch out." "The wind is howling oo! oo! oo!" "This is the hour when graveyards yawn," &c. At a given signal Miss Mattie Shoemaker struck up a gruesome march, to the measures of which entered a long line of spectral figures, which with solemn tread took their places at each side of a long table where were arranged "quips and cranks and wanton wiles" which were enjoyed for awhile, and at their conclusion it was found that Fred. Leatherwood, of Woodbine, had scored the greatest number of points in the tricks and was declared the winner of the prize, a stately cabbage head. The guests of the evening were then given a chance to guess the number of seeds in two pumpkins, which were cut, and Mr. Arthur Zile, of Winfield, was the successful man, guessing 1000, whereas the actual number was 1008, and he thereby won the prize of this department, a sketch in oil of Kemper's mill and milldam near New Windsor. Music was then furnished throughout the evening by Mrs. Bair, teacher of piano and organ in the academy; Miss Mattie Shoemaker, of Sykesville, and Miss Addie Barnes, of Taylorsville. The winter classes of the academy will be formed and work begun on Monday, November 12. The school already is well filled and it is expected that an unusual nnuber will avail themselves of the broad opportunities offered by the winter schedule.

Howard M. Zile.

Mr. Howard M. Zile, of Winfield, died at his home at that place, as day began to dawn on Saturday last, after a long illness, in his 59th year. His death was caused by cancer of the stomach, with which he had been afflicted for about two years. An operation was performed at a hospital in Baltimore, months ago, and was followed by some improvement in his condition which, to the joy of his many friends, gave some prospect of his recovery. But the disease had become two deep seated for entire eradication and the gain was gradually lost and the malady finally ended fatally.

Mr. Zile was an enterprising, energetic and useful citizen of this county. Winfield and the surrounding country were especially benefited by the extensive creamery business which he established and successfully conducted for a long time in that locality. His business methods were carried on in a strictly fair and honorable manner and the farmers for miles around found the creamery a profitable market for their dairy products. The village also profited generally by the enterprise and grew thriving through the business thus attracted to it.

It was not alone as a business man, however, that Mr. Zile was a valuable citizen. He took a deep interest in the movement to provide the neighborhood with facilities for advanced education and was one of the leading patrons and promotors of that well known institution, Winfield Academy. He was also a valued and prominent member of St. Stephens Lodge, I. O. O. F., one of the leading fraternal orders, and of the Camp of the Patriotic Order Sons of America, which he aided in instituting at Winfield. He was a leading and prominent member of Ebenezer M. E. Church and one of its strongest supporters. Politically he was a strong Republican and twice, though averse to seeking office, consented to be a candidate on the ticket of his party in this county, once for the House of Delegates and another time for County Treasurer.

He leaves a widow and four children—Mrs. J. F. Hoffman, near Long; Mrs. Iven Sayers, of Smallwood; Miss Debbie Zile and Mr. Arthur M. Zile, at home. He also leaves three brothers, Messrs. E. A. Zile, of Baltimore; D. H. Zile and J. D. Zile, of this county. His funeral took place from Ebenezer M. E. Church, near Winfield, on Tuesday morning, and was attended by so large a concourse of people, many of them from a distance, that not half of them could gain entrance to the church. The burial rites of the Odd Fellows and Sons of America were performed at his grave in the church cemetery. The religious service was conducted by Rev. W. T. Jarboe who preached the funeral sermon at Mr. Zile's request, and who was assisted in the service by Revs. A. F. Campbell, George W. Cecil, and the pastors of West Falls Circuit, Rev. G. C. Harris and Rev. Carey.

Union Mills Items.

The steer that broke away from a drove of cattle belonging to the B. F. Shriver Co., as noted in these items several weeks ago, has roamed over a large area of country, is still at large and is now traveling about at his own sweet will. The B. F. Shriver Co. has sold the steer to a company of ten men of this place, for $20, his purchasers to capture him. Two unsuccessful attempts to corral the animal have been made by his new owners. Their first effort was made a couple of weeks ago when they scoured the valleys of Big Pipe creek and the thickets of Rattlesnake hill, without even getting a glimpse of their movable property. Last Sunday news came that his steership was seen browsing in the vicinity of Shade's schoolhouse. Bright and early Monday morning the members of the company came together and started before daylight for that place to make a round up. Most of them were on horseback, but one followed in a stick wagon and another on a bicycle. The steer was in due time sighted and the chase began. The odds in favor of the steer were about the same as those offered on Hughes in the late election, and he outwitted his would be captors at every turn, the man on the bicycle at one time being compelled to abandon his wheel and take to a tree. It was somewhat of a cross country run, with all sorts of experiences to the W. M. railroad and to Carrollton where the steer took refuge in the swamps and his pursuers, pretty well tired out, returned home, with a feeling, no doubt, that the stock of their company would likely go below par. What the next move will be I have not yet learned.

The Hallowe'en entertainment by the ladies of the Firemen's Auxiliary, on Wednesday evening of last week, in the Firemen's Hall, was an enjoyable public function and the ladies have a right to congratulate themselves upon the successful manner in which they carried out their program for the evening. The guests began to arrive at 8 P. M. and were met by the witches or phantoms, who instructed them in the disposition of their wraps. A dime deposit entitled each to a souvenir card worn as a boutoniere. A phantom then led each to the stairway to the parlor where they were made comfortable for the evening. In the far end was a large screen bearing many signs of superstition and witchcraft through which seven pairs of hands protruded to pass the different charms intended to bring them prosperity and happiness if they handled the same safely to the end, but he who would be recreant to the instructions could expect an equal amount of ill luck and adversity. All were true to the task except the bachelor's hands which would flicker each time. But he is still living, fat, good looking and saucy. Later he was elated to know that even at the age of 60 there were hopes of entering the matrimonial state, as declared by the airship which came his way. The gipsy queen in her gorgeous tent, in a corner of the room, did a thriving business. At 10 P. M. a peanut excursion was started for the banquet, where coffee, pumpkin pie, ginger bread and sweets were served by a corps of young ladies and to which all did full justice. It was a late hour when the final goodnights were said.

Although the ideal election day brought out many voters we had more than 200 stay at homes, which was quite a concern to the leaders of both parties. The count was through about 10 P. M., giving Mr. Talbott a good majority that was celebrated about midnight with drums and plenty of noise to the gratification of the boys.

Thomas Chapel Sunday School, Tannery, held its annual rally on November 4th, with Miss M. Test, Buckingham, of Westminster, presiding at the organ, assisted by the Messrs. Harry and Claude Kimmey with clarinet and cornet. The house was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, potted plants and chrysanthemums. Services commenced at 2.45 P. M., and the program was as follows: Singing, by the congregation, All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name; prayer, by Rev. L. F. Warner; address of welcome, by the pastor, Rev. Joseph P. Wilson; singing, by the school. At 3.15 Mrs. S. K. Herr, of Westminster, talked to the children in her usual earnest and prayerful manner, which held them in rapt attention, their little faces aglow with earnestness and admiration for that most excellent lady, who talked to them on the subject: The Children of the World. Then followed singing, an address by Rev. L. F. Warner, of Westminster, who talked to the parents on the subject: When, how and where should children be trained to love and serve God? This was followed by singing and an address by Mr. C. E. Ebaugh, of Carrollton, to the children, on the subject of giving their lives to God and his service. The program was concluded by the school and congregation singing "Blest be the Tie that Binds."

Thomas Chapel Sunday School is at a loss for words to express its thanks to the friends of our sister churches who so willingly and cheerfully came and assisted it in the rally, believing there has been some seed sown which will soon spring up and yield an abundant harvest.

Melrose Items.

The German Baptist Brethren are making improvements to their property here in town, and repairing it to hold services therein in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs Noah Trimmer, of York, Pa., spent a few days here recently and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shaffer, near Westminster, spent a day here last week, all as guests of Dr. and Mrs. Zeigler.

On Sunday last when all nature united in making as perfect a day as any one could wish, Mr. Edward Sterner, one of our respected young men, was united in wedlock to Miss Cora Hesson, a highly respected young lady, of Bachman's Valley, Rev. J. A. Metzgar performed the marriage ceremony. It was a quiet wedding, but their many friends unite with your corespondent in wishing the young couple much happiness and prosperity.

As the butchering season is at hand we will offer a prize for the weight of the heaviest porker given to us, also a prize for the lightest.

There was a reunion of the Stricklin family at the old Stricklin homestead, near Hampstead, on Sunday last. It was made up of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Stricklin, their children and grandchildren. As far as we are able to learn they all are blessed with good appetites, so we imagine that Mrs. Stricklin's excellent culinary department was tested to its utmost. Mr. and Mrs. John H. Leister and children, William and Lola, also participated in the reunion.

Your corespondent and invalid brother Noah were treated to some fine selections on Mr. John S. Stricklin's organ accompanied by excellent singing, over the 'phone. The music passed through an exchange and nearly ten miles of wire, and was very plainly heard at this end.

A YEAR OF BLOOD.

The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tacket, of Alliance, Ky., as a rear of blood; which flowed so copiously from Mr. Tacket's lungs that death seemed very near. He writes: "Severe bleeding from the lungs and a frightful cough had brought me at death's door, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, with the astonishing result that after taking four bottles I was completely restored and as time has proven permanently cured." Guaranteed for Sore Lungs, Coughs and Colds, at all Drug Stores. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

THE BEST CHRISTMAS PRESENT FOR A LITTLE MONEY.

When your Christmas present is a year's subscription to The Youth's Companion you give as much in good reading as would fill twenty 400-page novels or books of history or travel or biography ordinarily costing $1.50 a volume. Nor do you give quantity at the cost of quality. For more than half a century the wisest, most renowned, most entertaining of writers have been contributors to The Companion. You need never fear that The Companion will be inappropriate or unwelcome. The boy, the girl, —every other member of the family,—will insist upon a share in it. There is no other present costing so little that goes so far.

On receipt of $1.75, the yearly subscription price, the publishers send to the new subscriber The Companion's Four-Leaf Hanging Calendar for 1907, lithographed in twelve colors and gold, and subscription certificate for the fifty-two issues of the year's volume.

Full illustrated Announcement of The Companion for 1907 will be sent with sample copies of the paper to any address free.

Subscribers who get new subscriptions will receive $16,290.00 in cash and many other special awards. Send for information.

MADE HAPPY FOR LIFE.

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent, at St. Albans, W. Va., when his little daughter was restored from the dreadful complaint he names. He says: "My little daughter had St. Vitus' Dance, which yielded to no treatment but grew steadily worse until as a last resort we tried Electric Bitters; and I rejoice to say, three bottles effected a complete cure." Quick, sure cure for nervous complaints, general debility, female weaknesses, impoverished blood and malaria. Guaranteed at all Drug Stores. Price 50 cents.

A HEART TO HEART TALK WITH THE WOMEN AND GIRLS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Why a woman's page? Must women be fed on special and diluted diet? Can they not read as men read?

They do read as men read—and all that men read—and add the woman's page to it.

Rightly conducted, it is the earnest journalistic attempt to instruct more than to amuse; well edited, it steers clear of the encyclopædia and the boudoir.

It should be all that a well-rounded, interesting, helpful woman is—ready to put out a strong guiding hand wherever it is needed.

It must take itself seriously. It must be honest. It must reflect what really is, and suggest from experience what might be.

A great class turns to the woman's page for council, for advice, for suggestion. The ready made conventions of one set of people would be a misfit on another set, so why tell a woman who has to cook and wash for a husband and six children how to instruct a footman to receive the cards of callers?

A woman's page should be all things to all women.

No woman's page deserves success that does not give to its least reader a respectful hearing and the best advice in its scope. It must be kindly. It must inspire confidence.

It must enter into all the homely duties of the housewife with zest and enthusiasm. It must hold the affectionate friendship of its women readers.

All these things the woman's page of "The Philadelphia Daily Press" is and does—it is beyond doubt the most practical and truly and helpful woman's page ever offered Pennsylvania women. You cannot afford to miss even one day.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

At a special meeting of the Board of Trustees of Winfield Academy, held Saturday, November 3rd, 1906, the following was had:

WHEREAS, In his Divine wisdom it has pleased Almighty God to remove from our number Mr. Howard M. Zile, our friend and neighbor and co-laborer, one of the charter members of this Board, a constant contributor to the welfare of our institution, and a man interested in the work of education generally;

Resolved, That while we bow in humble submission to the decree, we keenly feel the blow and desire herein to convey to his breaved family the assurance of our sincere sympathy.

Resolved, That the Principal be directed to suspend the regular exercises of the various departments in the Academy during the hours of the funeral services on Tuesday.

Resolved, That the Secretary be directed to spread this minute on the records of the proceedings of the Board and forward a copy of the same to Mr. Zile's family and to the county press.

C. E. STEM, Secretary.

DIED.

In Baltimore, Nov. 8th, 1906, Eva Grace, wife of Chas. E. Yingling, formerly of this city, aged 25 years, 11 months and 13 days.

In loving remembrance of my dear sister, Hester A. Buckingham, who departed this life one year ago, November 10th, 1905.

O how hard it was to give her up,
Days of love forever ended;
To lay her in the cold damp grave,
To moulder into dust.

Day by day we saw her fade,
And slowly sink away,
Yet in our hearts we often prayed,
That she might longer stay.

By her sister, Mary.

Dear mother it was hard to give you up,
You whom I loved so dear;
How could I drink the bitter cup,
And say the word farewell.

By her son, Irving.

At his home in Winfield, November 3rd, 1906, Howard M. Zile, aged 58 years, 7 months and 11 days.

We saw him fade and waste away,
We saw him gasp for breath,
We saw upon his sunken face
The fatal signs of death.

The golden gates were opened,
And a gentle voice said "Come,"
And with farewell's unspoken,
He calmly entered home.

God alone knows how we miss him
In our home O, father dear,
How for thee our heart is yearning,
How we long thy voice to hear.

He is waiting by the river,
Just across the silver stream,
Where sweet flowers are ever blooming
And the banks are ever green.

Where no cold chill blasts of winter
Turn the rose's blossoms fair;
But where all is love and sunshine—
He is waiting for us there.

When the wintry storms are o'er
And the spring comes fresh and fair;
We will meekly kneel beside him
And plant his chosen flower there,

Emblem of the living memory,
In whose love we have been blest;
We will not disturb his slumbers,
Sweetly, calmly let him rest.

By his wife and children.

How long he struggled 'gainst disease,
Which baffled skill and care,
And long he lingered racked with pain,
And sufferings hard to bear.

And yet through all at times he'd smile,
A smile of heavenly birth,
And when the angels called him home
He smiled farewell to earth.

By his daughter, Lizzie Hoffman.

On Oct. 26th, 1906, Jacob N. Houck, aged 72 years.

In the graveyard, softly sleeping,
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the one we loved so dearly
In his cold and silent grave.
