The Exodus.

The exodus of colored laborers to the South from Virginia and the old border slave States has been so considerable as to attract attention and comment both in the North and South. Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Florida, and even Texas have attracted, and are absorbing, a good deal of this current of black migration. This movement results from the natural tendency of labor to seek the best market. In former times, the demand of labor in the cotton States was met by the sale of slaves in the border States, a slow process, because contrary to the general sentiment of humanity among the slaveholders, and rarely resorted to except in cases of necessity. The migration has been accelerated by the poor crops and meagre earnings in Virginia and North Carolina since peace, and by increased ability of the Southern cotton planters to hire more labor and pay better wages than before. Indeed, these planters were never so well off in the days of slavery as they are now. The average cotton planter was then rarely out of debt, but now when his crop is sold, he finds a balance on the right side of his ledger. The planters of the entire cotton and sugar-making region declare that they have more money and owe less, than ever before, and declare that they mean to have more negroes, pay more wages, and make larger crops hereafter than at any previous time. The robbery of their slaves has thus put money in their purse, and if the process was not very agreeable to themselves, the result must be still less satisfactory to those who got up the war for their ruin. Even the New York Times concedes that "cotton has mounted his throne, and is again king."

Whilst the far South is gainer by the great movement of black population southward, the so-called Border States will not be permanent losers. In their climate, central situation, accessibility to North and South, and their commercial and manufacturing advantages, they present attractions to European and Northern emigration which in the next decade will exert a powerful influence in the increase of their population and the development of their resources.—Notwithstanding the diminution of labor, and the political impediments to Southern prosperity, Virginia in 1869 sold over one hundred thousand tons of her products, while her mines are now worked more satisfactorily than ever before. South Carolina has paid an internal revenue tax of two and a half millions, and a State tax of one million, and greatly reduced her debt. Twenty great railroads are constructing in the two Carolinas, Georgia and Florida; whilst the other old Southern States have about forty new lines and under way. The tobacco crop of last year amounted to 225,000,000 pounds, valued at thirty-seven million dollars; the rice crop 55,000 tierces, being an increase of 25,000 over the preceding year; the sugar crop 80,000 or 85,000 hogsheads, against 37,647 for 1867. The cotton crop, last year, was 2,700,000 commercial bales, or 3,000,000 bales of 400 pounds each, in value equal to three hundred millions of dollars. Thus the whole South is going ahead, carrying the whole nation on its shoulders, and making more money for itself than it ever did before. What a self-sacrificing people the Abolitionists were to go so far, lose so many lives, and spend so much cash thus to enrich their old enemies!—The Statesman.

Railroad Activities in Virginia.

AN IMPORTANT CONNECTION.

There is certainly a comprehensive system of railroad enterprise engaging active and practical attention in Virginia at this time. In addition to the roads in which Baltimore has become directly interested, and the projected Valley road and the Lynchburg and Danville connection to which she proposes to give aid, the New York capitalists have been given possession of the great Chesapeake and Ohio road on the condition of finishing it to the Ohio, and have determined to carry out the scheme of connecting the Chesapeake and Ohio and Virginia and Tennessee railroads, which has been spoken of for several months past. The following telegram was sent on Thursday last by the gentlemen in New York interested to Governor Walker:

"The board of public works of Virginia and West Virginia have been notified by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company that it is their purpose to construct a branch from its main line at or near Covington to connect with the Virginia and Tennessee railroad near Lynchburg, and have ordered explorations and surveys to be made for that purpose at once."

This is a most important enterprise, as it will bring the Chesapeake and Ohio down by the valley of the James to Lynchburg, where the trade of the West will be joined by that from the Southwest by the Virginia and Tennessee road, and at which point Baltimore appears upon the field through the Orange and Alexandria railroad connection. The purpose of the New York parties, it may be presumed, is chiefly to turn this great concentration of trade down upon what are called the Southside roads towards Norfolk, about the consolidation of which with the Virginia and Tennessee road there is so much controversy at Richmond. The papers of the latter city appear greatly rejoiced, however, over the determination of the Chesapeake and Ohio to make its branch to Lynchburg, as there is a projected straight line thence to Richmond. There being no such connection as yet between those two cities doubtless Richmond will exert herself as speedily as possible to secure it; otherwise she will be cut off from much that she has heretofore regarded as vital to her prosperity.

These statements, in connection with the extension southward to Danville of the Lynchburg road to connect with the North and South Carolina roads, and to which Baltimore is asked to give aid by endorsement of bonds, indicate something certainly of more or less importance to Baltimore.—Sun.

HOW TO KILL WEST POINT.—The New York Herald says: "Mr. Butler, of Massachusetts, did, it appears, really nominate a nigger for the military school, but with his usual acute discrimination, he nominated one who was ineligible. Somebody, however, will now nominate another; and a negro cadet is a foregone conclusion of the Radical mind. This will pretty effectually drive the right sort of boys away from West Point, and leave there only sniveling hypocrits, willing to make believe that they are as fond of Sambo as of anybody else. That is to say, this will be the effect unless the boys, as boys are apt to, shall decide to settle this matter for themselves on the first darkey that comes. West Point, indeed, will be a very hot place for the pioneer nigger, and we prophesy that he will resign."

Well, what's the use of a XVth Amendment, if West Point is to turn Ku Klux?

In the Quaker Town of Nantucket there used to be a military company called the Nantucket Guards, the first article in the constitution of which was: "In case of war this company shall immediately disband."

PRINCE & CO.

Improved Patent Prize Medal

ORGANS AND MELODEONS,

Are still ahead of all others.

They have taken the first premium wherever exhibited in competition with others. Some Instruments have a very good tone when first manufactured, but keep them in constant use for five or six years and the tone will become harsh and unpleasant. This however, is not the case with Prince's Instruments of their make—ten years old—can now be shown with as good a tone as they had when first bought.

They also contain the following improvements: Automatic Swell, Divided Swell, Graduated Swell, Basso Tenuto, Manual Sub Bass. Read what Frank Leslie says in his Illustrated Newspaper of August 31st, 1867:

"G. A. PRINCE & CO'S Automatic Organs and Melodeons are among the proudest triumphs of this musical age. It is estimated that there are over forty thousand of these excellent instruments now in use. It is also a remarkable fact that not one of this enormous number has ever been returned, a sure proof of their surpassing excellence. For the past six years the enormous sales has made it impossible to supply the demand promptly, and every year increases the number of orders. Their manufactory is in Buffalo, New York."

Thousands have been relieved of long suffering by the use of this great remedy. Diseases often come suddenly, and if persons would use precaution and always keep a bottle of the Magic Balm in the house, much suffering will be prevented. This remedy is not hastily thrown out before the public, but is the result of experience and Chemical knowledge. Prepared by Dr. J. H. CAUFMAN, Baltimore, Md.

BONE DUST.

THE subscriber has just erected at his Farm, near the city, the most improved machinery for making BONE DUST, and is now ready to fill orders for any quantity, which will be delivered at the shortest notice.

The BONE DUST will be finer than any heretofore made by him (no chemical process resorted to,) enabling the Farmer or Planter to sow it with the Drill.

Mr. SAMUEL SANDS, well known to the Farmers and Planters of the United States as the former Editor of the American Farmer and Rural Register, will have charge of his Office No. 63 South Gay Street, near Pratt, and will be happy to receive the visits or orders of his old friends.

$45 per ton, put in new bags. No charge for bags.

Farmers and others are invited to visit my works, I have nothing to conceal.

My men have nothing nice to perform, therefore I have no "non admittance" signs on my premises. Persons are free to examine my factory, and the modus operandi of Dust-making.

I cannot afford to pay 5, 10 or 20 per cent to commission merchants, as my profits do not exceed 10 per cent.

Bone Dust as manufactured by me, is A simple, and its quality cannot be made to conform to the price.

Office 63 South Gay Street, Near Pratt, BALTIMORE MD.
