The Republican Citizen.

The law recently enacted to enforce the provisions of the fraudulent Fifteenth Amendment does not prevent the Radical owners of cotton mills or iron foundries from commanding their workmen to support the candidates of that party, on pain of instant dismissal.—They can station their foremen at the polls to give white men tickets, and report such as do not bow down to the political mandate issued from the counting-room of large establishments. But the negro can hasten to a Commissioner and take oath that his master is intimidating him to vote contrary to his political principles, and that master, without even as much as a hearing, will fall within the clutches of the new bill and be subjected to a heavy fine or lengthy imprisonment. The colored voter holds over his master an unlimited power of intimidation, but the white man is kept in the background and treated as a slave. This is the Radical idea of a free ballot for white men.—Age.

The trial of Nimrod Richards, for the murder of Col. Lyles, of Prince George's county, in 1866, took place at Annapolis on the 1st and 2d of June. The jury after remaining out about fifteen minutes, brought in a verdict of "guilty of murder in the first degree." This man is the last of the party of five who murdered, in cold blood, an old man for his money—the extreme penalty of the law. Richards will be taken back to Prince George's, there to await the execution of the sentence on the day to be named by the Governor.

Radical leaders say that negroes shall not be discharged from service by Democrats, for voting the Radical ticket.—On the other hand, yet, they claim that Radicals have the right to discharge white employees who vote the Democratic ticket. Laboring men will do well to make a note of this fact.

H. BARTGIS,

To the Agricultural Society of Frederick County.
June 8th, 1870.
GENTLEMEN:—Your Committee, in fulfilment of the duty assigned them, desire to state that they have supervised, with careful attention and impartiality, the trial of Mowers as by appointment of your Committee, and report the results of their observation as most gratifying.
The field selected was in the vicinity of the Fair Grounds, and owned by Mr. Brengle, and the clover was in such a condition heavy, wet, and badly lodged, as to challenge the merits and capacity of the most perfect mower.
Much interest was elicited and many farmers were in attendance during the progress of the trial.
Eight machines entered into competition, and although all accomplished their task satisfactorily and well, the attention of your Committee was specially directed to the extraordinary performance and execution of the "Champion" and the "Hubbard," fairly outstripping all competition.
So evenly and smoothly did both do their work, both being light of draught and easily adjusted, so equally and well did both mow their grass upon surfaces even or uneven, with such facility of cut and ease of motion, both being simple in construction and of equal side draft, and equal facility of throwing in or out of gear, that your Committee was equally divided as to which the premium should be awarded. With either machine a farmer may feel assured of accomplishing his work safely, swiftly and satisfactorily.
The vote of the Committee stood:
FOR THE CHAMPION.
Cornelius Staley, Chairman; Abraham Hargate, John S. Best, Jos. G. Miller.
FOR THE HUBBARD.
Benj. J. Snouffer, Jonathan Routzahn, Ezra M. Thomas, Elias Coblentz.
Trial of Reapers.
There will be a trial of Reapers on JUNE THE 24th, in the field of W. Abraham Hargate, opposite the Agricultural Grounds.—The above Committee will act as Judges, and request that parties will be on the ground at ten o'clock.
