Bowlers Start New Pin Loop

"Secretary" Baker Averts Goose Egg For Team

The Centreville Duckpin League opened its second half Tuesday evening with wooden pins in use instead of the familiar rubber bound maples, the number of teams cut to six and a realignment of teams to equalize strength and provide closer competition.

The reorganized league consists of six outfits instead of eight and will roll on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Teams entered with their captains are Electric Light, Olin Hunter; Centreville Garage, Harry Butler; Never-Sweats, Billy Thompson; Firemen, Leonard Binebrink; American Legion, Hall Barton; and Independents, "Secretary" Baker.

The Legion squad took the opening match from the reformed Independents to one with low scores featuring the competition. With a good lead in the final game Hall Barton was already counting the point as in when the Independents broke into a rash of spares putting Baker, the last man, in the last box with ten pins to go for a tie. Baker blew the game wide open with a spare topped by a strike for the losers' only point.

Phone System Does Away With Cranks Here

receiver and a pleasant voice greets you. There were no lost calls. It is true that a hand slipped a time or two, setting up a short circuit to ring the fire siren, but your fire chief was among the guests, knew what was up, and the firemen did not mount the truck in response to erroneous blasts.

(At this juncture, Mr. H. B. Towers, local manager, explained his end).

Mr. Towers: It has cost approximately $10,000 thus far to make this improvement. The change will affect 302 telephones out of 474 and will be the means of giving Centreville the best telephone service it has ever had. Miss Louise Gilles, of Salisbury, has come here to explain the new system to our operators. We have six operators who work two at a time. Their names are: Mrs. R. E. Furbush, Chief Operator, Miss Bertha B. France, Miss Dorothy K. Hunter, Miss Mary Catherine Jarvis, Miss Francis K. Brown, and Miss Doris Moore. Telephone officials who have been with us today in this history-making event are: R. K. Wheat, Assistant General Commercial Manager, Baltimore, and the following from Salisbury: R. M. Keller, Plant Superintendent; J. B. Seth, Traffic Superintendent; J. H. Leonard, Commercial Superintendent; and J. T. Akin, Plant Supervisor.

(It then seemed time for this reporter to look about and see who were among the official guests at the ceremonies).

Reporter: Mayor Callahan's name having already been mentioned as the first spokesman without benefit of cranks, the others were: Town Commissioners Howard E. Price and Alfred M. Green; Franklin D. Day, President of the Rotary Club; and G. Myron Latshaw and F. Asbury Bartlett, President and Treasurer, respectively, of the Young Business Men's Association.

It was learned later that Rotary's representative, Mr. Day, lunged three times for the crank box within fifteen minutes after he returned to the School Board office. Workmen had removed the box during his absence.

Big Boy Smith To Try Comeback In Easton Ring

Big Boy Smith, of Princess Anne, who took unto himself a bride and retired from the ring after he had been divested of his Eastern Shore laurels by Joe Smallwood in Centreville two years ago, will hit the comeback trail next Monday night in Easton when he faces Johnny Krieg.

The scrap tops the card of the Kent Athletic Club which currently is dividing its time between Chestertown and Easton.

Krieg is the lad who hung a knockout on Smiling Bob Cosden at Chestertown last week, thereby startling veteran followers of the cauliflower industry.

Obituary

S. ABRAHAM LORD

For the second time in three weeks death stretched a hand above the Lord family of Centreville wharf when Solomon Abraham Lord, 69, died of a complication of diseases at Easton Emergency Hospital early Monday afternoon. His wife, the late Mrs. Maria Lord died of pneumonia on January 6.

Mr. Lord is survived by five sons, William, Robert, Thomas, Albert and Joseph, and three daughters, Mrs. Sudler Starkey, Mrs. Mary Rowens of Oxford and Miss Susie Lord.

Funeral services were held in St. Paul's Episcopal Church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with the Rev. Alward Chamberlaine officiating.

The bearers were Henry Wright, Thomas Shortall, Herbert W. Moore, Sudler Starkey and Henry Lord.

Interment was in Chesterfield cemetery.

DR. WM. C. CAHALL

Dr. William C. Cahall, husband of the late Mrs. Emma Turpin Cahall who was a member of one of Queen Anne's prominent families, died at his home in Allenwood, Pa., last Friday. He was about 80 years old.

His late wife was a sister of Senator W. T. P. Turpin, Mrs. Edwin H. Brown, Sr., and Mrs. Spencer Wright, Sr., all deceased.

Surviving are two sons, Dr. Lawrence Cahall, of Germantown, and William C. Cahall, Jr., of Mount Airy.

Funeral services were held Monday at 2 p. m. in the First Methodist Church in Germantown.

Card of Thanks

We offer our sincere thanks for the beautiful floral tributes received, and to all those who assisted us or attended our mother's funeral, MRS. LENORE IRELAND.

Police Court

The final note in the series of thefts from automobiles in Centreville on Christmas Eve was sounded in Police Court Monday night when Charles Pinder, Negro from the Big Woods neighborhood, was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction by Magistrate J. West Thompson for receiving stolen goods from Albert Thomas, who had previously been sentenced to a similar stretch as the actual purloiner.

The property involved belonged to the J. Edward Connolly family, Mordy Gibson, Kennard Thomas and Frank Y. Whiteley.

Oscar Griffin, Centreville Negro, was fined $75 and costs for killing wildfowl out of season and went to jail in default of payment. Griffin was found guilty of killing and dressing wild ducks and geese in the restaurant of Ralph Farro after the fowl had been stolen from the game preserve at Pioneer Point Farms.

Griffin also received an extra ten days in jail for contempt of court.

Harry Demby and James Hicks waived hearing on a charge of attempted larceny of turkeys from the home of Addison Emory and each posted $250 bail for appearance before the Grand Jury at May term of Court.

Will Hayes, Narrows Negro, was committed to jail in default of $5 and costs for assault and battery on William Jones.

Miss Aline Atkins, of Salisbury, a school teacher in Anne Arundel county, forfeited $10.75 collateral for exceeding the 45-mile speed limit on December 20. Miss Atkins was picked up by State Patrolman Albert F. Anderson.

Zero Weather Holds County In Strong Grasp

managed to make at least one trip a day. On Sunday one trip from Annapolis was reported to have taken from 10 a. m. until 2 p. m. as the ferry backed and advanced to break ice.

Neither ferry made any morning trip on Monday. The Love Point "Pittsburgh" was three and a half hours late on Saturday afternoon and two and a half hours late the next afternoon. On Monday it left Baltimore but was eventually forced to abandon the trip and return to the city.

Thermometer readings throughout the county hit zero points and below Thursday and Friday mornings with one farmer in the upper part of the county reporting an extreme of 11 degrees below zero on Thursday.

Plumbers were in demand Thursday morning on all sides as freezeups surprised householders in Centreville and other towns and automobiles were likewise in difficulties. Oystermen and fishermen were kept ashore by the ice but coal deliveries took a spurt.

Many basements flooded by the heavy rains of the previous Sunday were frozen solid, to remain that way.

For the first time in a week slight evidence of a thaw made its appearance Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Austin, Jr., had as their visitors on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Austin, Sr. and children, of Grasonville.

Mrs. George Tull, Jr., and children, Alger and Billy, visited with Mr. and Mrs. George Tull, Sr., on Sunday.

QUEENSTOWN

Mrs. J. Griffin Embert, of Brookside is visiting her sister, Mrs. Robert Grafflin and Mrs. Helen Rice at the Cecil Apartments in Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Shortall spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Shortall at Cedar Grove.

Mr. John Wallace, of Wilmington, visited his cousins, Mr. J. Griffin Embert and Mr. J. Clyde Embert for the week-end.

Mr. John Clough, of Philadelphia, spent the week-end with his family.

Mrs. Harry C. Reynolds is visiting for a few weeks in Baltimore as the guest of her brother-in-law, Mr. L. L. Clogg.

Mrs. J. Clyde Embert is confined to the University of Maryland Hospital recovering from a minor operation.

Mrs. Belle Harrison, of Briston, has returned from a very pleasant visit in Baltimore.

Mrs. Harry C. Onley and sister, Mrs. John Clough were hostesses to quite a few friends at the Grainary-atop-the Chester, the home of the Onleys. The Calcutta ballast foundation stones resounded to merriment ne'er heard on their far away pristine India soil.

SUDLERSVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Morgan, Mrs. Addie Sudler and Mrs. Annie Sudler were dinner guests of Mrs. Foster Sudler recently.

Miss Gertrude Goodhand has returned from a visit to New York, and is now spending some time with Miss Emma Gillespie.

Firemen were called out Sunday afternoon to extinguish a chimney fire in the home of Mr. W. R. Redden. No serious damage was done.

The Homemakers' Club under the direction of Miss Isabel Bewick met last Friday afternoon in the club room. Sixteen members were present and work for the year was outlined. Miss Bewick's subject was devoted to the first preliminaries of diet for general household use on one dish meals. A salad course was demonstrated and served. The club will meet the fourth Friday in every month.

Mr. Medford Roe had as his guests for the week-end Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Robinson and son Bruce, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Denny and daughters, of Stevensville. His son, the Rev. James B. Roe, who has been visiting him for a few days returned to Washington with Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, and from there he will return to his home in Denver, Colorado.

Miss Hilda Roberts was hostess to two tables of bridge on Monday afternoon. Mrs. John Stokes will entertain the Thursday night bridge club tonight.

Mr. G. Aldred Walls has converted his building next to Johnson's store into a lodge hall and an apartment. The local P. O. S. of A. will occupy the lodge room, and Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace will live in the apartment. Mrs. Wallace is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Smith who recently moved into the Foxx property. Mr. Wallace has accepted work on the state road.

Mr. and Mrs. Beauregard Davis, of near town were given a surprise dinner on Sunday by their daughter, Miss Lucy Davis in honor of their forty-ninth wedding anniversary. Those invited were: Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Benton, and children, Henrietta and Billy, Mr. and Mrs. Price Johnson and Ellen Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Phillips, Lillian Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Neavitt Booker, Ralph Booker, Minnie Story and Louise Younger, of Church Hill. In addition to their daughter Lucy, Mr. and Mrs. Davis also have two sons, Homer and Goodwin Davis.

While may residents of town were suffering much inconvenience by flooded cellars and bursting pipes due to the extremely cold weather, the younger generation are enjoying the skating on the various ponds around the community.

Workmen on the WPA street surfacing project have had to discontinue labor due to weather conditions.

Mrs. Madeline Young spent the week-end in Philadelphia.

Miss Ruth Evans and Mr. Frank McMullen, of Wilmington, were week-end guests of Miss Evan's sister, Mrs. T. A. Geiser.

Farm Finance Group Gathers In Caroline

M. C. Sherman, Queenstown, Chosen Director Of Denton Production Association

The second annual stockholders' meeting of the Denton Production Credit Association was held in the Courthouse at Denton on Monday when an all-day session attended by 175 members and their friends reviewed the activities of the past year, elected directors and other officers and discussed matters appertaining to farm credit.

Congressman T. Alan Goldsborough spoke of the work of the Federal Farm Credit Association of which the Denton group is a branch and discussed national legislation dealing with farm credit in recent years.

Other speakers included Ernest B. Brown of Church Hill, Bennett Crain of the Production Credit Association of Baltimore, John W. Skinner of Cambridge, who gave his report as president of the Denton association, and Victor Dean, Federalsburg, who submitted the secretary's report. Mr. Brown's topic dealt with the duties of a director of the credit association, and Mr. Crain considered the benefits of short-term credits.

The Denton Production Credit Association is a co-operative group for farmers from Queen Anne's, Caroline, Talbot, Kent and Dorchester counties, subsidiary to the state headquarters in Baltimore and the Farm Credit Association in Washington.

Max C. Sherman, of Bennett's Point Farm near Queenstown, was chosen a director for Queen Anne's county for a two-year term succeeding Mr. Brown. The latter was made ineligible by a new ruling of the Federal Credit Association excluding directors of banks from the association board.

Other directors chosen were Frank "Home-Run" Baker of Trappe for Talbot county, and John W. Skinner of Cambridge for Dorchester county. Holdover board members are Harry H. Nuttle of Denton for Caroline, and H. S. Leaverton of Rock Hall for Kent.

In addition to Mr. Sherman, County Agent Kenneth W. Baker was present from Queen Anne's county.

Winter Birches

These winter birches, white
Against the waning light,
Would warm the hearthstones of the town
If they were tumbled down,
Then cut and cobbed beneath dry eaves
For friendly burning
On a zero night.

Utility
Is not enough—or ever shall be—
Be it April or December.
O birches, I remember
The flameless fires that your leaves (Returning)
Ignite in me!

"Layers Or Loafers" Is Puzzling Poultry Problem

It has long been a question whether the hen is actually working for the producer—the question of "Layers or Loafers". They will work if given a chance feeding—but a definite program of feeding is best. That is, feeds made of grains, meat, fish products, and milk in proper balance, with the essentials of sunshine in the form of tested Cod Liver Oil and minerals. Nothing is so productive as this type of diet for laying hens. Cod Liver Oil is equally essential in starting and growing mashes fed to baby chicks. One interesting way to determine feed costs is by the use of the Quick Method for Calculating Cost of Eggs as shown in University of Illinois Circular No. 275. A free copy of this circular is available at the local A & P Store.
