"BEAU GESTE" COMING TO FORD'S

"Beau Geste" Should Prove Rallying Call To Theatre Lovers.

The announcement that Adoph Zukor and Jesse Lasky are shortly to present Major Percival C. Wren's great mystery melodrama of the French Foreign Legion "Beau Geste" at Ford's Theatre, Baltimore, for a limited engagement beginning Monday night, March 7th and continuing twice daily thereafter at 2:30 and 8:30, should prove a magic call for the rallying lovers of real drama in the theatre. No photoplay has attracted more attention or proved more popular in past history than "Beau Geste."

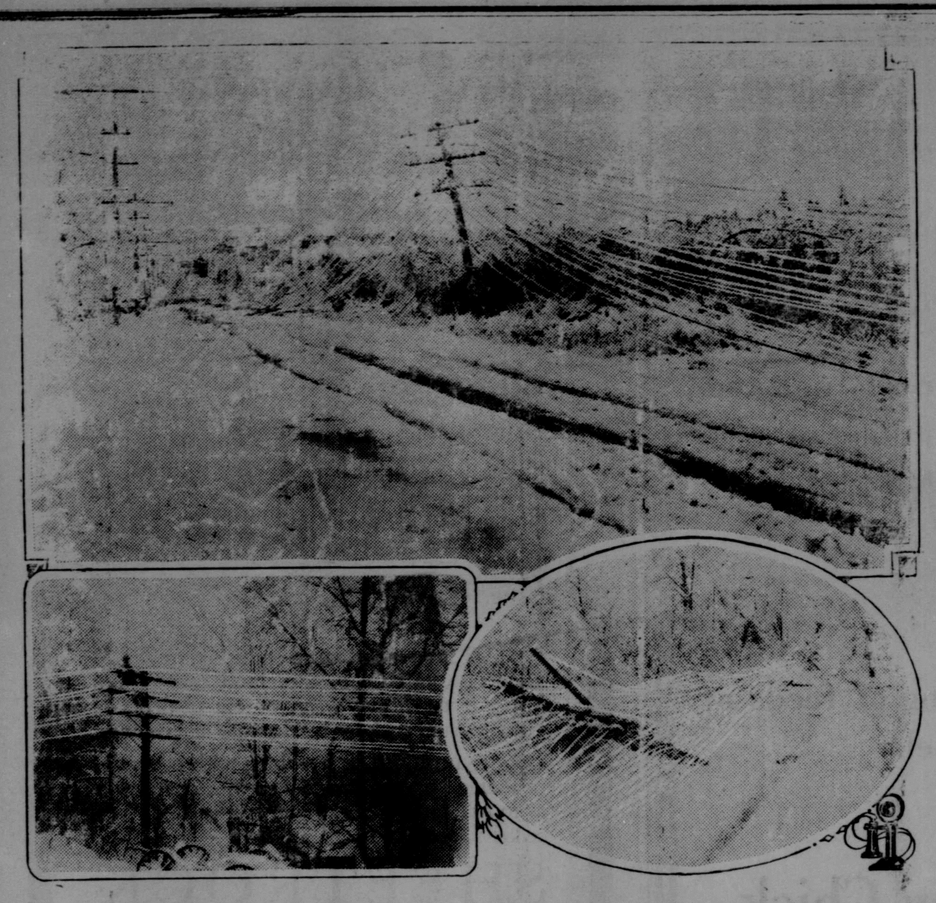

The directorial reins as handled by Herbert Brenon are without a parallel in the history of motion pictures. All sorts of hardships were suffered by director, stars and extras alike, in the glare of the merciless sun, at Zulanon (a name coined from the words Zuker, Lasky and Brennen), 30 miles from civilization on the Arizona desert, to obtain the necessary sequences. The Messrs. Zukor and Lasky have made their escutcheon stand for genuine merit behind the curtain line. It is indeed a rare combination.

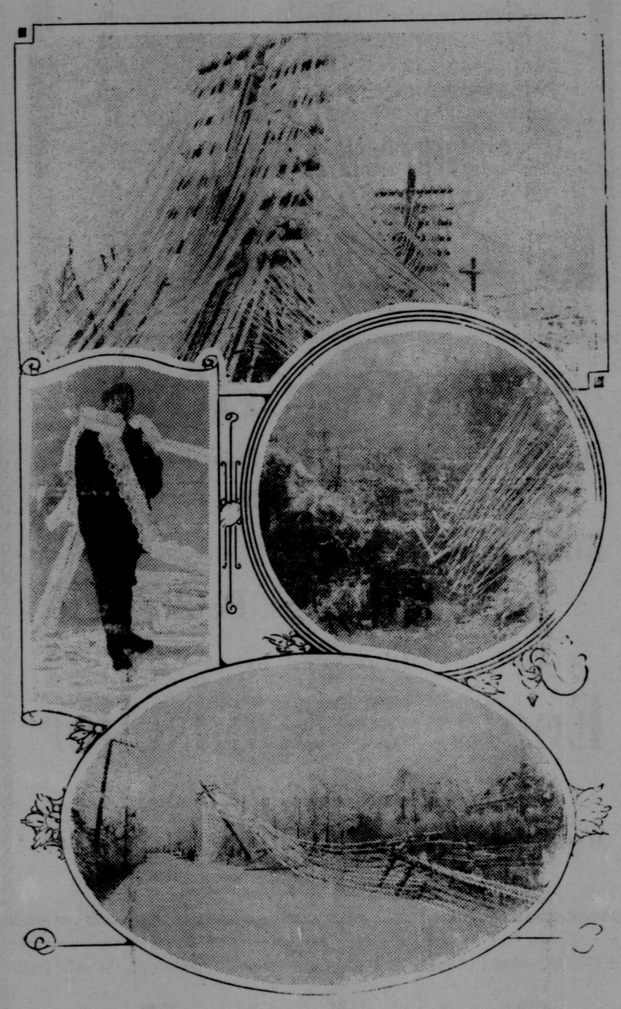

"Beau Geste" is now rounding out its seventh month at the Criterion Theatre on Broadway in New York City, and is now in its twentieth week in Philadelphia and Boston, with no signs of abatement in the interest. However, due to the influx of a great many motion pictures of the larger and better type, and the public's ever increasing demand for this kind of entertainment, it was decided to place this special company on a tour of the principal cities, the Pittsburgh engagement being the first west of the Atlantic seaboard.

In assembling this special company the Messrs. Zukor and Lasky have not been content with presenting a film that has been adapted from a book that has so far exceeded all best sellers in its quantity of sales, there is no question as to the number reaching the half billion mark but they are also sending on tour musicians who are familiar with the difficult score, arranged by the deft hand of Hugo Reisenfeld. The latest in projection equipment is also carried to assure a perfect projection, the one essential thing needed for the complete fulfillment of a pleasant evening in the theatre.

In "Beau Geste" sex romance is subservient to the affection of three brothers for each other, willing to cut away from loves, family, careers, all to protect the name of the other, suspected in connection with the mysterious disappearance of the "Blue Water" a famous sapphire, and an heirloom in an aristocratic English family. An old Arabian proverb reading: "The love of a man for a woman may wax and wan with the moon, but the love of brother for brother is as steadfast as the stars," best expounds the theme of this enthralling tale.

Director Brenon achieved a life long ambition is being given carte blanch permission to go ahead and cast "BEAU GESTE" as suited his needs and fancy. To say that he did it well is to put it mildly as only the playgoer can better judge after seeing the picture. Ronald Colman was borrowed, through the courtesy of Samuel Goldwyn and appears as Michael "Beau Geste," while Neil Hamilton and Ralph Forbes are cast as the other two brothers Digby and John. Alice Joyce as Lady Brandon and Mary Brian as Isobel plays the important female leads. While others in importance in the supporting company are as follows: Noah Beery as "Sergeant LeJaune," Norman Trevor well known stage star as "Major de Beaujolais," William Powell as "Boldini" and Victor McLaglen and Donald Stuart as "Hank and Buddy" two Americans who join the French Foreign Legion together with the Geste brothers to have the greatest experience of their lives.

Telephone plant in Maryland and West Virginia seriously damaged by severe sleet storm. More than 5,200 telephones and 400 toll and long distance lines out of service. Broken poles number over 1300. Company now has 450 linemen repairmen engaged in repair work. Cost of repairs will involve expenditures of $125,000 according to a statement just made by George H. Warren, division manager of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City.

In Maryland the storm area generally covers that section east from Baltimore including the Frederick, Westminster, Hagerstown, and Cumberland areas. About 300 linemen and repairmen are engaged in making repairs and it is said that all lines will be working by Thursday or Friday.

The West Virginia storm damage, while not so severe in any one section covers a wide area. It extends from Beckley, the county seat of Raleigh county on the south to Charleston, Huntington, Parkersburg, Fairmount, Clarksburg, and Wheeling in the northern part of the state. The telephone company states that more than 150 men including linemen, repairmen, and cable splicers are making strenuous efforts to restore service as quickly as posisble. It is expected that all lines in West Virginia will be restored to service by Tuesday night.

In making repairs to telephone plant under storm conditions such as this, linemen and repairmen are badly handicapped in working and traveling. While it is easy enough to get about from place to place with the motor trucks under ordinary conditions on the hard surfaced roads, unfortunately many telephone lines do not follow these improved highways. The location of the poles in the majority of cases are in fields or along dirt roads where it is impossible for the trucks to go, so that the men must travel on foot. The ground being water soaked or covered with soft snow, makes traveling difficult and necessarily slows up the work.

The sleet, while not as heavy as has been experienced in this section, telephone officials state, covered the wires to the extent of about an inch in diameter. This means that a line carrying 20 wires, with poles spaced 130 feet apart under conditions such as existed in this storm will weigh approximately 63 tons per mile.

It is claimed there is a great deal of over production, and there certainly is of talk.
