Ed Corkran Quits Hurlock High Faculty

Mr. Ed Corkran, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Price of Wye Mills, has resigned as a member of the faculty at Hurlock High School to take effect on March 6. Mr. Corkran will devote his time to farming and managing the property of his father, the late Daniel C. Corkran, who died last August.

In commenting on his retirement from the faculty, the Upper Dorchester News said:

"The resignation of Mr. Corkran came as a surprise when he took this move almost a month ago. He has been employed as a member of the faculty for eight years, during that time acting as both a teacher and as coach of the boys' teams. He has produced teams during his coaching period which have achieved county championship merit. During the last year he coached the Hurlock High soccer team into the championship of Dorchester County and the same team had little difficulty in winning over some of the strongest soccer combines on the Shore.

Police Court

A little upswing in the number of cases before Magistrate J. West Thompson in Police Court was noted this week.

Lottie Thompson, a colored woman from the Big Woods sector, drew sixty days in jail for assault and battery on Foster Sudler, Negro. Foster was acquitted of assaulting her.

An argument over a cigaret light caused Lottie to draw a knife and rush Sudler in his own home. Sudler defended himself by bending a chair over the woman's head and breaking her arm.

Price Griffin, Herbert Williams and Elijah Smith, Negroes, were fined $2 and costs for drunkenness and disorderly conduct in Centreville.

Hartley Sloan paid $10 and costs for assault and battery on Mary Clevinger at Grasonville.

Lease At Well Cove Is Denied

Watermen's Protest Sustained By Commissioners

The application of Harvey Ruth, Grasonville, to lease a parcel of land at Well Cove near Kent Narrows on which to accumulate a shell pile was declined Tuesday by the Board of County Commissioners.

A delegation of watermen opposed the lease, while the applicant, together with Thomas Lynch and Amos South spoke in favor of granting the request.

The Board pointed out its hesitancy, as a matter of general policy, to grant all such applications in the face of any opposition whatsoever. The Commissioners held that any encroachment upon public domain is a matter to be considered with the greatest care.

Mr. Ruth and Mr. Lynch said that granting of the lease would not impair the rights of anyone and that ample facilities would remain for the watermen at the landing. The former cited his efforts to shell the road and keep it open during bad weather.

Representative Joseph W. A. Evans accompanied the delegation of protestants and was one of their spokesmen. Other watermen appearing before the board in protest to the lease were Joseph Beecher, J. W. Collier, Thomas Collier, Garry Horney, Wesley Horney, William Jones, George Rada, William Raener, and Jimmy Rhodes.

The officers of the ministerial associations are: president, the Rev. L. E. Windsor, Seaford; secretary, the Rev. Roy L. Tawes, Magnolia; treasurer, the Rev W. L. McClintock, Bozman. Mrs. E. C. Hallman of Dover is president of the Association of Ministers' Wives.

Muskrat Marshes Pay Better Than Drainage

Many swamps and marshes—which are havens for muskrats and other fur animals as well as for waterfowl—should be left undrained, says the Biological Survey in pointing out the economic value of wildlife areas. On such land no farm crops will produce as much as can be realized in direct and indirect returns from wildlife. Some tidal and inland marsh areas, says the Bureau, are capable of producing five or more muskrats a year to the acre, in addition to other wildlife. At present market prices, muskrat pelts alone may thus yield $7 to $14 an acre each season.

Gloves Betray Roost Robber

Barclay Negro Gets Year In Cut For Theft

Jim Ridgely, Barclay Negro, took three strikes at the fowls in the chicken coop of Lemuel McGinnis of Barclay but he forgot to pick up his gloves after the last catch and the error resulted in a run of twelve months in the House of Correction for Ridgely when Magistrate J. West Thompson played umpire in Police Court Wednesday morning.

Ridgely was nabbed by a smart piece of sleuthing by Sheriff T. Herbert Everett and Deputy Sheriff Louis B. Perkins. After the third raid on the coop Saturday night Mr. McGinnis found a pair of gloves at the henhouse door. These were turned over to the peace officers.

The latter, noticing that the thumbs were cut off as in sawmill use traced the gloves to Ridgely. A visit to his home showed a pan of feathers behind the back door and two chickens in the pot on the kitchen stove.

In all 23 leghorns and barred rocks of the McGinnis flock of 48 were carried off in sacks on three night ventures alleged to Ridgely.

Chesapeake Bay Tunnel Sought In Resolution

War Dept. Survey Asked for Kent Island-Sandy Point Project

in the vicinity of Stevensville, and submit a report to the next regular session of the General Assembly of Maryland, in January 1937.

Whereas, it has long been the hope of the citizens of Maryland that a permanent, faster, cheaper and more convenient means of transportation could be established between the Western and Eastern Shores of the State.

And Whereas, The Chesapeake Bay is both too fine a sailing body of water and too important to Maryland commerce to be bridged

And Whereas, The Sandy Point to Kent Island route is the shortest distance across the Chesapeake Bay, as well as probably the most advantageous to the greatest number of people

And Whereas, all possible methods of improving transportation within the State should be investigated from the standpoint of serving the greatest number of people most advantageously for all time to come,

Now, Therefore, Be it Resolved by the General Assembly of Maryland that the Engineer Corps of the United States Army make a complete survey of the feasibility and estimated cost of constructing a permanent underwater tunnel or tube for the transportation of motor cars, trucks and passengers between the Eastern and Western Shores of the State of Maryland.

And Be It Further Resolved, that copies of this Resolution be forwarded to the President of the United States, the Secretary of War, the United States Senators from Maryland, and the Members of the House of Representatives from Maryland.
