HOT ROADS ahead!

—but Silvertowns "run cool"

When heat waves dance on the road before you—watch your tires.

Summer and friction makes them hot—and the greater the friction, the hotter they get.

But Silvertowns have reduced friction. Their tread has a exible center—it bends without crowding the surrounding rubber. That's why they "run cool."

You get added miles from this Silvertown feature—protection from hot weather driving at no more cost.

SANDYVILLE

The Flower Mission department of the Sandyville Willard W. C. T. U. held a helpful meeting at the Methodist Protestant aged home last Thursday night. All sang a few hymns and prayer by Rev. Mr. Dice. The president, Mrs. Nettie Ebaugh read appropriate scripture and made a few remarks; solo, by Charles Magee; recitation, by Kenneth Blacksten; reading, by Mrs. Grace Greene; "How the flower mission work started," by Jennie Casseday; quartette, Mrs. Blanche Magee, Mr. and Mrs. John Magee, and Rev. Dice; solo, Margaret Buckingham; reading, Mrs. Ulysses Shipley; solo, John Magee; a splendid address, by Rev. Mr. Dice and Rev. Rosen an inmate of the home. Two hymns were sung in closing. Flowers were taken to the aged, also cake and candy. All spent a most pleasant evening together. The aged folks seemed so happy to hear the service.

Sandy Mount Sunday school was largely attended Sunday. Classes were organized and a contest started. Much interest was manifested. The young men's class contributed the largest amount for Missions receiving the banner. A new banner will be purchased. This class of young men has given the largest amount for Missions for two years, also in the Sunday school the largest amount of money. Rev. Mr. McCaslin preached a very earnest and helpful sermon to a large congregation.

Christian Endeavor was led Sunday night by Edna Spencer. After general participation, Mrs. Luther Brown sang a solo. A business meeting was held and the social committee reported the society was preparing an entertainment for a social to be held the latter part of May. Other reports were given. The meeting will be led by Kenneth Caple this Sunday night.
