Your friends who own Red Cross Ranges

End the day without backaches, because the range does its work with so little attention. It is a work-saver, not a work-maker.

The

Red Cross Range

SOME people show no gratitude. They let a range work faithfully for years and years, and then complain if it breaks down from overwork. Why not let your range retire to a peaceful old age on the scrap heap? It is time for a new one. A Red Cross will prove such an improvement that you will wish you had made the change long ago.

PLEASANT VALLEY

The Sunday school rally which was held on Sunday night drew a large crowd of people who listened to a good program. Everyone enjoyed the remarks by the pastors, Revs. Rebert and Saltzgiver, and surely, if the words spoken by the latter were taken to heart, our Sunday school certainly ought to increase in number.

Mrs. Theodore Zepp is confined to bed at present. Those who visited at the home on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Zepp and family, Stonersville; Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Zepp and children, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Zepp, Mrs. Walter Helwig and Mrs. Jonas Heltibridle.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Wantz, New Castle, Ind., who were visiting his sisters, Mrs. Jonas Heltibridle, and Mrs. Theodore Zepp, returned to thier home on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, New Windsor, were guests on Sunday at the home of Mrs. Brown's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Helwig. Other visitors there were Mr. and Mrs. George Helwig, Miss Pauline Helwig and John Helwig, Hanover, Pa.

Miss Margaret Kemper, Hanover, spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Wilmer Myers.

Miss Mildred Powell spent Sunday afternoon with Mildred Foglesong, near Bear Mount.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Heltibridle and children, Betty and Luther were visitors on Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Eckard.

Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Saltzgiver and family were entertained on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Senft and family, "Shady Side."

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Humbert entertained at dinner on Sunday the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bittle and daughter Helen, near Taneytown; Mr. and Mrs. John Study and daughter Catherine, near Pleasant Valley; Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Slonaker, Mayberry; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Yingling and daughter Mildred, Silver Run; Mrs. Charles Humbert, Baust church; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Humbert, Miss Roszella Geiman and William Sullivan. Other visitors in the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. William Lawyer, daughter Janet and son John, Mayberry.

Please bear in mind the chicken and waffle supper and the masked Hallowe'en ball to be given in P. O. S. of A. hall, on Friday night for the benefit of Pleasant Valley high school. Good music. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

The October meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held on Monday evening, October 31, at 7:30 o'clock. The greater part of the program as announced before will deal with the contribution the Italians have given American art, music, learning, etc., The life of Caruso; the great Italian tenor with records accompaning; an Italian science experiment; and a presentation of Roman scene; will be features of the program. Several solos and readings will be given by members of the P. T. A. The following Italian songs will be used, "Santa Lucia," (Marzsals); "Over the Summer Sea," (Verdis Rigoletto); "A Merry Heart," (Funiculi-Funicula). The program will close with a Hallowe'en number given by Miss Hyde's room. You are all invited. Come!
