The "Miracle House" That Seals Built

"MIRACLE HOUSE" FOR UNDER-NOURISHED

FINANCED BY CHRISTMAS SEALS

Preventorium on Eastern Shore of Maryland Offers Natural Facilities for the Summer Care of the Undernourished and Underweight Child.

Thousands of residents of Maryland as well as visitors who have made the trip from Annapolis to Claiborne on the Ferry have noticed the big white house situated but a few rods from the Claiborne wharf. By day or by night a large red double barred cross is noticed long before the boat reaches its landing. Situated but a few feet from the briney waters of the Chesapeake, nestled in a grove of pines, this big white house has become known as the "Miracle House" of Maryland. Its big double barred cross which may be seen for miles, is the emblem of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association in its fight against Tuberculosis.

In nine years, more than one thousand underweight and undernourished children of Maryland, many of whom have been in contact with Tuberculosis have enjoyed and received the benefits to be obtained from fresh air, pure food, rest, exercise, sunshine, salt water bathing and supervised play.

Work Made Possible by Christmas Seals

In 1919 the "Miracle House" consisted of but one two-story building and a few small outbuildings. Today the "Miracle House" consists of one large building three stories in height containing double the space of the original building, two separate dormitories accommodating twenty children each, and a large dormitory which was built this year accommodating sixty children. The equipment of the preventorium is of the most modern, and the children receive the utmost care and personal attention. All of this has been made possible by the annual sale of the Tuberculosis Christmas Seals. This year's sale, which is the twentieth annual Seal Sale started on Thanksgiving Day and will continue until Christmas. Sponsored by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated County Branches, a special effort is being made in each locality of the State to make the present sale the most successful in the history of the organization.

The "Miracle House" is but one of the various health activities in Maryland, financed by the Christmas Seal. Other activities of the Association which depend upon the Christmas Seals are the following: Free chest clinics throughout the State, nursing service, child health education, industrial work, education and publicity.

Seventy per cent of all the funds raised in this county will be used to finance county health work.
