GIRL VICTIM OF JEWEL THIEVES PLAYS DETECTIVE

Helps to Capture Men Who Tricked Her Out of Valuables.

New York.—After being chloroformed and after losing $1,600 in money and jewelry in a Martinique hotel room, Miss Cordie Harvey, twenty-five-year old Charleston (W. Va.) society girl, has a new respect for the wickedness of strange young men in a great city.

In jail, after confessing to the robbery, two handsome city slickers, who Miss Harvey never dreamed were waiters, have a new respect for the resourcefulness of little out-of-town girls. Edward Kelley, twenty-two, and Paul Jeffries, twenty-three, hadn't the slightest idea the polite little girl would go out with detectives and search for them.

How It All Began.

It all began when Miss Harvey asked a strange young man to direct her to the post office. Miss Harvey was wearing expensive jewelry and the young man spent several minutes describing methods of getting to the city hall post office from the Hotel Martinique. The girl had just come to New York for a vacation. A few days later the man identified as Jeffries accosted her in the hotel.

"Don't you remember me?" he asked.

"No," Miss Harvey replied.

"I'm the fellow that told you how to get to the post office," he said. She brushed by and went to her room.

A few days later Miss Harvey was dining when Jeffries arose from a nearby table and invited her to go to a theater. She refused. Recently Miss Harvey was standing on the mezzanine of the Martinique when Jeffries entered and waved to her gayly. She ignored the salutation, but he joined her a moment later.

Finds No Woman in Room.

The police said Kelley, although unaccompanied by a woman, had hired a room at the hotel, registering as "Mr. and Mrs. Bentley." Jeffries described this Mrs. Bentley as a charming woman whose companionship Miss Harvey would find agreeable, and Miss Harvey went up to her room. There was no Mrs. Bentley in the room and Miss Harvey had scarcely reassured herself by the sight of women's garments on the bed before she was chloroformed and stripped of the following:

One platinum ring set with 18 small diamonds and four sapphires, value $1,125; one platinum ring, $250; one white gold ring set with chip diamonds, $100; one wrist watch, $50; one string of pearls, $50; cash, $20.

Miss Harvey saw more of Broadway in company with detectives for several days than she ever had before. Then they saw Kelly. He was equipped with her watch and several pawn tickets. Later they got Jeffries.

Flies 30 Miles Hanging to Tail of Mail Plane

New Brunswick, N. J.—Hanging on the tail of an airplane 3,000 feet above ground held no terrors for Vincent Taylor, seventeen years old, of Hackensack, until a shooting star narrowly missed connections with the plane and himself, the youth said recently in describing his flight.

Taylor was an involuntary passenger on an air-mail plane piloted by L. Ponton D'Arce from Terboro airport to Hadley field, a distance of 30 miles. While attempting to help shove the plane into the wind as it was taking off he became entangled in the struts of the tail skid and was unable to free himself or to attract the attention of the pilot.

Style Not Liked

New York.—One form of caveman wooing is disapproved by Miss Mary Carolyn Davies—the action of Henry Harrison in sending word to the papers that he and she were to be married.

CHICKS CAN'T LIVE WITH COCCIDIOSIS

Coccidiosis is one of the most destructive of all young chick diseases, and if the disease has once gained headway in the flock the chicks must die. The disease may be prevented next year by disinfecting the brooder house and rearing the chicks away from the older fowls.

The symptoms of this disease, according to Dr. Leonard W. Goss of the college of veterinary medicine of Ohio State university are loss of appetite; the young birds sit around with drooping wings, eyes closed, and it sometimes may be noted that the droppings are streaked with blood.

"On opening the chicks," the doctor writes, "it is observed that there is considerable inflammation of the intestines, some just back of the gizzard, but the most inflammation is found in the ceca or blind gut. Hemorrhages occur in these parts, and they may be well distended with blood, or in the more advanced stages the blood may be washed out, leaving a cheesy-like mass.

"In this mass are the coccidia which are the cause of the disease and are passed out in the droppings.

The best method of curing the disease is to prevent it, so sterilize the brooder house before the chicks are again put into it, using strong concentrated lye, which will dissolve the organisms, and move the house to a clean, fresh sod away from the other fowls."

Mites Are Different in Habits From Lice

Mites are entirely different in habits and modes of living than lice, and different methods must be employed to destroy them. Both reduce the vitality of the fowl to such an extent that they easily succumb to disease, writes Michael K. Boyer in the Farm and Ranch.

The louse is a very small insect that cannot suck blood. It lives on the body of the fowl, feeds on filth, dried blood scales from the feathers, and scurf of the skin. It breathes through the pores in the sides of the body.

Lice are killed by suffocation, consequently, insect powder or even dust will destroy them.

The mite belongs to the spider family, and attacks fowls by sucking the blood. The louse does its damage by biting.

Mites have eight legs, lice have six. The former live in cracks and crevices of the building, and visit the fowls only at night.

Turkeys on Farm Means an Additional Revenue

Turkeys on every farm will mean additional revenue for the many necessities needed on the farm. An increased production will not lower prices, for during the past three years in all of the large cities campaigns have been put on by the leading produce men urging the consumption of turkeys during the entire winter season and not just a holiday feast. The success of this campaign last season shows that people are anxious to eat turkey any time, for on August 1 there was less than two and one-half million pounds of turkey in storage. Most of this will be consumed before the 1927 crop is sent to market. With the same demands of last season turkeys should bring an exceptionally high market price this fall and winter.

For Turkey Fattening Ration Use Much Grain

The North Dakota experiment station gives a good home mixed turkey ration which consists of 100 pounds ground barley, 100 pounds ground oats, 100 pounds ground wheat and 50 pounds of meat scraps. If this ration is kept before the turkeys in a self-feeder at all times with a feeding of grain at night, it will do much toward increasing the returns at market time.

Milk makes a fine food, and if not available, meat scraps, tankage or dried buttermilk are fine protein foods. The animal protein fits in best with other feeds at the rate of 15 per cent to 85 per cent of ground feeds.

Cull Flock Closely

Culling the flock closely will not only save feed and labor, but it will also help to remove crowded conditions that often prevail on account of the growing young flock. The disposal of cockerels is often advisable for a similar reason. It is better to keep a small flock of birds that pay their way than to keep a large flock in which there are a lot of drones that eat up the profit made by good birds. Birds that should be culled are sure to show a loss in the future.

Laying Supplements

The best supplement to any ration is direct sunlight and green feed, according to tests conducted by the Ohio experiment station. Successful feeding for egg production depended largely upon the use during late fall and winter of alfalfa, clover, soy bean hay and codliver oil as supplements. Grains and their by-products and packing house by-products do not usually make a complete ration. The legume hays improved the hatchability of eggs.
