BETWEEN DIALS

By GAGER WASEY

Understand John Gambling, who announces for the Voice of Experience, has a new sponsor for his early morning broadcast over WOR. It is a meat company that has a new kind of canned hash. Though this column has never heard John (it's six times a week from 6:45 to 8:00 A. M.) does this make Gambling a hash peddler?

—o—

Those who like Ed Wynn can find 30 minutes of good music and jokes, not too new, ably put over by your old friend the Fire Chief, now known as "Gulliver the Traveller," every Thursday evening from WABC.

—o—

You may not believe it but Amos 'n Andy have been on the air for almost seven years and seem to be going along as well as ever.

—o—

A new program started over the Columbia network last Sunday evening from 8 to 9. Called the Ziegfeld Follies of the Air. It will take the place of the Palmolive Beauty Box Theatre under the same sponsorship—the makers of Palmolive Soap. Stars on this new production include Fannie Brice, James Melton and Al Goodman's orchestra. It should be popular with a vast majority.

—o—

A radio publication is now presenting a series of articles on Major Bowes—an inside story of the amateur hour. Wonder if the Major will gong the publication?

—o—

According to latest reports Major Bowes' amateur program over WEAF every Sunday evening still rates tops in radio popularity among the listeners.

—o—

A well-known CBS announcer received the other day a box full of life's necessities from an ardent admirer. Included in the list were a bottle of hair tonic, a dozen cakes of soap, a leather belt and, last but not least, three pairs of strings. Maybe she felt he should go hang himself.

—o—

Sunday evening radio audiences now have difficulty in deciding whether to listen to Eddie Cantor or Jack Benny. Both comedians and stars in their own right are on Sunday from 7:00 to 7:30 P. M. together; except Benny is heard over WJZ while Cantor is the Clumbia Network ace at that time.

—o—

In line with steadily liked radio programs Rudy Vallee hour (Thursday WEAF 8 to 9) has recently produced a new comedy star in Frank Fay. It wasn't until Vallee had him on one evening that Fay had been heard from for some years except as Barbara Stanwyck's husband.
